One of the facilities which the provisions of the Canadian Government Annuities Act affords, is that given to old people of investing their capital with absolute security and safety, and with a much greater return than any other form of investment will give them. A woman of 80 years of age who is living in one of the small villages in Ontario, and who has outlived all her near relatives, has a deposit in the Savings Bank of $1,500, which is all that remained of a very considerable fortune left her by her husband, who predeceased her nearly fifty years ago. This amount is earning her an income of $45 a year, which, needless to say, is not sufficient to provide her with the necessaries of life, and the poor house would ultimately have been her only destiny, as in a little less than six years she would have spent the remainder of her capital, as her living expenses are over $300 a year. One day the little booklet "Comfort and Happiness" found its way into this lady's hands. She perused it carefully and considered its statements thoughtfully, and with the result that she is advised to transfer her $1,500 to the Government. She will then receive an income of $288 every year instead of $45, and the probability is that her life will be very much extended. Certainly her happiness and comfort while she lives will be increased, as the difference of $243 a year in her income will mean to her all the difference between poverty and affluence. She may live to be 100— her paternal grandfather did.

Particulars concerning this provident system of investment may be had from your Postmaster, or from the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters may be addressed postage free.

PAINS THAT MAKE MISERY

A Talk With Our Lady Readers.

Have you ever noticed how miserable and unhappy the little pains and aches make one? A stinging cut, badly chapped hands, a nasty burn, a sore foot, a poisoned finger— none of them wounds or ailments ever likely to cause serious trouble, which come to every woman—and man too—and are just sufficient to take the edge off one's temper and give one a "grouch."

Zam-Buk is just the thing at such times. As soon as you put it on to a sore, a cut, a burn, or any skin injury, it stops the pain, and the smarting and starts up healing. Don't make the mistake that because Zam-Buk is so widely used by medical men, by nurses, and for serious skin diseases and accidents, that it is only for serious cases. Keep it handy and use it immediately you get some trivial injury or have some little sore.

Mrs. Chas. H. Barrett, Harmony Road, Truro, N.S., says: "I had an ingrowing toe nail, which caused me acute agony. Sometimes the pain was so severe I could not sleep. It became so bad that I feared blood-poisoning had set in. I was advised to try Zam-Buk and bound up the sore toe with it. In a few days it was much easier, and I continued the treatment. The result is that to-day the toe is sound and I have no more trouble with it. We always keep Zam-Buk in our house, and I would strongly recommend it to every housewife.

Zam-Buk is just the thing, too, for the little ones. Pure in its composition, and herbal in nature, it is suitable for the most delicate skin. It also cures piles, eczema, varicose ulcers, cold sores, abscesses, blood poisoning, ring-worm, and all similar skin diseases. Sold everywhere at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

Too Big For Him Then.

A man who was afraid of Paul crawled into a hollow log as a place of safety during a thunderstorm. The thunder rolled and the rain poured down in torrents and the old log began to swell up till the poor fellow was wedged in so tight that he could not get out. All of the past began passing before him. Suddenly he remembered he hadn't paid his newspaper subscription, and he felt so small that he was able to back right out.—Blind River Gazette.

A Useful Lesson.

Had any late reveller on his way home Monday night spied that one legged man, clad in a hospital night shirt, attempting to pull up a tree this weird scene being the result of a delirious patient's escape from a local hospital, the sight might have been more effective than a dozen temperance lectures.—Ottawa Journal

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

E. E. MILLS,

Don't let that bald spot grow!

Go to your druggist at once and get a bottle of Parisian Sage and if that don't check the falling hair, and cause new hair to grow, nothing will.

Dandruff is the cause of baldness; dandruff germs cause dandruff. Parisian Sage kills the germs; eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp. We will refund you money, if it fails to do this in two weeks. Parisian Sage will cause the hair to grow, if the hair root be not dead. It causes the hair to grow thicker, more luxuriant, and puts new life into it.

The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package of Parisian Sage. It is sold for 50c. by all druggists or sent postpaid by the Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., on receipt of price. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

Hiram's Butterfly

A Story of an Aeroplane

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

It was poised on the rolling green turf of the west meadow and with its outspread wings looked very much like a great white butterfly.

"I call it an 'air flier,'" explained Hiram Butler to the little crowd of men and women who had gathered about the machine. "I feel justly proud of her too. Made every bit myself except the engine."

"Must have cost a pretty penny," drawled James Lummox enviously. "If it'd been me I'd rather have an automobile. You can take the hull family out in one of them cars."

"It do seem sort of a selfish contraption," put in Mrs. Deacon Skinner. "For instance, suppose you wanted to take Ellen out on a Sunday afternoon. Where the land would she sit?" She peered curiously at the broad leather strap that served as the single seat in the flying machine.

"I wouldn't want to go," snapped easiness of mind. Ellen stole softly through the garden into the great pasture, which was flooded with pale moonshine. Tall, black shadowy cedars were grouped about the southern boundary, and now they were dew wet and smelled faintly aromatic.

Ellen approached the machine, which lay shrouded in its canvas blanket, and its very bigness suddenly attacked her with terror of the prospective journey and the danger that menaced her husband. She wrung her hands nervously, striving to think of some method that would deter Hiram from flying that night. Under the blue sky and sunshine it would not seem so dreadful—so dangerous.

Fifteen minutes later she was returning from the barn tugging at a long rope at the end of which a small anchor bumped over or stuck into the ground with annoying frequency. In the shadow of what she knew to be the rear of the machine Ellen paused and lifted the canvas. She surveyed the intricate machinery with a growing conviction that her husband must be deterred from making an ascension above the ground. Suppose some part should give way?

She had determined upon what especial rod she would tie the rope and thus anchor Hiram to the ground until she could by wit or wile prevail upon him to give up the risky adventure, when she heard his approaching steps.

She whisked away in the shadow of the machine just in time to receive the muffling folds of canvas in a cloud upon her form. She freed her head and shoulders and crouched unseen by her husband. Carefully he

SIR DONALD MANN AND THE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTRY

A. P. S.

If Sir Donald Mann, Knight Bachelor, had followed his father's ambitions, he would to-day have been Rev. Donald Mann, M.A., M.D., D.D., L.L.D., Ph.D., and any other titles or degrees that could have been acquired by hard work and conscientious service.

Mr. Mann, senior, now living at the old home at Acton, Ont., in his 93rd year, intended Donald for the ministry, but when the time actually came for him to go to college he refused. He had been brought up with such a high respect for the Church that in reply to all his father's arguments, he said he did not feel that he would ever be good enough to be a Presbyterian minister.

In his despair, Mr. Mann took young Donald with him to see the Rev. Andrew Maclean, a Highland minister at Crieff, some miles away. Mr. Maclean, while having a reputation for being a good man, was very popular with the young people, for much to the disgust of some of his brethren in the Guelph and Hamilton Presbytery, he went shooting and fishing, attended Scotch dances in his congregation, played the bagpipes, and did not object to drinking in moderation. The interview was conducted in Gaelic and he advised young Donald very strongly to do as his father desired; and assured him that a boy as conscientious as he was would certainly make a good minister when the time came for him to assume the great responsibilities of the position. Mr. Maclean said that his family intended him for the army, but when he abandoned it and went into the Church, people in Scotland had laughed, saying that there was too much of the devil in him ever to make a minister.

Young Donald regarded his advice very seriously, and he practically decided to begin his course at Toronto University. His trunks were packed and at the station, when Donald suddenly announced a final change of mind. Gathering in a small satchel, a few belongings that were left behind he told his father that he would not go to the University, but would go out and make his own way in the world. He put on his hat and started across the fields. His father found him at the station, and said that if he insisted, he would go with his blessing, and a Bible. The trunks were taken home and Donald went away on the train with the satchel.

That Bible he carried for many years and still has. It went with him in the lumber woods, on the plains, through the Rockies, in South America, in China, and wherever else his varied career has taken him.

Sir Donald has seen every side of life; has fought his way up against tremendous odds, and those who are close to him say that deep down in his heart he has never forgotten the early principles instilled into him by his Highland parents. Yet this training has been a serious handicap in some ways. While in brains and physique he is a tremendously powerful man; yet in disposition he is very silent, very shy, very modest, undoubtedly made so by the transition from a gentle home to the rough railway and lumber camps of the early days. No one would call him an advocate of temperance, yet the Episcopal Bishop of Victoria says Sir Donald preached the strongest sermon he ever heard when he said, "No man can use spirits and do good work mental or physical." He seldom goes to any religious service, yet takes a deep interest in the Presbyterian Church. He is strongly opposed to its union with other denominations. He has only one son, Donald Cameron Mann, and it is his desire that he should take up the Presbyterian ministry. The boy in character is modest, studious and conscientious and it is not impossible that this might happen.

Like most Highlanders, Sir Donald cares little for money. He loves to do things, to make things grow. Excepting on paper he is a poor man to-day, but what will happen four years hence when his great life work—a railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific, their own steamers on both oceans—is completed? He cannot keep quiet. Will the Church, or politics, or the strenuous pleasures of Europe get him?—The Presbyterian.

West Middlesex Conservatives nominated James Coffan, of Middlemiss, stockman, for Parliament, and Dr. H. A. Wilson, of Wardsville, for the Legislature.

Clifford Blanchard, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Blanchard, of Brampton, was found lying on the ice by a passer-by. It was discovered that the little fellow had fallen and broken his left thigh. He was unable to tell how the accident happened but it is supposed that he was playing on the ice and fell.

Kidney Suffering

Backaches and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by using DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS

There is no treatment for kidney disease which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease.

There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills awaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system.

Mr. S. J. Argue, Kars, Carleton, Co., Ont., writes:—"I have suffered a great deal wth kidney troubles and pains in the small of the back and have tried a good many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a splendid medicine as they have proven of very great value to me."

HELPLESS CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, DEC. 15th, 1909.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism for nearly a year, and my right arm was swollen and the pain was fearful. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful, and I could hardly move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians but their medicine did me no good, and I tried numerous other remedies but received no benefit. I was simply a helpless cripple and suffered from Rheumatism all during last winter.

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try this remedy. After I had taken one box, I was much better and the pain less, and I continued the treatment with good hopes. When I had taken three boxes, I was so well that I could use my arm again and the pain was practically gone. After I had taken five boxes, I was entirely well again—no pain—no suffering—and now I am as WELL as I ever was.

The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me of my sufferings.

For the sake of others who may suffer from this terrible disease, Rheumatism, I give you permission to publish this statement."

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy that actually cures Rheumatism, and Sciatica because "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that actually prevents Uric Acid being formed in any quantity in the body. If there is no excess of uric acid in the blood, there can be no Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" keeps the stomach clean—the liver active—the bowels regular—the kidney strong and the skin healthy. These are the organs that rid the body of all waste. When "Fruit-a-tives" so regulates the system that all waste is eliminated, then there can be no waste or "urea" to be changed into uric acid. Thus, there can be no uric acid in the blood, to inflame nerves and cause the pains which we know by the names of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia. "Fruit-a-tives" will cure every trace of Rheumatism, Pain In The Back, Swollen Hands and Feet, and other troubles due to the blood being poisoned by uric acid.

If you are subject to Rheumatism, cure yourself now with "Fruit-a-tives" and be free of pain this winter.

Will Phillips, aged 22 years, son of Mr. Solomon Phillips, owner of the planing mill on Keele Street, West Toronto, met with a serious accident last week. He was standing on some planks beside the planing machine, when the planks slid and threw the lad on the planer, his left hand catching in the knives. In an instant his arm had been ground to a pulp, the flesh and pieces of bones being strewn all over the machine. Several physicians were called and the young man was removed to Englehart Hospital, where the arm was amputated close to the shoulder.

HOCKEY GAMES.

The High School hockey team journeyed to Brampton on Saturday to the High School team of that town. The game was closely contested with plenty of hard, vigorous checking, but the visitors failed to land a victory, probably owing to the fact that several of the members of the septette had not entirely recovered from the effects of a popular social function the preceding night. Four members of the teaching staff, Misses Strang, Hulse, Freeze and Mr. Adams, accompanied the team and spent the day with Miss Hutchinson, a former member of the staff, and now teaching in Brampton. The members of the local team were:—Goal, W. Nicholson; point, Ross McPherson; cover point, Jack Green; rover, Harry Lewis; centre, Wendell Holmes; right, Jack Aiken; left, Will Ewing. Raspin Scott, of Melville Close, refereed the game to the satisfaction of both teams. The boys hope to have the Brampton team here for a return game in the near future.

The first local hockey match of the season was played on the Mill St. Skating Rink on Thursday night between a local seven and a team representing the Toronto Crescents. A large number of spectators were on hand and were repaid for their attendance by witnessing a fast, interesting and well played game. Although the score, 10 to 2 in favor of Orangeville, would seem to indicate that the game was rather one-sided, this was not the case as the visitors were aggressive and dangerous at all times. It was due to the strong work of the Orangeville defence that they did not succeed in finding the nets oftener. The home team had a slight advantage through their familiarity of the rink, but even with this the park was on the neighborhood of the Orangeville net just as frequently as at the other end. Orangeville forwards were better shots than the visitors and made better use of what-ever opportunities came their way. The Toronto forwards tried to work the puck down to goal for shooting and in this way lost a number of excellent scoring opportunities. The Orangeville team played an excellent game. The checking and rushing of the forwards were generally effective. Warren, at cover point, was in good form and did much to break up the rushes of the visiting forwards. His efforts were ably seconded by Scott at point and Nicholson in goal. The Crescent team included three former Orangeville boys, namely Tom and Alex Brooker and Lyle Campbell. Tom Brooker at point had lots of work to do and proved himself to be an excellent hockey player. The other Crescents played well, but as we have already stated the team was rather slow at shooting and herein was the chief reason for their defeat. Referee of the game was temporarily disabled by a stick on the nose from the stick of Kilpatrick. He went off to have it dressed but both players were on the ice again a few minutes later. The final time score was 5 to 2 in favor of Orangeville.

The visitors did much better in the second period, and, while they did not succeed in scoring, managed to hold the locals down to two tallies. The line-up was:—

Dr. Campbell made an impartial and satisfactory referee.

MONO MILLS.

We are pleased to learn that Capt. Patterson, whose illness was noted last week, is much better.

Mr. George Patterson, of Toronto, spent Sunday with his father here.

Mrs. Geo. Robinson, of East Garafraxa, visited her sister, Mrs. W. A. Dowling, last week.

The annual meeting of the Public Library will be held at the home of Mr. W. J. Mills, on Saturday, Feb. 11th, beginning at 2 p.m. All interested in the Library are cordially invited to be present.

The local Farmers' Club, in connection with the Farmers' Institute, held its annual meeting on Thursday of last week. The Club has the largest membership this year since its inception and a good staff of officers was elected. Next meeting will be held on Thursday, Feb. 23rd, in the Orange Hall, beginning at 7.30 p.m. A good programme is being arranged for this meeting and all interested are invited to be present.

The regular meeting of the Literary Society was held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening. The principal feature of the programme was the debate, "Resolved that Capital Punishment Should be Abolished." Both sides of this important question were well presented for amateur debaters. Mr. Davis, the leader of the affirmative, was well supported by Messrs. Thornton Martin and Austin Fagan. Mr. John D. Kee, the leader of the negative, and Messrs. Howard Martin and Harold Dowling gave a good account of themselves and their side of the question. The decision was awarded to the affirmative. Miss Londry, Mr. W. A. Dowling and Mr. J. A. Vance acted as judges. For the first time since the organization of the Society, Dr. Dunning, the President, was at liberty to be present and occupy the chair. With a man of the President's ability in the chief executive position, the Society should certainly develop along the most desirable lines and much benefit be derived by all those who take an interest in it. The next meeting will be held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14th, beginning at 7.30. At this meeting all the members are supposed to contribute something to the programme. The Society is strictly non-sectarian and everyone is invited to attend the the meetings.

A HOCKEY MATCH.

Shelburne and Orangeville hockey teams will meet on the Mill Street Skating Rink to-night (Thursday). Owing to the oldtime rivalry between the teams a fast and exciting game may be looked for. Puck faced at 8 o'clock sharp. Admission, 25c.; ladies and children, 15c.

FASCINATING SINGING.

The Ottawa Citizen says of the Royal Welsh Choir: "All the voices are sweet and mellow and the emotional singing of both soloists and chorus was fascinating in the deepest degree. The audience was almost wildly enthusiastic and almost every number of the long programme was encored, to which generous responses were made."

W. C. T. U. CONCERT POSTPONED

The W. C. T. U. Concert, which was advertised for Friday night last, did not take place, owing to an accident to the train on which Mrs. Ruby Harkness-Hamilton, the artist of the evening, travelled from her home in Guelph. A break down delayed the train so that Mrs. Hamilton was unable to make the Streetsville Junction connection. Under the circumstances she had no alternative except to send word that she was unable to keep her engagement. The unfortunate mishap caused keen disappointment to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. and local music lovers, who were looking forward to Mrs. Hamilton's visit with pleasurable anticipation. The concert has been postponed indefinitely.

WILL HE TELL?

Saturday night a townsman got helplessly drunk and had to be assisted to his home by the Chief of Police and a citizen. When questioned by his wife he stated that he had procured the liquor from a man named Hugh Hart. A summons was issued for Hart and he was brought before Magistrate Pattullo yesterday on a charge of illegal selling. His story was that the man, who afterwards became inebriated, gave him $1.25 to buy him a bottle of whiskey. He refused, however, to state where he obtained the liquor. Hart's offence, it is thought, constitutes a violation of the statute and as such renders him liable to a fine of $100 or three months in gaol. His case was adjourned until Saturday afternoon to give him time to reconsider his decision not to tell where he obtained the liquor.

THAT BALD SPOT.

Don't let that bald spot grow!

Go to your druggist at once and get a bottle of Parisian Sage and if that don't check the falling hair, and cause new hair to grow, nothing will.

Dandruff is the cause of baldness; dandruff germs cause dandruff. Parisian Sage kills the germs; eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp. We will refund you money, if it fails to do this in two weeks. Parisian Sage will cause the hair to grow, if the hair root be not dead. It causes the hair to grow thicker, more luxuriant, and puts new life into it.

The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package of Parisian Sage. It is sold for 50c. by all druggists or sent postpaid by the Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., on receipt of price. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

Women have more than their share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity. They must 'keep up,' in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, etc. Mrs. Edward Calwood of 123 S. Harold Street, Fort William, Ont., says:

WARDEN GREER'S FATHER.

John C. Greer, one of the early pioneers of Mulmur, died at his residence on the 6th line on Sunday, Jan. 22nd, 1911, at the age of 89 years. Deceased had been in poor health for some years and continued to get worse until his death ensued. Mrs. Greer, who was a sister of Edward Walker, of Shelburne, died three years ago. A family of six sons and four daughters survive him. The sons are Archy Greer, reeve of Mulmur and warden of Dufferin County; Edward, James, John and Samuel, all of Mulmur, and William of Sault Ste. Marie. The daughters are Mrs. W. Scott, of Stanton; Mrs. E. J. Pearson, of Everett; Mrs. J. Kelly, of Airlie, and Mrs. James Dean, of Primrose. The funeral took place on Tuesday, Jan. 25th, to the Presbyterian cemetery at Mansfield and was largely attended.—Free Press.

When a Shelburne business man opened a shipment of syrup from Port Credit the other day he found an interesting document bearing the following announcement: "Any girl answers to this address I will answer her with pleasure, she has to be a good looker and not over 24 years of age, am rich, intentions marriage." The name, post office address and post office box number of the would-be benedict were attached. Now girls, here is the chance of a lifetime for a life of bliss with a "rich" husband. Get busy. And when you land him, see that you get your wedding invitations printed by the Economist as a sort of thank-offering to us for putting you wise. —Economist.

What Has Dandruff Got To Do With Baldness?
You see the statement every day that the one cause of baldness is dandruff. But is it?
True, dandruff often precedes the departure of the hair.
It is equally true that you know men with a shock of hair you can hardly pull a comb through, who have carried around a dandruff laden collar as long as you have known them.
You have also seen men whose scalp was kept as clean as a baby's whose hair was surely departing.
That dandruff talk sounds well and convinces a good many of us, but let us not fool ourselves.
Of course dandruff isn't a good thing to carry around, but it is only an indication.
The same trouble that causes the hair to fall out usually causes dandruff, so if you get at the cause and arrest the loss of hair, you will stop dandruff too.
Those who use Nyal's Hirsutone find it the most satisfactory hair healer and hair dressing they have ever used.
It does stop the hair from falling out.
It will also stop dandruff.
Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends it—$1.00 and 50c in sprinkler bottles.
Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Thos. Stevenson, Orangeville.

Hiram's Butterfly

A Story of an Aeroplane

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

It was poised on the rolling green turf of the west meadow and with its outspread wings looked very much like a great white butterfly.

"I call it an 'air flier,'" explained Hiram Butler to the little crowd of men and women who had gathered about the machine. "I feel justly proud of her too. Made every bit myself except the engine."

"Must have cost a pretty penny," drawled James Lummox enviously. "If it'd been me I'd rather have an automobile. You can take the hull family out in one of them cars."

"It do seem sort of a selfish contraption," put in Mrs. Deacon Skinner. "For instance, suppose you wanted to take Ellen out on a Sunday afternoon. Where the land would she sit?" She peered curiously at the broad leather strap that served as the single seat in the flying machine.

"I wouldn't want to go," snapped Ellen Butler, with an angry glance at her husband. "Catch me trusting myself in the air with any man!"

All the while that her husband was demonstrating the wonders of his invention and even while he made a short experimental flight above the clover tops Ellen was thinking bitterly of the money that had gone into the useless machine. The bank account, savings of years, had been drained to its last dollar, and the mortgage which Hiram had placed on the house to get more money to perfect his patents seemed to Ellen like some huge blotch that would never be eradicated.

When the onlookers had gone away Ellen still remained, silently watching Hiram's movements about the machine. Presently he looked up, and his gaze met her hostile eyes. He straightened immediately.

"I wish you didn't feel so bitter about this, Ellen," he said soberly. "You know I wouldn't have taken the money out the bank or mortgaged the place if I didn't expect to make a hundred times as much with this invention.

"If it's a failure, Ellen," he went on quietly, "I'll take a job in the pin factory to Dodgeville till I've earned enough to put the money all back. I'll do it and run the farm too. But I'm not going to fail. Do you think I'd put that money in it if I hadn't felt pretty sure of success? I'm going up tonight too. Don't you want to see me?"

"No, I don't, Hiram Butler, and I wish you wouldn't fly over the house. The peaky thing might fall on it and knock off a chimney or come through the roof. Land knows, I'd like to keep a roof over my head even if I starve to death!" Ellen turned and proceeded toward the house without one backward glance at her husband.

Hiram stood by the machine, his shoulder drooping slightly, his broad forehead knitted thoughtfully. His brown eyes seemed to peer anxiously beyond the low lying hills as if timorous of the result of this evening's experiment. Budauet, the aviator, had an estate there, and he had promised Hiram he would buy the patent outright if the "air flier" would make a successful flight across the twenty miles of country that separated their respective homes.

Now, as he stood there in the pasture, his invention the public topic of the community, Hiram spoke as if in self defense against his neighbors' disapproval and his wife's bitter resignation.

"I may be a farmer born and bred," he said slowly, still with that farseeing glance across the hills, "and maybe that's the very reason I've invented a flying machine when I couldn't contrive a corn sheller or a mowing machine to save my life. It's the birds have done it. I've studied 'em till I believe I could almost fly myself."

The supper bell jangled noisily from the front porch, where Ellen awaited his coming. He was quick to catch the note of impatience in its brazen tongue and hastened toward the house. As he entered the kitchen his wife passed into the dining room and sat down at the table.

It was a silent meal, as had been all the meals in that house since the mortgage had rested thereon. At last Hiram pushed his plate aside and arose.

"I'm going down to the postoffice, Ellen. When I come back I'm going to make the longest flight I've ever attempted. If I succeed in getting over to Budauet's place he's promised to buy me out. You wouldn't want to come out and see me off?" He spoke a little wistfully.

Ellen's face turned obstinately away as she poured herself another cup of tea.

"Excuse me!" she said emphatically. "One ninny in the family is enough! If you get as far as the chicken house I hope you'll look up the chickens. You forgot 'em last night."

When she had cleared the table and washed the supper dishes Ellen stood in the doorway looking out into the moonlighted yard. Hiram had not yet returned from the village or else he was about to start on his strange aerial journey without coming to the house again.

Half curiously and with much uneasiness of mind, Ellen stole softly through the garden into the great pasture, which was flooded with pale moonshine. Tall, black shadowy cedars were grouped about the southern boundary, and now they were dew wet and smelled faintly aromatic.

Ellen approached the machine, which lay shrouded in its canvas blanket, and its very bigness suddenly attacked her with terror of the prospective journey and the danger that menaced her husband. She wrung her hands nervously, striving to think of some method that would deter Hiram from flying that night. Under the blue sky and sunshine it would not seem so dreadful—so dangerous.

Fifteen minutes later she was returning from the barn tugging at a long rope at the end of which a small anchor bumped over or stuck into the ground with annoying frequency. In the shadow of what she knew to be the rear of the machine Ellen paused and lifted the canvas. She surveyed the intricate machinery with a growing conviction that her husband must be deterred from making an ascension above the ground. Suppose some part should give way?

She had determined upon what especial rod she would tie the rope and thus anchor Hiram to the ground until she could by wit or wile prevail upon him to give up the risky adventure, when she heard his approaching steps.

She whisked away in the shadow of the machine just in time to receive the muffling folds of canvas in a cloud upon her form. She freed her head and shoulders and crouched unseen by her husband. Carefully he examined the air flier, trying each bolt and nut, fingering a delicate adjustment here and there, his face stern and close lipped in the light of a small brass lantern held in one hand.

Then he moved forward; there was the heavy chugging of the engine, and Ellen's heart almost stopped still. In another instant it would be too late to detain him—he would be out of her reach, beyond her touch, and he could not hear her plea for pardon.

It had flown above the house. Ellen darted desperately forward, groped for and found the anchor, tied the rope hastily and clumsily to the nearest projecting rod, paused to tie another hard, square knot before jamming the flukes on the anchor into the soft turf.

With a whirring rush the machine started down the slope, the wheels revolving dizzily. The anchor whipped after, and somehow Ellen's hands closed desperately about the flukes, and then she felt herself rising upward with terrifying velocity.

Clutching the anchor, Ellen swept up with the machine very much like the tail to a gigantic kite. She heard Hiram's voice swearing vigorously, and she felt no horror. She closed her eyes tightly and held on. Her feet brushed treetops once or twice, and she knew she was above the cedar grove. Then one foot tangled in some crooked branch, and she lost her hold on the anchor. With a frightened cry she fell into the embracing arms of the close limbed cedars. Through an aperture in the branches she saw the air flier dart upward and away through the moonlight, the anchor dangling like a twisted thread, until the noise of the engine died away and all was still.

Cradled in the treetops, Ellen dared not stir for fear of falling. She was a slight woman, and she had fallen snugly into strong branches that curved upward like the ribs of a ship. Her hands were torn and bleeding, her face was scratched, and her twisted ankle pained horribly. But above all was the agony of belief that her husband had gone forth into space and would never return.

Too wretched to cry aloud more than once, she huddled, cold and stiff, through the long hours of the night. Owls hooted unpleasantly near, whippoorwills throbbed in the thickets, and all around were the sleepy twitter of birds and the soft brush of wind in the trees.

She must have fallen asleep, for the sound of her name called in Hiram's stentorian tones awakened her to pale daylight. There was anxious terror in his voice.

"Here I am," she called feebly, and then louder, until at last he came wonderingly to her rescue. It was not until they were within the house and she had sobbed out her wretchedness on his breast that Hiram spoke soothingly.

"Do you know what you did, Ellen Butler?" he asked. "I was in doubt about making a successful flight, but I didn't know what was the matter with the machine. That there anchor was the additional weight that balanced her perfectly. Whatever saved it from catching in the trees I don't know. It was a clear case of Providence all through, I guess, for you had a narrow escape. That there anchor sold the machine, Ellen, for without it I couldn't have got to Budauet's. As it is, it's sold for enough to raise the mortgage and make us pretty independent besides." He yawned sleepily and stretched himself.

"It's done more than that, Hiram," said Ellen gently, the tears shining in her penitent eyes.

"What's that?" he asked. And then, looking down into her upturned face, he kissed her and smiling whimsically, answered his own query: "Settled the first and last quarrel we ever had, eh?"

Ellen nodded assent. "And shows that even the tail of a kite may be useful." She shuddered a little at the recollection of her perilous flight, and Hiram paled suddenly as he stooped toward her. And then in the moment of reconciliation they forgot the white butterfly and the fortune it had made for them.

SIR DONALD MANN AND THE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTRY

A. P. S.

If Sir Donald Mann, Knight Bachelor, had followed his father's ambitions, he would to-day have been Rev. Donald Mann, M.A., M.D., D.D., L.L.D., Ph.D., and any other titles or degrees that could have been acquired by hard work and conscientious service.

Mr. Mann, senior, now living at the old home at Acton, Ont., in his 93rd year, intended Donald for the ministry, but when the time actually came for him to go to college he refused. He had been brought up with such a high respect for the Church that in reply to all his father's arguments, he said he did not feel that he would ever be good enough to be a Presbyterian minister.

In his despair, Mr. Mann took young Donald with him to see the Rev. Andrew Maclean, a Highland minister at Crieff, some miles away. Mr. Maclean, while having a reputation for being a good man, was very popular with the young people, for much to the disgust of some of his brethren in the Guelph and Hamilton Presbytery, he went shooting and fishing, attended Scotch dances in his congregation, played the bagpipes, and did not object to drinking in moderation. The interview was conducted in Gaelic and he advised young Donald very strongly to do as his father desired; and assured him that a boy as conscientious as he was would certainly make a good minister when the time came for him to assume the great responsibilities of the position. Mr. Maclean said that his family intended him for the army, but when he abandoned it and went into the Church, people in Scotland had laughed, saying that there was too much of the devil in him ever to make a minister.

Young Donald regarded his advice very seriously, and he practically decided to begin his course at Toronto University. His trunks were packed and at the station, when Donald suddenly announced a final change of mind. Gathering in a small satchel, a few belongings that were left behind he told his father that he would not go to the University, but would go out and make his own way in the world. He put on his hat and started across the fields. His father found him at the station, and said that if he insisted, he would go with his blessing, and a Bible. The trunks were taken home and Donald went away on the train with the satchel.

That Bible he carried for many years and still has. It went with him in the lumber woods, on the plains, through the Rockies, in South America, in China, and wherever else his varied career has taken him.

Sir Donald has seen every side of life; has fought his way up against tremendous odds, and those who are close to him say that deep down in his heart he has never forgotten the early principles instilled into him by his Highland parents. Yet this training has been a serious handicap in some ways. While in brains and physique he is a tremendously powerful man; yet in disposition he is very silent, very shy, very modest, undoubtedly made so by the transition from a gentle home to the rough railway and lumber camps of the early days. No one would call him an advocate of temperance, yet the Episcopal Bishop of Victoria says Sir Donald preached the strongest sermon he ever heard when he said, "No man can use spirits and do good work mental or physical." He seldom goes to any religious service, yet takes a deep interest in the Presbyterian Church. He is strongly opposed to its union with other denominations. He has only one son, Donald Cameron Mann, and it is his desire that he should take up the Presbyterian ministry. The boy in character is modest, studious and conscientious and it is not impossible that this might happen.

Like most Highlanders, Sir Donald cares little for money. He loves to do things, to make things grow. Excepting on paper he is a poor man to-day, but what will happen four years hence when his great life work—a railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific, their own steamers on both oceans—is completed? He cannot keep quiet. Will the Church, or politics, or the strenuous pleasures of Europe get him?—The Presbyterian.

West Middlesex Conservatives nominated James Coffan, of Middlemiss, stockman, for Parliament, and Dr. H. A. Wilson, of Wardsville, for the Legislature.

Clifford Blanchard, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Blanchard, of Brampton, was found lying on the ice by a passer-by. It was discovered that the little fellow had fallen and broken his left thigh. He was unable to tell how the accident happened but it is supposed that he was playing on the ice and fell.

Kidney Suffering
Backaches and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by using DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS
There is no treatment for kidney disease which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease.
There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills awaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system.
Mr. S. J. Argue, Kars, Carleton, Co., Ont., writes:—"I have suffered a great deal wth kidney troubles and pains in the small of the back and have tried a good many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a splendid medicine as they have proven of very great value to me."

HELPLESS CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM
4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, DEC. 15th, 1909.
"I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism for nearly a year, and my right arm was swollen and the pain was fearful. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful, and I could hardly move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians but their medicine did me no good, and I tried numerous other remedies but received no benefit. I was simply a helpless cripple and suffered from Rheumatism all during last winter.
I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try this remedy. After I had taken one box, I was much better and the pain less, and I continued the treatment with good hopes. When I had taken three boxes, I was so well that I could use my arm again and the pain was practically gone. After I had taken five boxes, I was entirely well again—no pain—no suffering—and now I am as WELL as I ever was.
The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me of my sufferings.
For the sake of others who may suffer from this terrible disease, Rheumatism, I give you permission to publish this statement."
MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.
"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy that actually cures Rheumatism, and Sciatica because "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that actually prevents Uric Acid being formed in any quantity in the body. If there is no excess of uric acid in the blood, there can be no Rheumatism.
"Fruit-a-tives" keeps the stomach clean—the liver active—the bowels regular—the kidney strong and the skin healthy. These are the organs that rid the body of all waste. When "Fruit-a-tives" so regulates the system that all waste is eliminated, then there can be no waste or "urea" to be changed into uric acid. Thus, there can be no uric acid in the blood, to inflame nerves and cause the pain which we know by the names of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia. "Fruit-a-tives" will cure every trace of Rheumatism, Pain In The Back, Swollen Hands and Feet, and other troubles due to the blood being poisoned by uric acid.
If you are subject to Rheumatism, cure yourself now with "Fruit-a-tives" and be free of pain this winter.
50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Will Phillips, aged 22 years, son of Mr. Solomon Phillips, owner of the planing mill on Keele Street, West Toronto, met with a serious accident last week. He was standing on some planks beside the planing machine, when the planks slid and threw the lad on the planer, his left hand catching in the knives. In an instant his arm had been ground to a pulp, the flesh and pieces of bones being strewn all over the machine. Several physicians were called and the young man was removed to Englehart Hospital, where the arm was amputated close to the shoulder.

East Grey County L. O. L. met in Dundalk on Tuesday.

LAUREL.

The many friends of Mrs. Newstead will be pleased to learn that she has returned to Ontario again, after a lengthy visit with her sons in the West. She was not very well when she first returned and was obliged to spend some weeks with her son, Ed., in Toronto, where she greatly improved. She is now with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Nelson.

There are quite a number of cases of measles in the neighborhood, but they are mostly of a mild type.

Mr. John Brown and little son, have both been very ill—Mr. Brown with congestion of the lungs, and the little boy with measles. They are both out of danger now.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. S. J. Brown is not any better, but if anything rather worse than last week.

Mr. Ranton and John Banks, Jr., who were injured on the Skating Rink some time ago, are both improving rapidly.

On Saturday night upwards of eighty of the young people of the neighborhood spent an enjoyable evening on the Skating Rink. Manager Maltby was looking forward to a good time again on Monday night, but Jack Frost appeared with such force and fury that neither skaters nor manager dared face him. A good time is looked for on Thursday evening, when there will be a half mile race between Dr. Gray and Marshall Langtree. We think that Marshall will hardly be in it with the Dr.

Last Sabbath morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in the Presbyterian Church. the pastor, Rev. J. R. Bell, preached a very impressive sermon on Christian Living and Entire Consecration. The discourse was well calculated to make a lasting impression on the large congregation. In the evening the junior pastor, Rev. Mr. Whittle, preached in the Methodist Church, addressing a large congregation on the theme, "Watchman what of the Night." The sermon showed in a convincing manner the need for constant watchfulness against the ever-alert enemy of the soul. We feel assured that if the members of the two congregations take to heart the advice given by their pastors in the discourses referred to the life of the whole community will be greatly benefitted.

CARDWELL.

About 100 friends and neighbors were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. George Duke, lot 10, Prince of Wales Road, last Friday night. Notwithstanding the fact that George is a bachelor, the guests found his fine home in first-class order, with nothing lacking that would in any way contribute to their comfort and entertainment. The night was pleasantly spent in dancing, card playing and other amusements. Excellent music was furnished by Messrs. Overland, McMaster, Island and Jackson and the exacting duties of floor manager were capably discharged by Messrs. Glassford, Smith and Ewing, whose facility in this department contributed greatly to the success of the function. A sumptuous lunch was served about midnight and the skill displayed by the young ladies who assisted with this portion of the entertainment doubtless caused the bachelor host to heave more than one sigh of perplexity as he reflected upon the difficulty of making a choice from so many attractive maidens. The gathering dispersed during the wee hours that precede the early morn, all feeling that they had been royally entertained.

$25.00 FOR A LETTER.

CAN YOU WRITE ONE?

Eight Prizes to be Awarded In a Letter Writing Contest To Every One In Ontario.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have been used in Ontario for a generation. Hundreds of remarkable cures have been reported during that time and there is scarcely a family in which the remedy has not been tried with beneficial results. This furnishes the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

PRIZES

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25 for the best letter received on or before the 20th day of March, 1911, from residents of the province of Ontario, on the subject. "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and five prizes of $2.00 each for the next best five letters.

CONDITIONS:

The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or one that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literally and absolutely true.

The letter should be no longer than is necessary to relate the benefit obtained from the remedy in the case described.

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statement made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award.

It is understood that The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest if they desire to do so whether it wins a prize or not.

The contest will close on March 20th, 1911, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows:

A ROYAL TREAT.

In bringing the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir to Orangeville on Friday evening, February 17th, the Adult Bible Classes of St. Andrew's Church are providing a royal treat for the music lovers of this town. This famous choir consists of eighteen members, all finished soloists. During the first half of the programme the members will wear the pretty and picturesque costume of the Welsh folk. The programme covers a wide field of music, ranging as it does from Grand Opera selections such as "The Prison Scene" from Il Trovatore to a medley of plantation songs, rousing Scotch choruses, Killarney, as vocal obligato to a humming chorus, the whole unaccompanied, and solos, duets, trios, quartettes and glees in great variety. In Ontario alone the Welsh Ladies will give no less than 75 concerts. They have been touring in the Canadian West since last September and will bring their itinerary to a close in the Maritime provinces in May.

STUDENTS WERE ENTERTAINED

The High School students were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ewing, 2nd line, west, Mono, on Friday night. The young people, who filled half a dozen sleighs, enjoyed the pleasant drive out and back again. On the arrival of the party from town, numbering about sixty, they found a number of the neighbors assembled to assist give them a hearty welcome. Music, dancing and games were enjoyed until the small hours of the morning. The students report a thoroughly delightful outing and speak in terms of the warmest praise of the generous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing and family.

SANG BEFORE THE KING

The Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, which comes to Orangeville on Friday, February 17th, was "commanded" by our late Sovereign, King Edward, to sing for him aboard the Royal Yacht. The gifted conductress, Madame Hughes Thomas, possesses a highly valued gift from His Majesty, as a souvenir of the occasion. The King said at the close of the programme, "Well, you Welsh people are passionately fond of music and you have beautiful voices. I have certainly enjoyed your choir immensely. I must congratulate you Madame Thomas, and your choir on your excellent performance."

The Welsh Ladies' Choir is easily one of the very best concert parties that has toured Canada in years. The Choir furnishes an excellent programme—so varied that all classes can enjoy it.

This permanent satisfaction and enduring value is due to innate soundness of construction and its varying excellence of material, fortified with the exclusive Aliquot System, by which beauty of tone is so built into the Mason & Risch as to be as permanent a part of the instrument as the case itself.

While coasting on a hill near the residence of Mayor Cook, of Mount Forest, his daughter, Miss Agnes, was rather severely injured, and Miss Viola McLachlan less severely. The sled ran into a tree against which the girls were thrown. The former's face was cut and bruised and she was rendered unconscious and was confined to her room for several days. It was thought at first that the nose of the latter was broken, but it is believed that the injury is not so serious as that.

A distinguished Irish prelate was by nature a very keen sportsman, and though he never allowed his tastes in this direction to interfere with his many duties, there was nothing he enjoyed more than a day's shooting. On one of these occasions he was met by an old lady, who strongly disapproved of any member of the clerical profession, and especially one of the heads of the church, indulging in such pursuits. I have never read in the Bible that any of the apostles went out shooting, my lord," she observed severely. "Well, you see," returned his lordship cheerfully, "all their spare time they spent out fishing."

FREE PSYCHINE FOR THE SICK

Let us buy a 50c. bottle from your Druggist and give it to you to try. Here are our reasons:

For nearly the third of a century we have known what Psychine will do. We have known it to cure hundreds of thousands in that time, of some of the most desperate cases of disease known to medical science.

We have received thousands of unsolicited testimonials, which we will gladly let you look over should you desire.

Think of it, a third of a century's experience with one preparation, a third of a century's intimate knowledge of what extraordinary cures it has made—almost a lifetime!

Do you wonder then with that perfect knowledge of Psychine, that we are anxious to bring it to the notice of everyone in Canada suffering from disease?

Do you wonder that we want those to know who are using wrong methods of cure, who are not getting well, and who we know will be benefited by Psychine.

Do you wonder that we can buy hundreds of thousands of 50-cent bottles of Psychine from the druggists of Canada to give to those who wish to try it?

Psychine builds vitality.

It strengthens and increases the white corpuscles of the blood—the phagocytes, the policemen or scavengers of the blood.

These white corpuscles of the blood, when strong enough, destroy every disease germ that gets into the body, keeps the body healthy.

If these white corpuscles are not in sufficient numbers or are not sufficiently strong, then these disease germs destroy them and disease holds the body. That's the cause of nearly every disease that afflicts the human race. For years, centuries, in fact, it has been recognized that herbs are the most effective treatment for disease.

It is only within recent times that we have been able to tell just why they were so effective.

Because certain of them increased and strengthened the white corpuscles or phagocytes.

These herbs are employed in compounding Psychine.

We go all over this world to obtain these herbs. Arabia, South America, China and Japan all contribute.

And the result is a preparation that will restore health and build vitality as no other preparation will.

That has proven itself in nearly the third of a century's use as no other preparation has proven itself.

That is a most effective treatment for:

La Grippe	Bronchial Coughs
Bronchitis	Weak Lungs
Hemorrhages	Weak Voice
Sore Throat	Spring Weakness
Anaemia	Early Decline
Female Weakness	Catarrhal Affections
Indigestion	Catarrh of Stomach
Poor Appetite	Night Sweats
Chills and Fevers	Obstinate Coughs
Sleeplessness and	Laryngitis and
Nervous Troubles	Dyspepsia
After-effects of Pleurisy, Pneumonia and La Grippe.

Now we don't ask you to take our word for the tremendously beneficial effect of Psychine. Fill out the coupon below, mail it to us and we'll give your druggist an order (for which we pay him the regular retail price) for a 50-cent bottle of Psychine to be given you free of cost.

We will undoubtedly buy and distribute in this manner hundreds of thousands of these 50-cent bottles of Psychine.

And we do that to show our entire confidence in this wonderful preparation.

A confidence that has been based on our 30 years' experience with this splendid preparation, with a full knowledge of the hundreds of thousands of cures it has made.

A Twelve Mile Drive to a Christmas Eve Entertainment.

The following interesting and well-written letter is from the pen of Wm. J. Ewing, a son of Mr. John Ewing, formerly of Bowling Green, but now living at Verdant Valley in Alberta:

Verdant Valley, Alta., Jan. 11, '11

Dear Editor and Eastern Friends,—

There may be many of The Banner's eastern readers who have the idea that Christmas and New Year's in the Canadian West must be very dull and lonely, when so many westerners always spend their winter holidays in Ontario and other eastern Provinces. Now we will not deny that this festive season does, at times, cast a gloom over our hearts as our memories carry us back to the old home,—be it where it may, be it palace or cottage—where we spent our childhood and perhaps our earlier manhood, and to the many friends who are left behind and whom we long to see once again; but it is these very memories which cause us to look to the present also and say, let us here, too, be merry, for Christmas carries the same joyous glad tidings wherever man is found.

Some eastern folk may still have the idea that from Winnipeg to the Rockies is all a vast, open, treeless prairie, which, to a large extent, it is; but there are many districts throughout which are wooded, and in many of these districts is to be found an evergreen of the fir species, as in the east, and so Christmas trees can be had here. On the open plains, however, is an opportunity for man's inventive genius to furnish an imitation evergreen, for Christmas is never enjoyed so much without its loaded tree in evidence. Then I must tell the little folks that Santa Claus does not forget his friends out here although it is cold sometimes — he comes along just the same.

In towns and thickly-settled districts, westerners act at Christmas time very much like you Ontario people, but what about homesteads which are fifty or more miles from town in sparsely settled districts. It is in just such that I live and on this last Christmas we had the jolliest time imaginable.

About twelve miles from us is a schoolhouse where we had heard there was to be an entertainment. We knew where it was, for occasionally we had been there to church, so we decided, if it were a nice day, to form a sleighing party and take in this good time. The day before Christmas arrived at last and a beauty it was—all sunshine. (This is Sunny Alberta). By early noon the gathering teams had picked up the scattered neighbors and brought them to where we were to make our start. Here was dinner all ready prepared by several of the neighbor ladies —a close second to a regular Christmas festival. Dinner over, the gay party prepared for the drive. One sleigh had been previously considered sufficient, but the spirit of the season had become so contagious that twenty-four in all were ready for this drive and so two sleighs drawn by four horses each had to be made up. You may laugh at four horses drawing twelve people, but please remember in homesteading districts trails at this time of year are uncertain as there are few of us to keep them even in sight.

That we had a jolly time is only saying half. We were about two-thirds men and boys, but the girls made up in fun what they lacked in numbers. Ours was just typical of all such parties.

The entertainment was just such as we have all taken part in, in other days,—songs, drills, choruses, dialogues, readings, recitations, etc., all bringing forth the glad tidings of the Christmas story; then the real old Christmas Tree and the real old Santa Claus; and added to all, the meeting of old friends from a distance whom we had not seen perhaps for years before.

All being over we left for home on a beautiful moonlit night carrying with us more than ever of the old-time Christmas cheer. Christmas day had arrived before we reached our parting-place and though this was only one event of our Christmas pleasures it is one not to be forgotten for some time.

The C. N. Railway will pass our way sometime next summer and we will then, perhaps, not have so far to go to find entertainment, but we can scarcely enjoy a happier Christmas time than that of 1910.

Yours Sincerely,
WM. J. EWING.

EASTER SUNDAY.

Easter Sunday is somewhat late this year, coming on April 16th. Easter day is one of the movable feasts, its date depending upon a phase of the moon. It is always the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens upon or next after the 21st day of March. If the full moon comes on a Sunday, Easter Day is the Sunday following. It never can be earlier than March 22nd, nor later than April 25th. It is a common notion that spring is early or late, according to Easter coming early or late. Those who believe this tell us we will have a late spring this year.

THE WELSH LADIES' CHOIR.

In Wales, a country known proverbially as "The Land of Song," the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir is regarded as the leading interpreter of Welsh national music, whilst in every city where it has sung in Great Britain, Ireland, France and America it has been acclaimed as a combination of unsurpassable musical talents.

The Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir will appear in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on Friday evening, Feb. 17th, under the auspices of The Adult Bible Classes of St. Andrew's Church.

GEORGE WILSON.

It is with sincere sorrow that we have to announce the sudden death of Mr. George Wilson, of the Town Line, Caledon, one of our most enterprising and successful farmers. Mr. Wilson had been enjoying very good health up to within about ten days of his death. His first symptoms of indisposition were occasional chills, but on the evening of Thursday the 26th of January, these symptoms became more serious. The family physician, Dr. Gear, was called in and on Friday pronounced it a case of pneumonia. Then a competent nurse was secured and everything done that could be thought of by a loving family and anxious friends to cope with the dreaded disease, and at one time there were hopes that his life would be spared; but in the first of the week more unfavorable symptoms appeared and Dr. McKinnon, of Guelph, was called in consultation, but in spite of all that human skill could do he gradually grew worse until at five o'clock on Thursday morning he passed away. Mr. Wilson was a very successful farmer, always up to the times with farm implements, methods of farming, stock raising, etc. He was in politics a Conservative, and in religion a consistant member of the Presbyterian Church. As a neighbor he was kind and obliging, and many will miss his counsel and encouragement. As a husband he was affectionate and indulgent, and to the widow and family the loss is irreparable and has called forth the sympathy of the community.

The funeral took place on Saturday, to the Erin cemetery, a short service being conducted at the home by Rev. R. Fowlie, assisted by Rev. Dr. McArthur.

Mr. Wilson was born in Churchville in 1851 and came to the present homestead with his parents when only two years old, and where he has resided ever since. At the time his father took possession not a stick was chopped on the place. He is survived by his widow, who was a Miss Scott and five children, William J., Clara, Addie, Ina and Fred, all at home; and four brothers, Messrs. Chas., Wm., Thos. and John.— Erin Advocate.

WORKED WONDERS IN THIS CASE.

Rheumatism and Weak Heart Cured By Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The Doctor Helped Mrs. Stephen Roy, But There Was no Complete Cure Till She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Rock Mills, Grey Co., Ont., Feb. 6. Kidney Pills worked wonders in my case," says Mrs. Stephen Roy of this place. "I suffered with Inflammatory Rheumatism in my right arm, and though I tried several remedies the swelling increased and was very painful. My hands and limbs were also badly swollen.

"I got a doctor and he helped me, but the swelling never entirely left. He said it was because my heart was weak. Then I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and, as I said before, they worked wonders."

Rheumatism of any kind is caused by disordered Kidneys failing to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it by curing the Kidneys. They also cure the weak heart by making pure blood and lessening that organ's work of propelling the blood through.

Dodd's Kidney Pills only cure the Kidneys, but they always do that. And with healthy Kidneys you can't have Rheumatism, Lumbago, Heart Disease, Dropsy, or Bright's Disease.

E. Sydney Smith, K.C., a well-known Stratford barrister, has been appointed local Registrar of the High Court, Clerk of the County Court, and Registrar of the Surrogate Court for the county of Perth. The former Registrar was the late W. C. Moscrip, whose death occurred several weeks ago. The vacancy created by the death of Lieut.-Col. Higginbotham, Registrar of Deeds for the registry division of South and Centre Wellington, has been filled by the appointment of Henry Hortop, of the township of Eramosa. The new Registrar is a miller.

Badly Hurt In Thresher

Blood poison set in—Great suffering—Cure effected by DR. A. W. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Mrs. C. Hopkins, St. George, Ont., writes:—"I feel like shouting the praises of Dr. Chase's Ointment. While threshing grain, my son got badly hurt. One of the men who was pitching sheaves, missed the sheaf and ran the prongs of the fork into my son's leg. He did not take much notice of it and in a day or two it got sore and very itchy and blood poison set in. We did everything for it but it would heal one place and break out at another and kept on this way for three months.

"Finally I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a week's time we noticed a wonderful change. By the use of three boxes he was completely cured and the wounds healed up. There has not been a sign of a spot on him since."

Wherever there is itching or irritation of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every assurance that the results will be prompt and satisfactory. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy Dr. Chase's Recipes.

A GOOD IDEA IN HAIR TREATMENT.

The trouble with most women's hair is that they won't take the time to give it proper treatment. If you want your hair to have that look of lustre and vitality, you must take care of it.

You cannot expect to have splendid hair if you simply run a comb through it in the morning—give it a dab on the outer edge with a brush—throw it into a braid—switch it around the head—jab in a few hair pins—and let it go at that.

Hair is like any other growing thing—it needs attention—it needs care—it needs thorough grooming regularly—not only the hair but the scalp.

If you have the time and patience you won't need any hair tonic—but most women haven't. The next best thing is Nyal's Hirsutone. It is the best thing offered to take the place of hours of combing and brushing.

It tones up the roots, brightens the color, improves the texture and makes it stay gracefully where it is put.

Hirsutone literally revitalizes the neglected hair.

Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends Hirsutone because he knows.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1911.

A HOUSE OF REFUGE.

In his report on his last annual inspection of the Orangeville gaol a few weeks ago, Dr. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Prisons, criticises the County of Dufferin in vigorous terms for its failure to provide for the care of the indigent poor by the erection of a House of Refuge. "Old age," the Inspector states, "is not a crime and the failure on the part of the County of Dufferin to comply with the Statute, which says every County in Ontario must erect a House of Refuge for the care of its poor," he characterizes as a matter that "is to be deplored." No one will seriously dispute the Inspector's statement that "old age is not a crime," and there are very few who will question the duty of the County to make such provision for poor and infirm residents without means of support as will enable them to end their days in comfort. This, however, can be done, we believe, without putting the ratepayers to the expense of building and maintaining a House of Refuge. The situation of this County is somewhat peculiar—sufficiently so to warrant its exemption from the general law requiring every county to erect and maintain a House of Refuge. It is one of the smallest counties in the province of Ontario. It has only one town and two incorporated villages, containing about one-fifth of the entire population. The other four-fifths of its people are rural and engaged almost entirely in agricultural pursuits. There is, as a natural consequence perhaps, comparatively little of the serious crime and extreme poverty usually found in places where population is congested. It is unusual indeed to have more than two or three persons confined in the county gaol for criminal offences. The remainder of its inmates—usually ranging in number from fifteen to twenty-five—are persons of the indigent class. The transference of this latter class to a House of Refuge would mean that the county gaol would not have an average of more than a couple of inmates and quite frequently none at all. The present staff of officials would still be required and another set would be needed to look after the management of the House of Refuge. In a county as small as Dufferin the increase which this would mean in the annual expenditure would make a very material addition to the County rate. Some years ago the County Council, mindful of the large proportion of the inmates of the gaol who were there as indigents, took steps to have a portion of the building fitted up as a sort of hospital ward. By this means aged or infirm inmates receive practically the care and comforts obtainable in a House of Refuge. Why not take further steps along this line instead of putting the people of Dufferin to the heavy expense a House of Refuge would entail? Dr. Smith complains that the old people are given gaol fare instead of the fare provided for the inmates of a House of Refuge. This objection could be met by furnishing indigent inmates with the fare provided in Houses of Refuge. The increase in cost would be trifling, when compared with the cost of building and maintaining a House of Refuge. The cost of rations in the Orangeville gaol for the last quarter of 1910 was 11 cents daily per inmate. The cost per inmate in the Halton and Peel House of Refuge at Brampton last year was only 36½ c. a day. If it were thought necessary to have a farm in connection with the institution land could be procured reasonably quite convenient to the present gaol and court house. We believe Dr. Smith is a capable and conscientious official, but we think, if he was thoroughly informed of the situation in this County, he would revise his opinion as to the need for a House of Refuge. The people of Dufferin are prepared to do their duty by the aged and the unfortunate, but they have the right to object to an increase in the number of public institutions in the County when the end sought can be obtained by a less expensive and an equally satisfactory method.

SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

A Mono ratepayer sent us the following pertinent qdestions last week, which arrived too late for insertion:

(1) "Will you please inform me through The Free Press what the Editors of the Orangeville Sun and Dufferin Post did for John Best that they sent in their accounts for $100 each?"

"We old farmers think it was a regular hold-up, and we give our member credit for refusing to be bled in that way."

(2) "Will you also state whether the $100 asked would have changed the attitude of The Sun towards our member in the Dominion House if it had been paid?"

(3) "Did The Free Press ever get $100 from a Conservative candidate in any parliamentary election held in the County of Dufferin?"

As the last question is the only personal one in which we are interested we will answer it. The editor of this paper never received from any candidate at either a Provincial or Dominion election, or through any agent for such candidates, the sum of $100 for supporting such candidates in their election. The Free Press has taken part in every election held since it was formed into a county and our books are open to anyone who doubts what we state. We leave the first two questions to those interested. We are not.—Shelburne Free Press.

McKEOWN'S BILL.

Member for Dufferin Would Abolish All Exemptions on Church Property.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.P.P. for Dufferin, introduced a bill in the Legislature on Monday, the purport of which is to do away with all exemptions on property owned or occupied by churches, Public and Separate schools, universities and seminaries. The bill proposes to amend the Assessment Act by striking out clauses 2, 3, and 3a of Section 5 of the Act. This does not give much idea of the proposal, which is a far-reaching one. Mr. McKeown is opposed to the exemption of churches and similar institutions, and his bill provides for the repeal of the clauses exempting from taxation every place of worship and land used in connection therewith; the buildings and grounds of and attached to or otherwise bona fide used in connection with and for the purposes of every university, every High school, every Public or Separate school, whether vested in trustee or otherwise, so long as such buildings and grounds are used for such purposes only.

MUST MAKE RETURNS.

Clerk of Adjala Township Fined $50 and $10 Costs.

Owing to the fact that the official returns of births, marriages and deaths in the province have not been made promptly, an official notice has been sent out from the office of the Deputy Registrar-General, to all officials in Ontario whose duty it is to make the returns, notifying them that in future, if the returns are not promptly made, action will be taken against them in the courts. The notification is backed up by an example made of the clerk of Adjala Township, who has failed to send in any returns for two years. He was brought before the magistrate and fined $50 and $10 costs for failing to comply with his instructions.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting on Saturday night, February 11th. The programme included an interesting debate on the subject, "Resolved that War is more Expensive than Fashion. The speakers on the affirmative were Miss Ethel Woodland and Mr. W. H. McEwen and on the negative, Miss Margaret Welwood and Mr. W. P. Dodds. Both sides were skilfully presented for amateur debaters. The decision was, however, awarded to the negative by a margin of four points. The judges were Miss Londry and Mr. Milford Gulley and the Society judge, Mr. Wendell Holmes. After the debate a musical programme was provided by Mrs. J. Reid and Misses Annie Holmes and Myrtle Dodds. A successful question drawer was another feature, the questions being answered by Messrs. E. Holmes and A. Woodland. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem. Next Saturday's debate will be on the subject, "Resolved that more Knowledge is gained by Education than Travelling" The usual programme will also be provided. Everyone is invited to attend these meetings.

HORSES FOR PEACE RIVER.

Mr. W. Macfarlane, of the Peace River District, Alberta, shipped from here on Monday, a carload of horses that cost him a lot of money. First there were the four stallions from the Revere House stables — Grey Squirrel, Arka, King's Day and Roxwell Saxon Herald. For this bunch Mr. Macfarlane paid $2,000. Then here were four fine, heavy draft mares that he bought from Mr. James Fallis. For one pair, imported registered Clydesdales mares he paid $1,000 and for the other pair $540; also a Clyde filly coming four from Mr. Alex. McKenna, fourth line, east, Chinguacousy, for $400.—Peel Banner

Mr. McBride, an old gentleman who has been living with his son-in-law, Mr. Bert Mellow, near Caledon East, was found dead in bed one morning recently. He was 80 years of age and had been in his usual health previously.

FALLING HAIR.

Mrs. Jas. Harris, of Wapella, Sask., says:—

"I have found Parisian Sage to be the best scalp and hair tonic and dressing I have ever used. My hair had been coming out in combs full and was very dry and brittle and the scalp was always itching and full of dandruff. I have used two bottles of Parisian Sage and it has stopped my hair from falling, the itching and dandruff have disappeared and my hair is fine and soft and glossy. I would not be without this fine Hair Tonic for many times the price."

For women, men, or children Parisian Sage is without any doubt the finest preparation for the hair. Daintily perfumed, it is free from grease or stickiness and ought to be where every member of the family could use it daily. Large bottle 50 cents at all druggists or from the proprietors, The Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., postpaid. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

A mail clerk on the 11.47 a.m., east bound passenger train on Tuesday, had a close call from being ground beneath the wheels. The clerk had taken the mail out of the letter box and the train was moving pretty well before he caught a handrail of the second last car with his right arm, his left holding letters. He slipped and fell and was dragged a dozen feet along the platform. The eye witnesses expected to see him roll beneath the wheels every moment, but when he let go of his one arm grasp on the car his body shot away from the train instead of beneath as usually happens when both arms are grabbing for support. The train hauled up on the Main St. bridge, and the clerk boarded it apparently none the worse of his accident.—Peel Banner.

AN UNEXPECTED SUMMONS.

Mr. John Island Dropped Dead While Visiting His Farm in Mono.

Mr. John Island, a well-known resident of this town, dropped dead on his farm on the 1st line, east, Mono, shortly before noon on Monday. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Island, who has not been feeling any too well this winter, paid a visit to his brothers, George and Dr. R. L. Island, at their home on Second St., and before leaving asked the latter to drive him out to his farm Monday morning, explaining that, as a change of tenants was taking place, he would like to look through the buildings. The brothers left here about ten o'clock and after driving out took a walk around the farmyard and through the buildings. Having finished their inspection they started to go to the house, Dr. Island walking ahead. Talking together as they walked, Mr. Island observed, "Here's where the old house stood, where we played together when we were boys." The remark caused Dr. Island to turn about and as he did so he noticed his brother stagger, and just managed to reach him in time to prevent him falling to the ground. Death, which was due to heart weakness, was almost instantaneous.

The late Mr. Island, who was in his 69th year, was a native of Mono, being a son of the late Michael Island, one of the first settlers in the township. He gave up farming about twenty years ago, retiring to a comfortable home on Parsons St., Orangeville. He was a widower, and leaves one son, Mr. John Island, of Aberdeen, Sask. Messrs. George, Joseph and Dr. R. L. Island, Orangeville, are the surviving brothers. The sisters are Mrs. Henry White, Mono, Mrs. Robt. Curry, Orangeville, and Mrs. Frank Johnston, Toronto. The late Mr. Island was a member of the Anglican Church and a staunch Conservative. He was a man who enjoyed the respect and good will of his neighbors, and there are many old friends who will keenly regret his almost tragic death.

Arrangements for the funeral are indefinite, pending the arrival of the son, who is now on his way home from the West. Mr. Island may reach Orangeville to-night, and if he does the interment will take place Friday afternoon. Should he not get through until Friday the funeral will necessarily be deferred until Saturday.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Sad Fate of Thomas McGuire, of Bolton.

Thomas McGuire, of Bolton, met with his death under sad circumstances on Tuesday morning, February 7th. He had been acting in the capacity of bailiff at Kenny's, concession 2, Albion, and left there in the evening for Mono Road, intending to go home on the train. Finding that the train had been delayed he started to walk to Bolton notwithstanding the fact that a blinding snow storm was raging at the time. He was found next morning lying on the road near the woollen mills, on the outskirts of the village by Mr. W. T. Hardwick who was driving in with his milk wagon. He was hurried to the Queen's hotel where Dr. Jackson was at once in attendance who tried to revive him, but he expired a few minutes later without showing signs of returning consciousness. A post-mortem examination revealed the fact that his neck had been dislocated, evidently by a fall on the icy roadway where he was found. Deceased was in his 54th year, was a cooper by trade, and lived in Bolton with his sister, Miss Jennie McGuire, for more than thirty years. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon to the English Church cemetery, Rev. W. S. Westney conducting the service at the house.

BOARD OF TRADE OFFICERS.

Orangeville Board of Trade held its annual meeting and election of officers in the Public Library Auditorium on Wednesday night, Feb. 8th. There was a fair turnout of the members. Mr. A. D. McKitrick, the retiring President, occupied the chair. The new officers are:—

President—Mr. D. B. Brown.
Vice-President—A. L. C. Kirkwood
Secretary—Col. Preston.
Council—Messrs. A. D. McKitrick, W. H. Lagsdin, F. W. Ritchie, Thos. Henderson, A. Walker, W. M. Green, W. C. McMillan, W. G. Hyland, G.R. Wheelock, R. H. Robinson, Thos. Stevenson, Alex. Steele, J. B. Adamson and C. C. G. Hannah.
Board of Arbitration—Robt. Mann, J. A. Matthews and H. Endacott.

The report of the Auditors showed that the finances of the Board are in a satisfactory condition. An honorarium of $25 was voted to the Secretary, Col. Preston, in recognition of the efficient and satisfactory manner in which he has discharged the arduous duties of Secretary.

At the close of the business meeting Col. Preston introduced the subject of the abolition of tax exemptions. A number of the members took part in the discussion, which proved quite instructive. The question will probably be taken up again in the near future.

LA GRIPPE RAVAGES.

The Trouble Sweeping Over Canada Is An Epidemic.

Weakened and Broken Constitutions Left Behind—How to Regain New Health and Strength.

La grippe is one of the most dangerous diseases that annually sweeps over Canada. It start with a sneeze—a slight cold— and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the strong man on his back; it tortures him with fevers and chills, with headaches and backaches. Its victims are left low-spirited and depressed, and an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, rheumatism, and often that most dreaded of all diseases — consumption. You can avoid la grippe entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The trouble takes as its victims those whose blood is in a poor condition, and its effects are more lasting than the trouble itself. For the after-effects of la grippe there is absolutely no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to make rich, red blood that drives disease from the system, and makes weak, despondent men and women bright, cheerful and strong. If you have suffered in any way from the epidemic of la grippe that has been sweeping over Canada, give this great health-restoring medicine a trial, and it will not disappoint you. Here is proof of the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over the after-effects of this disease. Mr. P. E. Paulin, collector of customs at Caraquet, N.B., says: "A few winters ago I had a severe attack of la grippe, which completely broke me down. I had to take to my bed for several weeks, and although during that time I employed a doctor I did not seem to recover from the trouble. I was left terribly weak, did not sleep well, had night sweats and little or no appetite. I was really a physical wreck. On a former occasion I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for general debility with such great success that I decided to try them again. I sent for a half dozen boxes and began to take the Pills at once. When taking the second box I began to feel quite a change in my condition. I was able to walk about the house and my appetite was improving. From that on I gained strength every day and before the six boxes were done I was able to return to the office and attend to my work. I have since enjoyed the best of health, and think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine for trouble of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only promptly cure the serious after-effects of la grippe, but they make well and strong, all persons suffering from any form of debility or general weakness. These pills have no laxative or purgative action; their mission is to make new, rich, red blood, and thus fortify and strengthen every organ and every part of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MARSVILLE.

(Too late for last week.)

On Sunday evening, Jan. 29th, there passed to the Great Beyond a much respected resident of this vicinity in the person of Mrs. Robt. Simpson. Last August she was a victim of a paralytic stroke, but was gradually gaining in strength and her friends had bright hopes of her complete recovery. On Sunday evening she was again afflicted and about 11 o'clock breathed her last. She was in her 53rd year and was the oldest daughter of the late John Scott, one of the pioneers of this neighborhood, whose home was about two miles north of this village. She was a woman of many excellent qualities and was endeared by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She proved a true helpmate to her husband and was much devoted to her family. The funeral took place on Tuesday to Price's burying ground, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. Munroe, of the Disciple Church. Besides a sorrowing husband she leaves to mourn her loss, three sons—Herbert, Henry and George; two daughters, Mrs. R. Bryan, of Erin township, and Miss Ethel, at home. One sister, Mrs. Geo. Wilson, of Toronto, and two brothers, Isaac, of Waldemar, and John, of Amaranth Township.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Donaldson. In spite of the storm, the attendance was very encouraging, twenty-six of the members being present. Mrs Donaldson, the delegate to the Toronto Convention, gave an excellent report, which was well received. Other important discussions pertaining to the work in the home took place, after which Mrs. Donaldson served a dainty lunch, which was enjoyed by all. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation of an emblem pin and an address to Mrs. Donaldson, who is soon to leave the community.

The Council met on Friday when such business as receiving the Auditors' report and appointing the pathmasters was transacted.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon. The preparatory service was conducted on the Friday previous by the Rev. Mr. Cheyne, of Claude.

A very interesting shooting match was held in Hillsburg on Saturday, when the Garafraxa and Erin marksmen met as opposing sides. There were fourteen men a side and each man had 10 shots, 5 off hand and 5 with a rest. There was some excellent work done and when the scoring was completed the Garafraxa team was declared victorious by about 20 inches. The winners dined at the expense of their opponents. Mr. Geo. Grasley, of the Garafraxa team, carried off first money in the prizes.

Mr. Jas. Turner, of the Erin and Garafraxa townline, near Orton, has sold his farm containing 100 acres to Mr. Fred. Wilson, for $6500. Mr. Turner has bought another farm of 100 acres near Fergus for $8000.

Mr. Robt. Legate, of Tecumseth Township, made a short visit to old friends here last week. Rob was accompanied by his best girl.

—Nadruco Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne—the guaranteed Cough Syrup.

Mr. Thos. McGuire, of Bolton, was found frozen to death on the highway near Bolton a week ago Tuesday morning by the milkman. He had become exhausted in the storm.

Children Had Eczema

Treatment prescribed had no effect—DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT made thorough cure.

Mrs. Oscar Vancott, St. Antoine, Sask., writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for Eczema and other skin diseases. One son, while nursing, broke out with running watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scabs and he suffered agony untold. He became weak and frail and would not eat and we thought we would lose him.

"Providentially we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their little ones may be saved from suffering."

As a cure for eczema and itching skin disease there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

GLENCROSS.

(Too late for last week.)

It is rumored that Mr. Jas. Hicks and family are about to leave this vicinity, and take up their residence in the Queen City.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmen, of Collingwood, have been visiting friends in this community during the past week.

Miss Grace East, of Mono Centre, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Still, of this place.

Our school is closed owing to an epidemic of measles in the neighborhood. We are sorry to hear that our teacher, Miss Gordon, is ill at present, but we trust that she will soon be able to resume her duties once more.

Mr. McIntosh, a student from Toronto, addressed our congregation on Sunday afternoon.

We are all very sorry to hear of the very serious illness of Herbie, the little son of Mrs. Geo. Bagnell, of this place. The little fellow is very low with peritonitis, but under the treatment of Dr. Carson we feel confident all will be done that can possibly hasten his recovery, for Dr. Carson's skill has certainly gained the confidence of this community.

Mr. Joseph Jeffers has gone to Shelburne to spend a few weeks with friends there.

On Friday night last Lennox Bros. gave a very successful party to the young people of this community. A very enjoyable time is reported.

Miss Nina Bremner is supplying in Hockley School for Miss Bagnell, who, on account of sickness in her home, is unable to take up her duties as teacher this week.

MONO MILLS.

Mr. Perry, of Lloydtown, spent Sunday with his brother, Rev. R. J. W. Perry, at the Rectory, Lucille.

Mrs. Isaac Simpson, of Brantford, visited friends here last week.

Mrs. Acheson, of Everett, representing the Presbyterial Home Mission Society of Orangeville Presbytery, gave an address in the Presbyterian Church here on Sunday evening last in the interests of the work in the extreme northern parts of Canada.

Mrs. Wm. Jackson and her son, Mr. Samuel Jackson, returned home on Saturday after spending a week with Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Holdsworth at the Rectory, Havelock.

Mr. Thomas Holmes, an aged and highly respected resident of Caledon, is ill at present.

Mr. David Kee, of Sleswick, whose illness was noted some time ago, is not much better.

The annual meeting of the Public Library was held as announced on Saturday afternoon last. There was a good attendance and reports show an increased membership during the past year. The government grant received during the year, together with money contributed in donations and members' fees, made it possible to purchase a number of new books, which have been placed in the Library. The following officers were elected:—President, Rev. John A. Black; Vice-President, Rev. R. J. W. Perry; Sec.-Treas., John A. Vance; Committee, Mrs. D. N. Potter, Miss Jennie Jackson, Miss Isabella Potter, Mr. John D. Kee; Librarian, Mrs. James Henry. The Committee are making arrangements to hold a social evening some time in the near future.

Mr. Wesley Kee, one of the most successful horsemen of the vicinity, sold a fine two year old colt recently for the sum of $200.

Miss Ethel McCutcheon, of Alton, spent Sunday with her brother, Mr. John McCutcheon.

Mr. Geo. McPherson, of Wadena, Sask., who has been spending the winter with friends here, left for the West on Tuesday. The writer does not know whether George took a partner back with him or not, but when last seen, the chances looked good.

Mr. Dolson Adair returned from the West on Saturday last.

The time of the next meeting of the local Farmers' Institute has been changed to 2 o'clock p.m., on Thursday, February 23rd. The programme will consist of two short addresses illustrating the desirable and undesirable points in Cattle and Horses. Mr. John E. Jackson will take the subject, "Breeding, Feeding and Caring for Cattle" and will have a specimen animal from his own stable, in a six months' old thorobred Shorthorn calf, wherewith to illustrate his points. Mr. James Haffey, one of the farmers of this vicinity, who is awake to the possibility of attaining a high degree of success in breeding, feeding and caring for horses, will also have a specimen from his own high-class stock to illustrate his address. This should certainly be one of the very best meetings the Institute workers have ever had and will be well worth attending. All are welcome and cordially invited.

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleville, Ont.—"I was so weak and worn out from a female weakness that I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do as good a day's work as I ever did. I sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for your kind letters, as I certainly profited by them. I give you permission to publish this any time you wish."—Mrs. ALBERT WICKETT, Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will cure female weakness and so successfully carry women through the Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

TOOK THE ADVICE OF HER FRIENDS.

And Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Mrs. Painchaud Well.

She Inherited Ill-Health From Her Parents, and for Seven Years Was a Sufferer from Kidney and Heart Trouble.

Whitworth, Temiscouta Co., Que., February 13th—(Special)—That she took the advice of her friends and used Dodd's Kidney Pills is the reason Mrs. Julien Painchaud of this place gives for the perfect health that shows in her every movement.

"I inherited ill-health from my parents," Mrs. Painchaud says in an interview. "For seven years my Heart and Kidneys bothered me. I was always tired and nervous. I could not sleep. My eyes had dark circles round them, and were puffed and swollen.

"I could hardly do my housework when I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box relieved me of pain, and six boxes made me perfectly well."

Every woman who is feeling fagged, tired and worn out, should use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cure the Kidneys, and every woman's health depends on her Kidneys. Healthy Kidneys mean pure blood, and pure blood carries new life to run down organs which supply the body with energy.

If you're a suffering woman ask your friends. They'll tell you out of their own experience to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

PRIMROSE.

Well, Mr. Editor, as I have had a very pleasant visit at my old home and as Pat and the Unknown are keeping things warm in this section I thought I would visit some of my old friends around Shelburne and vicinity. So chancing a ride with Josh Brinkman we soon arrived in town, where we found quite a large crowd, some attending a meeting of the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company and others a meeting of the Farmers' Institute. As I had no interest in either of these and as Jim Higgins said there were doings up north I started up the 3rd line, but hadn't gone far when Alex. Matthews came along with a basket of eggs, that he was taking to Fisher's. He said that he generally got a ride down with Bert Moncrieff, but that Bert had commenced walking since they were charging for shed room. I next met Ward Lindsay, who was teaming out grain for Johnny McLean, as he was sure of getting the highest price since he had acquired the interest in White & Co's. store. Just opposite the schoolhouse we came across Bob Mills and E. McNabb on their way to practice for the next carnival. As the walking was heavy I dropped into Alex. Morrison's, and borrowed his horse and cutter, but didn't get far up the 2nd line when the horse turned into Jno. Legate's and refused to go further. Asking to see Mr. Legate I was directed to Lige Hamilton's, where I found him deep in a game of checkers, which detained me some time. When we got back he let me have John J's. driver. Hadn't gone far when I met Allie Hamilton, who wanted to trade horses, and as I declined he said Ed. Longhurst would anyway. Arriving at Dick Woods', I found my old friend Will Noble also there, and as they seemed greatly excited over something, I enquired the cause and was informed that Charlie had bought a new automobile as he and Henry Phillips were going into the fish and honey business together. Arriving at Spring Valley I met Henry Cave, who was looking very downhearted. After a short chat he told me Jim was going to get spliced and he didn't see why he couldn't. Arriving at Billy McLean's, I tied the horse in the shed and went in for a glass of hard cider. On going out again I found the horse had broken loose and disappeared. Looking across the way I noticed a shield in one of the windows of the Reid block and learned that it was a new man who had started up in an old business. Just then Ollie Arnold happened along and after describing the lost horse, he said there was one like that up at Job Webster's, and that they would take good care of it. As borrowed outfits had proven very unsatisfactory, I decided to purchase one for myself, so made a few enquiries where a good horse could be got, and was directed to Jackson Irwin's. He was sold out of that line, but sent me to Wm. Page's, where I took a fancy to a little bay one. After purchasing it and before starting I enquired its age. He said he didn't know as he got it from Frank O'Flynn, who had got her from Harry Gozzard, and he from Dr. Rooney. Anyway she must have thought it was another doctor this time as she started up the road as if some one were sick and sure enough I soon met Johnny Wallace, who said he was feeling a little down in the lip. I took out my grip and gave him a few peas, instead of some pills. Meeting an old friend, Hugh Bates, and receiving a cordial invitation to spend a few days with him I gladly accepted it. Unkil Joe.

CONNOR.

CORBETTON.

The station yard here is beginning to fill up again with the different kinds of timber, that finds a ready market at this ambitious burg.

Mr. Roy Carey has gone to the Queen City, where he has secured a good situation. We are loath to part with Roy, as his cheerful manner always put a bright side on things that otherwise often appeared gloomy. We wish him every success in the big city to the south of us.

Mrs. (Rev.) Langford, of Alton, but formerly of this place, is visiting in the village and vicinity.

MELANCTHON.

Another of the pioneers of Melancthon passed away last week in the person of Mr. Thomas Johnston, Sr., of the Old Survey. Deceased, who was an exceptionally strong and vigorous man, lived to the advanced age of 83 years, and was daily going about up to only a few days before he was seized with an attack of pneumonia, which was the cause of death. Deceased was a stalwart Orangeman, and in days gone by was often chosen as drummer for the Masonville lodge on the 12th of July. The funeral cortege, which was over a mile long, was held to Shelburne cemetery on Friday and was under the auspices of the Orange Order. Years ago Mr. Johnston served as councillor for the Township of Melancthon. He leaves a family of four sons and one daughter, all of whom are married, and living in this locality.

THE BALD HEADED MAN MAY LOOK WISE.

But If He Had Been He Would Have Had Now.

You do not want a scientific treatise on the hair follicle—you are not particularly interested in the name of the German scientist who isolated the bug that is said to cause baldness. What you do want to know is how to save the hair you have and make it strong and lustrous.

Nyal's Hirsutone will do it better than anything else.

It is not claimed that Hirsutone is a wonderful scientific secret—but it is the concrete result of all that is proven in the scientific treatment of sick and diseased hair and scalp.

It is a happy combination and you will notice a prompt improvement in the feeling of the scalp and the look of the hair.

Hirsutone loosens and removes all scaly and matted deposit on the scalp—stimulates the hair bulbs and gives new life and vigor to the hair itself.

Nyal's Hirsutone gives back to the hair and scalp just what it has been robbed of by your neglect and abuse.

It is time to start right. Use Hirsutone.

It is one of the Nyal remedies and no higher recommendation can be given it. They are all good. Ask your Nyal Druggist. He recommends it.

CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 1st, 1910.

"I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from Rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly walk up stairs.

Last June, he received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". He used them and dates his recovery from that time. To-day, there is no man in Vancouver enjoying better health.

He was building a house this fall and shingled a good part of the roof in a driving rain, without suffering any bad effects". JOHN B. LACY.

Mr. E. E. Mills, (assistant postmaster at Knowlton, Que.,) also writes:

Free to Stock and Poultry Raisers

We will send, absolutely free, for the asking, postpaid, one of our large thirty-two-page booklets on the common diseases of stock and poultry. Tells you how to feed all kinds of heavy and light horses, colts and mares, milch cows, calves and fattening steers, also how to keep and feed poultry so that they will lay just as well in winter as in summer. No farmer should be without it.

At a cost of only two-thirds of a cent a day per Animal, Royal Purple Stock Specific makes each Animal worth 25 per cent. more.

You never heard of any other Specific, or "Stock Food," doing likewise.

Royal Purple will permanently cure the Bots, Colic, Worms, Skin Diseases and Debility, and restore run-down Animals to plumpness and vigor.

It will increase the milk-yield three to five pounds per cow a day inside of from two to three weeks. It makes the milk richer than ever before.

MR. ANDREW WEGRICH, of Wainfiett, Ont., says: "This is to certify that I have tried your Royal Purple Stock Specific for two weeks, on one cow. On the 16th I weighed her milk as 17 pounds. I noticed a change after 5 or 6 days, as there was an extra weight of milk. On the 29th, I carefully weighed the milk, and she gave 22 pounds. I am giving an order for 5 boxes, as I consider it the best I have ever used."

"Stock Food" will not do this. Because "Stock Food" is nothing more or less than a mixture of the very things which you, yourself, grow on your own farm.

It is not more food your Animals need. They must have something to help their bodies get all the nourishment from the food they are getting. So that they will fatten, and stay fat, all the year 'round.

They need something to prevent disease, to cure disease, and to keep them in the best of health, all the time.

Not a Stock Food

Royal Purple is not a "Stock Food," nor a "medicine." It is a Conditioner.

It does not contain Grain, nor farm products. Nor does it contain "Dope," or any other injurious ingredient. Royal Purple does not merely temporarily bloat or inspire the Animal. It fattens and strengthens it, permanently.

No other Specific known adds flesh so quickly as Royal Purple. It makes 6-weeks-old Calves as large as ordinary-fed Calves are at 10 weeks.

Royal Purple makes naturally-thin Animals fat and heavy. And it builds up the health and restores the former plumpness and vigor of run-down stock, in little or no time.

The very best time to use this Conditioner is NOW. It digests the hard food properly and prevents the animals getting indigestion or losing flesh.

50 per cent. Cheaper

One 50-cent Package of Royal Purple will last one Animal 70 days. This figures a little over two-thirds of a cent per day.

Most "Stock Foods" in 50-cent Packages last but 50 days, and are given three times a day.

But Royal Purple Specific is given only once a day, and lasts 50 per cent. longer. (A $1.50 Pail, containing four times the amount of the 50-cent Package, lasts 280 days.)

So, you see, it is only necessary to give Royal Purple Specific once each day.

Just think of making each Animal worth 25 per cent. over its cost! What will that mean to you, Mr. Stock Owner!

It makes the Hens lay Eggs in Winter as well as in the Summer.

MRS. WM. BURNHAM, Sanford, Ont., says: "Dear Sirs,—This is to certify that I have used two boxes of your Poultry Specific for my hens. They laid so well while feeding it to them, I wondered if you would mind sending me word how or where I could get some this winter. I bought it from your agent last winter. I had 32 hens, and some days I got two dozen eggs a day in February and March, while feeding them the Specific."

Royal Purple Poultry Specific prevents Fowls losing flesh at moulting time, and permanently cures every poultry disease. It makes their plumage bright and keeps them always in prime condition.

It makes your Poultry worth more than they could ever be without it.

Yet one 50-cent Package will last 25 Hens 70 days. Or a $1.50 Pail will do 25 Hens 280 days. This is four times more material at only three times the cost.

Royal Purple

STOCK AND POULTRY SPECIFICS

Royal Purple creates an appetite for food, and helps nature to digest and turn it into flesh and muscle.

As a Hog fattener, Royal Purple has no equal.

Never Off Feed

Dan McEwen, the horseman, says: "I have used Royal Purple Stock Specific persistently in feeding 'The Eel,' 2.02¼, largest winner of any pacer on Grand Circuit in 1908 and 1909, and 'Henry Winters,' 2.10¼, brother of 'Allen Winters,' winner of $36,000 in trotting stakes in 1908.

"These horses have never been off their feed since I started using Royal Purple Specific. I will always have it in my stables. Your Cough Powder works like magic."

For Poultry

Royal Purple Poultry Specific is our other Specific. It is for Poultry—not for stock.

Make This Test

Every ounce of Royal Purple Stock and Poultry Specific is guaranteed.

To prove that Royal Purple has no equal, we want you to make this test:

Feed Royal Purple to any one of your Animals for four weeks. And at the same time feed any other preparation to any other Animal in the same condition.

If Royal Purple does not prove to you, by actual results, that it is the best you ever used, we'll return your money.

And we'll ask no questions—make no excuses. You will be the judge—not us.

This is an honest test, isn't it? We ask you to make it because we know that Royal Purple is the best Conditioner on the market.

If you are not satisfied, after testing it, you don't lose anything, do you?

Centralia, Ont., Feb. 7, '10.
The W. A. Jenkins Mfg. Co., London, Ont.:
Gentlemen,—We have been using Royal Purple Poultry and Stock Specific for the last three weeks, and must say that results are remarkable. Am feeding the Stock Specific to two milking cows, and they have increased 30 per cent. in their milk. The Poultry results are even more marked than this. We have about 60 hens, laying age. When we commenced feeding, we were getting five and six eggs a day, and in the last five days the same flock of hens laid 150 eggs, almost an average of 31 each day, and those five days have been the coldest this winter.

You can see results plainly in two or three days after the use of "Royal Purple," and the poultry have the same hustle and appearance now as in the summer time. With cows and poultry, am using exactly the same feed and care as before starting to feed "Royal Purple."

When farmers and stockmen get acquainted with Royal Purple, it will have a greater demand than all other tonics and stock foods on the market combined.

Yours truly, ANDREW HICKS.

W. A. Jenkins Mfg. Co., London, Ont.:
Gentlemen,—Last Fall we had in our stables a young mare belonging to Miss Clouston, of Montreal. We could not feed her any bran on account of causing violent scouring, consequently causing her to become weak and thin. We commenced using your Royal Purple Stock Specific, and the results were wonderful. After using it three weeks, we found we could feed the animal bran or any other soft feed without scouring her, and she actually took on in this time twenty-five pounds of flesh, we working her at the same time through the hunt. I can heartily recommend your Stock Specific.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and mental systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard earned dollars.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

A PREJUDICED BENCH.

It was a case in an Irish court, and, he prisoner seeming hard to satisfy, juryman after juryman was asked to leave the box. However, all things come to an end, even in Ireland, and at last the swearing of the jury was completed. And then the prisoner leaned over the dock and sought the ear of his counsel. "The jury's all right now, I think," he whispered, "but ye must challenge the judge. I've been convicted under him siviral times already, and maybe he's beginning to have a prejudice."

AN APPLE DEAL.

In September, 1909, William Cordingly, of Trafalgar, sold his apples as they hung on the trees to one, Allen J. Brown, an Apple Dealer, from Port Credit, for six hundred dollars. Under the written agreement two hundred dollars was to be paid down, a second two hundred when Brown started to pick and the balance when the apples were taken away. The first two hundred dollars was paid but nothing more. The season getting late, Cordingly got anxious as his apples were not being picked, and, after urging Brown to pick the apples arrived at an arrangement whereby he was to pick the same, which he did for a price. After they were picked, Brown did not come for the apples and Cordingly had to put them in his barn and supply artificial heat, and after notifying the plaintiff, sold them to T. Garner & Company, of Oakville. The plaintiff entered action for breach of contract and return of the two hundred dollars, making in all $625.00. The defendant disputed the claim and counterclaimed for one hundred and eight dollars for the expenses that he had been put to in connection with the care of the apples, etc.

The action was tried in the County Court before Judge Gorham at Oakville on the 27th day of December, 1910. His Honor reserved judgment and has now delivered judgment holding that Brown was in default in not making the payments he should have done and that Cordingly did everything that was reasonable to protect the apples which were a perishable crop. He dismissed the plaintiff's action with costs and giving Cordingly judgment on his counterclaim for $83.50 with costs.

A MILD REPROOF

There was once a judge noted for the mildness of his manners and the gentleness of his reproofs to the men who sometimes addressed each other in language which could not be passed by without notice in the court. One day two lawyers, who were pleading a case, went beyond the stage of bantering, and began to call each other names. One of them said:—"The learned gentleman on the other side is, may it please your honor, not only the worst, but the most stupid, lawyer in the country." "You forget yourself, Mr. Brown, you forget yourself," said the judge, rapping the table gently.

PEEL FARMERS' MUTUAL.

John Rutherford Retires From Directorate.

The Company Carries 3,453 Risks, Totalling Over $7,000,000.

The annual meeting of the Peel Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company was held in the Concert Hall here on Saturday afternoon last and was attended by a very large number of farmers and others interested in the company, the hall being well filled.

The reports showed a most satisfactory state of affairs with the Company.

Secretary J. J. Stewart's report announced that the total number of policies in force is now 3,453 and the total amount of insurance thereon is $7,131,820.00. There is a balance on hand to next year's account of $17,071.56

The Directors appointed at the meeting are:—For Halton County, Hugh Cunningham, Norval; for York County, J. Gardhouse, Highfield; for Chinguacousy Township, Alex. Armstrong, Campbell's Cross; for Toronto Township, F. J. Jackson, Meadowvale; for the Gore, Nicholas Harrison, Castlemore; Mr. John Sinclair was appointed Auditor.

Prior to the election of officers President Harrison read the following letter from Mr. John Rutherford, a former president of the company:

President, Officers and Policy Holders of the Peel Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Gentlemen,—In accordance with the promise made you three years ago when I was last elected I am retiring from the Directorate of your company. In doing so I desire to express my thanks to the officers and members of the company who have worked with me and with whom I have been closely associated during the past sixteen years. In all that time I gave my best judgment to every item of business coming before the Board and at all times endeavored to further the interests of the Company.

During the three years I filled the office of President many matters of importance were dealt with and it was a great pleasure to me to have in almost every instance the cordial and unanimous support of my fellow directors.

It is a source of satisfaction to me to know that the company is in a prosperous position and that it is working under efficient and skillful management and that it is doing good service to the farmers of Peel and of the adjoining counties.

I will look back with interest and pleasure upon the years when I was associated with the Company and will watch its continued growth and prosperity.

With best wishes to the individual members and to the Company, I am

Yours very sincerely,
R. J. RUTHERFORD.

Mr. Rutherford was at all times a valued member of the company and his retirement is deeply regretted, not only by the directorate but the policyholders as well. That he may be spared to witness the growth and prosperity of the company he served so well and so long is the unanimous wish of all connected with the Peel Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors following the general meeting of the shareholders, Nicholas Harrison was re-elected president, J. J. Stewart, secretary, David Kirkwood treasurer, and Ralph Crawford, auditor.—Bramptonconservator.

Much sickness is due to nervous troubles. Headache, dizziness, epilepsy and insanity are nervous troubles. Then there is a large class of disorders which arise from a weakness of the nerves of an organ or part, as weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidney, bladder, eyes, etc. Dyspepsia and indigestion are usually the result of nervous disorders.

Restorative Nervine soothes the irritated nerves, and assists the nerve cells to generate nerve force.

A REMARKABLE EXHIBITION.

A Fort William Opinion of the Welsh Ladies' Choir.

One of the most remarkable exhibitions of choral singing ever heard in the city was given by the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir in the Auditorium last evening before an excellent audience. The concert justified all the glowing accounts written in the public press, wherever the Choir has made its appearance in this county. It is a pleasure to listen to such a body of female voices, where almost every member, it seems, need not be ashamed to step out of the Choir and before the audience, because they are Welsh, and, as a nation of singers, nature has endowed them with an inherent facility of musical comprehension and with beautiful and natural voices. The Choir, which was composed of 18 voices, all bonnie lassies of attractive personality, sang with a delightful and appealing quality of voice that blended beautifully in the ensembles. The shading, too, while not exaggerated, varied from a delicate pianissimo to a degree of fortissimo that was amazing. The part songs were a special credit to the conductor, Madame Hughes Thomas, who has trained all the voices and succeeded in harmonizing them to such a degree that the rythm and precision were absolutely flawless.

Perhaps the most striking feature of the programme was the rendering of Verdi's "Miserere" by Miss Jennie Emanuel, Miss Nansi Langdon, and choir. Miss Emanuel, with a very brilliant soprano, carried the leading part beautifully, while Miss Langdon's wonderful contralto gave a rare quality to this thrilling piece. Other favorite items, which were repeatedly encored, were "Poor Wandering One" by Miss Beatrice Langford, and "My Ain Folk" by Miss Nansi Langdon. A rare accomplishment of the choir was the humming accompaniment to "Killarney" as sweet as the fluted strings of the violins—Fort William Daily Times-Journal, Saturday, October 15th.

LAUREL.

The Lecture and Concert given in the Town Hall on Monday night under the auspices of L. O. L. 330 attracted a large and decidedly enthusiastic audience. M. W. Bro. Thos. Duff, of Toronto, who was the chief speaker of the evening, delivered a ringing address, dealing in the course of his remarks with such themes as the following:—What Orangeism Is, and Stands For; The Eucharistic Congress; Is Protestantism a Soulless Religion?; The Teaching of the Roman Catholic Catechism in the Public Schools of Ontario, and the Bi-Lingual Question; Bro. Duff's speech was repeatedly applauded and undoubtedly made a profound effect upon the minds of his audience. Short addresses were also delivered by Revs. J. R. Bell and T. R. White, Mr. Robert Curry, County Master of Dufferin, and W. A. Wansbrough, Deputy-County Master. Reeve Bryan, Master of L. O. L. 330, occupied the chair. A pleasing musical programme was also provided, the numbers consisting of trios by Dr. Berwick and Messrs. Woods and Lindsay, Grand Valley, and instrumental music by Mr. Alex. and Miss Patterson and the Trimble family.

We regret to report the death of Mrs. Charles McGowan, a former resident of this neighborhood, at her home in Orangeville last Thursday. The attendant circumstances make the untimely demise doubly sad. The week preceding her death Mrs. McGowan gave birth to a little daughter, who passed away a few hours later. Then followed a week of anxious, unremitting, but unfortunately unavailing effort to save the life of the mother. The end came on Thursday and on Saturday afternoon the remains were laid at rest in the cemetery here. Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, conducted the services at the house and Rev. J. R. Bell, a former pastor, officiated at the grave. Mrs. McGowan, who was 35 years of age, was a daughter of Mr. Henry Bennington, an old and highly respected resident of Amaranth. She resided here up to the time of her marriage less than two years ago. Mr. Matthew Bennington, of Laurel, is an only brother, and Mrs. Thos. Buchanan, of Mono, is the only surviving sister. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved husband, the father, brother and sister in their great sorrow.

HOCKEY MATCH.

The hockey game between the Orangeville and Shelburne teams last Thursday night proved to be the best game local enthusiasts have had the opportunity of witnessing this season. Both teams played their best and the best team proved the winners. The visitors only succeeded in placing two goals to their credit, while the locals scored four in the first half and succeeded in bulging the net exactly the same number of times in the second period. A score of 8 to 2 would seem to indicate that the northerners were badly beaten, but the game was more even than the reader would gather from the figures. The visitors played hard and were game right to the finish. The locals skated much faster and in this respect their forward line had the visiting forwards badly outclassed. Kilpatrick, Ewing, Wright and Holmes are a pretty speedy quartette and also check back well. Scott at point also showed lots of speed and is a clever stick handler as well. Warren at coverpoint used his weight effectively in breaking up the rushes of the visiting forward line. Dr. Campbell refereed and kept the game clean. The line-up was:—

GALLON EGGS AGAIN.

Conflicting rumors concerning gallon eggs continue to be published. The trade in this class of goods appears to be rather extensive. It is asserted that five carloads of frozen Chinese eggs, sent by a New York commission firm, arrived in Toronto last fall, and were quietly disposed of to large users. Montreal authorities, having had their suspicions aroused on the question of canned eggs, have lately condemned a $1,000 consignment of Russian eggs. These, it is admitted, were not so dangerous as those from China, but yet contained a large number of bacteria. Russian eggs, however, do not lack defenders. Some of them have been sent to Canada by a reputable English firm, which takes back any that are not found fresh when opened and melted. It is claimed that Russian eggs are broken and frozen while fresh, and that, if continued frozen until they reached the consumer, they are good. The danger appears to arise from the transhipments due to the long journey. Dr. Hastings, Toronto Medical Health Officer, believes that Russian eggs, if properly handled, could be kept a long time, and might be perfectly healthful. But still the question remains, If perfectly good and fresh, why do these eggs have to be shipped so far, when Britain offers an open market for unlimited quantities of good eggs? Of course, there has been a scarcity in Canada, and it is possible that frozen eggs might be economically shipped in these tins; but, bearing in mind that inferior stock may be strained to remove spots, and then canned, we shall do well to suspect this stock, and demand that its wholesomeness be indisputably established.

WEDDING BELLS.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Taylor, East Luther, on Wednesday, February 8th, when their third daughter, Pearl Irene, was united in marriage to Mr. John Edgar Sanderson, of Orangeville, the ceremony being performed by Elder John H. Taylor, uncle of the bride. The bride entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by her cousin, Miss Gertie E. Taylor, and was given away by her father. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. James Sanderson, of Orangeville. The bride looked charming as she stood by the one of her choice under a beautiful arch of evergreens. She was attired in a beautiful gown of cream silk delaine, trimmed with liberty satin, wore the usual bridal wreath and veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary, who was neatly attired in a dress of mauve silk mull, trimmed with mauve silk and insertion to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Viola Hillis made a pretty flower girl, dressed in a dainty white mull frock, and carrying the nuptial ring in a basket of marguerites. The gift of the groom to the bride was a beautiful gold bracelet, to the bridesmaid a dainty gold brooch, to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links and to the flower girl a gold ring. After the ceremony and the usual congratulations, the guests repaired to the dining room, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Here a dainty wedding repast was partaken of and heartily enjoyed by all. The evening was then spent in games, songs, music and other amusements. The presents were numerous and also costly, bearing testimony to the high esteem in which the young couple are held by all who know them. The happy couple left on the morning train for a trip to Toronto, after which they will take up their residence in Orangeville. Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson start out in life accompanied by the best wishes of their many friends.

THE DIGNITY OF THE COURT.

The following incident is related of an American judge, who had a lofty idea of his own legal capacity, and was at the same time anxious to sustain the dignity of the Court. A murder case came before him. There was no direct evidence as to the perpetrator of the crime, but the individual arrested was well known, and, indeed, confessed the crime. When brought into Court, the judge cautioned the prisoner not to commit himself; that he must remember his rights as a free citizen; and that, above all things, he must not interrupt the proceedings of the Court.

After this friendly warning, the judge went on to state that he, the prisoner, was accused of having, on such a date, shot the deceased. Upon this, the prisoner broke in:—

"Well, an' so I did."

The judge was much annoyed at the interruption.

"Hold your tongue, sir," he exclaimed. "Have I not told you not to commit yourself, not to interrupt me? I shall commit you for contempt of Court if you do so again," he added, sternly.

He then repeated the accusation, upon which the prisoner again broke in:—

"I have told you afore that I killed—"

The judge's indignation was intense at this second interruption, and he demanded, angrily:—

"Mr. Sheriff, what is your evidence?"

"I have nothing but circumstantial evidence, your honor, and the prisoner's own confession."

"Then," said the judge, "I discharge the prisoner on this accusation, but commit him for contempt of Court."

SAVED HER FINGER.

Mrs. B. E. Bedwell, of 337 Provencher Ave., St. Boniface, Winnipeg, says:— "Some time ago my children took diphtheria, and while attending them the poison entered a small scratch on the second finger of my left hand. This became very sore and blood-poisoning soon set in. For months after the children were quite well I was suffering from a shockingly bad finger. The scratch was caused originally by a pin, and in itself, was not at all serious. The consequences, however, of neglecting this scratch, were very serious to me.

"When the blood-poisoning set in I tried poultices and a salve I had in the house. These, however, did not have the desired effect. Quite on the contrary the finger became more and more swollen and discolored. It then began to fester, and I had to call in a doctor. He lanced the finger to let out the pus, and you can imagine how painful the finger was! Despite his care, however, it again festered and the ointments, liniments, and other preparations which the doctor gave me seemed absolutely unable to bring about any relief.

"The doctor thereupon advised me to go into the St. Boniface Hospital. I feared that if I went to the Hospital the finger would be amputated. We were told of a case similar to my own in which Zam-Buk had effected a cure when everything else had failed and the doctor had said that only amputation could save the person's hand.

"We, therefore, decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. A supply was procured, and we commenced the Zam-Buk treatment. It only needed a few days to show the wisdom of this step. The blood-poisoning and inflammation were reduced, the pain became less acute, and it was evident very shortly that the trouble was being reduced to a less and still less area. We persevered with the Zam-Buk and in the end the festering sore was thoroughly cleaned, then healed. In under three weeks from first commencing with Zam-Buk, the finger was entirely well; and had we applied Zam-Buk in the first place, instead of trying ordinary preparations, no doubt I should have saved myself hours and hours of acute agony."

All mothers should note this case. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for blood-poisoning, festering, cuts, scratches from barbed wire, bruises, eczema, rashes, tetter, salt rheum, face sores, ulcers, piles, bad leg, varicose veins, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c a box, all druggists and stores or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c stamp for postage of free trial box. Refuse all imitations.

—Tuesday's storm drifted the roads badly.

—Friday is the last day on which discount will be allowed on water rates.

—Two rinks of curlers visited Shelburne Monday night and were defeated by 24 points.

Mr. S. R. Frost, chemist in the Superior Cement Works, is laid up with a severe attack of la grippe.

—Tuesday was shipping day. A large amount of stock was delivered by farmers notwithstanding the severe storm.

—Mr. John Cannawin has bought the Grand Central Hotel stables and is converting them into a Sales Stable and Feed Barn.

—St. Andrew's Congregation held an enjoyable social evening last Friday night. The function was well-attended, and thoroughly enjoyed.

—Miss Helen L. Bremner will not be at her office in Orangeville after March fair, except by appointment during the months of March and April.

Mrs. W. J. Manning and little daughter, Myra, Bond Head, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson, last week.

—Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.P.P. for Dufferin, is advertised to speak at the Canadian Temperance League meeting in Massey Hall next Sunday afternoon.

—February monthly fair was a great success. There was a very large crowd in town. A brisk business was done in horses, a large number of exchanges taking place at satisfactory prices.

—Mrs. Wm. Smith, Jr., of Mono, underwent a rather serious operation in the Fergus hospital on Tuesday. We are glad to learn that the operation appears to have been completely successful.

—Councillor W. J. Henry, of Mono, has bought the purebred 13 months' old Scotch Shorthorn Bull, "Lord Nelson" from Mr. David Burrell, of Greenwood, a well-known stock breeder. "Lord Nelson" is from imported stock on both sides. He cost Mr. Henry $150.

—Royal Rose Talcum—soothing as a caress, sweet as a Baby's Kiss.

—Mr. T. C. Hamilton, of Grand Valley, has bought the e ½ of the e ½ lot 18, con. 9, East Garafraxa, from James Whiteside, paying in the neighborhood of $2200. Mr. Hamilton, who now owns a fine 100 acre farm, bought the property purely as an investment.

—We regret that we are unable to report very much improvement in the condition of Mr. Geo. Wilcox, one of our oldest business men. Mr. Wilcox has been confined to his room since the beginning of the month. His friends will join in hoping for a speedy recovery.

—The liquor case against "Scotty" Hart was not proceeded with on Saturday. We understand that Hart has been granted bail, the Magistrate accepting his own bond to appear when wanted. Inspector Avearst was in town on Saturday in connection with the case and while here made a seizure of liquor in the Queen's Hotel. The "goods" have been forwarded to Toronto for analysis.

—Tuesday's storm interfered seriously with traffic on the local C.P.R. branches. The northbound passenger trains did not reach Orangeville until after 10 o'clock Tuesday night. The lines north and west of this town are completely tied up, and will probably not be in running order until to-morrow. Passengers who are unable to reach their destinations are being cared for by the Company at local hotels.

MEETING CANCELLED.

Owing to the storm and drifted roads the officers of L. O. L. 635 cancelled the public meeting, which was advertised to take place in the Town Hall Tuesday night. M. W. Bro. Thos. Duff, Representative of the Orange Mutual Benefit Society, who was to be one of the chief speakers, drove in from Laurel where he had addressed a meeting on Monday night. W. Bro. Duff had a difficult time getting through, but managed to make Orangeville about nine o'clock, only to find that the meeting had been cancelled.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS FOR ALL BABIES.

Every mother of young children should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. No other medicine has relieved so many little ones of the ailments that afflict them as have Baby's Own Tablets—no other medicine can be given baby with that absolute sureness of safety as can these Tablets. The mother has the guarantee of a Government analyst that they do not contain a particle of those harmful drugs that make those so-called "soothing" stuffs so dangerous to the life of the little one. The Tablets never fail to be of benefit. Concerning them Mrs. Jno. A. Albert, Caraquet, N.B., writes:—"I am happy to state that I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation for my two children with great satisfaction." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RUSH FOR SEATS.

There was an unusual rush for seats when the plan for the Welsh Ladies' Choir Concert was opened at The Banner Office at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Over 150 tickets were reserved in the first half hour, and by noon the number had passed the 200 mark. At time of going to press on Wednesday evening there were only about 75 seats left in the whole hall. Everything points to an overflow house on Friday night.

FOR BALD HEADS.

A Treatment That Costs Nothing if it Fails.

We want you to try three large bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy, and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall '93' Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for thousands of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store — The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

A DIFFICULT DRIVE.

During the eleven years that he has been engaged in the work of the Orange Mutual Benefit Society, M. W. Bro. Thos. Duff has never broken or failed to fulfil an engagement to speak in a Lodge or at a public meeting. Considering the fact that he is out at all seasons of the year and that many of his meetings are held in country places, which can only be reached by long drives, sometimes over drifted and nearly impassable roads, it will be readily understood that Bro. Duff must sometimes find it a very difficult matter to keep his appointments. An instance that is very much to the point occurred here this week. On Monday night W. Bro. Duff gave an address in the Town Hall at Laurel. He spent Tuesday in Laurel, intending to take the evening train to Orangeville, where he was billed to speak Tuesday night. Rev. J. R. Bell drove him to Laurel station about six o'clock. On arriving he found that the trains were hours behind schedule time and the track so badly filled in the well-known Laurel cut that there was little prospect of any train being able to force its way through. Rather than disappoint his Orangeville audience, Bro. Duff decided to make the nine mile drive to the County Town. He prevailed on Mr. R. J. Stevens, a farmer living close to Laurel station, to attempt the difficult trip. The two men left Mr. Stevens' place shortly before seven o'clock and, following 10 sidereod east to the Prince of Wales Road, reached Orangeville about nine o'clock. They had great difficulty keeping the road in the darkness, and their horse got down in the snow several times. Mr. Duff tried hard to persuade Mr. Stevens to remain in Orangeville over night, but the plucky farmer insisted upon returning to his home. We understand that Mr. Stevens did not fare as well on the home trip. Instead of going by the same road he went west from Orangeville to the 2nd line in Amaranth. After going north on the 2nd line a short distance, he got into the fields, lost the track and after wandering about for some time was obliged to seek shelter at a nearby farmer's place. W. Bro. Duff was about town yesterday apparently none the worse from his arduous experience. He spoke in L.O.L. 84 Hall at Glencross last night, and expects to speak in the Orange Hall at Relessey Friday night.

ENDURING VALUE

Observe how highly every MASON & RISCH is prized by its owner—how years of constant use only heighten their appreciation of it. MASON & RISCH PIANOS in use for twenty-five years are still in such good condition as to give no reason for wanting a new instrument. Think how seldom you find a exchanged for a new Piano of another make. When one is offered it is considered much above the average value, a very special bargain even at a higher than average price.

This permanent satisfaction and enduring value is due to innate soundness of construction and its varying excellence of material, fortified with the exclusive Aliquot System, by which beauty of tone is so built into the Mason & Risch as to be as permanent a part of the instrument as the case itself.

No Sick Person can Afford to throw away this chance to get a 50c. bottle of Psychine FREE

This being ill is curious business.

It usually commences in a subtle fashion, almost unconsciously.

Yet if you do not check your illness, it grows and grows.

The greatest scavengers of the body are the white corpuscles, or phagocytes in the blood.

These white corpuscles attack and eat up every germ of disease that invades the body.

That is when they are strong enough and in sufficient numbers.

If they're not strong enough, then they wage an unequal warfare until they are finally overcome by their more powerful enemies.

The body becomes steadily sicker and sicker until actual disease sets in.

Now, we have had all sorts of so-called cures.

And a great many people have seriously endangered their health experimenting with them.

But years ago—before even science was able to tell we had the right treatment for disease—viz., herbs, nature's own remedies.

Now that science can tell to an absolute certainty, we know why certain herbs cure disease.

Because they strengthen and increase the white corpuscles or phagocytes.

To-day it is making remarkable cures.

Hundreds of thousands of people made well and kept well.

Why?

Because Psychine is largely made up of those herbs that scientists now know increase and strengthen the white corpuscles, the phagocytes.

That's why we have received hundreds of thousands of unsolicited testimonials, that's why we can afford to buy and give away hundreds of thousands of 50-cent bottles of Psychine, that's why Psychine benefits these diseases:

La Grippe	Bronchial Coughs
Bronchitis	Weak Lungs
Hemorrhages	Weak Voice
Sore Throat	Spring Weakness
Anæmia	Early Decline
Female Weakness	Catarrhal Affections
Indigestion	Catarrh of Stomach
Poor Appetite	Night Sweats
Chills and Fevers	Obstinate Coughs
Sleeplessness and Nervous Troubles	Laryngitis and Dyspepsia

After-effects of Pleurisy, Pneumonia and La Grippe.

Now we don't ask you to take our word for the tremendously beneficial effects of Psychine. Fill out the coupon below, mail it to us and we'll give your druggist an order (for which we pay him the regular retail price) for a 50-cent bottle of Psychine to be given you free of cost.

We will undoubtedly buy and distribute in this manner, hundreds of thousands of these 50-cent bottles of Psychine.

And we do that to show our entire confidence in this wonderful preparation.

A confidence that has been based on our 30 years' experience with this splendid preparation, with a full knowledge of the hundreds of thousands of cures it has made.

AGAINST RECIPROCITY.

Peel Conservative Association Passes a Strong Resolution.

Stirring Addresses by Prominent Party Representatives.

The Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Peel held its annual meeting in the Town Hall in Brampton, on Saturday afternoon. A great deal of interest was manifested in the meeting and the hall was well-filled by an interested audience, composed very largely of farmers and gardeners.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Robt. McCulloch, of Snelgrove, the President of the Association. The speakers were Dr. Sproule, M. P., Claude Macdonnell, M.P., R. Blain, M.P., S. Charters, M.P.P. and Hillyard Birmingham. Reciprocity was naturally the principal subject discussed and maintenance of the National Policy, protection of Canadian interests and the promotion of trade within the Empire may be described as the keynotes of the addresses. At the conclusion of the speaking, the following resolution was introduced by B. F. Justin, seconded by J. S. Rutherford:—

"That the Liberal-Conservatives of the County of Peel, assembled at their annual meeting, again put on record their confidence in and appreciation of R. L. Borden as leader of the party in the House of Commons, not only because of his ability and his honesty and rectitude as a man, but because we believe that when given the opportunity, which should come at an early date, he will prove as fearless and as successful in the management of the affairs of the Dominion of Canada as Sir James P. Whitney has done in the Province of Ontario. And having heard the splendid addresses given by Dr. Sproule and Claude Macdonnell, we are assured that Mr. Borden will form a Government at Ottawa as fearless, honest and patriotic as we now have at Toronto.

"We again renew our confidence in Richard Blain, the hardworking and popular member for the county, and pledge him our united support in the future, as in the past.

"And we would urge upon the party at Ottawa the necessity at the present time of united action in opposing the movement for reciprocity with the United States, as exposing our country to the overpowering influence of our great neighbor to the south, endangering our relationship as one of the units of the Empire, and leaving our people upon to unfair and improper commercial methods, and thereby making it possible for us to offend our powerful neighbor if we endeavor to protect ourselves in the future against undue commercial aggression, while at the same time they are at liberty, as plainly stated by some of their public men, to change everything that may operate to their disadvantage. We are friendly now, and each country should work out its own destiny."

A second resolution was carried as follows:—Moved by Ralph Crawford, seconded by Moses Johnston:

"That the Liberal-Conservatives of the County of Peel, in annual meeting assembled, hereby express their continued and unbounded confidence in the honesty, integrity and ability of Sir James P. Whitney and his colleagues, constituting the most progressive Government in the history of Ontario, and who, while conserving the natural resources of the province, and protecting the rights of the people against unfair competition from without, within the limits of provincial jurisdiction have the courage to pledge the credit of the province in opening up the millions of fertile acres in our great north land, developing the mines, assisting agriculture, aiding the people through the utilization of our great water powers, and promoting the moral and physical well-being of the people by educational advancement, hospital improvement, prison reform and otherwise.

"We again renew our confidence in Samuel Charters, the popular member for the county, and pledge him our united support in the future, as in the past."

The resolution evidently met with general approval and was endorsed by a standing vote.

The officers elected for the year are as follows:—President, R. McCulloch; Vice-President, Geo. Downey; Secretary, J. R. Fallis; Treasurer, F. J. Jackson.

Short addresses were delivered by all the officers and also, at the request of the audience, by Rev. Canon Walsh.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Mrs. Wm. Hammell and her three children narrowly escaped being killed recently near Woodbridge by being upset over a bridge to the ice below. Mr. Hammell was taking his automobile on a sleigh to the city. Mrs. Hammell and the children occupied the auto, while Mr. Hammell and Mr. Charles Suggett were seated in front of it. Just as they reached the bridge the sleigh slid and the automobile went over, taking the occupants with it. It fell upside down on the bank of the creek, which is about six feet below the bridge. Mrs. Hammell struck on the back of her head and was unconscious when her husband reached her. The baby, which she held in her arms, as well as the other children, was uninjured; but her daughter's clothing was caught beneath the dashboard, holding her fast under the auto, which had to be raised to release her. Mr. Suggett, who was driving, drew up the horses when the sleigh slid, turned them quickly and started ahead, thus preventing the sleigh from going over the bridge also. Mrs. Hammell has not yet fully recovered from the concussion and shock, occasioned by the fall.—Beeton World.

His Old Age Made Free From Suffering

ANNAPOLIS, N.S

I have taken six boxes of GIN PILLS altogether but got relief before I had taken near that amount. I had to get up some nights every fifteen minutes and had to use an instrument before I could urinate.

Now, I can lie in bed four or five hours without getting up. I can say that GIN PILLS have nearly cured me and I shall always keep a box in the house."

CELEBRATED HIS HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Geo. M. Bull, of Brighton, Ont., celebrated her hundredth birthday, on Monday. She is hale and hearty, very seldom misses a meal, and her chances look good to celebrate a few more birthdays. She is living with her son-in-law, James Robson, dry goods merchant, of Brighton. Her son, Mr. M. Bull, Soap manager of the Royal Crown Co., of Winnipeg, was present along with other children and many grandchildren. The old lady has received over 200 post cards and a score of telegrams, congratulating her, and she is thoroughly enjoying the whole proceedings. She was born at Plymouth, England.

Mrs. Bull and her family at one time lived in Alton, where we believe the son, Mr. M. Bull, was born. Mr. Manlius Bull referred to was for several years a salesman with the late Mr. Leslie, grocer, and the old firm of K. Chisholm & Co., in Brampton. Mr. Bull married a daughter of the late Mr. Robert Aitken, of Brampton, Mrs. Bull dying while he resided there.

SURE SIGNS.

Of Kidney Trouble.

If your back is constantly aching and if you experience dull shooting pains, your kidneys are out of order. If your urine is thick and cloudy or your passages frequent, scanty or painful, your kidneys and bladder are out of order. Neglect quickly brings on rheumatism, diabetes, lumbago, sciatica, etc.

Mrs. John Wagner, of 110 Hollis St., Halifax, N. S., says: "Dull shooting pains would catch me across the small part of my back and extend into my shoulders and neck, often causing me to suffer with severe headaches and spells of dizziness. Spots would dazzle before my eyes and everything would turn black. I would fall to the floor and be unable to get up again, without assistance. A friend told me of Booth's Kidney Pills and I began their use. The first box gave me relief and I am now well and strong."

Booth's Kidney Pills

All druggists sell Booth's Kidney Pills 50c. a box with a guarantee to relieve or your money back. They are the world's greatest specific for Kidney and Bladder trouble. Postpaid from the proprietors, The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

Rev. S. R. Robinson and Mr. W. J. Limebeer, of Alton, waited upon Mr. Lockie Wilson, the Superintendent of Fairs, on Monday last. For some time there have been matters of a financial character requiring adjustment in connection with the Caledon Agricultural Society. The auditors this year refused to include in the assets a promissory note held by the Society. The duty and responsibility of the officers and directors were discussed with the superintendent and there is little doubt that at the first meeting of te members the debt will be written off and the correct financial position of the society made known. Rev. S. R. Robinson is the assistant secretary, and will no doubt put into the work of the society a portion of the energy which characterizes his conduct in everything with which he is associated.—Brampton Conservator.

Boy Had Fits For 6 Years

Mrs. J. D. Palmer, 38 Park St., Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "When six years of age my boy began to have fits. They came on in the night. He would make strange noises, stiffen out, froth at mouth, face would twitch and sometimes turned purple. After the fit he could not talk.

"The family physician said all he could do was to keep them down somewhat. The second physician pronounced trouble Jeffersonian epilepsy, but could not cure him. He suffered for six years and before beginning the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food had three fits in about five days. Our druggist recommended Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. He has taken seven boxes and has not had the symptom of a fit since. His color has greatly improved; he is not nervous and irritable like he used to be, and we consider his cure complete."

Such results are only obtained by the use of the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food—not from imitations or substitutes. 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1911.

WANTS $4248.

Mr. J. M. Deagle Presents the Town Council With a Modest Bill.

Mayor Riddell and his colleagues in the Town Council are apparently not troubled with weak hearts. Otherwise some of them would surely have collapsed from the effects of the shock they received on Monday night, when the Mayor unfolded and proceeded to read a document which proved to be an account from the Cataract Electric Company. His Worship had only read a few words, when the Council awoke to the fact that the Company was presenting the town with a bill, which it developed was for the exceedingly modest sum of $4248. Included in the amount claimed by Mr. Deagle is the sum of $975 for street lighting. The Corporation has already issued orders amounting to $889.85 in settlement of this account. This, Mr. Deagle has not seen fit to accept. There are no less than 61 items in the bill. The following are a few of them :—

Oct, 1905—To changing the placing of arc lamps from mast arms to the centre of the street—$250.00

Sept. 1907—To changing lamp on East Broadway easterly and higher, $31.00.

Jan. 1908—To interruptions and loss in private lighting from wires burning off and short circuiting in 1907,—$100.00.

To following the town's instructions to not place any more poles in the limits of the Town of Orangeville causing loss of business and revenue. $1000.00.

To amount docked for lamps as reported by police as out while only out a portion of the night, $118.00.

To 4 years' lighting lamp over reporters' table, $20.00.

To 2 years' lighting lamp in lockup, $10.00.

To loss of revenue through the Town delaying placing of street lamps contracted for, $465.00.

The account was referred to the Street Lighting and Finance Committees for report.

The following accounts were presented and payment authorized —The Northern Electric & Mfg. Co., $12.36; Gillespie, Rogers & Co., $7.47; E. C. Daniels, $1.00; A. McPherson, $4.50; Jos. Snowden, $2.10; Jos. Cornelius, $1.95; Geo. King, $2.55; Jno. Gough, $5.62; Thos. Campbell, $2.85.

Coun. Hill gave notice of his intention to introduce a By-law empowering the Chief of Police to arrest drunken or disorderly persons on the streets.

The Property Committee was given authority to have a telephone installed in the Public Library Building.

Council spent some time in Committee of the Whole discussing the local telephone situation and after rising appointed the Mayor and Coun. Fairburn a deputation to attend a conference between representatives of the Bell and Consolidated Telephone Companies at Charleston on Tuesday.

WITHDREW HIS BILL.

In the Legislature last Friday Mr. C. R. McKeown withdrew his bill in favor of abolishing tax exemptions on churches and educational institutions. Provincial Secretary Hanna asked the member for Dufferin to withdraw the bill, explaining that it had not the slightest chance of getting past the Committee stage. Mr. McKeown said he was a good soldier and would submit to orders. He had not really expected the bill to pass, but thought its discussion had had a good educative effect.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE FORMED.

A Citizens' League was organized at a meeting held in the Public Library Auditorium on Wednesday of last week. Officers were elected as follows —President, Mr. A. E. Annis. Vice-President, Mr. T. J. Robinson. Secretary, Mr. F. H. Arkell; Treasurer, Mr. O. Hayward; Committee, Messrs. Wm. McConnell, Thos. S. Hewson and Thos. Henderson. The League will take whatever steps may be thought necessary to assist the Provincial authorities and local law officers to suppress the illicit traffic in liquor and will also devote its energies to the betterment of social and moral conditions generally.

USES OF CEMENT.

The Canada Cement Company, Limited, of Montreal, has issued an interesting little booklet, entitled, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." The publication shows by letter press and illustration the great variety of uses to which concrete can be applied on the farm. The list is a revelation even to those who are fairly familiar with the many ways in which cement can be used. The publishers declare that the booklet does not pretend to fully cover the subject; they have attempted to deal only with as wide a variety of types of construction as is possible in the space available. The author not only gives a list of such types, but also furnishes detailed information as to how the concrete is to be used—for, be it remembered, there are right as well as wrong ways of using concrete. The booklet is worth obtaining for the instructions alone.

BOOSTED THE INDEMNITY.

Last Friday the Legislature approved of the item of $42,400 placed in the supplementary estimates for the purpose of increasing the indemnity paid the members of the House. This means that instead of $1000 each member will now receive $1400 per session for his services. The attitude of the House may be gathered from the following extract from the report in one of the city dailies :—

The auburn-haired, energetic member from Kingston, Mr. W. F. Nickle, laying aside for the time the obedience that is expected from the rank and file, led an unavailing fight in the Legislature yesterday against the indemnity increase. With him stood the little Labor member, Mr. Allan Studholme, and the two Liberals, Mr. J. McEwing, of West Wellington, and Mr. Valentine Stock, of South Perth, but when the yeas and nays on Mr. Nickle's amendment were taken the best effort of the quartette sounded like a whisper compared with the volume of sound that rushed from the throats of legislators who wait for the extra $400.

FARMERS AND RECIPROCITY.

The Canadian Century of Montreal believing that Reciprocity with the United States would imperil the future of Canada, and that it would be specially disadvantageous to Canadian farmers, wishes to place its view of the question before the whole farming community and has arranged for a series of articles in newspapers of both political parties.

The first article follows and others will be published from week to week.

The Door Wide Open.

(From The Canadian Century, Feb.18)

If the reciprocity compact merely opened the door of the Canadian food market to American farmers it would be very injurious to thousands of Canadian farmers. It costs no more to transport American farm products to Canadian towns and cities than it does to transport Canadian farm products to cities of the United States, and the American farmers have the advantage of an earlier season. Moreover there are at least ten times as many farmers in the United States as there are in Canada, and so ten American farmers will get entrance to the markets of Canada for one Canadian farmer who gets entrance into the markets of the United States. That the American farmers will take advantage of the open door there can be no doubt. Even with a tariff wall against them they have succeeded in selling immense quantities of farm products in Canada, more than Canadian farmers have been able to sell in the United States. With reciprocity in farm products the ten American farmers will crowd the one Canadian farmer pretty close in his own market.

But this is not all that the Canadian farmer has to face under the reciprocity compact. Owing to favoured nation treaties, any tariff advantages granted by Canada to the United States must also apply to the following countries :—Argentine Republic, Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Columbia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

Then it is provided "that the advantages granted to the United States shall extend to the United States and the several Brit'sh colonies." This will bring about free entrance of farm products from those great food exporting colonies, Australia and New Zealand.

In fact Canadian farmers will have to compete in their own home markets with farm products from all the great food producing countries of the world.

Adding To The Uncertainty.

There is always some uncertainty about farming. The farmer never knows when he puts seed in the ground what the weather conditions will be. There may be frost or hail or drought or too much rain.

Added to all these uncertainties due to Nature's variations there is the uncertainty regarding the prices which will prevail when the crop is harvested. How many acres should be devoted to one crop and how many to another depends upon a guess as to what demand there will be for the different agricultural products at the time of harvesting and what prices will prevail. What is true of farm crops is also true of live stock. It is comparatively easy for the farmer to study the conditions of the home market, but when he has to compete with the farmers of the world at large it is much more difficult to determine what the future will be.

It is now proposed to add to the uncertainty of Canadian farming. Imported farm products from the United States, the Argentine Republic, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Australia, New Zealand, and a number of other countries coming into Canada without payment of any duties will to a considerable extent displace Canadian farm products in the home market as a result of the reciprocity compact.

To make up for losses in the home market the Canadian farmer will have to very greatly increase his exports to the United States. In sowing seed, in raising stock, in growing vegetables and fruit he will always have to consider what is most likely to satisfy American demands. And after he has made his arrangements, while his crops are still ungarnered, and the live stock, which he is raising specially to suit the American market, is half grown, the United States Congress may suddenly decide to shut out Canadian farm products of all kinds. Remember the Reciprocity Compact is not a treaty. It may be ended at will by the United States Congress or the Canadian Parliament. It is well that we are not tied down to a permanent arrangement. Even the Free Trade Farmers' Convention in Ottawa on December 15 and 16, 1910, recommended that a permanent treaty should not be made, but that any understanding arrived at should be put into effect by concurrent legislation. All classes of the community were of the same opinion in this regard, and the Government could not have defied the unanimous sentiment of the community. So when we point out that either the United States Congress or the Canadian Parliament is at liberty to end the agreement at short notice we are not blaming the Government for this. We believe that Canadians in general, including both farmers and city people, will find the arrangement so unsatisfactory that they will be thankful Parliament has the power to terminate it, but if this forecast should prove wrong there will always overhang the cloud of uncertainty regarding the attitude of the United States Congress.

There will always be strong influences at work in the United States that may cause Congress to alter the tariff. American farmers may be dissatisfied or American manufacturers may think they are not getting enough out of the agreement and demand better terms. Mr. Taft has made no secret of his expectation that the United States is to get greater concessions later on. If the United States Congress endorses the compact it will be because of this expectation. Under such conditions with what feelings of uncertainty will the Canadian farmer plan his work for a year ahead.

HART FINED $25.

W. L. Wettlaufer, of Queen's Hotel, Pleads Guilty to Two Charges.

Hugh Hart, known locally as "Scotty," was convicted on Monday and fined $25 and costs on a charge of buying liquor from an unlicensed party. Hart's trial took place in the Council Chamber before Police Magistrate Pattullo and was followed closely by a large gathering of interested citizens. Mr. W. J. L. McKay prosecuted and Mr. A. A. Hughson represented the accused. Provincial License Inspector J. A. Ayearst and Mr. J. A. Morrison, an officer of the Department, were present throughout the trial. The evidence proved conclusively that Hart had paid $1.25 for a bottle of whiskey for another party. The accused declined to state where he obtained the liquor. The fine had not been paid up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, and it is current report that Hart has left the town.

While here Inspector Ayearst laid two charges against W. L. Wettlaufer, of the Queen's, in whose place he made a seizure while in town about ten days ago. The landlord admitted the corn and submitted to two fines, one of $20 and costs for keeping liquor for sale, and another of $100 and costs for illegal selling. Mr. Ayearst obtained an order for the confiscation of the remaining stock and as a result eight cases of lager were destroyed at the rear of the Queen's on Monday evening.

MARSVILLE.

(Too late for last week.)

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Cook, 9th line, was the scene of a pretty event on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The occasion was the marriage of their third daughter, Miss Beatrice, to Mr. John Wright, of West Garafraxa. Promptly at 4 o'clock as Miss Etta Legate, of Shelburne, rendered "Wedding Bells," the bride, accompanied by her father, entered the parlor, where the nuptial knot was securely tied by the Rev. Mr. McLeod, of Belwood, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was prettily attired in fancy cream mohair and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The ceremony being over and the usual congratulations and best wishes extended to the happy couple, all repaired to the dining-room, where an excellent menu, supervised by Mr Sweet of Toronto, was served. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent by all. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet. She was also the recipient of many valuable and useful presents. The young couple will reside on the 8th line, West Garafraxa.

A very quiet but pretty event occurred in this village at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGowan, on Wednesday afternoon, when their oldest daughter, Miss Bertha, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Forgrave. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. S. Scott at the hour of two o'clock. After partaking of a wedding repast, the happy couple took the evening train for Toronto and, after a short honeymoon, will reside on Mr. Forgrave's farm adjoining Marsville. Their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Jas. Edwards had another shooting match on Friday and as a result his honey supply is now exhausted. Ed. Huxley, an Erinite, was very fortunate and went home with a good load of the sweet.

The Garafraxa boys will again contest in a shooting match with Erin next Saturday in Hillsburg and hope to again feast at the expense of Erin.

Mr. Jas. McBride is now suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy. Dr. Marcy, of Belwood, is attending him.

When Sleep Fails You

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD will bring rest, comfort and vitality by building up the nerves.

Mr. Jas. Wesley Weaver, a veteran of the Fenian Raid, Port Dalhousie, Ont., writes:—"For years I was afflicted with nervousness and dreaded insomnia, so that I never knew for three years what a full hour's sleep was, never more than dosing for a few minutes at a time. Heart pains and headaches almost drove me wild. I had spells of weakness and cramps in stomach and limbs.

"Though I tried several doctors, it was money uselessly spent. Finally Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was brought to me and eight boxes cured me. It is simply wonderful what benefit I have obtained from this treatment."

Sleeplessness and headaches are warnings of approaching nervous collapse. You can positively remove these symptoms and prevent prostration or paralysis by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL.

Cured of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Alex. Moore, of James St., Oxford, N.S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, age six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches, and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills."

CHARLESTON.

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th, Caledon Council No. 61, C. O. C. F. met and installed the following officers:—Chief Councillor, John Stubbs; Vice Councillor, Thos. Scarland; Recorder, Geo. Hillyard; Treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Warnock; Prelate, J. J. Nesbitt; Marshall, Allen Vanwyck; Warden, John A. Rayburn; Guard, Ross Elliott. After the election those present—about fifty in number — repaired to the Arlington Hotel, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. After ample justice had been done to the oysters and other good things provided, Chief Councillor Stubbs called the meeting to order and proceeded with the following enjoyable programme:—Speeches by Revs. S. R. Robinson, Chas. Langford, and Friends Scarland, Nesbitt and McArthur; vocal and instrumental music by Messrs. Vogan and Stubbs and Mr. Norman Harrison and readings by Friend John Henry Platt. In conclusion a most hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Vogan for the convincing manner in which she had demonstrated her ability to provide for the wants of her guests. Many of those present express the opinion that it was the best feast that has been provided in Caledon for many a day.

Mr. Archibald Morrison, for many years a resident of Caledon, passed away at his home here on Saturday, the 11th inst. Mr. Morrison contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia of such a severe type that the best of nursing and medical attendance proved unavailing to save his life. The interment took place in Charleston cemetery on Monday, the funeral being largely attended by many old friends and neighbors. Deceased is survived by a widow and a large family, of whom two sons and two daughters were present at the funeral.

Mr. Thos. Lundy and son, John, of lot 10, Centre Road, have both been rather seriously ill for the past week, but we are pleased to report that they are now fairly on the road toward recovery.

Mr. Jas. Moffatt, of Orangeville, but formerly of the 2nd line, Caledon, died at the home of his sister in Toronto on Friday last. Mr. Moffatt has been in rather indifferent health for the past year, but his illness was not considered of a serious nature as he was nearly always able to be up and going about as usual. He went down to the city at Thanksgiving to visit some friends and from that time grew gradually worse until death brought relief from his sufferings on the 17th inst. Mr. Moffatt was a member of the Methodist Church and was a staunch and liberal supporter of the building fund at the time of the erection of the church here some years ago. The interment took place in Toronto on Monday.

Quite a number from here intend taking in the Masquerade Skating Party in Orangeville on Friday evening next.

Mr. George Hillock of this place was married to Miss Conley, of Renfrew County, on Monday. Congratulations.

Mr. Bert Clarke has leased lot 14, Centre Road, for a number of years. You have got the cage now Bert, what about the bird?

Mr. Geo. Laughlin has been at Georgetown attending the funeral of his brother, M. John McClure, who died last week.

PRIMROSE.

After a very pleasant visit at Mr. Bates' and finding the roads again passable, I decided to journey north to Conover. Happening to meet Bob Watson he told me the mumps and grip were epidemic in that section, but assured me that none of his family had taken either yet. I next met Bert Gozzard, who said that the roads were good as far as Pellatt's, but that his feet were so cold that he was walking to restore circulation. Leaving this thriving burg I overtook Mat Marshall on his way to Reddickville. Arriving there we dropped into McCallum's for some best tea and found Dolmer deep in a game of checkers and winning as usual. Looking across the way we noticed an unusual stir at Henry Ferris' and upon enquiry learned that he was preparing to erect a large barn the coming summer. Just then Lem Ostrander and Jack McAllister drove along and as they were on for a deal Lem and I swapped horses. Going east I met George Prentice, who said the reciprocity treaty was going to boost the price of corn. I therefore decided to go over to Egypt and buy up a good supply in case the treaty passed. However I soon overtook Bob Mortimer and his friend, who had been down to Shelburne attending a Masonic banquet. On enquiry if they had a good time, Bob answered in the affirmative, but added that the trip had the banquet beaten to a finish. Proceeding along the Prince of Wales Road, I overtook Herb. Crawley, who said he was going over to Archie Irwin's for a short visit and asked me to give Jamie Ferguson a lift as far as Jimmie Lloyd's if I overtook him. I soon caught up to Jamie, who informed me that Will Dorsey was getting a sawmill at Kilgorie and that they intended putting in a large number of logs. Proceeding on my way I soon reached Pete Edward's Camp, where I found the gang still at work. I received an invitation to spend a few days here and also to take in a concert at the Hollow on Tuesday night under the auspices of the Women's Institute.

GLENCROSS.

Nearly all our citizens, who have been down with la grippe, are again able to be out.

A number of our citizens attended the sale at Mr. Robert White's last Friday. We understand that Robert is going West on the 28th inst., and we all join in wishing him every success in his new home.

We are very glad to hear that Master Herbie Bagnell, is, even if slightly, recovering from his very severe illness.

It is with regret that the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Hicks and family learned of their decision to move to Toronto. They will certainly be missed by the residents of this community. We understand that Mr. Hicks will have his sale in about two weeks.

We are indeed sorry that Miss Gordon, our teacher, will not be able to carry on her duties in this section for some time, owing to her illness at her home in Orangeville. We sincerely trust that she will soon regain her usual health once more.

Miss A. Perry, of Sleswick, is visiting friends in this community at present.

We understand that Mr. R. J. Pierson and family do not intend returning to the West this spring. Robert evidently has a warm spot in his heart for old Ontario yet.

Miss Nina Bremner, of Camilla, is teaching for Miss Gordon at present.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Roland Moffatt enjoyed the concert on Friday evening.

Now why is it that R. L. will not be cheerful at present? He will persist in being lonely and uncomforted.

It is the sincere hope of our people that Mr. D. Markle, whose eyesight is greatly endangered, will be spared from such a severe affliction as that with which he is threatened.

LAUREL.

Mrs. Rev. T. R. White, County President for Grey and Dufferin Women's Christian Temperance Union, last week made her official visit to the Unions at Owen Sound, Chatsworth, Markdale and Hanover, and reports the work to be in an encouraging state. Two Unions have been organized, one at Brookholm, and the other on Saturday afternoon at Flesherton.

Mr. R. J. Wallace, Supt. of the Laurel Methodist Sunday School, preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening in the absence of the junior pastor, who is ill with a cold. Mr. Wallace is a very acceptable local preacher.

CAMILLA.

The Camilla Branch of the Dufferin Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Jas. Curtis on Wednesday, March 1st, at 2.30 p.m. Subjects, "Fault Finding" and "Housekeeping of To-day." All are welcome.

GRANGER.

We are very sorry to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. Edgar Avison, who has been recently removed to Gravenhurst hospital. We hope to hear of her early recovery.

A few of our citizens have been laid up with a mild type of measles, but are progressing favorably.

Rev. Alex. Halbert, of Toronto, occupied the pulpit in the Primrose Methodist Church a week ago Sunday and preached a very interesting sermon.

Mrs. Jno. Hammond, of Orangeville, is visiting at Mr. Richard Fines.

Mr. Geo. Fines, of Erin, spent the past week renewing acquaintanceships in this vicinity.

CLARK—ROWAN.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rowan, York St., at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their oldest daughter, Miss Lucy Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Clark, of Delisle, Sask. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Harper, pastor of Orangeville Methodist Church, in the presence of about seventy invited guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by her sister, Miss Jessie. The young couple took their places under a pretty arch of roses and smilax. The bride wore a very pretty dress of peach colored colienne silk and carried a bouquet of bride roses. Her sister, Miss Laura, who acted as bridesmaid, was costumed in pale blue foulard with satin trimmings and carried pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Will Clark, also of Delisle. The bride's little sister, Bernice, made a dainty little flower girl. The hall, drawing and dining rooms were attractively decorated in green and silver. After receiving the congratulations of the assembled friends at the close of the ceremony, the young couple led the way to the dining room, where a daintily prepared wedding repast was served under the supervision of Mrs. Fremlin. The bride, who is one of Orangeville's popular young ladies, received a large number of beautiful gifts, expressive of the esteem and good wishes of her friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clark left on the evening train for Toronto and Eastern points, but intend to return to Orangeville for a day or so before setting out for their home in the West. The bride wore a becoming travelling suit of grey with black hat and set of black furs. Their many friends will unite most heartily in wishing the newly wedded couple a happy and prosperous journey through life.

Mrs. Clark will be at home to her Orangeville friends at the residence of her parents, on Friday, March 3rd, afternoon and evening.

A TRIP THROUGH ITALY.

On Monday night the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Church had the pleasure of listening to an exceptionally interesting address by Mr. J. H. Adams, of the High School staff, on the subject, "Reminiscences of a Trip Through Italy." In the course of his address Mr. Adams gave apt and vivid word descriptions of a number of the old cities, their famous buildings, statuary and beautiful churches and art galleries. A solo by Miss Helen Denton and a quartette by Misses Huston and Harshaw and Messrs. Huston and McPherson gave variety and added interest to the programme.

A REAL JUDICIAL HUMORIST.

Even the divinity which doth hedge the High Court of Ontario cannot prevent the irrepressible wit of the Irish from bubbling forth. Recently Mr. Justice Magee was hearing an appeal against the conviction of a seventy-year-old man on a charge of non-support by his wife, who was ten years younger.

"What is the occupation of the appellant?" asked the judge of Mr. T. J. W. O'Connor, who was supporting the appeal.

"He is a cobbler, your lordship," answered the lawyer. "The lady is his second wife."

"Ah, then she is his last, but he refuses to stick to her," remarked the learned justice.

"Yes, and your lordship is the sole hope of the broken pair," was Mr. O'Connor's rejoinder.

An old darky called his mule "Corporation." Said a man what did you give your mule such a name for? The darky replied, "Fum studyin' de animal an' readin' papahs. Dat mule gets mo' blame an' abuse dan anyt'ing else in de township, an' goes ahead havin' his own way jes de same."

HOW IT WAS DONE

A Story of the Safe Removal of Gold Dust.

By WINFIELD R. GARRISON.

[Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.]

Having been sent out to examine and report on some new gold mines that had been discovered in the west, I went as far as I could by rail, then took a stage to Punkerville, a little town from which I must proceed on horse or mule back. I reached Punkerville in the evening and the next morning, hiring a horse, started to follow a stony road up to the mines.

I had been climbing—or rather my horse had—for a couple of hours when I met a young man descending with a load of wood, drawn by a pair of oxen. He was cracking a large whip about the steers' heads, shouting gee and haw, with sufficient persistency to drive a human animal crazy. But the brutes either had no nerves or, if they had, kept them under control, wending their way downward without the slightest change of gait.

"Mornin', stranger," said the man, looking up at me through a pair of handsome brown eyes that were hardly in keeping with his vocation. "Reckon y' didn't meet up with any one on the road down thar, did y'?"

"I SAW HER BEFORE SHE SAW ME."

"I don't remember having met a single person. Why do you ask?"

"Oh, nothin' particular. My wife's with me. She made a short cut a spell ago, thinkin' she'd come out ahead o' me. Reckon she got fooled. Iff y' meet up with her y' moight tell her whar I am."

"I shall certainly do so."

With that I continued on my way, while the young man recommenced cracking his whip and yelling at his oxen.

I had not gone far before I met a young woman coming down. She wore clothes corresponding to those of the ox driver, and I presumed she was the wife he had spoken of. I saw her before she saw me. She was leaning over a rock, looking intently down on the zigzag road below, shading her eyes with her hand. When she discovered me she started. Coming up with her, I spoke to her politely, which seemed to reassure her.

"Are you the woodcutter's wife?" I asked.

"Sartin."

"You'll find him just around the next turn."

"Much obleeged. Hev y' met up with any one?"

"Only your husband. You both seem to be on the lookout. Are you afraid of being robbed?"

"Robbed! Who'd want to rob us? We're nothin' but poor woodcutters."

At that moment I looked up on a rise beside me and espied three men coming down. As soon as they reached us they asked where we hailed from. I told them I was a mining engineer going up to inspect the new mines, which seemed to satisfy them. The young woman told them that she was going down to the town to buy some things at the store. I noticed she made no mention of her husband. The men debated whether they should go up or down and finally agreed that they would separate, a part going one way and a part the other. As soon as they had gone the woman showed greater anxiety than before. Turning to me, she said, dropping the lingo of a countrywoman:

"They're road agents. They're looking for a shipment of gold dust that they have been informed is going down to Punkerville. I wish you would wait a bit. We might require your help. You are armed, I see."

"Yes, I'm well armed, but what has a poor woodcutter to fear from road agents?"

"They'll think we're carrying the dust."

"What will they do?"

"They'll find my husband below and search him and the wood, thinking to find gold dust concealed. They would have gone for me, but they saw that I couldn't carry enough of it to pay them to bother with me."

"Well, I don't understand why their searching your lord should trouble you or how I can serve you."

"I wish you'd go back with me. I know a cut by which we can reach my husband as soon as they. It is only a short distance."

She looked at me so beseechingly that I consented. I dismounted and led my horse. She hurried on before me, reaching her husband when I was still some distance away, and I saw her talking to him excitedly. I determined to conceal myself behind a rock and observe what might take place.

The wife had not been with her husband five minutes before I heard a shot. Not seeing any one hurt, I concluded that it was a signal. Then I saw a man moving down on the woodcutter. Taking a position above him, he called on the woodman to stop. The latter halted his oxen and sat down on a bowlder beside the road. His wife walked nervously about. Within ten minutes the other two men came down, and all three moved on the woodcutter.

I had a short rifle slung to my saddle and a revolver at each hip. I resolved to keep the men covered and if I saw any attempt to kill would be in a position to render assistance. The woman kept looking up my way, as if she wished I would join them. I feared she would call their attention to me, but fortunately she failed to do so.

The men made a search of the load on the cart, throwing off every stick of wood and ripping up the floor. But not a sack of dust was to be found. They withdrew for consultation, then returned, and one of the men put a revolver to the head of the woodman, and I could hear him threaten to shoot him if he didn't tell where the dust was. Suddenly the woman drew a revolver and shot the robber dead. Each of the other two men drew their weapons to finish the woodman and his wife.

I now thought it high time to interfere. I fired at one of the men and dropped him. This startled his companion, who looked about wildly for the unseen enemy. While he was doing so the woodcutter, whom the robbers had not disarmed, put a bullet in his brain.

The road agents now all being disposed of, I descended. The woman had fainted in her husband's arms. The wood was scattered on the road beside the cart. The dumb brutes were standing patiently waiting for the crack of the whip to move on. Hearing steps above him, the woodman looked up and saw me descending. At that moment his wife regained consciousness, and by the time I joined them both had recovered something of their equanimity.

Talk of gratitude! There was gratitude enough in that young woman's eyes to thank an army for the relief of a beleaguered city.

"I thought you had deserted us," she said.

"If I had come on you would both have been dead by this time and I as well probably."

"That's true," said the man. "We're only here by a miracle."

As soon as the pair had recovered from the shock the man began to replace the wood on his cart. I turned in and helped him. As soon as we had finished the job and the couple were ready to proceed on their journey he said to me:

"I don't think we'll have any more trouble, but I don't know."

"If you're not certain I shall go back with you. I don't like leaving a man and I won't leave a woman in danger."

The wife gave me a look that settled me. I turned back with them, intending to take a fresh start the next day.

"Now, if you don't mind," I said, "I would like an explanation as to why the robbers suspected you of carrying gold or of knowing who was carrying it."

"It is better," said the man, "that you shouldn't know till we're out of danger. Not knowing, no one can force you to tell. Wait till we get to Punkerville, then I'll tell you all about it."

To this I assented, and we continued our journey to within a few miles of the town, when, unable to keep the slow pace of the oxen, I showed signs of impatience.

"If you don't mind," said the woodman, who since the fracas had dropped his lingo, "you might ride ahead and send out a wagon."

I did so after having accepted an invitation from the man to call that evening at his house.

When I stood before the door of his dwelling I looked upon the best house in the town. I found the woodman dressed like a gentleman and his wife dressed like a lady.

"Permit me to introduce myself," he said, "as the owner of a newly discovered mine up in the canyon. Last night I got wind of a proposed attack by road agents to carry off our stock of accumulated ore. We are defenseless up there, and I determined to bring it down here, my wife, who was with me, agreeing to act as vedette. Had we not met you"—

"Pardon me. I think I have curbed my curiosity sufficiently as to where this gold dust was. Will you kindly tell me in what shape you have brought it?"

"I will show you."

Going out of the room, he returned with a log of wood and with his knife pried up a small part of the bark. Having exposed the wood under it, he loosened a round wooden plug that stopped a hole and removed it. Then from the hole he poured into his hand a small quantity of gold dust.

"That will do," I said. "I understand perfectly."

The next day I renewed my journey to the mines, made my examination and returned.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

Mr. George Hunter, Sr., has sold his 200-acre farm, con. 9, Toronto Gore, to the McMurchy family, of Macville. Mr. Hunter will live at Tormore.

Eight or nine women, assembled at luncheon, were discussing ailments and operations, as eight or nine, or one or two, or sixty or seventy women will. The talk ran on to diseases, and stomach, liver complaint, tuberculosis, etc., etc., formed the topics of conversation. One of the guests remarked—"I thought this was to be a luncheon, but it seems to be an organ recital."

HERE IS A TALE WITH A MORAL.

Little Edith Dodds Cured Of Dropsy By Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Two doctors said she would die, but to-day she is a healthy, happy girl. —Healthy Kidneys in children the guarantee of a happy, useful life.

McTaggart, Sask., Feb. 20. (Special.—That no child is too young to have Kidney Disease even in its worst form, and that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it in any form has been abundantly proven in the case of little Edith Harris, of this place.

In May, 1903, this little girl, then two years old, was so swollen with Dropsy that her waist measure was increased from 18 inches to 34 inches. Two doctors said she must die. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her and to-day she is as merry and healthy a child as s to be found in the neighborhood.

In a recent interview her father says: "Edith is better than ever. She has no return of dropsy since she was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, over seven years ago. She goes to school and is healthy. I always keep Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house."

There's a moral for parents in this story. Many a child has grown up to a life of pain and suffering because its kidneys were neglected. A life of health and usefulness is assured if the Kidneys are kept in order with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Which of These Pictures Best Represents Your Stable?

If your Stable interior is of wood, you'll do well to tear down those old, unsightly stalls and mangers—and build new ones of Concrete.

In fact, the entire Stable—inside and out—should be built of Concrete.

This is the modern material—it has the merits of sightliness, endurance, and economy—and is sanitary.

The farmer himself can, by its use, make many little improvements that, with any other material, would require the employment of skilled labor.

If you would know something of the possibilities of Concrete, fill out the coupon and send it to us. By return mail, we will send you a copy of our free 160-page book, "What the Farmer Can Do with Concrete."

Dropsy—

Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

WHEN THE CHILD TAKES COLD.

This is the season when children are liable to colds, not in the first place because the weather is cold, but because they are too much in a close atmosphere. Little children's winter colds are often the result of badly ventilated rooms. Even in the depth of winter the child should have fresh air in the house when he cannot go out for it. The rooms in which small children have to spend most of their time in the winter should be kept as free from dust as possible, for dust is a fertile breeder of colds. For that reason a hardwood floor that can be wiped off every day, with a light rug that can be easily shaken, is preferable to a carpeted floor. The temperature should be kept even at a comfortable degree, and some means of ventilation provided that will admit fresh air without draughts. In our climate there is a temptation to shut out the cold air, but it must not be overlooked that only the air from outside is pure, and for the sake of the little ones who must be indoors a great deal in severe weather the pure air must be admitted. At the same time, draughts and a lowered temperature must be guarded against. In most houses, where ventilation must be by the windows, to accomplish the proper conditions may tax the ingenuity of the housewife, but she is pretty sure to solve the problem when she realizes its importance. The need of fresh air in sleeping rooms is coming to be quite generally realized, but the need of well ventilated living rooms is surely not less imperative.

Unless on stormy or extremely severe days, the children large enough to run about should have their play spell out of doors, and the baby should be taken out for an airing. It goes without saying that they should be properly clothed for the outing, and for this the extra outdoor garments should be as light in weight as is consistent with sufficient warmth. There are soft, fairly light woollens that afford as much warmth and protection as heavier garments that impede the movements and so tend to repress circulation. Leggings are an important part of the outfit, to protect the little limbs from the snow. The aim is to keep the child dry, and warm enough without being overheated when he runs about. Some mothers make the mistake of clothing the little ones rather too warmly in the house, so that they are more susceptible to any change of temperature. Of course, a mistake the other way would be even worse, but there is always the happy medium.

A child who is allowed to eat too much sweets or too much rich foods, will be liable to catch cold, because the digestive process is interfered with, and the excess of waste matter cannot readily be thrown off. As it is by the skin that much of the carbonic waste is carried off, it follows that the pores must be kept open, and the skin in good condition by the regular bath. The closing of the pores, by the rapid cooling of the skin from a draught, the sudden lowering of the temperature, or any other cause, is almost certain to be followed by a cold.

When a child shows the first symptoms of a cold, measures should at once be taken to open the pores and set the skin working. To this end a warm bath is good, followed by a thorough drying with the towel, and then a rubbing with the hands till the child's skin is warm and glowing. The bath must, of course, be given in a warm room. Put a fresh, warmed night-dress on the child, wrap him in light woollen blankets, and put him in his crib to rest and sleep. Wrapping him in blankets instead of "tucking him up" in bed is a wise course, as he cannot throw the clothes off.

If a child takes cold easily, it is well to have a physician prescribe for the upbuilding of his general health. Teach him to properly breathe through his nose. Such children should be guarded against exhausting themselves by undue excitement. And always they should have the food suited to them, regular sleep, comfortable warmth, and plenty of fresh air.

THE McGUIRE INQUEST.

Death Was Caused By Exhaustion and Exposure.

"We find that the deceased, Thomas McGuire, died from exhaustion and exposure, and from dislocation of the neck, cause of dislocation unknown."

The above was the finding of the Coroner's jury, appointed to enquire into the death of the late Thos. McGuire, who was found in a dying condition near here on the morning of February 7th.

When the inquest was resumed by Coroner Reynar in the town hall here on Monday, the Crown Attorney found it impossible to be present, Mr. Lincoln Hutton, acting in his place. The jury had made an examination of the tracks in the snow where the body was picked up and as far as Hardwick's house.

Wm. T. Hardwick, who found the body near Walshaw's and conveyed it to the Queen's, had examined the tracks as far as the corner of the 6th concession. The deceased had been taking very short steps, had fallen several times and had crawled part of the distance on his hands and knees. The deceased was tracked to Hardwick's back door, where he had evidently made feeble efforts to rouse the inmates. Mr. Stather Graham had gone as far as the railway, crossing near Macville, but could not tell whether or not McGuire had walked from Mono Road on the track. He was evidently in great distress even then.

Several witnesses were called who gave some particulars of the doings at the Kenny farm during the afternoon of the 6th. McGuire had been acting as bailiff's agent and left there about five o'clock, driving to Caledon East with Wm. Toase. He had a soft drink at Beamish's, drove in the bus to Mono Road station, and when he found that the train was late left the station house evidently with the intention of walking home. That was the last seen of him until found next morning.

Messrs. Frank and Joe. Kenny professed a kindly disposition towards McGuire, although they had wanted to charge him twenty dollars a cord for wood and a dollar and a half for using the phone. They had spent the evening at Regan's, a neighbor's, returning to their own home shortly after midnight, where they remained until nearly noon next day.

Dr. Jackson had endeavored to revive Mr. McGuire when he was brought to the Queen's, but he had expired eight minutes later. He had also made a post mortem examination and found that deceased's neck had been dislocated, and nose had been broken, and that he had an abrasion of the skin of one of his legs below the knee. Otherwise, the body was in a well nourished, normal condition. He did not think a man could walk very far with a broken neck. A fall on the ice might have caused the dislocation. He was not frozen.

Mr. Hutton briefly addressed the jury, Coroner Reynar closing with a few remarks in which he said that the mystery as to how McGuire came to be in the condition he was had not been cleared to his satisfaction, that he had either met with foul play or had met with a severe accident.

The jury was out only a few minutes when they brought in the verdict given above.—Bolton Enterprise.

PASTOR RUSSELL REFUTES CHARGES.

Reversely He Proclaims "Good Tidings of Great Joy Shall be Unto All People."

Mr. Editor,—I crave a few inches of your space in correction of a news item widely circulated from Washington, D.C., Jan. 28th, stating that a Street Evangelist charges me with "exciting the people" by preaching that "Christ will come in A. D., 1915 and accomplish the destruction of the world."

This "Street Preacher" got himself mixed up with my theology. It is true that he sent me a kind invitation to share twenty minutes of my time in explaining to the audience how he misunderstood my presentations before he had heard them. It is true that he has requested a public debate with me at the next Baptist Convention in June or at the Christian Endeavor Convention in July. But I did not believe that the gentleman was authorized to speak for either of the Conventions; consequently I gave him no heed. As I was announcing the closing hymn the gentleman attempted an interruption.

But it appears that after my meeting was dismissed, the interrupter, who calls himself an evangelist, undertook to explain to a bevy of reporters Pastor Russell's "errors." He declared that all over the country I was preaching the second coming of Christ in 1915 and scaring people, as Wm. Miller did years ago. I do not blame the reporters, for how could they know how foolishly the man was talking?

I wish to deny, as positively as language will permit, that I said a single thing concerning the year 1915 last Sunday. Nor have I ever preached such things; nor do I believe them now. So far from teaching that Christ will come and the world be burned up in 1915, as Wm. Miller taught of an earlier date, my teaching is that the world will never be burned up, but, as the Bible declares, "The earth abideth forever."—Eccles. 1:4.

If "Evangelist" represents any Protestant or Catholic bodies, as he intimates, his creed surely recites the burning up of the world at the Second Advent of Christ. Many ministers in all denominations teach that Christ may come at any moment, and that the moment of His coming will be the end of the world! A few saintly ones, they say, will be saved; but all the remainder will be overwhelmed by fire that will fall upon them from heaven. It is one of their stock arguments intended to excite the people. I wonder if "Evangelist" has not so preached?

It is because my interpretations of the Scriptures are so very different on this particular point that many Christian people are being awakened to a fresh study of the Bible. I am in communication with Bible classes all over the world. Many persons are being reclaimed from infidelity by the Message which has nothing of excitement in it, but which shows the Bible in its true light, as the most commonsense book in the world.

What I have said respecting 1915 is that, in my understanding, there ends the treading down of the Jews by the Gentiles—a period of 2500 years from the time the crown was taken from Judah's last King of the house of David—Zedekiah, B.C., 606. Israel's restoration to Palestine as a nation will, Biblically, mark the beginning of the Messianic reign of righteousness, which will last a thousand years.—Luke 21:24.

Mr. Editor, "Evangelist," either intentionally or unintentionally, most thoroughly misrepresented my views. I teach from the Scriptures that Messiah, as the King of Glory, is not a man and will not be visible to men—that his Empire will be spiritual, but powerful.

Those Scriptures which alarm "Evangelist" and others, as representing the burning up of the world, I understand to refer to a great time of trouble with which this Age will terminate and the New Era be inaugurated. Those who read my sermons and books could not be deceived by "Evangelist." Yet thousands of other people may have been. So I thank you for this opportunity for explanation.

Respectfully,
C. T. RUSSELL.

Another Modern Miracle
Locomotor Ataxia Cured.

The Sufferer Had Been Given Up As Incurable by Severa Doctors—Hospital Treatment Also Failed—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Worked The Miracle.

Before the discovery of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, locomotor ataxia was considered an incurable disease. It has been fully demonstrated, however, that this disease can be cured through the use of these pills, where the treatment is persisted in, and the directions carefully followed.

Locomotor ataxia is a disease of the spinal cord, and first shows itself in an inability to stand erect when the eyes are closed, or in the dark. It is characterized by peculiar disturbances of the gait, and difficulty in governing the motions of the legs. One of the commonest and earliest signs is a tired feeling, particularly noted in the knees and ankles. This sensation is provoked by slight exertion, and isnot relieved by rest. Often a numb feeling is associated with it, and these two symptoms are always present in the early stages. As the disease progresses, there is an increase in the duration and extent of the numb feelings, covering at times the foot alone, then extending to the leg. The disease is usually of slow growth, and the increase and intensity of the symptoms is not noticed, but its progress is constant, and gradually approaches a total lack of feeling in the legs, causing a wobbling gait and an entire inability to govern the steps. As the disease progresses the patient loses all control over bowels and water, and becomes utterly helpless, and has to be cared for like a child.

In proof of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to cure this terrible malady, Mrs. Sarah Jane Ruller, of Antler, Sask., says: "For seven years from 1900 to 1907, my son James was afflicted with locomotor ataxia. During that time he was treated by severa of the best doctors in the West, but his treatment failed to be of any benefit, and he kept growing worse and worse, till finally he lost all control of his limbs, and could not move at all. I had to carry him from his bed to a chair, where I would have to tie him, to enable him to sit up. He was as helpless as an infant; he lost all control of his kidneys and bowels, and we daily looked for death to relieve him of his suffering. In 1905 we sent him to the Brandon Hospital, hoping that the treatment there would benefit him. In this, though, we were disappointed, and the hospital doctor advised me to take him home, as they said they could do nothing for him. At this time a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Being willing to try anything in the hope of finding relief for my boy, I bought a supply. In less than three months I noted a slight improvement in his condition. In six months he could walk once more and from that on the improvement continued, till now he is fully cured and once more able to attend school and do the chores about the house. What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for him is truly wonderful, and I would strongly recommend them to all sufferers, for they most certainly saved my boy's life."

In substantiation of what Mrs. Ruller says, Mr. A. E. Steele, the well-known lumber and coal dealer of Antler, writes: "With reference to what Mrs. Ruller says concerning her son's cure by Pink Pills, I have no hesitation in saying that what she says is absolutely true in every particular, as I am personally acquainted with the case."

This great cure is not the only one performed by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have brought thousands back to health and strength after some of the best doctors in the country have been forced to give up the case as incurable. Not only in cases of locomotor ataxia, but in cases of partial paralysis, sciatica, acute rheumatism, and many other severe ailments have they been successful. The whole secret of their wonderful success is in their power to make rich, red, health-giving blood—the one essential for good health. The pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or direct by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Baker, 4th line, Caledon, on Jan. 18th, at two o'clock p.m., being the occasion of their golden wedding, and the marriage of their youngest daughter, Norma L., to Mr. William J. Haliburton, of Victoria, the ceremony being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Cheyne, of Claude. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Storey, of Alton. The bride was given away by her father and was attired in silk mull trimmed with satin ribbon and silk net and wore a bridal veil with a wreath of lily of the valley and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was unattended. After the ceremony the guests assembled in the dining room, where all sat down to a most enjoyable supper. The guests numbered about sixty, coming from Toronto, Victoria, Claude, Collingwood, Owen Sound, Ballinafad, Erin, Alton, Belfountain and Greenlaw. Speeches were given by Mr. Cheyne and Mr. Drury, of Belfountain. Hearty congratulations were given to the bride and groom and also to Mr. and Mrs. C. Baker, who have lived to see their fiftieth wedding day and have had many ups and downs, but we are glad to say that the old couple are hearty and hale to-day, and we sincerely hope they may live to see their diamond wedding.

The presents to the bride were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which she was held. After tea Mr. and Mrs. Haliburton left on the evening train for Toronto and other places. The bride's travelling suit was of Copenhagen cloth trimmed with soutache braid and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Haliburton will reside at Victoria.—Erin Advocate.

The Farmers' Advocate a couple of weeks ago, contained a half tone cut of the residence of Samuel Brown, of Amaranth. Mr. Brown had a stroke of paralysis a few weeks ago, and his recovery is very doubtful. Mr. Brown was for many years treasurer of Amaranth township.

Thos. Gallaugher, one of the early pioneers of Mulmur township, died at his home on the 6th line, on Sunday, Feb. 5th, 1911, at an advanced age.

The engagement is announced of Miss Anna Oliver, fourth daughter of the Minister of the Interior, Hon. Frank Oliver and Mrs. Oliver, to Horace A. Dickey, of Edmonton, son of the late Hon. Arthur Dickey, of Amherst, N. S.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone In The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

JOLIETTE, P.Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder.

He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life". 46

WITH THE CURLERS.

Games for the trophy donated by John A. Best, M.P. for Dufferin, are occupying the attention of the curlers here and in Shelburne and Grand Valley at the present time. Orangeville sent two rinks to Shelburne a week or so ago and was beaten by 24 shots. The Shelburne "brithers" came down for the return game Monday night and managed to win out by a single shot. The game, however, terminated rather unsatisfactorily, owing to the visitors' refusal to allow Skip Bowles to play a stone, which he had in the excitement of the close finish forgotten for the moment. Two rinks from Grand Valley played on local ice on Thursday night and won out on an extra end. One of the Orangeville rinks finished two ahead and the other was even when the last end started. Grand Valley lay one shot, when Skip Pow went to play his last end. It required a perfect draw to tie the game and the Grand Valley skip proved equal to the occasion. The locals sent two rinks to Grand Valley last night for the return game.

BURN CAUSED OPEN SORE

Zam-Buk Worked a Wonderful Cure.

Sometimes a bad burn, a deep cut or some similar injury, sets up a more permanent injury, in the form of an open discharging sore. In such cases Zam-Buk will be found of unequalled value.

Mr. J. Nixon, of 901 William Ave., Winnipeg, a blacksmith at the C. P. R. shops, had his foot badly burned by some molten metal falling upon it. He says: "The burn was a very bad one, and after the first few days it left an open sore, which showed marked signs of blood-poisoning. It discharged freely and caused me terrible agony. For three weeks I suffered acutely and could get no ease. At last I obtained a preparation from the doctor, which seemed to stop the discharging and made me quite hopeful, but finally the wound became as bad as ever.

"I was then advised to use Zam-Buk, and from the first application the balm gave me relief. The inflammation was thoroughly checked, and the poisonous matter cleared away in a very short time after beginning with Zam-Buk. Healing then began, and in less than two weeks the wound was thoroughly healed."

One of the main lessons of this case lies right here—try Zam-Buk first for any injury, sore, skin disease or wound. It is equally good for piles, blood-poisoning, festering wounds, chaps, cold sores, children's eruptions, scalp sores, varicose ulcers, chilblains, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful substitutes and inferior preparations, which yield a bigger margin of profit and are sometimes pushed as being "just as good." Nothing is just as good.

LAUREL.

We have been enjoying good winter weather and good roads since the severe storm on Monday, February 6th. The farmers acted very wisely by using the favorable opportunity to get their teaming done. Some of them say we will have another blizzard and windstorm in a week or so. Our village has been very lively during the fine weather of the past week. Our popular merchants, Hughes Bros., have been doing a rushing trade. They are very obliging and accommodating, and deserve the success they are enjoying.

Tuesday of last week one of the most severe storms we have ever experienced passed over our town, blocking our streets, walks and doorways. Wednesday morning every available shovel was in use to let our citizens out again. The weather moderated next day and we have been enjoying pleasant winter weather since.

The Skating Rink is still the centre of attraction for the young people. A large crowd gathers nightly to enjoy the fun. This is what Manager Maltby likes to see. On Thursday evening, Feb. 9th, there was an unusually large gathering to witness the half mile race between Marshall Langtree and Dr. Gray. Langtree won by a hand breadth after a hair raising finish. The Dr. had the misfortune to slip and it is the opinion of most of the spectators that he could have won had it not been for the mishap.

We understand that Dr. Rooney, of Orangeville, has had no less than four patients under his care at the home of Mr. R. J. Walker. The sick are Mr. Walker's father, Mr. George Walker, general debility; his sister, Mrs. James Langtree, tonsilitis; his little daughter, Louie, measles, and the junior pastor of the Laurel Circuit, Rev. Mr. Whittle, pneumonia. Mr. Whittle was unable to take his work a week ago Sunday. We are pleased to learn that they are all recovering.

We are also pleased to learn that Mr. S. J. Brown, who has been ill for some time, is now able to sit up for a short time and converse with friends. We trust the improvement will be permanent.

Ex-Reeve Hosick's postponed auction sale was held on Feb. 4th, and proved a success.

On Monday evening, Feb. 13th, the members of L. O. L. 330 gave their annual concert in the Town Hall. The event was well attended, and the programme proved oneof the most enjoyable and instructive ever given before a Laurel audience. The Trimble family and Mr. Alex. and Miss Patterson gave several instrumental selections, which were greatly appreciated. We had also with us the Grand Valley Trio, which furnished several very appropriate numbers. The speaker of the evening was M. W. Bro Thos. A. Duff, of Toronto, who spoke for nearly two hours, giving one of the most telling addresses ever heard here. Orangeism he defined as Uncted Protestantism, and dealt conclusively with such subjects as the Eucharistic Congress, Is Protestantism a Soulless Religion, The Dogma of the Roman Church in our Public Schools and Bi-Lingual Schools. The subjects were discussed reasonably and fairly, and yet in a manner that carried conviction. W. Bro. Duff seems to be the right man for this work, and we wish him God speed in his mission. We are assured that if we are favored with another visit the Town Hall will not be large enough to accommodate the audience.

We would advise our municipal fathers to take immediate steps to have the hall enlarged.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz and little daughter from Yellow Grass, Sask., who have been visiting their uncle, Mr. John Johnston, have gone to spend a short time with friends at Kleinburg and Coleraine.

Miss Jessie Johnston, who has been visiting friends in Toronto and Brampton, has returned home and reports a delightful time.

Mr. Walter Gray has just returned home after visiting friends at Queensville. What does it mean, Walter?

The young people of the Laurel Presbyterian Guild went to Camilla on Wednesday night to give the popular Play entitled, "Dot, the Miner's Daughter. We understand they had a good time and were greeted by a full house.

While Charles Woulfe was watering his horses on Sunday last, one of the animals struck him on the body with its front foot. Dr. Campbell, of Grand Valley, was called in to attend the case. Mr. Woulfe is in a rather dangerous condition, but we trust that with care and attendance he will speedily recover.

We are sorry to have to report the serious illness of our old friend, Mr. Wm. Hughes, one of the oldest residents of Laurel. He was taken ill a few days ago. Dr. Campbell, who was called in, pronounced his illness due to general debility. We hope he will soon be able to be about again.

ALTON.

The ladies of the Alton branch of the Women's Institute were at home to their many friends in the Science Hall on Tuesday evening, February 14th. The date would signify the form of entertainment, "a valentine party." The hall was transformed into a bower of loveliness, hearts being used in every possible manner as decorations. The large windows were prettily decorated with soft white curtains, having a border of hearts. Over the entrance to the stage, which was used as a dressing room, hung a large heart valentine, with the words, "For Home and Country" in gold letters. This was suspended from an arch of lattice work in green and red. Numerous rugs were spread upon the floor and small tables and inviting seats were placed through the spacious hall. Red and white carnations added color to the scene and formed a pretty setting for the ladies in their pretty gowns. Mrs. Wm. Dorrington, the President of the Women's Institute, very graciously welcomed the guests, assisted by Mrs. Hawkins, Sr., who is the oldest member of the Institute. Mrs. J. L. Beck, Secretary-Treasurer, presented each member with a beautiful carnation upon entering the hall. Each lady acted as hostess. The entertainment consisted entirely of valentine games, which were entered into very heartily by the guests. Perhaps the most amusing was a valentine love letter, written by the gentlemen, who were blindfolded, then each asked to choose a partner, to whom he must read his letter aloud, for which in every case he received a mitten. Lunch was served from a buffet at the rear of the hall, which was decorated with cut flowers and drapings of hearts. Mrs. J. Lovell poured coffee, assisted by eight girls, who wore simple white frocks trimmed with red hearts, and they formed no mean part of the decoration. After lunch speeches were made by the following gentlemen:—Rev. C. Langford, Mr. E. D. Barber, Mr. J. L. Meek, Mr. Hawkins, Sr., Mr. A. Wilson, Mr. J. M. Dods and Mr. Wm. Algie, Sr. These addresses were very encouraging to the ladies, especially those referring to the erection of the Skating Rink, which has been the work of the Women's Institute during the past summer. A great deal of credit is due the ladies for their untiring efforts to provide this place of recreation for the young people of Alton and vicinity. The Rink has been sold to a reliable party and the Women's Institute has now in its treasury the sum of four hundred dollars.

The regular monthly meeting of the Alton Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. L. Lemon, on Thursday afternoon, February 16th, twenty-five ladies being present. The programme for the afternoon consisted of a demonstration on tablesetting and a six course dinner, given with one maid, which was most successfully given by Mrs. Amos Mason, a graduate of McDonald Hall, Guelph, and Mrs. J. H. Motheral, a graduate of Harding Hall, London. The Alton Women's Institute are to be congratulated on having among their members, ladies qualified to give a demonstration of this kind. The next meeting of the Women's Institute is to be held at the home of Mrs. Alex. Dick. A good programme will be provided and all ladies are cordially invited.

Mrs. A. C. Wilson, of Brampton, spent over Sunday with friends in the village.

Mr. Jas. Smith, of Owen Sound, is renewing acquaintances in the village.

Miss Laura Dowswell is visiting friends in Toronto.

About thirty young people went to Orangeville last Friday evening to attend the concert given by the Welsh Ladies' Choir.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Algie, Sr., entertained a large number of their friends in Science Hall on Friday evening. The evening was very pleasantly spent in dancing, excellent music being provided by Ball's orchestra of three pieces from Toronto. Quite a number of the guests were in masquerade costume and this added much to the zest and enjoyment of the merrymakers. Some of the costumes worn were decidedly attractive, and showed no little ingenuity and skill in the matter of design. Among the most striking were those worn by Mr. Amos Mason and Mr. R. W. Henry, Manager of the Sterling Bank. There were about two hundred guests present. The caterers were Messrs. Camm and Ashton, local bakers, who acquitted themselves in a manner that gave satisfaction to all. The event marked the 61st birthday of Mr. Algie. Your correspondent joins with the guests and people of Alton in congratulating the genial proprietor of the Beaver Mills on the success of the function and wishing him many happy returns of the day.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting on Saturday evening, Feb. 18th. The programme included an interesting debate on the subject, "Resolved that Education is of more Benefit than Travelling." The speakers on the affirmative were Miss Martha Crombie and Mr. Edgar Duke, and on the negative Miss Effa Dodds and Mr. John Woodland. Both sides were skillfully presented. The decision was, however, given to the affirmative by a number of points. The judges were—for the affirmative, Miss Annie Holmes, for the negative, Miss Greta Crozier, and the society judge, Mr. Bert Speers. Other numbers on the programme were an organ solo by Miss Lillian Duke, a mouth organ selection by Mr. Cecil Welwood, a solo by Miss Emily Hudson, a mouth organ selection by Mr. Frank Duke, a song by Mr. Harry Barrett, an instrumental duet by Misses Lillian Duke and Martha Crombie, a recitation by Miss Viola Crombie and the reading of the Union Saturday Night by Miss Katie Woodland. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem. Next Saturday night, Feb. 25th, will be a social evening. A good programme will be provided, including a debate on the subject, "Resolved that the Written Word is more Impressive than the Spoken Word." Lunch will be served and a collection taken during the evening. The Society extends a cordial invitation to everyone. Meeting called at 7.30.

Sarah U. Reeve, wife of the late Thomas Hunter, of Orangeville, died at the residence of her youngest son, Mr. J. S. Hunter, 235 Quebec Ave., Toronto, on Friday, February 17th, in her 87th year. The deceased was born in Toronto township on July 2nd, 1824. In December, 1847, she was married to the late Thomas Hunter, of Mount Pleasant, near Brampton. The young couple lived at Mount Pleasant until 1855, when they moved to Orangeville, where Mr. Hunter formed a business partnership with T. H. Reeve, under the firm name of Reeve & Hunter. Later they moved to lot 3, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, where they resided until 1889, when they retired from farming and took up their residence on James St., Orangeville. The late Mrs. Hunter was a kindly, Christian woman, who was greatly beloved by friends and neighbors alike. She was one of the first members of the Methodist church in Orangeville, and a regular church attendant during her long residence here. She is survived by a family of four daughters and three sons—Mrs. R. Phillips and Mrs. C. A. Brink, of Toronto; Mrs. S. L. Bacon, of Dakota; Mrs. Wm. Geffs, of Grand Valley; George A., and T. D., in Alberta, and J. S., of Toronto. Rev. B. R. Strangways, of Weston, a former pastor, conducted a short service at the house on Sunday evening. He was the father of fourteen children, the survivors of whom have all been a credit to him. He contracted pneumonia on February 2nd last, while waiting on his sick wife. The funeral was held on Monday, February 13th, to Caledon cemetery. Service was conducted by Rev. S. R. THE MAPLES.

On Friday, February 3rd, William Delbert Hoare, a bright boy of ten years and six months, passed from this life to the Life Beyond under circumstances that were very sad. On the previous Monday he was stricken with a malignant type of fever and in spite of the most strenuous efforts by the physicians and nurse succumbed to the malady. Delbert was a bright, cheerful boy and was much beloved by everybody who knew him. He was was a great favorite with his companions at school, and was regarded with great favor in the Sunday School, and by his regular attendance and careful thoughtful attention in the services of the church commanded the respect and love of all. At home he was always so happy that he gave sunshine to all in the house. During the present winter, while his older brother has been attending Business College, he seemed to think that it was his duty to make everything very pleasant for his sister and father and mother at home. Many beautiful wreaths sent by friends bore tribute to the esteem in which he was held. As no public funeral could be held, a private burial took place. The pastor of the Methodist Church, to which the family belong, Rev. T. R. White, of Laurel, read the burial service at the grave and a public tribute will be paid to Delbert in the course of a couple of weeks in a regular service of the church to which the family belong. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Hoare, the parents, and Myrtle and Clarence, brother and sister of the deceased, have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their sorrow.

A BATTLEFORD DEATH.

It is a sad duty under any circumstance to announce the visit of death to a community, but exceptionally so when the victim claimed was but on the threshold of life and usefulness, and the taking away comparatively unexpected. Such were the circumstances connected with the death in Winnipeg this morning of Frank Meredith, aged 17 years and 10 months, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Meredith.

Previous to a couple of weeks ago it was not suspected that deceased was suffering in any way from ill health, although it now transpires he had not been enjoying complete health for some time. Last week Dr. Millar pronounced an operation necessary, and in company with his mother the young man left for Winnipeg on Thursday morning last, and on Monday underwent an operation at the hands of a specialist. The first message received by the anxious father and sister here was to the effect that he had survived the ordeal and was doing well, but later telegrams stated that the patient was slowly sinking, and the hourly expected message of his demise was received early this morning.

The sad intelligence was received in Battleford with general expressions of sorrow and regret, not only by reason of the popularity of the deceased, but as well from sympathy for the parents and sister, whose bereavement is a very great one. Mrs. Meredith leaves Winnipeg to-night with the body, and will arrive tomorrow evening, the funeral taking place Saturday at 2 p.m.—Battleford Herald, Feb. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith, the parents of the young man, were visiting relatives in Orangeville and neighborhood last autumn.

AN OLD FASHIONED WINTER.

Writing to The Banner to renew his subscription, Mr. J. Albert Hand, of the staff of the Winnipeg Farmers' Advocate, says: "We have had a genuine old-fashioned winter—plenty of snow and real cold weather. From New Year's until a week or so ago we had zero weather continuously and for a week or ten days at a time the thermometer registered anywhere from 20 to 45 below zero. Evidently there is nothing of a seriously startling nature going on in the old town. You should be in Winnipeg now. The big annual bonspiel is on and the city is filled with curlers from all parts of the west, as well as from Ontario points and a few cities from across the line. As far as I know all the old Orangeville people here are well and prospering."

Her monologue "How the Vote was Won," is said to be a screamingly comic presentation of how the present militant suffrage campaign may come to a successful end in England. Programme will begin at 8 o'clock. General admission, 25c.

APPOINTED FARM INSTRUCTOR.

Mr. James Montgomery, of Camilla, has received the appointment of Farm Instructor in connection with the Industrial School for Indians near Brandon, Man. A RETURN VISIT

Rev. G. W. Ray, the South American explorer and missionary, is coming back to give his splendid Lantern Views and Address, descriptive of life and customs in that neglected continent. The Address and Views will be given in the Baptist Church Wednesday evening, March 1st, at 8 o'clock. Admission 10c. and 15c.

Yours Sincerely,

INDUCTION AT DESERONTO.

Through an oversight The Banner omitted to note last week the induction at Deseronto of Rev. Fred. S. Dowling, formerly of Orangeville. The following report of the induction appeared in the city dailies:—

The Kingston Presbytery met at Deseronto for the purpose of inducting Rev. F. S. Dowling into the charge of the Church of the Redeemer. Rev. A. H. Drummond, interim Moderator, presided. Rev. Dr. Howard of Napanee, preached the sermon; Rev. W. T. Wilkins narrated the different steps taken to fill the vacancy; Rev. J. A. Stover, of Picton, addressed the pastor, and Rev. A. H. Drummond addressed the people. A reception followed in the lecture room of the church, where addresses of welcome were made by Rev. A. H. Creegan, Anglican rector of Tyendinaga; Rev. G. H. Copeland, pastor of the Methodist church, Deseronto; Mr. S. Russell, of Belleville, and others. The chair was occupied by Mr. G.D. Wright.

WELSH LADIES' CHOIR.

Sang to a Capacity House in Orangeville Friday Night.

Music Lovers Delighted With the Varied and Well-Rendered Programme.

During the present concert season the people of Orangeville have been entertained by many and various concerts, but it is extremely doubtful if any have been listened to with greater appreciation than the one given by the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir last Friday night. The enterprise of the Young People's Classes of St. Andrew's Church in bringing such a company of singers here cannot be too highly commended and they were rewarded by a crowded house and a very appreciative audience. The Choir of some eighteen ladies, attired in native costumes of Wales, gave a varied programme of part songs, solos and duets. The famous "March of the Men of Harlech," sung in the Welsh tongue, was the opening number and was very well received. As a rule ladies' voices alone do not excel in the interpretation of such heavy music and the Welsh Choir was no exception. The successes of the evening were scored in the lighter numbers. An alto solo, "The Dear Homeland" and a duet, "The Tranquil Night" were the next two numbers, and revealed the pleasing solo qualities of the voices of two of the young ladies of the Choir. "Y'Deryn Pur' (The Gentle Bird) sung in Welsh, followed by an arrangement of an old nursery rhyme, "The Mouse and the Clock," which introduced some pleasing vocal effects, and the fine quality of the voices, their rythm and the excellent articulation, even in the most prestissimo passages, showed the careful training of Madame Hughes-Thomas, the conductor. "Killarney," sung as a solo with a light, humming accompaniment by all the voices, was the next offering and proved a most pleasing vocal novelty. If any criticism could be offered it would be that the voices in accompaniment seemed slightly too strong for the solo in certain parts. Two part songs, "Andalusian Bolero" and "Sweetest May" closed the first part of the programme.

The Prison Scene from Verdi's masterpiece, "Il Trovatore" was the opening number in the second part, and, while the most ambitious number attempted by the Choir, was well executed. A particularly pleasing feature was the solo as sung by one of the young ladies from the wings. An alto solo, "The Raft," followed and the part songs, "The Snow" by Sir Edgar Elgar and Bishop's, "Where the Bee Sucks," were then given by the full Choir. In response to the hearty applause of the audience a verse of "Home Sweet Home" was sung as an encore. Two solos "Poor Wandering One" (Sullivan) and "My Ain Folk" (Lemon) were next given. Both numbers were excellently rendered, the latter being particularly fine, and winning a hearty encore for the soloist. A medley of plantation songs took well with the audience and was followed by the Welsh National Anthem. The closing number, "God Save the King" was sung as the finale of a decidedly pleasing programme. To say that local music lovers were delighted with the evening's entertainment is putting it mildly. The Choir and their gifted conductor, Madame Hughes-Thomas, made a most favorable impression and their visit will be long remembered.

The Choir left here for Toronto on Saturday morning. Their next engagement was at Newmarket on Monday night. The Company have been touring in Canada since last September and will not complete their present engagement until May. They will give a concert in Shelburne on Wednesday night, March 15th.

PROVE PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

With a 50c. bottle free from your Druggist

It's not so long ago that the doctors bled a man to make him strong.

"Stuff a cold and starve a fever" is miles behind our to-day's knowledge of curative science, yet our fathers had it preached to them time and again.

You may not know it, but to-day there are just as ineffective methods of cure being preached and practised.

All because most people do not know the real cause of disease.

There are two kinds of corpuscles in the blood—red and white.

The red corpuscles contain nutrition, the white destroy disease germs.

If for any cause the white corpuscles become depleted and are not sufficiently strong to destroy the germs of disease, then disease controls the body.

That's the cause of disease.

They didn't know how or why in those days, they do to-day.

These herbs are contained in Psychine—they're responsible for the great results obtained from Psychine a third of a century ago.

They're responsible for the hundreds of thousands that Psychine has cured since that time.

It's because of these herbs that we have received hundreds of thousands of testimonials attesting to wonderful cures that Psychine has made.

And it's because of these very same herbs that we will buy within the next twelve months hundreds of thousands of 50-cent bottles of Psychine and give them away free to whomsoever sends us the coupon in this announcement.

Now if you wish to relieve or prevent any of the disorders in this list send in that coupon:

La Grippe	Bronchial Coughs
Bronchitis	Weak Lungs
Hemorrhages	Weak Voice
Sore Throat	Spring Weakness
Anaemia	Early Decline
Female Weakness	Catarrhal Affections
Indigestion	Catarrh of Stomach
Poor Appetite	Night Sweats
Chills and Fevers	Obstinate Coughs
Sleeplessness and	Laryngitis and
Nervous Troubles	Dyspepsia
After-effects of Pleurisy, Pneumonia and La-Grippe.

Now, we don't ask you to take our word for the tremendously beneficial effect of Phychine. Fill out the coupon below, mail it to us and we'll give your druggist an order (for which we pay him the regular retail price) for a 50-cent bottle of Psychine to be given you free of cost.

We will undoubtedly buy and distribute in this manner, hundreds of thousands of these 50-cent bottles of Psychine.

And we do that to show our entire confidence in this wonderful preparation.

A confidence that has been based on our 30 years' experience with this splendid preparation, with a full knowledge of the hundreds of thousands of cures it has made.

THE MINISTER'S WIFE,

By One of Them.

Surely it is time for that hoary-headed fallacy about the ill-usage of the minister's wife to be decently interred.

Oh yes! I am another of them, and know whereof I speak. I have been young and now am old (figuratively speaking, of course), yet have I never seen the minister's wife an underfed, overworked, unappreciated, beast of burden. If there is one certainty in this world of flying machines, breakfast foods and missionary deficits, it is that the minister's wife is appreciated to the full extent of her deserts.

Suppose that she is so efficient, (not to say officious) as to superintend the Missionary Society, and the Guild, and the Band of Mercy, and the W. C. T. U., and teach in the Sunday School and sing in the choir, (for my own part I can never understand why such a zealous person stops short of moderating the session). But, granted that she does all this, has she no kindly word for those who worked for Foreign Missions and temperance before she was born, and now follow her lead with such unquestioning loyalty, for those devout women, not a few, who believe in the minister's wife through good report and evil too.

Bless her heart! It is not because they could not find occasion for evil report. It is not because her tact has grown like Jonah's gourd since her marriage day, nor is it as a number of ministers and their wives seem to unite in believing, because her husband, with a wonderful and unselfish regard for the welfare of his congregation, chose unto himself a woman possessed of a monopoly of all the common sense in the district. It is merely because the church members acknowledging among themselves that a minister's wife has some difficulties they know not of, (just as the butchers' and the bankers' and the grocers' and the doctors' wives have trials of which the manse remains in blissful ignorance), do, out of the respect they bear to their church, overlook her mistakes and magnify her abilities, until they succeed in making her something like her own ideal.

And then she sits down and considers her superiority to the generality of womankind, and complains about ink stains on the carpet and inconvenient visitors, and ubiquitous book agents. Does a minister's wife hug the fond delusion to her soul that these trials and tribulations are confined to one profession? Let her be assured that they distribute themselves with marvellous impartiality among the just and the unjust. A school teacher's wife, I have been credibly informed, suffers the very same agonized pang as the minister's wife, when the visitor's spoilt child seizes the ink stand. And rumor hath it that even a wicked worldly lawyer's wife has been obliged to spend half a forenoon in resisting the fervent entreaties of an ingratiating young man that she possess herself of something she did not want, and could not pay for if she did want?

Is it an affliction to the soul of a minister's wife that there are houses in which a call from her, even though she is not the walking essence of all the refinement and all the brains and all the fine feeling in the community, is still regarded as something of an honor? Is it a trial to be borne that women who seldom pay a visit, do feel themselves so part and parcel of their church that they will make extraordinary efforts to call upon their minister's wife, and will feel disappointed if they do not find her at home?

A minister's wife who does not recognize this as the very milk of human kindness, (and then talks about lack of appreciation, mind you!) deserves to suffer purgatory in the form of nervous dyspepsia in her husband. Perhaps the ladies from whom this constant cry goes up, are already martyrs in this manner. Then, in all fairness, let such an one talk of her own underfedness, her own appreciatedness, her own overworkedness, and her own general beast-of-burden-ness. But let her beware of grouping all ministers' wives in any such class. We have not all nervous dyspepsia.

THE CHILDREN'S HAIR.

A Little Extra Care Now May Save After Years of Regret.

Children play so hard that the head perspires and the hair has a tendency to mat and get sticky on the scalp. Soap and water doesn't seem to remove it, but the hair must breathe to be healthy. Just try Nyal's Hirsutone. Rub it into the roots of the hair with the balls of the fingers. The children like it and will ask you to use it. Hirsutone loosens up the accumulated dust and perspiration and the hair and scalp can then be easily and thoroughly cleaned. After it is dried give another application of Hirsutone. After you have used it for a while you will admit it is the best you have ever used. Your Nyall Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it.

You Blame the Stomach

But chronic indigestion will disappear when the liver, kidneys and bowels are set right by DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS

You are skeptical.

For you have tried many medicines and still suffer from indigestion with all its annoying symptoms.

Take a new line.

Leave the stomach alone, for the source of trouble is in the intestines, and healthful digestion can be restored by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

Mr. C. D. Bennett, Maple Grove, Megantic Co., Que., writes:—"I had dyspepsia very bad. The food would sour, my stomach would swell up. I suffered a great deal and could not sleep. As the result of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I am now entirely cured and can eat any kind of food. They have made a new man and a younger man of me and I cannot say too much in their praise."

A DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.

Last Friday afternoon Mr. D. McEachern's son, of Erin, found when he went for his team at the Methodist Church shed, that a pair of his traces had been wantonly cut through. An hour later Mr. Wm. Usherwood, of Osprings, ascertained when he went for his team that one trace was cut half through, two new sets of bells had been cut through and half a dozen bells were missing, and the check rein was cut through. This criminal work was done in broad daylight. It is suspected to be the work of a couple of boys who recently took up their residence here. They are under surveillance by the authorities, and if the necessary evidence is obtained severe punishment will be meted out to them.—Acton Free Press.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

An Editorial Reply Which Was Sharp and Beyond the Libel Law.

There are a great many varieties of the "retort courteous," even though no one has ever taken the trouble to classify them. The repartee of the cultured wit is often so subtle that it appears pointless to the man whose methods are those of a heavy-weight. The retort of the skilled Parliamentarian differs greatly from that of the professor in an academic debate. There are many other types, but standing all alone in a place by itself is the retort of the newspaper of the small town.

A very good example of the way in which these editors go for one another appeared a short time ago in an Ontario paper. It was a weekly published in one of those small towns which has a rival community a few miles away. They hate one another with a deadly enmity, but for the sake of economy they occasionally work together and use the same electric power house and the same private telephone system. It is unnecessary to add that the town which gets its telephone service from the other village spends considerable time passing criticisms upon their treatment and the management of the company. The bickerings over these things have become chronic.

One week the paper came out with an article which occupied the most conspicuous portion of the front page and gave the telephone service a severe raking over the coals. The editor had a personal grievance which he made the text of his editorial. His wife had been left at home alone one evening, and a drunken man got on the verandah by mistake. The lady attempted to call the police but could not get "central." In lurid colors and with emotional ability which characterizes a country newspaper, the editor described his wife's state of mind. He proved that the telephone company was responsible for the pitiful condition of nervousness in which the lady was eventually found.

It was confidently expected that the paper in the neighboring town would come back with an attack upon the electric light system. The next issue was eagerly secured, but it contained only one short reference to the incident, printed in large letters. The editor remarked, "We are greatly surprised that Mrs. Scribe should be disturbed by the sound of a drunken man on her verandah."

A Bard at Eighty-One.

St. Stanley Larkin of Moose Jaw has made public some interesting facts. He has an uncle in England, eighty-one years of age, and a bard with royal recognition. Old Mr. Larkin was much affected by the death of King Edward. He sat down and expressed his condolence in verse. The poetic tribute was widely quoted in England:

"Edward, the Great Peacemaker,"
Thus will he e'er be known,
Of realms on which the sun ne'er sets
The King of peace he shone.

Then raise the Royal Standard,
Unfurl it to the breeze,
'The olive branch' its message,
To all the lands and seas.

And may the Almighty Ruler,
Whom kings and realms adore,
To our great noble Edward,
Grant peace for evermore."

Mr. Larkin, sr., received the following letter from Buckingham Palace:

"Miss Knollys is commanded by Queen Alexandra to thank Mr. Larkin for his kind sympathy and touching tribute."

BOWEL TROUBLE MAKES SICKLY BABIES.

Bowel trouble is the cause of most of the ailments from which little ones suffer. When baby's bowels are not working regularly illness is sure to appear, but when the bowels are regular the little one is usually bright, active and happy. No other medicine for babies has such good effect on the bowels as has Baby's Own Tablets. They make their action regular, sweeten the stomach and promote good health. Concerning them, Mrs. Freeman Feener, of Barry's Corner, N.S., writes: "I can heartily recommend Baby's Own Tablets for all the troubles from which little ones suffer. My baby girl was troubled with her bowels and was so small and puny I thought we would lose her. I saw Baby's Own Tablets advertised and began giving them to her and now she is a big, healthy, happy baby. For this I think the Tablets, and I always keep them in the house." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HER SECRET.

Why She Always Looked So Young.

Everyone refers to her as one of the most attractive women in town. It wasn't her features, for while regular, they were not unusual. But the charm lay in the head of splendid, vigorous hair that made a veritable crown. It had that peculiar lustre and the sun gave it an added brilliance—you couldn't look at her without unconsciously commenting on the beauty of her hair.

When asked how she kept it so beautiful she replied that it was no secret, simply proper shampooing, regular combing and the conscientious use of Hirsutone. She admitted it had not always been in that condition, but that she found Hirsutone the best thing she ever got for the hair. It gave the scalp such a cool, refreshed feeling, and the hair was so much easier to dress after its use.

There are plenty of heads that would be just as attractive for Hirsutone soon brings the hair and scalp into good condition.

Your Nyal Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it, and every woman owes it to herself to try it. Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Thos. Stevenson, Orangeville.

RECIPROCITY ARTICLES.

To avoid misunderstanding on the subject, We should perhaps explain that the special articles on reciprocity appearing in The Banner at present represent the views of the Canadian Century, a Montreal publication, and are not necessarily the views of this journal. The Canadian Century has made arrangements with weekly publications all over the country to reproduce these articles. The matter is under a special heading of its own and is contracted and paid for in the same manner as any straight advertising matter. It is only fair that our farmer readers, to whom the Century appears to address its arguments, should understand this.

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS.

Dissolution of the Well-Known Local Firm of R. Irvine & Son.

After nearly half a century of active business life in Orangeville, Mr. Robert Irvine, one of our best known citizens, has decided to retire and seek a well-earned rest. Mr. Jas. A. Irvine, his second son, who has been associated with his father for a number of years in the widely known firm of R. Irvine & Sons, painters and decorators, will leave town and go to Toronto to fill an important position with the Thornton-Smith Co., of which his brother, Norman, is President and Manager. It is altogether likely that "Jimmie," as he is familiarly called by his friends and associates, will make his home in Winnipeg or Vancouver.

Mr. Robert Irvine, the senior partner in the firm, is one of this town's oldest and most successful business men. He came to Orangeville in the year 1861, when the place was a mere village, without even the advantage of railroad connection with the outside world. Energetic, ambitious and a thorough master of his trade Mr. Irvine's business career was marked by success from the very commencement. Not content with serving the wants of the local field, he took important contracts in outside towns and villages and so satisfactorily were these filled that in time the name of Robert Irvine became widely known as that of the leading painter and decorator in Western Ontario. The firm has always employed a goodly number of men, who were among the best paid mechanics in the town. Many an apprentice has gone out into the world with a good practical training received while in the service of Mr. Irvine, who always believed in the motto of "Work and Plenty of It." A hard worker himself he set his men a worthy example. Orangeville has probably no other citizen so well and generally known as Mr. Irvine throughout the surrounding country and neighboring towns. The firm's business covered a territory extending a distance of 40 or 50 miles on all sides of the town and his business interests therefore brought our townsman into contact with many of the people in this large section of country.

It is a tribute to Mr. Irvine's energy and ability to be able to state that in the midst of his manifold business activities, he has always found the time and possessed the inclination to take a keen, and active interest in public affairs. He has never sought any municipal or political office for himself, although it is an open secret that he has on several occasions had their refusal. Some years ago he did good service as a member and chairman of the Dufferin County License Board. He has also filled the office of President of the Dufferin Reform Association, and at the present time holds the responsible position of Census Enumerator for the County. In politics Mr. Irvine is a life-long Liberal, and in religion is a Presbyterian. He is widely known in Masonic circles and has held many responsible offices in the Order. He is probably the oldest living member of Harris Lodge, Orangeville, and is a past D. D. G.M. of Wellington District.

We are pleased to state in closing that Mr. Irvine will continue to make his home in Orangeville and to join with his host of friends in wishing him many years of happiness and contentment during the evening of his busy and well-spent life.

A NEW LINE.

Our townsman, Mr. J. H. Anderson, of Anderson's Fair, has been appointed local representative for the large and widely known Guelph firm of Hamilton & Sons, dealers in monuments. This firm has been in the monument business for thirty-two years, and has connections extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. During the past few years they have erected some of the finest monuments in the large city cemeteries in London, Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston, Ottawa and Montreal. Any person wishing to see their work may do so by visiting the Forest Lawn cemetery, where they have erected some very fine monuments. Hamilton & Sons use only the best granite obtainable, and manufacture from the raw material thereby saving the middleman's profit. They have electrical machines installed in their plant for polishing and lettering and in this way can do this work much more cheaply than by the old-fashioned method. This enables the firm to turn out work at considerably cheaper prices than those which usually prevail. Ex-mayor John Hamilton, of Guelph, senior member of the firm, was in town recently and while here assisted Mr. Anderson to close up several orders. Mr. Anderson will be pleased to meet any persons contemplating the purchase of a monument and to have the opportunity of talking the matter over with them. Any person interested is invited to call at Anderson's Fair, where photos of the latest designs in monuments may be seen and prices obtained.

Would Abolish All Exemptions on Church Property.

The following contribution to the Daily Star is from the pen of Mr. William Algie, of Alton :—

"The sunset of life gives me mystical lore,
And coming events cast their shadows before."

In your issue of yesterday appeared two items that should furnish food for thought, and have the same significance as the "first robin" of spring.

Item No. One.—"Mr. Chas. McKeown, M.P.P. for Dufferin, has the splendid courage to introduce a bill in the legislature to abolish in a limited sense the present system of tax-exemption on church property."

Just why the eloquent Member for Dufferin cannot see his way clear to carry a sane proposition to its full length is "one of the things that no fellow can find out." All tax exemptions are blunders, and belong to "class legislation," which has been through all past ages of man an instrument of oppression. Life is too short to question the motives of any man who is going in the direction of 'right,' and Mr. McKeown is to be congratulated on his bill. Tax-exemption of church property in Canada is a growing evil, and in some parts of our fair Dominion, notably the Province of Quebec, it has assumed proportions that almost stagger credence. It has been stated that nearly 30 per cent. of the property valuation in Montreal represents church property, which bears no share of public burdens. So long as Protestant bodies cling to 10 cent. privileges, the Church of Rome can with equal tenacity enjoy 10 dollar ones. Let every organization stand (or fall) on its merits, and the only remedy is absolute "separation of Church and State," directly and indirectly. The "unco guid" electors of Dufferin may ask "Charley" to "please explain" his conduct, but all fair-minded citizens of Canada, irrespective of Party ties, will say "more power to your arm."

Item No. 2.—Is a report of Orangemen submitting to Premier Whitney a proposition which at first sight appeared 'patriotic' and 'just,' viz., the abolition of religious teaching in the Public Schools of Ontario, (which is the only means by which a united National Canadian sentiment can be cultivated), but the delegation in question appears to have only gone a step or two in the right direction. Having put their hand to the plow,—by all means encourage the Loyal Orange Order to "finish the furrow."

The field of knowledge is broad enough (and growing broader daily) for all practical purposes of citizenship, and the little mole hills of religious prejudice that are built on the Public School grounds become in time mountains in our legislative halls. Many sincere Canadians profess to see danger to Canadian Nationhood through 'reciprocity of trade with the U.S.' but with our present educational system we can never hope to have that element except in a broken, disjointed and chaotic condition. Our whole educational system is a patchwork quilt of compromise, for which a partial union of Church and State are responsible. The Latin nations of Europe—France, Spain, Portugal, Italy—have already "cut the Gordian Knot," and have with no uncertain voice adopted "purely secular public schools," and if Canada aspires to the dignity of Nationhood, the public primary schools of our country must be made broad enough for the child of every man, irrespective of Creed.

MOVED WORKSHOP.

Hughes & Norris, merchant tailors, have moved their workshop from the rear of their store to the rooms over T. Stevenson's and J. A. Arnott's business places. The change will give the firm more room for the large stock of suitings, gents' furnishings, etc., that their steadily expanding business obliges them to carry.

MANUFACTURERS UNDULY ALARMED.

Attach Too Much Weight to Possibilities of Disaster From Open Competition With United States.

Interesting Address by Mr. William Algie, the Well-known Alton Manufacturer.

In view of the place the reciprocity question is occupying in the public mind, the opinions expressed by Mr. William Algie, proprietor of the Beaver Woollen Mills, Alton, in an address delivered before the Edmonton Board of Trade some months ago, have a special interest at the present moment. Mr. Algie's address was as follows :—

I feel that I echo the sentiments of the whole party when I state that during the whole of our trip and short stay in the West, we never had a dull moment while we were awake, and many of us, including the writer, had pleasant dreams. Every hour was rich in pleasant memories. Every moment was jewelled with a joy, and we fully appreciated one of the leading characteristics of Western Canada, namely the reciprocity of good fellowship. The lavish hospitality, courtesy, kindness and attention shown at every point will remain green while memory holds its seat. The one drop of gall in our cup of nectar is the fact that each and every individual member of that party realizes how difficult it will be for us to reciprocate and give anything like adequate measure. Our experience proves to us that what was at one time "The great lone land" is now the brightest jewel in Britain's crown, and with possibilities and potentialities undreamed of until within the past ten years.

We find that Western people generally, and British Columbians in particular, exemplify that valuable lesson which teaches us to look beyond the narrow limits of any particular creed, color or country, and see in every son of Adam a brother of the dust. Judging from our own experience, the great West welcomes every man who comes there with the intention of building a home and becoming a citizen of the country in its widest and best sense. The most salient feature of your country is the fact that you are essentially a nation of home builders and home makers. Homes make patriots. The man who owns a home will always be ready and willing to defend it. Few people have patriotism enough to shoulder a rifle in defence of a boarding-house. Apart from your immense wealth, drawn from the field, the forest, the ocean and the mine, you are developing a product infinitely more valuable than the wealth of the world. In other words, you are building up a nation of men and women. To illustrate my meaning I will recall an incident that occurred in the County of Glengarry, Ont., many years ago. As many of my hearers doubtless know, Glengary is, in spots, very barren and rocky. During the summer of 1868 a little Yankee from Massachusetts was driving through the County looking for horses to supply the American market. Pausing a moment on the highway opposite a very rocky, barren field, he noticed a tall, stalwart Glengarry Highlander building a stone fence, the material for which was quite handy. Looking over the fields, a thought struck the traveller, and raising his voice he exclaimed : "Say, stranger, what do you raise on land like this?" The Highlander scowled at the traveller from under his bushy eyebrows; leaned over a 300 pound stone, lifted it bodily, and placed it on the top of the 5 foot fence, after which he turned to the traveller and said, "Men, by thunder." The importance of a crop of folks bred and reared in a school of good citizenship is to my mind the greatest crop that any nation can boast of.

Your middle West, the wheat belt of Canada, has answered in full and plenty that paragraph in the Lord's Prayer, "Give us this day our daily bread." The boundless fields, some cultivated, but a large measure of them still awaiting the plough and reaper, will in a few years, be the granary of the world. In time the middle West and far West will determine the future policy of the whole of Canada, and have a very potential voice in shaping the destiny of our country. Through the middle West there was considerable apparent desire for reciprocity with our neighbors to the South, and as a manufacturer, and a citizen of Ontario, I beg to suggest that the first step in reciprocity of trade with you and us would be "reciprocity of tariffs." When our American cousins give evidence of their sincerity in suggesting reciprocity of trade, that evidence must be made apparent by their pulling down of their tariff walls to a level with ours. This would be the initial step with which to start negotiations on a fair and equitable basis. To use the words of Roosevelt "We want a square deal." As it stands to-day as between us and the United States, the tariff proposition is largely like the handle on a rum jug—all on one side, and before we discard the present position we would ask our neighbors to present "a loving cup"—a reciprocity with two handles to it—one for each nation.

All sane thinking Canadians must necessarily admit that the fiscal policy of any country should be on a fairly permanent and fixed basis, to the end that investments should be guarded from loss or entanglement with other investments that might be produced under different fiscal conditions. All tariffs of necessity are patchwork quilts of compromise. Local issues in different sections largely determine local ideas, but true Canadians must rise to the importance of considering that which does the whole duty to the whole people of any country in legislation effecting local or general conditions. In forming a tariff the old reciprocity idea of "give and take" must never be lost sight of, and it is only by making a careful study of all conditions from Labrador to Vancouver that the real issue can be fairly and intelligently dealt with.

Personally, as a manufacturer, I am impressed with the fact that there are at least six essentials necessary to success in manufacturing, viz.,—Climate conditions, power, labor, material, machinery and intelligence. As to Canada and the manufacturer, we feel that in the first five enumerated here (in reciprocity with the United States) my American cousin would have practically no advantage over us, and I would hesitate to admit that in the sixth essential the people of Canada fall far short of those who claim allegiance to the Stars and Stripes. In the history of the past, which by the way is the only thing that can throw any light on the possibilities of the future, the men of the Northern Zone have had no reason to be ashamed of their record, and I might add they have no reason to fear competition with any or every country where labor conditions are on the same level with ourselves. The peasant Prophet of Galilee gave the key note of success when he uttered the words, "Be not afraid," and I am under the impression that there are a number of manufacturers in Canada who place altogether too much weight on the possibilities of disaster following the open field for competition with our American cousins. The old Chinese philosopher, Boodha, puts it in this wise "Blessed is he, and beloved of all the Gods, who fears no man, and of whom no man is afraid."

It is difficult in a short article to do even a small measure of justice to the progress, growth and energy of the great West in general, and British Columbia in particular. During my brief stay in British Columbia I was somewhat surprised to find that political party lines were not always clearly defined. In other words, I met very few Tories and very few Grits, but thousands of British Columbians. I doubt if any of those pronounced lovers of their district would go so far as the Western Yankee speaker who used the phrase, "Our country, may she ever be right, but right or wrong—our country." I very much enjoyed the speeches delivered by Premier McBride and the Honorable Mr. Bowser, and endorsed the sentiments so well expressed by both gentlemen, and in conclusion I may be permitted to quote the peroration of Premier McBride's magnificent speech in which he said, "The destiny of Canada is bound up in one expression, viz.,—one Flag, one King, one Empire." In view of the magnificent schools, colleges and universities with which our country is so well supplied, I might be permitted to suggest an addition to Premier McBride's motto, and enter a plea for a national school system, purely secular; with a platform broad enough and grand enough for the child of every man irrespective of creed. A school system that would be effectual in building up a national, united, Canadian sentiment from the rock ribbed shores of Labrador to where Vancouver lions guard the Pacific; and would say in addition to "One Flag, One King, One Empire," "One Language, One School from coast to coast."

ROSEMONT.

Well, Mr. Editor, Pat and I have just had a long and pleasant visit at J. M. Armstrong's. First, we must tell your readers just why our visit happened to be so long. Oswald had been talking every day about a large party he was going to have, so Pat whispered slyly that we would just make this our home until after the event. In the meantime, however, we made a few short visits among our friends. We started out on Monday morning and in due time arrived at G. P. McNabb's. While we were having a short chat with G. P. along drove Norman Little, who had promised to take me down to Percy Armstrong's the last time I saw him. On arriving there we saw a fine looking lad from Mono Centre, who appeared to be right at home. I did not remain long, as Cleve Irwin, who had been down to see how everything was going at the school, drove along and I chanced a ride to Robt. Moffatt's. In the evening Bob wanted to know if I would go for a short drive. "Well," said I, "it all depends where." Upon being informed that it was over to Robt. Agnew's I consented as I wanted to see Jack and thought this would be my opportunity. On arriving there the old man informed me that Jack had just gone to Robt. Peacock's to see if Bob had received any news from Hamilton lately. I did not stop as it was becoming dark and stormy and Uncle Jim William had made me promise to stay all night with him. On arriving at Little York I met Sam Lee Jr heading for Rosemont. I at once decided to go along. As we walked along Sam commenced to tell me about a time —— Dingle had with Sam Henderson one night. Drawing near the village Sam suggested a game of fun that we go up to see if W. Pace Gilmore was at A. J. Black's and have a joke on him. Passing one of the houses we noticed R. J. Morrison turn in behind us. As we neared Mr. Black's Sam gave signs of backing out and finally proposed that we go down and find out who the chap was who was at McCracken's on Sunday night. At that moment above drove our host, J. W. Armstrong, who took me home with him. Pat had already arrived and after telling a few yarns we all retired for the night. Next morning the weather being fine Oswald and I left J. W. and Pat at home and set out to give invitations to the party. We had a few very busy days and on Thursday night a happy crowd of merry-makers arrived, who danced and played cards until sunrise. Sam Gallaugher and I became quite chummy during the evening and he finally insisted that I accompany him home, Pat remaining with Oswald.

MARSVILLE.

One of the oldest residents of the community in the person of Mrs. William Watson passed away early on Monday morning at the ripe age of 93 years. She was a resident of this village for the past 20 years. The funeral took place on Wednesday to Price's burying ground. The service was conducted by Rev. R. S. Scott.

It is also with sadness that we report the death of Sarah Nevills, beloved wife of Mr. Horace Haws, of Durham. They formerly resided in this vicinity and for the past six years have been residents of Durham village. Until a couple of years ago she apparently enjoyed good health and gave promise of a long life, but she became a victim of the white plague, and gradually declined. Her death on Thursday morning was not unexpected. She was 40 years of age and was the daughter of the late James Nevills, of the Erin townline, near Orton. The remains were brought to Orton by C. P. R. on Saturday noon and were awaited by a large number of relatives and friends who assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to one dearly beloved by all, who had the privilege of her acquaintance. The funeral procession was then formed and proceeded to the Grove Church, where the deceased formerly worshipped and where the Rev. Mr. Cole conducted the service, after which the remains were interred in the cemetery adjoining the church. Besides a sorrowing husband and a little boy, Carman, 3 years of age, she is survived by four sisters and three brothers. The sisters are: Mrs. Hugh Turner, Hillsburg; Mrs. A. Turner and Eliza, of Invermay, Sask., and Mary at home. The brothers are:—James on the homestead and William and Thomas in Erin township.

On Tuesday, Feb. 21st, in St. Francis, R. C. Church, Toronto, at 9 o'clock, in the presence of only the immediate relatives, the marriage was solemnized of Bertha M., oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson, of the 10th line, East Garafraxa, to Mr. Joseph J. Bergin, of Fergus, by Rev. Wm. Cann. The bride, who was gowned in a becoming dress of Alice blue taffeta and black picture hat with plumes, carried a bouquet of white roses and was attended by her sister, Elsie, wearing tan eolienne silk and black hat, and carrying pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, M. Bergin. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Powers, 18½ Lindsay Ave., after which the happy couple left for points west, the bride travelling in a navy blue serge suit and black hat, wearing a handsome set of Persian lamb furs, the gift of the groom. On their return they will reside in Fergus.

Mr. Geo. Watson and his son, John, of Tecumseth township, attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Watson last week.

PALGRAVE.

A very successful operation was performed by Dr. Reynar, of Palgrave, and Dr. McKeown, of Toronto, last Sunday morning on Mrs. Wesley Bone, of Palgrave Station. According to latest reports, Mrs. Bone is making satisfactory progress. We all hope to hear of her early restoration to health.

A very pleasant and enjoyable time was spent on the night of Feb. 24th, in the form of a ball in the English Church Hall, Palgrave. The music was excellent and the floor in grand shape, and if you could judge by the many pleasant faces, everyone enjoyed themselves to the full measure. Mr. Carey, cornet player, was in attendance, and added most materially to the music and pleasure of the evening. We are informed that it is the intention of the young folks to continue these entertainments until the warm weather, as they are so highly enjoyable to both old and young. The entertainments are in the hands of a very reliable and able committee, who are sparing neither time nor money to make the events as enjoyable as possible.

We are informed that Mr. Eli Clarke, hotelkeeper, is making vast improvements on his hotel this spring. Painters and paperhangers are at work, and when the work is completed, no doubt the improvements will be costly and beautiful.

Mr. Wm. McGuire has moved into the village from his farm, which he sold quite recently. Mr. McGuire has built a fine residence on Wallace street, and intends having a good time the remainder of his life.

As soon as the frost is sufficiently out of the ground, it is the intention of the village trustees to push the cement sidewalks to completion. We will then have relatively more sidewalk per capita than any other village or town in Ontario.

As Mr. Henderson has become Sheriff of Peel, a new constable must be appointed. We wonder who he will be?

ALTON.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clark have returned to Alton after spending a few weeks visiting with relatives in Hamilton.

Mrs. and Miss Brodie have returned from the West and are about to resume their residence in Alton.

Among recent visitors in Alton were:—Mrs. Ferguson, of Dundalk, with Mrs. S. Barber, and Miss Barnes, of Bolton, with Mrs. Wm. White.

Mr. Geo. Duckwith and family are about to move into Alton.

Alton is becoming increasingly attractive as a place for business and for visitors.

The men and boys of the Methodist Church in Alton have announced an annual Tea and Entertainment to take place on Monday evening next, March 6th. Tea will be served from 7 o'clock, programme to follow. The anniversary will be of a rather unusual character, as the men and boys are providing the supper, will wait on the tables and are also furnishing the entire programme. A feature of next Sabbath evening will be that the song service in the Church will be conducted by men only. The pastor will speak on the subject, "Men Wanted."

Rev. Wm. Morris, of Orangeville, will lecture in the Presbyterian Church, Wednesday evening, March 8th, on the subject, "Reminiscenses of Rambles in the Eastern States." The programme, which begins at 8 o'clock sharp, will also include a colloquy on Temptation, a solo by Roscoe Hill, and duets by Misses Beatrice and Jennie McLean. Admission, 15c. and 10c.

LUCILLE.

Tuesday evening of last week a number of the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Varey met at their home and presented them with a well-filled purse and the following address:—

To Mr. and Mrs. Luke Varey.

Dear Friends,—We, your friends and neighbors, have assembled here this evening with two-fold feelings—one of affection and appreciation of you as kind, good-hearted neighbors, and one of regret at your approaching departure to a distant land. From our midst you will certainly be both missed for your willingness to assist us all in time of trouble, sickness or need. We cannot let you leave us without showing in some form, small though it be, our appreciation of you, both as kind friends and neighbors. We ask you to accept this purse, not comparing its value with our loss in your going away, but as a small memento of the people you leave behind. May you meet with friends true as yourselves and enjoy all the happiness and prosperity we wish you and may our Heavenly Father grant both a long and happy life of peace and plenty in your new home.

Signed on behalf of your friends.

Mr. Varey, who was visibly affected by the unmistakeable evidences of the good-will of the people of the neighborhood, made a brief reply, speaking as follows:—

Friends and Neighbors,—I can only attempt to express the thanks of Mrs. Varey and myself for your beautiful present and also for the many kind words you have spoken. We both regret that we have thought it wisest and best for ourselves and family to go to the West and are indeed sorry to say good-bye to those who have been everything neighbors and friends should be. We will always keep a warm place in our hearts for you all and trust to see and hear from you as often as circumstances will permit. Should you ever be near our home in the West we will consider it a privilege to give you a hearty welcome to our hospitality. I thank you again for your kindness and generosity.

Mr. and Mrs. Varey, whose departure will be greatly regretted by the people of this community, intend to move to the West shortly. For the present, however, they are taking up their residence on the 2nd line, Mono.

LAUREL.

The Skating Contest last Thursday night between Marshall Langtree and W. Groskurth was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators. Groskurth proved the victor. John Maltby, Jr., who was to race the successful competitor, then entered the lists against Groskurth, but failed to win. The prize was therefore awarded to Groskurth, who is now the acknowledged champion. We would like to see someone tackle the victor just to keep him in fettle.

Owing to the mild weather the skating was a failure on Saturday night. On Monday the temperature took a decided drop and Manager Maltby expects a good time this week.

There are a great many fresh cases of measles in and around our town. We understand that Mr. Thos. Hamilton's family, Geo. Gordon, Herb Hughes and Jos. Langtree have all been visited. Most of the cases are of a mild type.

Rev. Mr. Whittle, who has been unable to take his work for the past two weeks, is now able to be about again and attend to his pastoral duties.

Rev. and Mrs. T. R. White have gone to Toronto to attend the funeral of Mr. Wyatt, Mrs. White's father. They have the sympathy of the community in their trouble.

Mr. S. J. Brown is steadily improving. We hope he will soon be able to be about again.

Mr. John Peterson has moved to the old Peterson farm. We are sorry to lose John. He was a good and obliging neighbor. We wish him every success in his new home.

Mr. Wm. Hughes, who has been very ill for some time, is still in a critical condition, but his many friends are hoping for the best.

BUY SUITABLE DWELLING.

A Timely Contribution Re. the Proposed Orangeville Hospital.

To the Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—I would like to know very much if the Daughters of the Empire have abandoned the Hospital project they have had so long on hand and for which they have labored so assiduously. Has A. B.'s silly articles had the effect of causing them to halt in the good work they had contemplated on behalf of the town and surrounding country? If it be a fact that such is the case, it is much to be regretted. It appears there is a hitch about securing a suitable building at a reasonable price for the purpose. There should be no difficulty in this. I understand the Prison Inspector and also some others, who are quite competent judges, have examined the Golden property on Faulkner Street, and have pronounced it a most desirable place for the location of an hospital. The building is large, the rooms well laid out, the grounds unexcelled in beauty, and the site all that could be desired. Evergreens, under which the convalescents could enjoy themselves, dot the whole grounds. I would say to these philanthropic ladies, buy what is most suitable, irrespective of cost, and you will afterwards have no regrets, as it is always found that the good, suitable article is the cheapest in the end. I understand Mr. Golden's price is $3,500. This sum would not build his home alone, and besides there is a good brick stable worth $500. If the whole building were removed the grounds are worth $1,000. With best wishes for the Daughters and their unselfish enterprise, I am,

Yours truly,
A CITIZEN.

CALEDON EAST.

A Shredded Wheat Banquet under the auspices of the Methodist Church will be held on Tuesday evening next. Tea will be served in Mrs. Hanton's hall from 6.30 to 8 o'clock. TALKED WITH THEIR HANDS.

Hon. I. B. Lucas, M.P.P., is telling a good weather story. It is about two Jews. If Mr. Lucas represented some constituencies perhaps he would not tell the story, but as he represents a Grey riding it doesn't matter. These two Jews were walking along a street in Winnipeg the other day. The thermometer was forty below zero, "but you don't feel it." These two Jews, however, did feel it, and they were walking along with shoulders bent so that they could get their hands right down to the bottoms of their pockets. They walked along in dead silence. Finally one said to the other:

"Ikey, why don't you talk?"

The reply came back: "Why don't you talk yourself, and freeze your own hands?"—Star Weekly.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicines. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas.

After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and am stronger in every way.

I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby was born, and I recommend it highly to all pregnant women.—MRS. E. WANDBY, 92 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Another Woman Cured

Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to them. You may publish this if you think it will help others.—MRS. F. E. COOK, Maple Creek, Sask.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

WHY THE YOUNG FOLKS LEAVE

This is one man's idea why the young folks go cityward. How does it strike you?

Formerly all manufacture was conducted on the farm by hand labor. The early farmer took the raw material and converted it into the finished product with the aid of his family. He raised the sheep, dyed the wool, spun the thread, wove the cloth and made his own clothing. He raised hogs and cattle, prepared the meat and hauled it to market with oxcarts. He made his own butter and cheese. He baked his own bread. He made his own farm tools and wagons. He made his own boots, shoes and furniture. In fact practically all of his food, shelter and clothing was formerly manufactured by him on the farm. Gradually this entire process through the invention of modern machinery has drifted to the cities. All these were formerly a part of farming, but have gradually left the farm never to return.

At the time of our first census in 1790, 97 per cent. of the people lived on the farm because the work was there. Now 60 per cent. have gone to the city because their jobs went to the city ahead of them. There was no choice about it, the farmers' sons and daughters were compelled to follow their work.

To-day the farmer is a producer of raw material only, and must depend on the railroad, the mill and factory to convert this raw material into the finished product. Then he buys his machinery, sugar and tobacco, in fact nearly everything he uses on the farm—he is compelled to patronize a trust.

While this is true of farming it is also true that 82 per cent. of our city wage workers do not own a home. And in American cities there are 3,000,000 children from 5 to 12 years of age and more than ,000,000 are working in factories and sweat shops.

Leaving the farm is like jumping from the frying pan into the fire.

THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD.

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn,
In the place of their self content;
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart,
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
But let me live by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good, the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban—
Let me live in the house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

I see from the house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press with the ardour of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears,
Both parts of an infinite plan—
Let me live in the house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in the house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise or foolish—so am I,
Then why should I sit in a scorner's seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban.
Let me live in the house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

A HUMOROUS INCIDENT.

How a Caledon Man Got Married Over Twenty Years Ago.

The recent visit of Charley Markle, of Detroit, Mich., to his old camping grounds at Horning's Mills recalls a humorous incident that took place there over twenty years ago. Charley and a number of old friends were spending the afternoon in the village and there arrived on the same day a young man, who said he came from Alton. Charley soon struck up a conversation with the visitor and began to tell him of the natural beauties of the historic village and that it was noted for its speckled trout and good looking girls. He soon won his way into the good graces of the stranger, who in a moment of weakness informed Charley that he was in search of a wife. He said he was a farmer from Caledon, and was heartily disgusted keeping bachelor's hall. Charley, being a bachelor himself, and is yet one, sympathized with him, but hinted that if the stranger could make it worth his while he might help him out of his difficulties. A deal was soon made and Charley was given a promissory note for $20 due in two months if he found a suitable partner for his newly found friend. Charley agreed to deliver the goods at 7.30 the same evening and to bring a minister to perform the ceremony at the groom's expense. At the hour named, Charley ushered into the sitting room of Allen's hotel a very neatly dressed young lady fitted out with all the necessary trousseau even to a bridal veil. He was followed by a clerical looking gentleman wearing a dress suit, silk hat, white tie and spectacles. Charley gave the bride away, and at the close of the ceremony the groom settled with the minister for $2.50. The would-be preacher then invited the groom and spectators to the bar room where the fee was spent in soft and hard drinks. When the groom returned to the sitting room the bride had disappeared and although a diligent search was made by Charley and the groom they could not locate her. Ed. J. Huxtable, president of the Douglas Drug Company, of Douglas, Arizona, an old Horning's Mills boy, took the part of the blushing bride. As the would be minister 's a well known resident of Shelburne we will not give his name in this item. We need scarcely say that Charley has the note yet and that he treasures it as a souvenir of his boyhood days. It is in a gilt frame and hangs in a prominent position in his bachelor quarters at 901 Theodore street, Detroit, Mich.—Shelburne Free Press.

WHAT HAS DANDRUFF GOT TO DO WITH BALDNESS?

You see the statement every day that the one cause of baldness is dandruff. But is it?

True, dandruff often precedes the departure of the hair.

It is equally true that you know men with a shock of hair you can hardly pull a comb through, who have carried around a dandruff laden collar as long as you have known them.

You have also seen men whose scalp was kept as clean as a baby's, whose hair was surely departing.

That dandruff talk sounds well and convinces a good many of us, but let us not fool ourselves.

Of course dandruff isn't a good thing to carry around, but it is only an indication.

The same trouble that causes the hair to fall out usually causes dandruff, so if you get at the cause and arrest the loss of hair, you will stop dandruff too.

Those who use Nyal's Hirsutone find it the most satisfactory hair healer and hair dressing they have ever used.

It does stop the hair from falling out.

It will also stop dandruff.

Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends it — $1.00 and 50c. in sprinkler bottles.

Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Thos. Stevenson, Orangeville.

HARD ON BACHELORS.

How Would This Work In Ontario ?

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—A bill to impose an annual tax of $5 on each bachelor over 35, to be applied to a fund to aid in the support of spinsters past 35, is to be debated by the Massachusetts House.

The Committee on Taxation decided favorably on the measure, and will report it soon. The committee is composed of both married men and bachelors, the chairman, Russell Wood of Cambridge, being single.

Told of the committee's action today, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, who suggested the bill, said :

"I would not have believed that a body of men could have been so sensible."

Wm. G. Noble, of Masonville, has purchased the Watt Milling & Feed Company's farm east of Primrose, for pasture land.

A branch of the Bank of Toronto will be opened at Corbetton, so says the Corbetton correspondent to the Bundalk Herald.

Messrs. Will and Hugh Johnston have options on 2,500 acres of land in the vicinity of Arkona for a company of English capitalists.

It is reported that the County License Commissioners have agreed among themselves not to grant more than two licenses in Brampton.

There is a movement on foot for the construction of an electric railway connecting Stouffville and Richmond Hill, a distance of 14 miles.

Backache Suffering

Mr. Fred. Gummer, Lillies, Ont., writes: "I can honestly say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are a wonderful medicine. For six weeks last fall I could scarcely walk around for pains in the bank and legs, and was almost completely unfit for work. Though I tried several medicines I got no better. I saw Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills advertised and bought five boxes. After I had used three boxes, I was greatly improved and by the time I had them all taken felt as well as I ever did. I would advise anyone suffering from kidney disease to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for bad colds and sore throat and would not be without these medicines for anything."

DELEGATES NOT AMERICANS

Western Farmers Are Loyal But Want Reciprocity.

Interesting Letter From James Bower, President of Alberta Farmers' Association.

To the Editor of The Orangeville Banner.

Dear Sir,—I was glad to see in the last issue of The Banner, a letter from my old friend, D. McPheters, who is now at Big Valley, Alta., but was very sorry to gather from his letter to you, that his limited experience here has not given him any true conception of things as they really exist. He says that a delegation of western farmers had gone to Ottawa; then he gives as his belief that two-thirds of these are Americans, that a great many are interested in American machinery and do not care how Eastern Canada suffers so long as they get things easier for themselves. He further says that the farmers are not doing so much kicking as the delegation tried to make out.

Now as to his belief that two-thirds were Americans, as he was not of that delegation, I am sure he has never met the one hundredth part of that delegation, so he is not in a position to know, so for his information, and the information of any others who may be interested, I will explain that the Canadian National Council of Agriculture (which was instrumental in gathering the delegation together from the ranks of the different provincial Farmers' Associations, from all over Canada to support by their presence the demands of the Council at Ottawa) is composed of the Executives of these several provincial associations, The western members of the Council who were in attendance and took part in the presentation at Ottawa were as follows :—

From Manitoba—D. McCuaig, President of the Council, formerly from Ontario; R. C. Henders, President of Manitoba Association, formerly from Ontario; R. McKenzie, Secretary of Manitoba Association, formerly from Ontario; Mr. Woods, Member Executive Manitoba Association, formerly from Ontario; Peter Wright, Member Executive Manitoba Association, formerly of Scotland; Mr. Scallion, Hon. President Manitoba Association, formerly from Ontario.

From Saskatchewan—J. A. McHarg, President of Saskatchewan Association, formerly from Orangeville, Ont.; E. A. Partridge, Member of Saskatchewan Executive, formerly from Barrie, Ont.; A. G. Hawkes, F. W. Green, Mr. Hill, Members of the executive and all ardent Imperialists, all three from England.

From Alberta—J. Bower, President of Alberta Association, Vice-President of Council, and now President, from Orangeville, Ont.; W. J. Tregillus, J. Speakman, E. J. Fream, members of the executive and all natives of England; D. W. Warner, member of the executive, the only American born member of the Council and of the good old Pennsylvania German stock from which so many of our best Canadians have sprung.

This list comprising as it did the full western section of the board, except two Saskatchewan members, who were ill, and both Canadians, does not go to show that an overwhelming number of Americans dominate the Council. That we have a large number of Americans is true. That they are among the best citizens is equally true, though they may sometimes amuse themselves telling yarns to the ultra loyalist tenderfoot from the east.

Mr. McPheeters says that the Union Jack should be kept flying on all our western schools and patriotism taught to the pupils, but when he has been here a little longer and has himself become more fully assimilated into the larger national life of the great Canadian West he will begin to understand that flag flopping and hysterical shouting is not needed to create the true patriotic nationalism that makes good in the hour of trial, that in this clearer western atmosphere, we have formed a habit of looking at things from all sides, and that after the children from Ontario and the children from across the lines have scrapped it out over the early historical events of their respective countries, as taught in the school histories they have been used to, and then find out from authentic sources, that neither garbled accounts were true, they begin to see the folly of being stampeded by self-interested Majors or Colonels on either side of the line, and are ready to become broad minded, progressive Canadian citizens, free from the narrow-minded bigotry of some who should know better.

He says these Americans are interested in American machinery. They are to the extent that they know that but for the duty which unduly protects the Canadian manufacturer they could bring here machinery identical with what is used here, for very much less money that we have to pay to the protected Canadian manufacturers.

He says that the millionaire cattleman, P. Burns, should not be allowed to hold land to the detriment of the country. It was right along similar lines that the delegation made their demands at Ottawa. P. Burns made his millions because the producers could not take their cattle across the lines on account of the duty, and were compelled to sell to the monopolist, P. Burns. He complains of the high freight rate. It was also along these lines the delegation was working. The railways charge a high freight rate to and from the east because they do not have to charge a lesser rate, but when we get the duty removed, the railways will be satisfied with a lesser rate rather than lose their trade.

I can easily see, Mr. Editor, that our good friend, Mr. McPheeters, is already on the right track and will shortly be ready to line up with us by the time we need to send another deputation to Ottawa. He will be ready to line up in our front ranks and make himself heard as every true patriotic Canadian should be heard.

We do not need to wonder that men like Mr. McPheeters, who are rightfully jealous of our Canadian honor should be sometimes led estray be self-interested designing schemers, who take advantage of every opportunity of casting discredit on the people who dare think for themselves.

I will give you an instance. When we were at Ottawa, a rumor emanating, I believe, from Montreal, was circulated that the delegation was brought about and financed by J. J. Hill. This was so absurd that we thought it beneath us to notice it, but lately this infamous rumor was stated, as being a fact, on the floor of the British Columbia House of Parliament, by a minister of the Crown, a man calling himself the Honorable Price Ellison,—such a travesty on the word, honorable; such a misnomer to be given to a man who, taking advantages of the privileges of the House, making him immune from a libel action, would demean himself to slander and discredit the hard-working, intelligent farmers of the Dominion when they dare assert their rights.

Is it not time, Mr. Editor, that we rise up against such a condition of things as this.

Yours truly,
JAS. BOWER,
Red Deer, Alta.

Free to Stock and Poultry Raisers

We will send, absolutely free, for the asking, postpaid, one of our large thirty-two-page booklets on the common diseases of stock and poultry. Tells you how to feed all kinds of heavy and light horses, colts and mares, milch cows, calves and fattening steers, also how to keep and feed poultry so that they will lay just as well in winter as in summer. No farmer should be without it.

At a cost of only two-thirds of a cent a day per Animal, Royal Purple Stock Specific makes each Animal worth 25 per cent. more.

You never heard of any other Specific, or "Stock Food," doing likewise.

Royal Purple will permanently cure the Bots, Colic, Worms, Skin Diseases and Debility, and restore run-down Animals to plumpness and vigor.

It will increase the milk-yield three to five pounds per cow a day inside of from two to three weeks. It makes the milk richer than ever before.

MR. ANDREW WEGRICH, of Wainfleet, Ont., says: "This is to certify that I have tried your Royal Purple Stock Specific for two weeks, on one cow. On the 16th I weighed her milk as 17 pounds. I noticed a change after 5 or 6 days, as there was an extra weight of milk. On the 29th, I carefully weighed the milk, and she gave 22 pounds. I am giving an order for 5 boxes, as I consider it the best I have ever used."

"Stock Food" will not do this. Because "Stock Food" is nothing more or less than a mixture of the very things which you, yourself, grow on your own farm.

It is not more food your Animals need. They must have something to help their bodies get all the nourishment from the food they are getting. So that they will fatten, and stay fat, all the year 'round.

They need something to prevent disease, to cure disease, and to keep them in the best of health, all the time.

Not a Stock Food

Royal Purple is not a "Stock Food," nor a "medicine." It is a Conditioner.

It does not contain Grain, nor farm products. Nor does it contain "Dope," or any other injurious ingredient. Royal Purple does not merely temporarily bloat or inspire the Animal. It fattens and strengthens it, permanently.

No other Specific known adds flesh so quickly as Royal Purple. It makes 6-weeks-old Calves as large as ordinary-fed Calves are at 10 weeks.

Royal Purple makes naturally-thin Animals fat and heavy. And it builds up the health and restores the former plumpness and vigor of run-down stock, in little or no time.

The very best time to use this Conditioner is NOW. It digests the hard food properly and prevents the animals getting indigestion or losing flesh.

50 per cent. Cheaper

One 50-cent Package of Royal Purple will last one Animal 70 days. This figures a little over two-thirds of a cent per day.

Most "Stock Foods" in 50-cent Packages last but 50 days, and are given three times a day.

But Royal Purple Specific is given only once a day, and lasts 50 per cent. longer.

(A $1.50 Pail, containing four times the amount of the 50-cent Package, lasts 280 days.)

So, you see, it is only necessary to give Royal Purple Specific once each day.

Just think of making each Animal worth 25 per cent. over its cost! What will that mean to you, Mr. Stock-Owner?

It makes the Hens lay Eggs in Winter as well as in the Summer.

MRS. WM. BURNHAM, Sanford, Ont., says: "Dear Sirs,—This is to certify that I have used two boxes of your Poultry Specific for my hens. They laid so well while feeding it to them. I wondered if you would mind sending me word how or where I could get some this winter. I bought it from your agent last winter. I had 32 hens, and some days I got two dozen eggs a day in February and March, while feeding them the Specific."

Royal Purple Poultry Specific prevents Fowls losing flesh at moulting time, and permanently cures every poultry disease. It makes their plumage bright and keeps them always in prime condition.

It makes your Poultry worth more than they could ever be without it.

Yet one 50-cent Package will last 25 Hens 70 days. Or a $1.50 Pail will do 25 Hens 280 days. This is four times more material at only three times the cost.

Centralia, Ont., Feb. 7, '10.
The W. A. Jenkins Mfg. Co., London, Ont.:
Gentlemen,—We have been using Royal Purple Poultry and Stock Specific for the last three weeks, and must say that results are remarkable. Am feeding the Stock Specific to two milking cows, and they have increased 30 per cent. in their milk. The Poultry results are even more marked than this. We have about 60 hens, laying age. When we commenced feeding, we were getting five and six eggs a day, and in the last five days the same flock of hens laid 150 eggs, almost an average of 31 each day, and those five days have been the coldest this winter.

You can see results plainly in two or three days after the use of "Royal Purple," and the poultry have the same hustle and appearance now as in the summer time. With cows and poultry, am using exactly the same feed and care as before starting to feed "Royal Purple."

When farmers and stockmen get acquainted with Royal Purple, it will have a greater demand than all other tonics and stock foods on the market combined.

Yours truly, ANDREW HICKS.

W. A. Jenkins Mfg. Co., London, Ont.:
Gentlemen,—Last Fall we had in our stables a young mare belonging to Miss Clouston, of Montreal. We could not feed her any bran on account of causing violent scouring, consequently causing her to become weak and thin. We commenced using your Royal Purple Stock Specific, and the results were wonderful. After using it three weeks, we found we could feed the animal bran or any other soft feed without scouring her, and she actually took on in this time twenty-five pounds of flesh, we working her at the same time through the hunt. I can heartily recommend your Stock Specific.

You can impair a wooden trough with comparatively little use; but it takes a powerful explosive to put a Concrete water tank out of business.

Which is Your Choice ?

Wooden drinking troughs are about as reliable as the weather.

They are short-lived and require replacing every few years—not to mention continual patching to keep them in repair.

The best of wood cannot withstand, for long, constant dampness and soaking. Its tendency to rapid decay soon shows itself in leaks and stagnant pools of water around trough.

Contrast with this the durability, cleanliness and well-ordered appearance of Concrete.

CANADA'S OPEN DOOR.

This is the second of the series of articles on Reciprocity republished from the Canadian Century to which reference was made in our issue of last week.

(From The Canadian Century.)

The largest deputation of farmers that ever waited on any Canadian Government was that of the fruit growers of Western Ontario, who went to Ottawa on February 10 to protest against the Reciprocity Agreement. The case they presented to the Government was a strong one. They showed that if the Reciprocity Agreement was endorsed by the Canadian Parliament and the United States Congress it would reduce the value of every orchard in Ontario and ruin thousands of small fruit farmers who had paid high prices for their little farms and spent time and money in planting trees. They showed that many large farms had been subdivided for fruit-growing purposes, and that new sub-divisions were constantly being made. They said that a farm of one hundred acres which formerly supported only one family, being cut into ten small fruit farms, supported ten families. Among other memorials presented by this deputation was the following:

"We, the undersigned, the president and executive committee of the Old Country Association, composed entirely of men born and bred in the British Isles, and the great majority of whom are engaged in the fruit industry, respectfully and earnestly beg to draw the attention of the Dominion Government to the peculiar hardship which will be imposed upon us should this proposed tariff legislation come into effect.

"We have been induced to leave Great Britain and to come to this peninsula, and to invest our capital in the purchase, planting and general improvement of fruit lands in a large measure owing to the very wide distribution of official pamphlets and other literature emanating from Canada, and distributed throughout the British Isles, positively stating that 'the Ontario grower is protected in the home market by a high tariff against foreign-grown fruit and vegetables and thus enjoys that market without serious competition from outside sources.'

"The amount of customs tariffs on the various fruits is specifically stated in these pamphlets and literature; and in order that this particular advantage to the Canadian grower may be clearly understood by the Britisher this tariff scale is not only set forth in Canadian money but is also set forth in the coinage of Great Britain. Under the belief that these conditions would be stable we have not only sunk our own capital, but have been instrumental in bringing many of our countrymen here to invest in this growing industry, which, owing to the steady rise of recent years in the values of land, now requires a large amount of capital to purchase and equip the small farms the majority of us own, and to provide for the maintenance of our families during the years it takes to bring an orchard into bearing."

Four days after these Ontario fruit farmers presented their case to the Government Mr. Martin Burrell, member of Parliament for Yale-Cariboo, gave the House of Commons a remarkably clear and comprehensive statement of the position of the fruit growers in all the provinces of Canada, giving special attention, of course, to his own province of British Columbia, which has made wonderful planting of orchards during the last ten years. Mr. Burrell has devoted twenty-eight years of his life to the practical work of fruit growing. No man in Canada has a better knowledge of the question.

In 1901 there were 567,000 fruit trees in British Columbia, according to the Dominion census. Now there are estimated to be five million fruit trees in that province, and the area devoted to fruit is rapidly increasing.

The grain grower of the prairie gets his big farm at low cost, sometimes as a free grant; the land is ready for cultivation; the Government subsidizes a railway to take the grain to market. The British Columbia fruit farm must first be cleared of enormous trees; the people of the East and of the prairie provinces can scarcely realize the immense size of British Columbia timber. After the land has been cleared at great expense and fruit trees planted the farmer must wait for years for his trees to grow and bear fruit. In many parts of the province he must pay his share of the cost of constructing irrigation works. In the Okanagan Valley alone the amount of $1,500,000 has been expended already in irrigation works for orchard purposes and vast outlays of the same kind are going on all over the province.

According to the Dominion census of 1901 there were in the whole of Canada 15,053,875 apple trees, 1,301,775 peach trees, 962,101 pear trees, 2,415,695 plum trees, 1,288,368 cherry trees and 179,425 other fruit trees; a total of over twenty-one million fruit trees, besides 2,783,596 grape vines and large acreages of small fruits. Since 1901 there has been a very great increase in the number of trees, British Columbia farmers alone having planted about 4,500,000 trees within the ten years. Mr. Burrell estimates that there cannot be less than thirty million fruit trees in Canada now, and he thinks that $150,000,000 is a low valuation to place on the orchards of Canada to-day. THE CANADIAN CENTURY some weeks ago published an article on the value of a tree. It was pointed out that a German railway company had been forced to pay six hundred dollars for one cherry tree which it destroyed, and the principle upon which the court decided the value of a fruit tree was explained. Mr. Burrell's estimate only allows five dollars as the average value of a Canadian fruit tree when he values orchards of the Dominion at $150,000,000. We believe that the real value is very much greater.

Now what would be said if the Government suddenly took away the tariff protection of a group of manufacturing industries in which $150,000,000 of capital was invested?

We hear a great deal from the politicians about vested rights. Why should there be any more consideration for the vested rights of manufacturers than for the vested rights of farmers. Has not the small farmer a vested right in the fruit tree that has cost him money, labor, time and anxiety.

We do not believe that the prosperous grain growers of the prairie provinces of Canada will vote against their brothers in British Columbia and Ontario when they know the real facts. We appeal to those farmers of Canada who are not fruit growers to stand by their brother farmers in this time of peril.

World Competition for Canadian Farmers.

"Why should Canadian farmers lose every vestige of protection for their products while the tariff on manufactured goods remains almost untouched? If farm products from the United States, the Argentine Republic, Russia, Austria-Hungary, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Spain, Japan, Australia, New Zealand and other countries are to come into free competition with Canadian farm products in our own home market why should not manufactured products come in free from the same countries?"

These are the questions which farmers throughout Canada are asking each other now, and they will ask the politicians the same questions a little later on. Free trade in farm products and protection for manufactured products is a condition of things that cannot be permanent.

What Will American Farmers Say?

When the farmers of the United States learn that the same Reciprocity Compact that gives them free entrance to the Canadian market gives exactly the same privilege to almost every food-exporting country in the world they will be enraged. They will say: "With Russians, Japanese, Austrians, Argentines, Danes, Swedes, Norwegians, Spaniards, Australians, New Zealanders and a host of other food producers dumping their surplus products into the Canadian market what will there be left for us?" They will complain that Canadians will require to relieve their glutted markets by shipping some of this foreign stuff into the United States, and indeed it will be very difficult for the United States Government to prevent them doing so. How will United States customs officials be able to distinguish between Canadian farm products and the foreign food that will be dumped on the Canadian market? Dishonest men in both Canada and the United States will take advantage of the situation. On the other hand honest Canadian exporters will often be suspected of fraud. American customs officials will sometimes charge that good, honest, Canadian eggs, butter, cheese, etc., come from Argentina, Siberia, or some other outlandish place that has been given the right to send its farm products freely into Canada. Bitter controversies will arise. The pleasant kindly feelings that have so long existed between Canadians and Americans will be replaced by a spirit of suspicion and antagonism that may have serious consequences.

A MORNING FIRE.

Erskine's Drug Store in St. Catharines Narrowly Escaped Destruction.

A fire in the rear of the building occupied by Erskine's drug store, Ross' fruit store, and Bill Jacobi's 'My Lunch," gave the firemen a run about two o'clock this morning. The fire seems to have started in a small cupboard between the partition which divides the upper portions of the Lunch Room and Erskine's storeroom, and ate its way through to the roof and the back part of the building. It had considerable start before the smoke was noticed by the policeman on duty on St. Paul St., when the alarm was turned in.

On the arrival of the firemen fire was coming out of the roof and two lines of hose were laid. One was directed on the roof and the other taken up a back stairway into the second storey. Owing to the peculiar construction of the building at this point it was difficult for the firemen to get at the seat of the fire, which was between two roofs.

Considerable damage was done to the stock in the store room of Erskine's drug store by fire and water and to the contents of the drug store proper and Jacobi's Lunch Room through smoke and water. The fruit store of Louis Ross, which is situated between the drug store and lunch room, got off without any damage except by smoke.

The building is owned by Mr. John Wood. Both Mr. Erskine and Mr. Jacobi carried insurance with the agency of Henry O'Loughlin. Appraisers came to-day to adjust the losses, which are estimated to be in the neighborhood of $500.—St. Catharines Standard, Tuesday, Feb. 21st.

Mr. Erskine, most of our readers will remember, ran a drug store in Orangeville before going to St. Catharines about three years ago.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Famous British Admiral.

Tells What Zam-Buk Did For Him.

Many famous persons have testified to the great value of Zam-Buk, and amongst the most recent is Admiral Rodney M. Lloyd. Writing from the Royal Naval Club, Portsmouth, England, Admiral Lloyd, says:—

"I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable."

Another famous user of Zam-Buk is Mr. Frank Scudamore, the War Correspondent, who supplied Canadian papers with their despatches during the Boer War. Mr. Scudamore says: "Some poisonous dye on my underclothing came in contact with a small ulcer on my leg and blood poisoning set in. Inflammation, pain and swelling followed. My medical man's treatment did not seem to do any good, as ulcer after ulcer broke out, until my left leg from knee to foot was one mass of sores. I had seventeen deep ulcers at one time. I could not put my foot to the ground, and was really in a pitiful state. A friend advised Zam-Buk, and I applied this herbal balm. It was really wonderful how it soothed the pain and aching and gave me ease.

"I continued with it, leaving off all other treatment, and at the end of a week's treatment my leg was not like the same. A few boxes of Zam-Buk healed all the sores, and bit by bit, new, healthy skin covered the places which had been so deeply pitted and scarred by ulceration and blood poison. The limb is now perfectly healthy, and with no marks of the old ulcers. For this splendid result I have only Zam-Buk to thank."

Zam-Buk is a cure for piles, eczema, cold cracks or chaps, ulcers, ringworm, poison, cuts, abscesses, burns, children's rashes, abrasions, and for all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations and substitutes.

WATCHED FOR 25 YEARS.

Mr. D. M. Waters, the popular druggist, Belleville, Ont., sold his first box of Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills a quarter of a century ago, and has since then noted many remarkable cures, as this medicine grew in popularity. The latest case coming to his attention is that of Mrs. Mary Ottrey, Bay Side, Ont., who was cured of serious and torturing kidney and bladder trouble by use of this great medicine.

A MEN'S BANQUET.

Interesting and Successful Event in St. Mark's Church Tuesday Night.

A successful Men's Banquet was held in the School Room of St. Mark's Church on Tuesday evening. Some good work was done beforehand by the Committee in charge of the arrangements and largely as a result of their efforts the banquet was a pronounced success. The room itself had been tastefully decorated by the ladies and the tables were artistically arranged and spread, so that everything was very pleasing and attractive so far as the surroundings were concerned. The menu itself did credit to the Committee and the ladies of the church.

One hundred and ten men sat down at the festive board and enjoyed the bountiful supply of viands, their wants being assiduously looked after by a large contingent of lady waitresses. After the wants of the inner man had been satisfied, a pleasing programme of toasts was proceeded with. First of all the assembly honored the King by singing the National Anthem, being led by the orchestra, which under the skilful direction of Mr. Thos. Wilson added very greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The next toast was to "The Anglican Church," with which was coupled the names of Mr. R. W. Allen, of Toronto, and Mr. A. L. C. Kirkwood, of Orangeville. Mr. Allin's address was exceptionally good and was listened to with the closest attention by every person present. The speaker endeavored to show the posi-

YEARS OF STOMACH TORTURE

PAIN AFTER EVERY MEAL

"Fruit-a-tives" Gave Prompt Relief to Mr. Saunders

SNOAL LAKE, Man., June 11th, 1910.
"For years, I was bothered with persistent Dyspepsia and Indigestion, having severe pain after meal-time. I tried everything I could get but the pain in my stomach was no better.

Last summer, Mr. Otway, a druggist of my town, recommended "Fruit-a-tives" to me and I tried them. While taking "Fruit-a-tives", I in no way gave up any foods that I was in the habit of eating, nor did I stop smoking. Yet in spite of this, Fruit-a-tives" has done wonders for me and I strongly advise all my friends to use this wonderful fruit medicine." DANIEL SAUNDERS.

Stomach Trouble is caused directly by stomach weakness—and indirectly by Constipation. "Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Belching and Pain After Eating, because "Fruit-a-tives" acts on liver, bowels, kidneys and skin—makes these organs strong and active—keeps the blood pure—and builds up the whole system.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WON PRIZE OF $5.

WHO GOT THE MONEY?

While in Orangeville on Tuesday of last week, Mr. Geo. Fish, an honest and hardworking Mono farmer, had the misfortune to lose a roll of bank bills amounting to about $40. Mr. Fish discovered his loss shortly afterwards and immediately repaired to The Banner Office, where he had dodgers printed and scattered broadcast about the town. He also advertised his loss in last week's Banner. The finder undoubtedly knows that the money was lost and in view of the steps taken by Mr. Fish to advertise his loss is in all probability well aware of the steps necessary to restore it to its rightful owner. The fact that he has not made any move to return the money places him in exactly the same class as the common thief. He might just as well have stolen the money. In fact his offence is the more detestable of the two, for feeling that he is quite safe from detection, he is wilfully retaining and appropriating to his own use money that he knows belongs to another man. Mr. Fish, as we have already stated, is a hard working man, and can ill-afford the loss of $40. If the person who has the money has not enough common honesty and decency to return it, all we have to say is that no good will come to him from his ill-gotten gain. Outwardly he may carry the appearance and bear the name of an honest citizen, but his conscience will brand him a mean, low-down thief.

ROSEMONT.

Dear Editor and Friend.—It has always been a great pleasure for me to record the events of our Great West from time to time in your worthy paper. Now that I am spending a more prolonged visit east than usual, I again take pleasure in penning to you a synopsis of my western experience and of my pleasant times and business transactions since I came east. But proceeding any farther, I wish to state that I will relate an account of our western life according as I meet some old friends and converse with them along different lines. I am greatly surprised at the marvellous changes which have taken place during the intervals between my visits east. First of all as I return from time to time I find many faces missing. Some have changed their names to abode, while many have gone over the Great Beyond, and again a goodly number are in homes of their own. Another important change is that which has taken place in the little village mentioned at the head of my letter. I can well remember the time when this place had, in addition to its present state, four hotels, two blacksmith shops, a carriage shop, drug store, etc. Where are all these now? They have been destroyed by fire or used for other lines of business, so that only one blacksmith shop remains. The liquor question has brought about another important change and it is quite evident that the day has passed when the barroom held sway. Some will remember the state of affairs which existed in those days, when many farms were changing hands through neglect of duty, many homes were made unhappy by the great anxiety for the return of a husband or son. The feminine sex were too often poorly clad while the occupants of the saloons were attired in their fine apparel and jewelry. A single glance over the records now reveals the great change brought about chiefly by this great movement and the happy and comfortable homes, and the sober, steady, up-to-date enterprising people who now inhabit the community. In fact arrangements were never in a more prosperous condition. It is not therefore my due to dwell so long on these changes as I have so much of my experience to relate yet. I have been visiting with my much-esteemed friend Mr. Jas. Aberdeen, being each entertained in our expressions and held in our opinions, in quiet contrast to our many discussions among them was the theme of "Now as We Are" that destruction had been greater than them. Twitch grass is fast creeping into our Western country, so I was overwhelmed at the news when I heard Mr. Aberdeen was about to commence to eradicate it. This familiar phrase is often used in many emergencies, such as shoes being strings, and even as headgear, as the old axiom says, "Every thing has its use." Having spent so many pleasant evenings with my friend already mentioned, rehearsing our old familiar songs, etc., I stated that I wished to call across the fields to see my old friends, Robert Shaw and Sam Lee. My much-esteemed friend realizing the difficulty I would have, owing to the surplus of water from the recent thaw, suggested that he would drive me over. We were just about to turn into Mr. Shaw's gateway, when we were confronted by my genial friend, John William, who always reminded me of the time we were enlisted as volunteers for the Rebellion in the Northwest Territories, I remember when we were pulling out from the depot on this emergency call to suppress the rebels, the roll was called and my genial friend was missing. I expect he will discuss this joke with me when I call on him. Not wishing to expose ourselves too long to the inclement weather at this particular point, he extended me a hearty invitation to an "At Home," which he purposed holding the 16th inst, for the purpose of introducing his family into society. This I gladly accepted. After a few remarks, I proposed walking in from the road while my friend gave John William a ride to the village. As I approached the house, I observed my old friend busy with his colonies, but I was upon him before he was conscious of my presence. With a look of surprise, he exclaimed, "Lands sakes, this beats the record." He hastily ushered me into his fine edifice to meet the rest of the family, which afforded me great joy and it felt at once like, "Home Sweet Home." My further experience, I shall narrate on my next appearance in the press.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store,—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society social evening on Saturday last, Feb. 25th, was one of the most successful evenings the Society has yet held. The debate for the evening was on the subject, "Resolved that Spoken Word is More Impressive than Written Word." The affirmative side was supported by Miss Greta Crozier and Mr. Ossie Woodland and the negative by Miss Viola Crombie, and Mr. Eddie Holmes. The negative side won by a margin of five points. The judges were:—For the affirmative, Mrs. G. L. Dodds, for the negative Miss Margaret Welwood and the Society judge, Mr. R. Robinson. After the debate an intermission was given and the ladies furnished an elegant lunch, consisting of all kinds of pie, cake and tea, which was greatly enjoyed by all and assisted to create a really sociable spirit. After luncheon the remainder of the programme was proceeded with, consisting of the following numbers:—violin solo, Mr. J. Allen; violin duet, Misses Martha Crombie and Lillie Duke; dialogue by Miss Martha Brown and Messrs. H. Craig and A. Sutherland, entitled, "Getting an Education," story by Mr. R. Robinson and critic's report by Mr. G. L. Dodds. The meeting was brought to a close by singing The National Anthem.

CANADA'S OPEN DOOR.

This is the second of the series of articles on Reciprocity republished from the Canadian Century to which reference was made in our issue of last week.

(From The Canadian Century.)

The largest deputation of farmers that ever waited on any Canadian Government was that of the fruit growers of Western Ontario, who went to Ottawa on February 10 to protest against the Reciprocity Agreement. The case they presented to the Government was a strong one. They showed that if the Reciprocity Agreement was endorsed by the Canadian Parliament and the United States Congress it would reduce the value of every orchard in Ontario and ruin thousands of small fruit farmers who had paid high prices for their little farms and spent time and money in planting trees. They showed that many large farms had been subdivided for fruit-growing purposes, and that new sub-divisions were constantly being made. They said that a farm of one hundred acres which formerly supported only one family, being cut into ten small fruit farms, supported ten families. Among other memorials presented by this deputation was the following:

"We, the undersigned, the president and executive committee of the Old Country Association, composed entirely of men born and bred in the British Isles, and the great majority of whom are engaged in the fruit industry, respectfully and earnestly beg to draw the attention of the Dominion Government to the peculiar hardship which will be imposed upon us should this proposed tariff legislation come into effect.

"We have been induced to leave Great Britain and to come to this peninsula, and to invest our capital in the purchase, planting and general improvement of fruit lands in a large measure owing to the very wide distribution of official pamphlets and other literature emanating from Canada, and distributed throughout the British Isles, positively stating that 'the Ontario grower is protected in the home market by a high tariff against foreign-grown fruit and vegetables and thus enjoys that market without serious competition from outside sources.'

"The amount of customs tariffs on the various fruits is specifically stated in these pamphlets and literature; and in order that this particular advantage to the Canadian grower may be clearly understood by the Britisher this tariff scale is not only set forth in Canadian money but is also set forth in the coinage of Great Britain. Under the belief that these conditions would be stable we have not only sunk our own capital, but have been instrumental in bringing many of our countrymen here to invest in this growing industry, which, owing to the steady rise of recent years in the values of land, now requires a large amount of capital to purchase and equip the small farms the majority of us own, and to provide for the maintenance of our families during the years it takes to bring an orchard into bearing."

Four days after these Ontario fruit farmers presented their case to the Government Mr. Martin Burrell, member of Parliament for Yale-Cariboo, gave the House of Commons a remarkably clear and comprehensive statement of the position of the fruit growers in all the provinces of Canada, giving special attention, of course, to his own province of British Columbia, which has made wonderful planting of orchards during the last ten years. Mr. Burrell has devoted twenty-eight years of his life to the practical work of fruit growing. No man in Canada has a better knowledge of the question.

In 1901 there were 567,000 fruit trees in British Columbia, according to the Dominion census. Now there are estimated to be five million fruit trees in that province, and the area devoted to fruit is rapidly increasing.

The grain grower of the prairie gets his big farm at low cost, sometimes as a free grant; the land is ready for cultivation; the Government subsidizes a railway to take the grain to market. The British Columbia fruit farm must first be cleared of enormous trees; the people of the East and of the prairie provinces can scarcely realize the immense size of British Columbia timber. After the land has been cleared at great expense and fruit trees planted the farmer must wait for years for his trees to grow and bear fruit. In many parts of the province he must pay his share of the cost of constructing irrigation works. In the Okanagan Valley alone the amount of $1,500,000 has been expended already in irrigation works for orchard purposes and vast outlays of the same kind are going on all over the province.

According to the Dominion census of 1901 there were in the whole of Canada 15,053,875 apple trees, 1,301,775 peach trees, 962,101 pear trees, 2,415,695 plum trees, 1,288,368 cherry trees and 179,425 other fruit trees; a total of over twenty-one million fruit trees, besides 2,783,596 grape vines and large acreages of small fruits. Since 1901 there has been a very great increase in the number of trees, British Columbia farmers alone having planted about 4,500,000 trees within the ten years. Mr. Burrell estimates that there cannot be less than thirty million fruit trees in Canada now, and he thinks that $150,000,000 is a low valuation to place on the orchards of Canada to-day. THE CANADIAN CENTURY some weeks ago published an article on the value of a tree. It was pointed out that a German railway company had been forced to pay six hundred dollars for one cherry tree which it destroyed, and the principle upon which the court decided the value of a fruit tree was explained. Mr. Burrell's estimate only allows five dollars as the average value of a Canadian fruit tree when he values orchards of the Dominion at $150,000,000. We believe that the real value is very much greater.

Now what would be said if the Government suddenly took away the tariff protection of a group of manufacturing industries in which $150,000,000 of capital was invested?

We hear a great deal from the politicians about vested rights. Why should there be any more consideration for the vested rights of manufacturers than for the vested rights of farmers. Has not the small farmer a vested right in the fruit tree that has cost him money, labor, time and anxiety.

We do not believe that the prosperous grain growers of the prairie provinces of Canada will vote against their brothers in British Columbia and Ontario when they know the real facts. We appeal to those farmers of Canada who are not fruit growers to stand by their brother farmers in this time of peril.

World Competition for Canadian Farmers.

"Why should Canadian farmers lose every vestige of protection for their products while the tariff on manufactured goods remains almost untouched? If farm products from the United States, the Argentine Republic, Russia, Austria-Hungary, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Spain, Japan, Australia, New Zealand and other countries are to come into free competition with Canadian farm products in our own home market why should not manufactured products come in free from the same countries?"

These are the questions which farmers throughout Canada are asking each other now, and they will ask the politicians the same questions a little later on. Free trade in farm products and protection for manufactured products is a condition of things that cannot be permanent.

What Will American Farmers Say?

When the farmers of the United States learn that the same Reciprocity Compact that gives them free entrance to the Canadian market gives exactly the same privilege to almost every food-exporting country in the world they will be enraged. They will say: "With Russians, Japanese, Austrians, Argentines, Danes, Swedes, Norwegians, Spaniards, Australians, New Zealanders and a host of other food producers dumping their surplus products into the Canadian market what will there be left for us?" They will complain that Canadians will require to relieve their glutted markets by shipping some of this foreign stuff into the United States, and indeed it will be very difficult for the United States Government to prevent them doing so. How will United States customs officials be able to distinguish between Canadian farm products and the foreign food that will be dumped on the Canadian market? Dishonest men in both Canada and the United States will take advantage of the situation. On the other hand honest Canadian exporters will often be suspected of fraud. American customs officials will sometimes charge that good, honest, Canadian eggs, butter, cheese, etc., come from Argentina, Siberia, or some other outlandish place that has been given the right to send its farm products freely into Canada. Bitter controversies will arise. The pleasant kindly feelings that have so long existed between Canadians and Americans will be replaced by a spirit of suspicion and antagonism that may have serious consequences.

A MORNING FIRE.

Erskine's Drug Store in St. Catharines Narrowly Escaped Destruction.

A fire in the rear of the building occupied by Erskine's drug store, Ross' fruit store, and Bill Jacobi's "My Lunch," gave the firemen a run about two o'clock this morning. The fire seems to have started in a small cupboard between the partition which divides the upper portions of the Lunch Room and Erskine's storeroom, and ate its way through to the roof and the back part of the building. It had considerable start before the smoke was noticed by the policeman on duty on St. Paul St., when the alarm was turned in.

On the arrival of the firemen fire was coming out of the roof and two lines of hose were laid. One was directed on the roof and the other taken up a back stairway into the second storey. Owing to the peculiar construction of the building at this point it was difficult for the firemen to get at the seat of the fire, which was between two roofs.

Considerable damage was done to the stock in the store room of Erskine's drug store by fire and water and to the contents of the drug store proper and Jacobi's Lunch Room through smoke and water. The fruit store of Louis Ross, which is situated between the drug store and lunch room, got off without any damage except by smoke.

The building is owned by Mr. John Wood. Both Mr. Erskine and Mr. Jacobi carried insurance with the agency of Henry O'Loughlin. Appraisers came to-day to adjust the losses, which are estimated to be in the neighborhood of $500.—St. Catharines Standard, Tuesday, Feb. 21st.

Mr. Erskine, most of our readers will remember, ran a drug store in Orangeville before going to St. Catharines about three years ago.

Famous British Admiral.

Tells What Zam-Buk Did For Him.

Many famous persons have testified to the great value of Zam-Buk, and amongst the most recent is Admiral Rodney M. Lloyd. Writing from the Royal Naval Club, Portsmouth, England, Admiral Lloyd, says:—

"I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable."

Another famous user of Zam-Buk is Mr. Frank Scudamore, the War Correspondent, who supplied Canadian papers with their despatches during the Boer War. Mr. Scudamore says: "Some poisonous dye on my underclothing came in contact with a small ulcer on my leg and blood poisoning set in. Inflammation, pain and swelling followed. My medical man's treatment did not seem to do any good, as ulcer after ulcer broke out, until my left leg from knee to foot was one mass of sores. I had seventeen deep ulcers at one time. I could not put my foot to the ground, and was really in a pitiful state. A friend advised Zam-Buk, and I applied this herbal balm. It was really wonderful how it soothed the pain and aching and gave me ease.

"I continued with it, leaving off all other treatment, and at the end of a week's treatment my leg was not like the same. A few boxes of Zam-Buk healed all the sores, and bit by bit, new, healthy skin covered the places which had been so deeply pitted and scarred by ulceration and blood poison. The limb is now perfectly healthy, and with no marks of the old ulcers. For this splendid result I have only Zam-Buk to thank."

Zam-Buk is a cure for piles, eczema, cold cracks or chaps, ulcers, ringworm, poison, cuts, abscesses, burns, children's rashes, abrasions, and for all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations and substitutes.

WATCHED FOR 25 YEARS.

Mr. D. M. Waters, the popular druggist, Belleville, Ont., sold his first box of Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills a quarter of a century ago, and has since then noted many remarkable cures, as this medicine grew in popularity. The latest case coming to his attention is that of Mrs. Mary Ottrey, Bay Side, Ont., who was cured of serious and torturing kidney and bladder trouble by use of this great medicine.

THE STODDART CASE.

This somewhat remarkable case is again prominent because of the return from Uncle Sam's domains, of Mr. Stoddart, who left Cornwall somewhat suddenly after the grand jury's finding at the Assizes in Orangeville last fall. He realizes now, as did his friends here at the time, what a mistake his going away was, and as a relief to all the worry, and to enable him to attend to his business interests, he came back last week and surrendered himself to the authorities. County Crown Attorney McKay accepted his own bail for $1000, and two sureties for $500 each to appear for trial when required. Just what course the case will take is rather difficult to determine, but it would occasion no startling surprise if the end were already in sight.—Star & Vidette.

REGISTERS ARE MISSING.

The officers of the Ontario Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company are doing some worrying over two or three policy registers and other books that are missing from their head office in Grand Valley. Some time ago the Board of Directors decided to transfer the Managership from J. W. Rounding to M. G. Varcoe. When President Wm. Park and Vice-President W. A. Wansbrough, who were appointed to look after the transfer, waited on Mr. Rounding for the purpose of obtaining the Company's books they were informed that the safe had been broken into and the registers and some papers stolen. Up to the present the officers have been unable to get any trace of the missing books. Their loss will cause the Company considerable inconvenience, although fortunately the records and other information that they contain can be reproduced from other sources. Apart from the temporary inconvenience, the business of the Company will not be impeded or even seriously disarranged by their loss. The Directors, however, are very anxious to learn where the books have gone and some interesting developments are hinted at.

GLENCROSS.

La grippe is still the order of the day around here, and some of our citizens have been quite ill from it.

The roads are nearly bare owing to the recent thaw and we fear that our good sleighing is over for another season.

That Mr. Robt. McKibbon is purchasing a goodly supply of furniture, seems to us a very suspicious indication of Robbie's intentions in the near future.

We expect that Rev. Mr. Morris will speak to this congregation at 3 p.m. next Sunday afternoon. Mr. Morris is a favorite speaker, and we hope that all will be present to enjoy and profit by his address.

A number of our citizens are making preparations to move during this month, and the young people are looking forward to a few good parties as a result.

—The 53rd Convocation of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons was held in Toronto last week and was attended by representatives from all parts of the jurisdiction. Col. J. A. V. Preston, the representative of Ionic Chapter, Orangeville, was elected to the responsible position of Grand Superintendent of Wellington District No. 4.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Sure Cure for All Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Vaillancourt adds her experience to the great mass of proof that Dodd's Kidney Pills are woman's best friend.

Lafond, Alberta, Feb. 27th—(Special).—That the women of the West are finding in Dodd's Kidney Pills a sure relief from those aches and pains that only women know is becoming more evident every day, and Mrs. Agnes Vaillancourt of this place gladly gives her experience as an addition to the mass of proof that is being piled up.

"For three years I suffered intensely with Kidney Disease," Mrs. Vaillancourt states. "I had pain everywhere I only used six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am completely cured of all my aches and pains. I am in perfect health to-day."

Woman's health depends on her Kidneys. If they are not in perfect order the impurities are not strained out of her blood and she cannot be healthy. She feels it in every part of her body and the result is that she is weary and worn and full of aches and pains. What every woman should know is that there is sure relief and perfect health for her if she uses Dodd's Kidney Pills.

CAMILLA.

Miss Myrtle Marshall is visiting Laurel friends.

Miss Mamie Buchanan is in Toronto this week.

Mrs. Jas. Buchanan, sr., is, we are sorry to say, very ill at present.

Miss Pattullo visited Mono Centre friends on Sunday.

Mr. Robert Smith has rented Mr. James Montgomery's farm for a term of years.

Mrs. Bowes, a former resident of this place, passed away near Violet Hill, Sunday, after a lingering illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis are removing to their new home in Caledon, this week. Though they have spent but a year with us, they are universally popular and very highly thought of and their removal is a decided loss to this community, but a gain to the people of Caledon.

The Social held at Mr. John McNaughton's last Friday night was a new departure for this neighborhood and proved eminently successful, so much so, that another one is already being arranged for. A large crowd was in attendance and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The Laurel Young People presented their drama, "Dot, the Miner's Daughter," in St. Andrew's church a week ago, and were greeted with a large house, despite the stormy weather and bad roads. All those taking part deserve praise for their able presentation of the parts assayed and no doubt there is a coming Henry Irving or Sarah Bernhardt among the company if they choose to develop their very pronounced talents along that line.

A sleigh load of fair women and brave men from our burg were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson, of Mono Centre, last week.

AN A. O. U. W. NIGHT.

The members of Orangeville Lodge No. 156, A. O. U. W. spent a very enjoyable time last Thursday evening. A special meeting had been called by the Master Workman, Bro. John Park, for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendments to the Constitution to come up at the Grand Lodge meeting in March. Invitations had been issued to some neighboring lodges and although the weather was very unfavorable, there was a good representation of visitors. The M. W. took the chair at 8 o'clock and explained the object of the meeting, which had been called to facilitate matters by giving the members an opportunity for a general discussion. Arriving at the order of applications for membership, the Master announced that a candidate was in waiting. The initiatory ceremony was performed by the Master Workman, assisted by District Deputy, R. B. Henry. After a lengthy discussion on the proposed amendments, in which nearly all present took part, several resolutions were passed, which will be of great assistance to the representatives sent to Grand Lodge by the local Lodge. At 10.20 o'clock the brethren adjourned to M. E. Henry's refreshment and ice cream parlors for the fourth degree. The banquet was all that could be desired and a very pleasant night was spent. A vote of thanks was tendered the visiting brethren for their attendance and interest in the proceedings.

A MEN'S BANQUET.

Interesting and Successful Event in St. Mark's Church Tuesday Night.

A successful Men's Banquet was held in the School Room of St. Mark's Church on Tuesday evening. Some good work was done beforehand by the Committee in charge of the arrangements and largely as a result of their efforts the banquet was a pronounced success. The room itself had been tastefully decorated by the ladies and the tables were artistically arranged and spread, so that everything was very pleasing and attractive so far as the surroundings were concerned. The menu itself did credit to the Committee and the ladies of the church.

One hundred and ten men sat down at the festive board and enjoyed the bountiful supply of viands, their wants being assiduously looked after by a large contingent of lady waitresses. After the wants of the inner man had been satisfied, a pleasing programme of toasts was proceeded with. First of all the assembly honored the King by singing the National Anthem, being led by the orchestra, which under the skilful direction of Mr. Thos. Wilson added very greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The next toast was to "The Anglican Church," with which was coupled the names of Mr. R. W. Allin, of Toronto, and Mr. A. L. C. Kirkwood, of Orangeville. Mr. Allin's address was exceptionally good and was listened to with the closest attention by every person present. The speaker endeavored to show the position of the Anglican Church as a factor in meeting the changing world conditions of to-day. Mr. Kirkwood followed with a neat and graceful address on the history of the Church, and the responsibility Anglicans have to-day in carrying out its best traditions. The names of Col. Preston and Mr. T. T. Paul were coupled with the toast to "St. Mark's Parish." Both of these gentlemen delivered skilful addresses and showed that they were men who knew exactly what they were talking about and were able to present their ideas in a clear and business-like manner. The important theme of the two addresses was the parish of St. Mark's— its past achievements, present necessities and future demands, together with the duty that rests on every member of the congregation of taking his or her share of the responsibilities.

The addresses were followed by a resolution, moved by Mr. J. H. Anderson, seconded by Mr. J. J. Laverty, pledging every man present to rise to the standard of effort required of him in the proper seizing of all the opportunities for service and progress, which may present themselves to the congregation.

The closing toast was to "The Ladies" and with this was coupled the names of Mr. Harold White and Rev. R. J. W. Perry. As was to be expected, both speakers did ample justice to their subject and the ladies must have felt that they were honored in having such eloquent advocates.

The gathering was brought to a close with the hymn, "God be With You Till We Meet Again," and the benediction, after which everyone left with the conviction that it was good to have been present.

MISS HANNA FERGUSON.

The death of Miss Hanna Ferguson, only daughter of the late David Ferguson, formerly a C. P. R. employee in Toronto, occurred at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Wilson, 217 Euclid Ave., Toronto, on Thursday morning, Feb. 23rd. Miss Ferguson was taken ill with dropsy of the heart some six months ago and since then had been a patient and uncomplaining sufferer. The funeral took place from her cousin's home to St. James' Cemetery at 2.30 p.m., on Saturday, Rev. Mr. Branch officiating. The pallbearers, who were chosen by the deceased lady a short time before her death, were Messrs. S. Ritcheson, Dunseath, J. Giles, W. Wilson and J. Adamson, of Toronto, and Mr. G. Baxter, of Caledon.

MRS. JOSEPH ANDERSON.

Anna Anderson, beloved wife of Mr. Joseph Anderson, passed away at the family home on Second Avenue, on Tuesday, at the advanced age of 75 years. Mrs. Anderson was taken ill with pneumonia shortly after Christmas and this was followed by a general breaking down of the system. Deceased lady was a native of Armagh, Ireland, but came to Canada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, when only six years of age. The family settled on the 6th line of Mono. The subject of this notice was married to Joseph Anderson on November 24th, 1859, the young couple afterwards taking up their home on the 6th line, Mono, where they resided until five years ago, when they retired from the farm, taking up their residence in Orangeville. Mr. Anderson and a family of three sons and four daughters survive. The latter are Ben and S. J. Anderson, Relesey; R. J. Anderson, Alliston; Mrs. A. C. Wilson, Orangeville; Mrs. W.D. Bell, Beeton, and Misses Mary and Lizzie at home. The late Mrs. Anderson was a sincere, Christian woman, a devoted wife and mother and a kindly, sympathetic neighbor. Her demise will be greatly regretted by her friends here and in her old neighborhood, who extend their sincere sympathy to Mr. Anderson and family in their trying bereavement. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn cemetery at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Harper, of Orangeville, and Rev. Chas. Langford, of Alton, conducted the services at the house and grave.

YEARS OF STOMACH TORTURE

"Fruit-a-tives" Gave Prompt Relief to Mr. Saunders

SHOAL LAKE, Man., June 11th, 1910.

"For years, I was bothered with persistent Dyspepsia and Indigestion, having severe pain after meal-time. I tried everything I could get but the pain in my stomach was no better.

Last summer, Mr. Otway, a druggist of my town, recommended "Fruit-a-tives" to me and I tried them. While taking "Fruit-a-tives", I in no way gave up any foods that I was in the habit of eating, nor did I stop smoking. Yet in spite of this, Fruit-a-tives" has done wonders for me and I strongly advise all my friends to use this wonderful fruit medicine." DANIEL SAUNDERS.

Stomach Trouble is caused directly by stomach weakness—and indirectly by Constipation. "Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Belching and Pain After Eating, because "Fruit-a-tives" acts on liver, bowels, kidneys and skin—makes these organs strong and active—keeps the blood pure—and builds up the whole system.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WON PRIZE OF $5.

Mr. Malcolm McCormick, of the 16th line, East Garafraxa, received word a few days ago that he had won the first prize of $5, given by Robt. J. Gunson & Co., seed growers and importers, of Rochester, N. Y., for the largest yield of potatoes from their Rapid Transit seed. Mr. McCormick bought 3 lbs. of Rapid Transit seed from the Company last spring and harvested no less than 668 lbs. of potatoes. The competition was open to growers either in Canada or the United States.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Methodist Church on Thursday, February 23rd. Mrs. (Rev.) T. R. White, County President for Grey and Dufferin, attended the meeting and gave a very interesting account of some of her work. During the preceding week Mrs. White had visited the different Unions in the two Counties, and it was encouraging to hear from the President of the progress they were making and of the organization of two new Unions at Brookholm and Flesherton. Mrs. White's visit to the Orangeville Union was greatly appreciated and another visit in the near future is hoped for.

OFFERED CALGARY PRINCIPALSHIP.

Mr. A. E. Torrie, Principal of MacLeod, Alta., school for several years, has been offered the Principalship of the Practice School for Normal students in Calgary at an initial salary of $1500, with an annual increase until $2000 is reached. Mr. Torrie will probably accept, if the MacLeod School Board can make satisfactory arrangements for his successor. Principal Torrie, who received his High School education in Orangeville, is a brother of Mr. J. D. Torrie, of McMillan & Torrie.

RHEUMATISM CURED TO STAY CURED.

Liniments of no Avail—The Trouble Must Be Treated Through the Blood.

This article is intended as a talk to the man or woman with rheumatism who wants to be cured. Not merely relieved, not half cured, but actually cured. The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the swollen aching joints is a little relief. And all the while the trouble is becoming more firmly seated. Medical authorities now know that rheumatism is rooted in the blood, and that while rubbing on liniments or hot fomentations may give temporary relief, they cannot possibly cure—you must go to the root of the trouble in the blood. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure rheumatism. They make new, rich blood, which expels the poisonous acid, and the rheumatism disappears. There are thousands of former rheumatic sufferers in Canada, now well and strong, who thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that they are now free from the aches and pains and tortures of this dreaded trouble. Mr. Joseph Luddington, New Harbor, N.S., says: "Some three years ago my wife was stricken with rheumatism, and suffered so much that we despaired of her ever getting well again. At first she was able to go about, but in spite of all we did for her she grew so bad that we had to lift her in and out of bed, and finally the pains grew so excruciating that we could only move her little by little, with the sheet under her. Finally we were induced to get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for her. I do not remember just how many boxes she took, but I do know that they were the first medicine that reached the disease, and that she continued to improve until she was again as well as ever, and could do her household work. To us it is simply marvellous what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her, and we are glad to give this testimonial in the hope that it will benefit some other poor sufferer."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WHO GOT THE MONEY?

While in Orangeville on Tuesday of last week, Mr. Geo. Fish, an honest and hardworking Mono farmer, had the misfortune to lose a roll of bank bills amounting to about $40. Mr. Fish discovered his loss shortly afterwards and immediately repaired to The Banner Office, where he had dodgers printed and scattered broadcast about the town. He also advertised his loss in last week's Banner. The finder undoubtedly knows that the money was lost and in view of the steps taken by Mr. Fish to advertise his loss is in all probability well aware of the steps necessary to restore it to its rightful owner. The fact that he has not made any move to return the money places him in exactly the same class as the common thief. He might just as well have stolen the money. In fact his offence is the more detestable of the two, for feeling that he is quite safe from detection, he is wilfully retaining and appropriating to his own use money that he knows belongs to another man. Mr. Fish, as we have already stated, is a hard working man, and can ill-afford the loss of $40. If the person who has the money has not enough common honesty and decency to return it, all we have to say is that no good will come to him from his ill-gotten gain. Outwardly he may carry the appearance and bear the name of an honest citizen, but his conscience will brand him a mean, low-down thief.

A SOCIAL EVENING.

St. Andrew's Church Young People's Society held a pleasant social and literary meeting Monday night. The programme consisted of solos by Miss Helen Denton and Mr. S. R. Frost, piano solos by Miss Hazel Patterson and Mr. Roy McClellan (Alton) an instrumental by Mr. Wm. Campbell, a reading by Mr. Don McPherson, and a recitation by Miss Edna Campbell. Lunch was served, after which Miss Henrietta Wallace and Mr. Roy McClellan gave a number of piano duets, the programme concluding with a recitational solo by Mr. Wm. Hatcher.

LAST OF PIONEERS.

Death Removes Samuel Graham, One of East Luther's First Settlers.

After a few weeks' severe illness death claimed on Sunday evening the last of the pioneers who opened up East Luther, in the person of Samuel Graham. About a year ago he suffered a paralytic stroke, which left him poorly, but it has been only the last few weeks that he was confined to his bed. Mr. Graham was born at The Grange, Antrim, Ireland, almost 86 years ago, coming to Canada in 1841. For a year or so he worked in York township, then settled in Erin township on the 10th concession, about one mile below Erin village, where he remained a few years. The next four or five years he spent on the Jas. Taylor farm, 12th line, Garafraxa, and married Mary Jane McPherson, who died in 1861. Along with four others he struck out for Luther, and were the first settlers to take up land. In this there was the making of history, for on coming to the creek at Herb Duffy's, they halted for lunch, and decided the stream resembled "The Boyne" in Ireland, of Orange connection. Being all loyal brethren they at once christened the stream "The Boyne," drinking to its health in good old-fashioned whiskey, according to the custom of the day, and to this day is the stream known. But in a few years Mr. Graham saw the evils of intemperance so much he gave up the use of liquor and for many years was a staunch teetotaller. Mr. Graham chose the farm just west of the station, now owned by E. Batters, and lived there until 1902, when he retired to the village. He was a remarkably vigorous and healthy man, and not until quite recently did he ever take a doctor's medicine. He was an adherent of the Presbyterian Church, and a Reformer in politics. Besides his widow who was a Miss Sarah Jane Shingler, whom he married some years ago, the following children survive:—James in Grand Valley; John in Grand Valley, and who was the first male white child born in the township, and Samuel, of Grand Valley. Two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Sime, and Mrs. John Graham died some years ago. The funeral took place on Tuesday to the Union cemetery.—Star & Vidette.

PRESENTATION IN AMARANTH.

A thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. Andrew McPherson, 5th line, Amaranth, on Friday evening last, when the neighborhood gathered, and expressed in tangible form their appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. McPherson's neighborly qualities, and conveyed the good wishes entertained for their future comfort, happiness and prosperity. Mr. John A. Simpson acceptably filled the chair, and in suitable words explained the reason for the gathering. Henry Thompson read the address, while Messrs. Thos. Keyes, Joseph McConachie and Ross Lomas made the presentation of two handsome chairs. Mr. McPherson made a suitable and feeling reply, and, after a few words by others present, refreshments were served. Then it was that the decks were cleared, and the young people with not a few of the older ones, danced away till broad daylight. Mr. McPherson has lived all his life in Amaranth, and is now retiring to Toronto, where he expects to have less hard work and more comfort.—Star & Vidette.

BEARING DOWN PAINS.

What woman at sometime or other does not experience these dreadful bearing down pains. Mrs. E. Griffith, of Main street, Hepworth, Ont., says: "A heavy bearing-down pain had settled across my back and sides. I was often unable to stoop or straighten myself up. Many times each night I would have to leave my bed with the irregular and frequent secretions of the kidneys and just as done out in the morning as on retiring. I was languid and would have to let my housework stand. Nothing I had tried would benefit me. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills & concluded I would try them, which I did, and soon found the long sought relief. My back strengthened and I began to feel better and stronger. I now enjoy my sleep without being disturbed and feel grateful to Booth's Kidney Pills for what they did for me."

Booth's Kidney Pills

Booth's Kidney Pills are a boon to women. She would know less of backaches if she took more of these wonderful pills. They are nature's greatest specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. All druggists, 50c. box, or postpaid from The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

Itching Piles For 27 Yrs.

Despaired of ever getting relief until cure came 3 years ago with use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Mr. John Johnson, Cawley, Alta. writes: "Three years ago I was cured of blind, itching piles of twenty-seven years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used to think that death would be the only relief I could ever get from the terrible misery of piles.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth sixty dollars a box instead of sixty cents. I am a different man since using it. I am farming all the time now and never miss a day. Words fail to express my gratitude for the cure this Ointment made for me. I cannot tell half as much about it as it deserves. Any one doubting this can write direct to me."

Do not accept an imitation or substitute in place of Dr. Chase's Ointment, for there has yet to be discovered a treatment which so promptly gives relief from itching and so thoroughly cures every form of piles. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for a free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

THE BANNER, MARCH 9, 1911

THE TOWN COUNCIL.

Motion Passed to Tender Cataract Electric Company Cheque for $902.18 in Settlement of Claim Against Corporation.

The following accounts were passed by the Town Council at Monday night's meeting :—

Mrs. Sarah King, $39; Mrs. Jerry Taylor, $2; S. Ewing, $3.25; John Norris, $25; C. C. G. Hannah, $6.50; Jos. R. Lathwell, $7.25; Dufferin Light & Power Co., $130 and $1.90; American Surety Company, $35; John McKim, 50c.; John Gough, $3.75; Jos. Snowden, $1.95; Thos. Campbell, $1.65; Geo. King, $2.25; J. M. Bennett, $25.

The Special Committee, appointed to consider the Cataract Electric Company's claim of $4248, recommended that the Company be tendered $902.18 in settlement of its bill. This is made up of $889.85 street lighting, which the town passed and offered to pay some months ago, and $12.33 for street lighting on Dec. 1st and 2nd.

A motion was subsequently passed instructing the Treasurer to issue a cheque for $902.18 and have the Town Constable deliver same to the Company.

Mrs. Chas. King, was voted the sum of $60 a year for looking after the rooms in the Fire Hall, occupied by members of the Fire Brigade.

The Fire & Water Committee was instructed to look into the matter of devising some satisfactory method of pumping water into the elevated water storage tank at the waterworks reservoir. The windmill, which has never been very satisfactory, is out of commission at present. The Council is thinking of utilizing electric power and if this is found feasible a 7 or 8 h. p. electric motor will likely be installed in place of the windmill.

SAFETY DEVICE AT HORSESHOE.

Mr. A. Frost, roadmaster of this division of the C. P. R., has recently had a very important safety device installed at the Horseshoe Curve in Caledon. Owing to the periodical accidents that have occurred since the big wreck a few years ago it was felt that something should be done to make traffic safer. It was decided to place a guard-rail clear around the curve, a distance of 1850 feet. The rail is 80-lb. steel and there is a flange space of 8½ inches, which will prevent derailments. It is expected that this will solve the problem in a satisfactory manner.

DIVISION COURT

A number of interesting cases were tried in Tuesday's Division Court, which lasted nearly all day. There was a large number of witnesses and interested spectators in attendance. The contested actions were :—

Walker vs. Knowles—Jas. G. Walker, of Elba, sued V. E. Knowles, a North Amaranth farmer, for an account of $14.51 for sawing lumber. Defendant disputed the claim, and also counter-claimed for some lumber which he alleged Walker had not delivered and for timber wasted through improper sawing. Plaintiff got judgment for full amount claimed. J. L. Island for plff., Vance, K.C., for deft.

Donaldson vs. Carney—W. A. Donaldson, an East Garafraxa farmer, sued his neighbor, John Carney, for $40 damages, which he alleged his potato patch had suffered from the depredations of the defendant's pigs. There were five or six witnesses on each side. The judge found that the porkers had done a certain amount of damage, but considered this was fully offset by defendant's counterclaim. Judgment for deft., without costs. J. L. Island for plff.; A. A. Hughson, for deft.

Harshaw vs. Grahame—An action between John M. Harshaw, a farmer on the Prince of Wales Road, Mono, and John S. Grahame, a Centre Road resident, whose farm adjoins, Harshaw accused Grahame of shooting a collie dog last November and sued for $60 damages. The evidence against Grahame was largely circumstantial. Frank Shirley, a young Englishman, being one of the chief witnesses for plaintiff. Grahame himself stoutly denied that he shot the dog. The Judge, however, was apparently impressed with the evidence for the plaintiff and gave him judgment for $40 and costs. The case has caused a good deal of feeling in the neighborhood, and some of the defendant's neighbors still hold the opinion that he is innocent of the shooting. Hughson for plff.; McKay for deft.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society held a very pleasant evening last Saturday. The most interesting feature on the programme was the debate, "Resolved that Married Life is better than Single Life." The affirmative side was ably supported by Miss Mary Holmes and Mr. John Meek, and the negative by Miss Myrtle Dodds and Mr. Herb. Craig. The negative won by a margin of five points. The judges were—for the affirmative, Mr. Bert Speers, and the Society judge, Miss Margaret Welwood. Other numbers on the programme were a violin selection by Mr. Conley, stories by Messrs. H. Waines, D. Adair and R. Robertson, violin selection by Mr. J. Allen, and a question drawer successfully carried out and answered by Miss Martha Crombie and Mr. R. Robertson. The Union Saturday Night Paper was read by Miss Annie Holmes, and the critic's report by Miss Viola Crombie. The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem. A good programme has been arranged for next Saturday night, including a debate on the subject, "Resolved that Wood is more useful than Iron."

LENTEN SERVICES.

In connection with the Lenten services in St. Mark's Church, arrangements have been made for a series of week-night addresses by laymen of the congregation. The dates, subjects and speakers are :—

Monday, March 20.—"Who is My Neighbor," Principal Firth.

Tuesday, March 21.—"Morals and Health," Dr. T. H. Henry.

Wednesday, March 22.—"True and False Ideals in Business," Mr. A. A. Hughson.

Thursday, March 23.—"Uses and Abuses of Sport," Mr. Jack Aiken.

These week-night services will begin at 7.30.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

Fuller, Allen & Holmes, painters and decorators, have purchased the stock, business and good-will of R. Irvine & Sons, and are transferring the stock to their own premises on West Broadway. The firm are remodelling and enlarging their store and intend to add very largely to their already extensive and well-assorted stock of wall-papers, room mouldings, etc., and will be prepared to cater to all the wants of the general public in these important lines. They will also add to their staff as the occasion arises so that all orders for painting or decorative work of any kind will be filled as expeditiously as possible. Fuller, Allen & Holmes have an established business reputation in Orangeville and their recent acquisition should mean a great increase in their already large and expanding trade. Banner readers in need of anything in their line of goods are cordially invited to inspect their stock at their premises on West Broadway, near the Post Office.

HOCKEY MATCH.

Caledon East and Orangeville Hockey teams furnished local enthusiasts with a good exhibition of Canada's great winter game on the Mill street Rink on Friday night. Orangeville had the better of the argument in the initial period, the score standing 6 to 2 at half time. The visitors went off at a lightning pace in the second half and ran in four goals in a few minutes, evening the score. The locals steadied down and soon had the game well in hand. The score at the finish was 9-6 in favor of Orangeville. The players were:

SHELBURNE WON TROPHY

The tie between Shelburne and Grand Valley Curling Clubs in the competition for the "John Best Trophy" was decided on the Orangeville Curling Rink on Tuesday night in the presence of an overflowing gallery of deeply interested and enthusiastic spectators. The Shelburne rinks played well and won by rather one-sided scores. Skips McCartee and Campbell must have had a rabbit's foot apiece with them, for they had more than their share of whatever luck was going. The rinks from the East Luther capital put up a fine game, but the work of the two Shelburne skips spoiled several fine ends and effectually destroyed whatever chance they had to win. The players and scores were :—

Shelburne	Grand Valley
Dr. Frank	W. L. Craig
D. Henderson	Geo. Rounding
E. G. Bingham	Frank Sargeant
D. McCartee,—21	Arch Ramsay,—7
J. A. Mills	E. Bennett
A. E. Ferguson	R. T. Forgrave
Dr. White	W. McIntyre
Dr. Campbell,—17	Archie Pow,—12
38	19

The players had a midnight lunch at the Queen's after the match.

The trophy, which has been generously donated by John Best, M. P., for annual competition among the curling clubs of the County of Dufferin, is a handsome design, standing over 18 inches high. The base is dark mahogany surrounded by ten silver shields on which will be engraved the names of the winning clubs, starting with 1911. There is also the curlers' emblem, crossed brooms and stone, on the base. The upper part is of tankard design, being silver and gold lined, and is neatly engraved with the following inscription :—

THE JOHN BEST TROPHY
for annual competition, amongst the curling clubs of Dufferin County.

DISTRESSING HEADACHES

Headaches are largely the result of disordered kidneys.

Mrs. Hall, 84 Flora Street, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "I suffered for years with headaches of a most distressing nature. They would come on me suddenly, and would last for days at a time. These were usually accompanied by spells of dizziness that would leave me unable to attend to any house duties. My back was weak and caused me much suffering through the night. I had doctored for years, but all to no avail. Nothing benefited me and my condition was gradually becoming worse. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills. One box gave me a complete and lasting cure. I have not had a headache or dizzy spell since and I feel like a new person."

Booth's Kidney Pills

Booth's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, 50c. box, under a guarantee to refund your money if they fail to relieve any disease having its origin in the kidneys or bladder. Postpaid from The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

AN INTERESTING REPORT.

Published elsewhere in this issue is the Annual Report for the past year of the Board of Directors of the Canada Cement Company, as read by the President, to the Shareholders, at the Annual Meeting held in Montreal on the 21st of February.

The frank statement of the policy and the general attitude of fairness evidenced by this address, are such as to warrant more than passing comment. Any lay member of the community reading the report must surely feel disposed to echo the hope expressed by the President, that the increased demand and increased output in the year to come will result in further savings in the cost of manufacture; and it further cannot be but such reductions that may be obtained, will, according to the broad minded policy of the Company, be used as an advantage to the customers of the Company—the concern depending for their profits upon increasing volume of business.

Especially intersting is the statement that the policy of the Company is such as to tend towards equalization of the price of cement throughout Canada as far as possible.

Another noteworthy feature of the Report is the provision made for employes to become possessors of stock. This is, as pointed out, a policy already in force in some of the largest institutions, and shows that the Canada Cement Company are quick to appreciate any means of stimulating interest and confidence upon the part of the staff.

The strong financial position of the company is a well known fact, and all that is necessary to ensure the continued success of the concern is continued prosperity of the country, together with an increased realization of the importance and economy of cement as building material.

—Peel Reform Association held its annual meeting in Brampton on Saturday. Mr. Duncan Marshall, of Edmonton, Mr. J. M. Godfrey, Toronto, and Mr. Wm. Algie, of Alton, were the principal speakers. A resolution was passed approving of the proposed reciprocity agreement.

GREAT TRIALS ON TRANSCONTINENTAL.

Alphonse Jonelle Tells Tale Filled With Human Interest.

(Cross Lake, Ville, Chicoutimi Co., Que., March 6th. (Special)—The trials of those men who push the great railroads through the obstacles Nature thrusts in their way have been proclaimed in many a page of fiction. But no story ever told is of more absorbing interest or teaches a greater moral than the actual experiences of Alphonse Jonelle, foreman on the Transcontinental, and well known here.

"I contracted Kidney Disease working on the Transcontinental, where I am a foreman," Mr. Jonelle states. "My skin had a harsh, dry feeling, and it itched and burned at night. I was always tired. Then came the pangs of rheumatism, and I finally got so bad I could not attend to my work. For five years I suffered, and in the end Bright's Disease developed.

"Then I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes cured me completely. Dodd's Kidney Pills also cured my wife, who was suffering from Kidney Disease."

From all parts of Canada, and every day, reports come of Kidney Disease cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. There is never a case reported where Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed. They never fail.

VIOLET HILL.

The following resolutions of sympathy were passed at last meeting of Violet Hill L. O. L., the Secretary being instructed to forward copies to the bereaved families :—

To Bro. Geo. Stewart.

Dear Sir and Brother—Whereas the Great and Supreme Ruler of the Universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from you your dear father, be it therefore resolved that the members of L. O. L. No. 354 do sincerely tender to you their deepest sympathy in this sad hour of your bereavement, and claim a share of your sorrow, claiming as we do, in a lesser degree. We fervently commend you to Him who doeth all things well, and that all needful blessings may be assured to you under your painful circumstances, and that we may at last all meet in the sweet bye and bye.

Signed on behalf of L. O. L. No. 354, Violet Hill, Ont.

JOSEPH HAND,
THOMAS RUTLEDGE
RICHARD GRAY.

To Mr. Alonzo Parsons.

Dear Sir and Brother,—We, the members of Violet Hill L. O. L. No. 354 in regular meeting assembled, earnestly desire to express to you our heart-felt sympathy in this your hour of bereavement, caused by the death of your loving sister. Our Heavenly Father has, in His own mysterious way, seen fit to remove your dear sister to the happy home above, and whilst both you and your friends mourn her loss here on earth, we would say that your loss is her gain, and that she is only one more gone home, free from all sufferings, trials and care, and to be watching for the coming of the loved ones here on earth. We can assure you that words cannot fully express the feelings of sympathy we would desire to express to you in this your hour of trial. We would, therefore, ask you to accept this slight expression of heartfelt sympathy in the loss you have sustained.

Lovingly and tenderly they laid her to rest,
Away from earth's sorrows and cares ;
We trust she is waiting to welcome us home,
And the blessings of Heaven with us share.

JOSEPH HAND,
THOMAS RUTLEDGE
RICHARD HOLTT.

GLENCROSS.

Time rolls on and March has arrived once again as a herald of Spring.

We are, indeed, pleased to note that Master Herbie Bagnell, who has been so seriously ill with peritonitis, is improving nicely now. Dr. Carson has been in attendance.

Mr. Geo. Moffatt and sister, Miss Agnes, have returned home after spending a few days in the city.

A sleigh load of our young people spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. White, of Camilla. A very good time is reported.

Our congregation was especially favored on Sunday by two excellent discourses, when Rev. Mr. Morris, of Orangeville, spoke in the afternoon, and Rev. Mr. Fowlie, of Camilla, at seven o'clock in the evening. It was the first time we have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Fowlie and we were certainly very favorably impressed by his fine address. In spite of the stormy evening, quite a large crowd were present. We shall consider ourselves very fortunate if this charge can be attached to that of Camilla and Mono Centre, as anticipated. Rev. Mr. Fowlie will again hold service in the hall on Sunday evening next at seven o'clock.

Mr. Will Markle and little daughter, Vera, are spending a few days with friends here. Mr. Markle is paying a visit to his parents, previous to his departure for Penticton, B.C. We wish him every success in his new home.

Mr. Henry Moffatt, who has been ill, is gradually improving at present.

Mr. Robert McKibbon gave a party at "Bachelor's Hall" on Wednesday evening. Everyone had a good time.

Mr. Geo Bagnell, of Froude, Sask., who has spent the past three months with friends here, is to leave for home on Tuesday next.

MONO MILLS.

Mr. Oliver E. Tench, of Newmarket, visited friends here last week.

Miss Janet Speers entertained a number of her friends to a birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Speers, on Tuesday evening last.

Dr. M. Dunning, who is building a new barn on his farm, west of Orangeville, had a very successful bee hauling timber on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Robert Young has purchased an imported Percheron stallion.

The next monthly meeting of the Farmers' Institute Club will be held on Thursday afternoon, March 16th, beginning at 2 o'clock. Mr. Wm. McKinley, one of our successful local horsemen, will take up the subject of "The desirable and undesirable points in horses," and will be assisted by Mr. James Haffey. Specimens of both light and heavy horses will be used to illustrate. This will, no doubt, be a good meeting, and all who possibly can should be present.

The Literary Society, organized in the village this winter, is still in a flourishing condition. One of the best meetings of the season was held on Tuesday evening of this week. The main feature of the programme was the debate, "Resolved that city life is more desirable than country life." Both sides of this interesting and important question were ably presented by the speakers. The decision was awarded to the champions of country life by a narrow margin. The next meeting will be held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening next, March 14th, beginning at 7.30. The programme will consist of essays and short letters contributed by the members. Needless to say these meetings are both interesting and beneficial, and we are pleased to note a considerable increase in the attendance. The Society is strictly non-sectarian, and all are cordially invited to be present.

(From another correspondent.)

The Literary Society held their usual meeting in the Methodist Church on Tuesday night. The debate, which had been postponed, came off at this meeting. The subject was "Resolved that city life is better than country life." Mrs. Lemon and Miss Kee was on the city side, and Mrs. David Potter and Miss Londry was on the country side. The country side won. The judges were Mr. Pete Rawn for the city side, Mr. Vance for the country side, and Mr. Albert Dowling for the Society. The chair was taken by Dr. Dunning.

WALDEMAR.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Miller, of Mono, were in town on Saturday last.

Mr. John McFadzean, of this town, accompanied by Mr. W. Clayton, of the 11th line of East Garafraxa, made a business trip to Fergus one day last week.

Mr. Jas. Talbot, of this place, spent Sunday with friends out of town. We are beginning to think James is on the look-out.

Mr. Frank Durkin, of Bowling Green, paid our burg a flying visit a week ago Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Tolton, of Twin Creek Farm, spent Monday last at the home of Mr. Harry Carter, 6th line, Amaranth.

Miss Anderson, of Willow Brook, was the guest of Miss J. McArthur, a week ago Sunday.

Mrs. John Jenkins has returned after an extended visit to her friends at Guelph and and Laurel.

Warren Groskurth, of Laurel, accompanied by his sweetheart, made a brief visit to Waldemar on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Tate and family spent Sunday out of town.

What might have proved a fatal accident, occurred here one day last week. Miss M. Mason, who was taking a near path home, dropped into the grist mill race, but was rescued by W. P. Tolton, who was standing near by at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, of this place, are confined to the house through sickness. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Reeve Bryan was in town one day last week.

Mrs. Miles Johnston still continues in poor health. We hope to see her out again.

Mr. James Tate has recovered from his recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Warnock, of Garafraxa, spent one day last week at the home of T. H. McDowell, of this place.

We wonder when some of the young ladies on Main street are going to get good common sense and not be quite so conspicuous when freight trains are passing over the Grand. It is hoped that a change will take place.

Alf. Tolton has installed the Edgar line in his residence.

We think our assistant post master would do well if he would learn his A. B. C.'s before distributing mail.

Mrs. W. P. Tolton has recovered from a severe attack of the grip.

G. T. is holding the fort on Station Street against all comers. Stay with it, you boy.

Owing to the death of Mr. Roadhouse's child, there was no service in the Methodist Church last Sunday. We are sorry to hear of his bereavement.

Mr. Jas. Hunter, of the 8th line, Amaranth, is wearing a two by four smile these days. It is a girl.

LAUREL.

We are having delightful winter weather at time of writing. The roads are excellent and the young men of the neighborhood are making the most of the favorable conditions by giving their best girls a merry drive whenever the opportunity offers. That is right boys.

Mr. Maltby had a large turnout at the Skating Rink on Thursday and Saturday nights of last week. This is what the manager likes to see. While some people would like soft weather to fill their cisterns with water, Mr. Maltby is looking for the cold weather to fill his rink with skaters.

The public meeting held in the Township Hall on Friday night of last week for the purpose of discussing the vital questions of the day was well attended. The meeting was called to order by Mr. John Johnston shortly after 8 o'clock. After a few remarks by Mr. Johnston, Mr. John Bryan, reeve of Amaranth, was called to the chair, which position he filled in his usual creditable manner. Mr. G. M. Vance, of Shelburne, who was the first speaker introduced, gave a very interesting address on some of the current political topics, including the reciprocity question. Mr. Vance, who was given a very attentive hearing, closed his address with well put argument, showing that the reciprocity agreement, if adopted in its present form, would be injurious to the interests of the Canadian people. John Best, M.P., who was the next speaker, gave his audience an insight into the rules and workings of the House of Commons. He then proceeded to deal with the school question and followed this with a masterly presentation of the reciprocity situation from the Conservative standpoint. Mr. Best admitted that when the question of reciprocity was first mooted he was rather in sympathy with a movement in this direction, but upon a closer investigation he had come to view the question in an altogether different light. He was now convinced that reciprocity in the form it was presented to the Canadian people would be most damaging to the agricultural industry in all its branches. Passing from the reciprocity question, Mr. Best gave some interesting information regarding the organization and disastrous collapse of the Farmers' Bank. After listening to Mr. Best's address, which occupied about an hour and a half, the writer feels free to say that our member at Ottawa is a credit not only to the farmers of Dufferin, but to the people of the entire county as well.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.P.P., who was in Toronto had come to Orangeville by the evening train and then driven to Laurel. He was therefore late in arriving and did not have the pleasure of listening to the preceding speakers. When his turn came he gave an account of his stewardship in a satisfactory manner, and stated very clearly the true spirit and purport of his bill to abolish tax exemptions on churches and other religious property. Mr. McKeown, who spoke for an hour or upwards, also discussed the prohibition question and the liquor license system. He was generously applauded at the close of his address. On motion of Robert Curry, seconded by Elijah Hamilton, the speakers were tendered a hearty vote of thanks, after which the meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

The Ladies' Branch of the Laurel Institute held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Banks, on Thursday last. In the absence of the President, (Mrs. T. R. White) Mrs. E. PRIMROSE.

The members of Primrose L. O. L. 1277 held an extremely successful Box Social and Debate in their hall on Thursday night. The debate, which was on the subject, "Resolved, that Reciprocity with the United States would be Detrimental to Canada" was followed with the keenest attention by an audience that packed the Hall to overflowing. The affirmative speakers were G. M. Vance, K. C., and Harry White, of Shelburne. The negative was championed by Councillor Geo. Little and Mr. Sam Patterson. The judges, Messrs. James Dynes, Duncan McVanel and Wm. Laidlaw, were of the opinion that the affirmative had not proved its contention and gave their decision, which appeared to meet with the approval of a large majority of those present, in favor of the negative. Both sides marshalled their arguments with considerable skill, but when it came down to cold facts the veteran platform orator, Mr. Little, and his youthful but clever colleague, seemed to have all the better of their opponents. A. N. McQuilkin, of Mono Centre, acquitted himself of the duties of auctioneer to the satisfaction of evervone. Some excellent songs by Miss Patterson, of Shelburne, added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The proceeds were about $56.

Mrs. C. Bert, Smith, of Sault Ste. Marie, is visiting friends here and in Mono.

A MEDIAEVAL STRUGGLE

That Took Place in the Twentieth Century.

By F. A. MITCHEL.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

The Loutons of St. Louis during the winter of 19—, after a summer spent in Switzerland, took a palace in Florence. That they could thus suddenly pick up a palace, that they could afford to hire a palace, is not so startling as might at first appear. Time was when all fine houses in Europe were called palaces. Nevertheless the palace occupied by the Loutons had been during the middle ages the abode of one of those princes among whom Italy was then divided. It stands on one of the many vias, or streets, of Florence, not far from the cathedral called the Duomo. In Florence are various collections of mediaeval weapons, and on the ground floor of the Palazzio V. occupied by the Loutons is a room full of blunderbusses, swords, crossbows, pikes, shields, battleaxes and parts of armor.

The Loutons being wealthy and Jeannette Louton being but twenty years old and pretty, there sprang up at once among certain Italian gentlemen with a great deal of rank and a correspondingly small amount of money a spirited contest for her hand. Among these were Princes Visconti and Strozzi, whose families had struggled with each other several centuries ago. Visconti was forty, tall, thin, bald and wore glasses, being very nearsighted. Strozzi was thirty-two, short, fat, high shouldered and wore his hair pompadour and his mustaches turned up at their waxed points a la Mephistopheles.

The two princes vied with each other in recounting to her the glorious deeds of their respective ancestors. True, they made no mention of the various instances in which they had resorted to hired assassination. But what they failed to give Jeannette read in history and learned of the cowardly as well as brave deeds of those warlike people. Gradually she came under the influence of mediaeval times. She wished she might hear the bell clang in the campanile, calling the citizens of Florence into the Piazza Senora for one of those free fights that in bygone days had strewn the pavement with corpses. If she saw a crowd gathered about a fallen horse her fancy pictured a Visconti and a Strozzi had met and fought.

"CAN YOU BLAME ME FOR NOT BEING ABLE TO CHOOSE?"

Months passed without either of the two suitors gaining any advantage over the other. Meanwhile each had made inquiries through his bankers of the financial standing in America of John Louton, and the report came back A1. When the meaning of this was explained to them their love waxed exceedingly strong. Consequently their rivalry grew hot and their hatred of each other even hotter.

There are people who do queer things, whose motive is unintelligible to any one else, and often they are ignorant of it themselves. On the one hand, Jeannette Louton had come under the influence of fourteenth century Florentine life; on the other, she was American through and through. There was a bit of spice in her makeup. Her Italian suitors were so wrapped up in the importance of that past from which they derived their own importance that when some ludicrous thought concerning it came to them from Jeannette they did not dream that it could be interpreted save with profound respect for the Visconti's or the Strozzis of old.

In Jeannette there must have been a mingling of currents, on the one hand the mediaeval stream, on the other that up to date American stream so unintelligible to Europeans. At any rate, she went back into mediaevalism in a remarkable fashion and returned to the twentieth century very much charmed. The feuds of the Guelphs and the Ghibellines were renewed in the two princes. When they met on the banks of the Arno or in the Boboli gardens they would glare at each other and give a hereditary twitch of the right arm that came from those who, thus meeting centuries before, seized the hilts of their swords.

One morning each received a note from Jeannette Louton inviting him to call at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of a certain day. At the appointed hour Visconti appeared, and Strozzi was admitted a few minutes later. They were received in the cabinet of arms. Each started as he saw the other, glared and awaited developments.

"Your highness," said Jeannette, "you have both done me the honor to propose for my hand. From both I have listened to accounts of the prowess of your ancestors. You have transported me to those romantic times and kept me there till I almost feel that I am a part of them. As I understand it, the families you represent took an equally important part in Italian history. You are both fine representatives of a splendid race. Few women have been honored by a choice between two such offers. Can you blame me for not being able to choose between the two? I must ask you to decide which shall defer to the other. I will leave you in this room and ask you, when you have decided, to let me know."

She went out of the cabinet and shut the door.

For a few minutes there were low voices, gradually rising till they rang out in trumpet tones.

Meanwhile Ned Sackett, a young St. Louisan, who had been courting Jeannette Louton for several years, fearing that among the princes and dukes abroad she might slip away from him, had decided to follow her, arriving in Florence on the very day the young lady had suggested to the two princes to settle between themselves which should give way to the other.

The same afternoon he sauntered up to the Palazzio V. He was admitted to a surprise. The door to the cabinet of arms was open, and two men were fighting with swords as long as the antagonists themselves, while Jeannette was making frantic efforts to induce them to desist. The two princes had come from words to blows, and each had caught up a weapon. Prince Visconti, having been hurt in the head, seized a helmet and put it on. Prince Strozzi, seeing a piece of armor of the thirteenth century, in order to get even with his enemy caught it up and got it partly on his thorax. Visconti picked up a shield used in the crusades, Strozzi defending himself with an andiron 700 years old, but as Sackett entered he dropped it and replaced it with an immense iron punch bowl that had belonged to a Visconti.

To add to the terror of the scene, Visconti's face was bloody and Strozzi limped from a wound in the leg. Visconti holding the longer sword, his enemy dropped his own and grabbed a pike. This gave him such an advantage that it enabled him to drive his enemy into a corner. But near Visconti in a rack was a gun with a barrel nearly as long as the pike. Seizing it and deriving an advantage owing to his own superior length, he began to poke his adversary with it on something like equal terms. In this way the cornered man gradually forced his adversary to the middle of the room.

These changes in the situation required but very little time. It required more time by far for Sackett to recover from his astonishment at this mediaeval struggle in the opening of the twentieth century. He didn't know whether to be the more amused or astonished. The scene may have been absurd, but there was no time for laughter. Jeannette gave Sackett an imploring look. Seizing a battleax, he ran up to the combatants and began to beat down their weapons. He was not so furious as they, and this absence of anger gave him a decided advantage. Finally he secured a position between the two.

"Gentlemen," he said, "what means this unseemly row in the home of a lady?"

"They don't understand English," said Jeannette. In a word she explained the situation.

Sackett understood no Italian, but he was capital at pantomime. Putting his left arm about Jeannette, he waved his right in the air, while a sublime look rested on his face, as much as to say: "I am the victor in this case. The lady falls to me."

Jeannette, fearful that if she denied his right to her the two princes would renew the fray and kill each other, denied nothing. Indeed, she clung to the party of the third part as her only refuge.

"Senorina," said Visconti, "do we understand that this gentleman is your betrothed?"

This being in Italian, Sackett did not understand a word of it, and the lady was free to say what she liked.

"I have loved him since I was a little girl," she declared.

"Then, senorina," interposed Strozzi, "may I ask what is the use of this combat?"

"No use whatever, I assure you."

Both men had words of reproach on their lips; but, to do them justice, they were too gallant to speak them. They threw down their weapons, threw off their accouterments and, making a bow to the lady, in which they nearly bumped their heads against the floor, turned and marched out with all the precision, stiffness and seriousness one sees in the portraits of their ancestors in the Pettl gallery.

Ned Sackett asked Jeannette what had passed between her and her suitors after he had separated them. She said she had told them that Ned was her brother and would kill both of them unless they kept the peace.

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910.

Finally I read an advertisement of "Fruit-a-tives". I decided to give "Fruit-a-tives" a trial and found they did exactly what was claimed for them.

I have now taken "Fruit-a-tives" for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good.

I have recommended "Fruit-a-tives" to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit tablets too highly"

EDUCATION STATISTICS.

The annual report of the Minister of Education has been published. It shows a steady progress all along the line. The average salary paid to teachers steadily increases both in rural and urban schools, which is a sign that the best remedy to relieve the scarcity of teachers is being generally recognized and applied. Many rural and urban school boards have displayed a willingness to spend money to build new schools or to improve old buildings. Continuation schools are also growing.

The average salary to male and female teachers in urban schools in 1900 was $1,009 and $532 respectively showing an increase of $14 and $16 for the year. Rural schools show increases of $22 and $17, the salaries being $484 for males and $399 for females These are the highest salaries received in the history of the province.

Owing to the increases in population in the urban centres and in the newer portions of the province, 100 more teachers were engaged in the public and separate schools during the year or 720 more than 5 years previous.

There was an increase 3,081 in the enrolled pupils in urban and rural schools the total being 456,302. The rural schools showed a decrease of 2,997 pupils. The urban an increase of 6,078. Forty years ago the urban centres supplied only about 18 per cent. of the primary schools pupils of the province.

The percentage of total attendance increased from 60.05 to 60.17 per cent.

The total expenditure on the primary schools of the province now exceeds $80,000,000, an increase of $197,597, over 1908, and amounts to $17.84 per pupil enrolled in attendance.

The continuation schools number 135 with an enrolled attendance of 5,917 an increase of 600.

There are 145 high schools and Collegiate Institutes in the Province, with 820 teachers, the highest salary paid being $3,500. The total expenditure on these institutions increased diture on these institutions increased from $1,385,832 to $1,621,637 and legislative grants from $158,549 to $170,102. The cost per pupil increased from $43 to $48.

In 1910 the municipal council of West Luther, paid in wire fence bonuses at the rate of 20 cts. per rod, $655.10. This amount bonused over ten miles of fence along the side roads and concessions of the township. In the past year, Arthur township paid in the same manner $782.55.

Nerves at High Tension

Slight extra strain means collapse—Restoration obtained by using DR. A.W.CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

The successful men and women are often of the high-strung nervous type—keen and active—but with too little reserve force.

A little extra worry and anxiety and snap goes the nervous system. Weeks and months are often required before energy and vigor are regained.

Rest helps, so does fresh air and exercise, but the blood must also be made rich and red by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Wm. Branton, Victoria St., Strathroy, Ont., writes:—My nervous system seemed all unstrung. I could not sleep, had no appetite, my digestion was poor and I had jerking of the limbs. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food helped me and I continued until I had taken twenty-four boxes. This treatment has made a radical change in my condition, building up the system and strengthening the nerves." COMFORT IN OLD AGE.

The impression which some people have that the Canadian Government Annuities scheme is available only to persons over the age of 55 is quite erroneous, an impression arising, probably, from the fact that 55 is the earliest age, except for invalidity or disablement, at which an Annuity can begin. Naturally, the younger the person is when the purchase is begun, the smaller will be the payments which he or she will have to make to secure the same Annuity, and smaller will be the apparent cost. But any person over the age of 5 may purchase an Annuity. An account of the sad ending of an old gentleman who has until recently lived all his life in a Canadian Province, but upon whom fortune for some reason had not smiled, was communicated a few days ago in a despatch from a U. S. city. He had gone to Michigan to stay with a son for the remainder of his days, but shortly after his arrival the son died leaving no means, and the father who preferred death rather than the poor house, to which he was to have been sent the following day, terminated his life. If the old gentleman had been provident in his younger days and had laid aside but 10c. a week, the amount accumulated at 3 per cent. compound interest which he would have had at his disposal at 80 would have purchased for him an Annuity of $180 a year, an income sufficient to have enabled him to have provided for himself for the remainder of his days. Had he had the opportunity at 20, as all residents of Canada have to-day, of paying in to the Government Annuities fund a sum of 10c. per week, his income at 80 would have been over $525 instead of $180, and had he died at any time before attaining the age of 80 his heirs would have received every cent that he had paid in with 3 per cent. compound interest up to the date of his death. As the old gentleman reflected upon the past, it no doubt seemed but yesterday when he was a boy. Still, young men and women are disposed to spurn the thought that old age is inevitable, that the day will come when they themselves will be old, and that the poor house must be their ultimate destiny if they have not made provision against such a contingency. But it will be impossible for them to dodge the issue. The system of saving which the Annuities Act affords them is positively the only means available by which they can make this provision with absolute certainty, and with the smallest outlay. Explanatory literature may be obtained at the Post Office, or will be supplied on application to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters may be sent free of postage.

A SEVERE CASE OF NEURALGIA

Cured After Long Years of Suffering by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is an excellent reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the most severe cases of neuralgia, sciatica, and other complaints in the group that are known as disorders of the nerves. This group also includes St. Vitus dance and paralysis, and the common state of extreme nervousness and exciteability. Each of these complaints exist because there is something the matter with the nervous system. If the nerves have tone—are strong and healthy, you will not have any of these complaints. The reason Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders is that they restore weak, run-down, nerves to their proper state of tone. They act both directly upon the nerves and on the blood supply. The highest medical authorities have noted that nervous troubles generally attack people who are bloodless and that the nerves are toned when the blood supply is renewed. It is thus seen that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders by curing the cause of the trouble.

Mrs. J. C. Adams, Norris Lake, Man., says :—"I am writing you at my husband's request to let you know the great benefit Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been to him. He is a river driver and therefore much exposed to all kinds of weather and wetting. As a result he had an attack of rheumatism, and then to add to his misery a severe type of neuralgia set in, locating on the left side of the face, and causing him such terrible pain that it would drive him almost wild. He was treated by several doctors, and finally went to Winnipeg, where they blistered his head and applied hot plasters which really only added more to his misery, and he returned home still uncured. In this way he suffered for nearly six weeks, trying all sorts of medicine, but never finding a cure. One day while he was suffering I went to a store to get a liniment, but they did not have the kind I wanted, and the storekeeper asked me what I wanted it for. I told him about my husband and how he suffered, and he placed a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the counter saying, "Take my advice, this is what your husband should take." I took the Pills home with me and my husband started taking them. I am not sure how many boxes he took, but one thing is certain, they completely cured him, and he has never since had a touch of those torturing pains. You can tell how much he suffered when I say that the hair on the side of his head in which the pain was located turned quite gray. It looks odd, but he says it does not matter since the pain is gone. I believe he would not have been living now had Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not cured those terrible pains, and you may be sure we gratefully recommend them to all our friends and all suffering ones."

Sold by all dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."

A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.

Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return the price. Ask him. MILES MEDICAL CO., Toronto, Ont.

MAKING OLD FLOORS SIGHTLY.

Sometimes a housewife would like to substitute rugs for carpets on bedroom floors or in the living room, but the floors themselves may have become unsightly from cracks left by the shrinking of the floors. Of course, the desirable way is to have hardwood floors put in, but this is not always practicable because of the expense or some other obstacle. It is possible for the housewife herself—so often her own "last resort"—to repair the old floor so that it will pass muster very well.

Tear up a quantity of paper—blotting paper is preferable if not too expensive, but newspaper will do—and boil it to a pulp in water. Dissolve a little glue in hot water, and mix it well into the pulp, then stir in sufficient whiting to stiffen the paste. Stir and work the mixture until it is smooth. While it is soft, fill it into the cracks, pressing it in solidly with a putty knife, and smoothing it off so that the filling will be exactly level with the boards.

Another mixture which is easier to work with makes use of flour instead of the whiting which causes the mixture to "set" quickly. The paper is boiled in a thin flour paste, and a small amount of alum is added to prevent mouldiness. The filling should be of a putty-like consistency.

If the floor is painted similar color can be added to the mixture, and the floor can be freshly painted or stained afterwards, as the pulp paste will take paint, an advantage it has over putty.

Before the filling process begins, the floor must be well cleaned, and the cracks freed from dust.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

WOMAN OF EIGHTY SAT BY WOODPILE ALL NIGHT.

Fell on Icy Field, Hurt Her Back, and Was Unable to Regain Her Feet.

Ingersoll, March 1.—Mrs. John Wilkinson, of Ostrander, near Tilsonburg, is a plucky woman at 80 years of age, and has a good constitution.

Mrs. Wilkinson has been visiting her son in Michigan, and arrived in Ingersoll last night on her return trip. She had to wait for her connection on the Lake Erie and Port Burwell, which was reported to leave at seven o'clock. The train was late. She thought that she might do a little looking around and went down street. When it came near train time she started back for the C. P. R. station, and in hurrying took a short cut across an icy field. She fell down and hurt her back and was not able to regain her feet.

She crawled to a wood pile in Bloor's wood yard, not less than 100 yards from the station, and sat there the whole cold night.

She was warmly clad, had an old-fashioned heavy shawl, and sat back against the pile and waited for morning. She was found at seven o'clock this morning and assisted to the Atlantic House where she said that she felt no ill effects from the night's exposure.

FREE TRADE TO CANADA.

Following is a third of the series of articles on Reciprocity re-published from the Canadian Century Magazine of Montreal.

(From The Canadian Century).

Corn and Tobacco.

It will be remembered that at one time quite an extensive area of Southwestern Ontario was devoted to growing corn. The duty on corn coming into Canada from the United States was removed and the Canadian market was immediately so flooded with importations of corn from the Unites States that corn growing had to be almost completely abandoned by Canadian farmers. About the same time additional protection was given to Canadian tobacco growers, and the result was that tobacco crops took the place of corn crops in that part of Ontario formerly most noted for its corn.

What Is The Matter With Maine?

The farmers of the State of Maine have all the advantages that reciprocity could bring to the Maritime Provinces of Canada and none of the disadvantages. They have free access to the much-talked-of "market of ninety millions," and cannot be shut out of it suddenly by a vote of Congress, as as Canadian farmers might be at any time under the Reciprocity Agreement. They are nearer to the markets of Boston and New York than any part of the Maritime Provinces, and yet the farmers of Maine are no more prosperous than those of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. They have no dreams about the value of the "market of ninety million people." They know that the cost of railway haul shuts them off from most of the markets of the United States, although there is no tariff to keep them out. The percentage of increase in population is less in Maine than in the Maritime Provinces.

There are said to be many thousands of acres of abandoned farms in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. Many of these farms were occupied for generations, but the young people moved to the cities or to the Western States and the old folks died.

The Price of Hogs.

Canadian farmers may as well make up their minds to give up the business of raising hogs if the Reciprocity Agreement is adopted. The average price of hogs in Chicago and Montreal for the five years ending December 31, 1910, was as follows :

Year	Chicago	Montreal
1906	$6.20	$7.77
1907	6.10	7.43
1908	5.70	7.10
1909	7.35	*8.64
1910	8.90	9.60

In October, 1907, live hogs sold in Chicago as low as $3.80 per cwt., against $6.65 per cwt. at the same time in Montreal.

During the same period prices of hogs have averaged lower in Buffalo than in Toronto. Occasionally the price goes higher in Buffalo, but commonly it is lower.

The farmer of the Southwestern States has a longer season than the Canadian farmer. He not only has cheap corn, but he is able to grow several crops of alfalfa, and this enables him to produce hogs very cheaply.

The Canadian packing houses expect to be crowded out of business by the importations of hog products from the big Chicago packing houses, so that the Canadian hog raiser will have no home market.

There Is No Winter There.

In the severe Canadian sense there is no winter in Australia, New Zealand and the Argentine Republic. Cattle can live outdoors throughout the year, so the farmers of those countries do not have the expense of winter shelter and winter feeding. They are consequently able to produce butter, cheese, eggs and meats much more cheaply than Canadian farmers can. No part of New Zealand is far from the ocean, and, while Australia has a vast interior, the farms of Australia are all near the sea coast, so that the railway haul to ocean ports is not great. In spite of the fact that they are very much farther from the British market than Canada is, immense quantities of food from those countries are sold in the United Kingdom. Now the Canadian market is to be freely opened to them as a result of the Reciprocity Compact, and we get nothing in return.

THE CHILDREN'S HAIR.

A Little Extra Care Now May Save After Years of Regret.

Children play so hard that the head perspires and the hair has a tendency to mat and get sticky on the scalp. Soap and water doesn't seem to remove it, but the hair must breathe to be healthy. Just try Nyal's Hirsutone. Rub it into the roots of the hair with the balls of the fingers. The children like it and will ask you to use it. Hirsutone loosens up the accumulated dust and perspiration and the hair and scalp can then be easily and thoroughly cleaned. After it is dried give another application of Hirsutone. After you have used it for a while you will admit it is the best you have ever used. Your Nyall Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it.

THE POWER OF LOVE.

C. C. Wylie.

Four years ago they had parted in dear old Sweden. She had stood and watched the ship pass out of sight, then slowly had gone back to the little cottage to continue the daily routine of work and wait for the message, which would tell of his success in the great western land and bid her come to share the new found home.

Two years passed and the letters told of the trials of the "Homesteader," of the little shack and the glorious fields of gold—wheat. They breathed too, a loneliness which was almost unbearable; but which was endured in the hope of coming reunion.

Towards the close of the third year came the joyful news that so soon as his harvest was marketed he would send the money for her ticket. That day the waves danced with sunlight and the incoming tide lapped the rocks as if they understood the mysteries of a woman's heart. The days of the next month were passed in a dreamland of expectation. At last the letter came; but it was not his writing. As one who feels that some great sorrow has suddenly stepped out of the unseen, she opened it and read of how he had been ailing for some time and was compelled to go to the hospital for an operation. They would keep her posted each week of his condition and if anything happened they would "cable."

She will never be able to tell how she lived through those ten days, until the word came that he would get better. Another month and a letter came from himself telling of how he was leaving the hospital but that the operation had left him—stone deaf. He offered her her liberty, saying, he could not ask her under the circumstances to share his life. The words were simple, but underneath them was the anguish of an aching heart. Quietly, reverently, she pressed the letter to her lips and a great joy came into her eyes.

Seven months afterwards in a Western city they stood before a minister of the Gospel and plighted their troth "until death did them part," and as the gracious words of the blessing fell from the lips of the man of God, the deaf man, by intuition divining the meaning, sobbed like a child.—The Presbyterian.

Mr. Thomas Sime, of East Luther, has in his possession a pair of old-fashioned handcuffs, that perhaps have a history. About 15 years ago he plowed one up, with a piece of chain attached, and not long ago he picked the other half up in the same field. They are regular old timers, but so far as is known no desperate character ever lived or roamed around that quarter.

During the mild spell of a month ago, Mr. J. C. Templin, of Fergus, let his flock of White Rocks out for a run in the poultry yards. When going to feed them in the evening he found one of the hens missing, but diligent search failed to locate her. Last Saturday, while shovelling the snow away from a discarded entrance the hen was located in a small division between the linings where she had laid, probably the day after her imprisonment—the storm having entirely blocked up the entrance. Though without either food or water for at least a month she was still alive though very thin and weak, and is to-day running around as well as ever.

CANADA CEMENT COMPANY LIMITED

Annual Report of the Board of Directors.

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS :

Your Directors beg to present herewith the annual statement of the affairs and financial position of the Canada Cement Company, Limited, as of the 31st December, 1910.

In presenting the Balance Sheet, we call attention to the Company's strong financial position as disclosed by the large amount of cash on hand, and other quick assets, and the comparatively small amount of current liabilities. After providing for interest on our Bonds and Dividends on our Preferred Stock for the year, we have been able to set up reserves for depreciation, extraordinary repairs and renewals, bad debts, etc., and carry forward a substantial balance to Surplus Account.

The consumption of cement during the past year was not as large as anticipated. Our business also suffered on account of the Railways not being able to meet our full requirements for cars during the heavy shipping season; consequently we carry over from last year 781,116 barrels of cement.

Early in 1910 the price of our product was fixed at a lower price than cement had ever been sold for in Canada, excepting for a short period in 1909, but your Directors are pleased to state that the anticipated savings in manufacturing and distributing our products were such that they were able to still further reduce this price.

We trust, when you consider the above mentioned conditions, and also the fact that during 1910 our plants were only operated to 57.6 per cent. of their capacity, the profits shown will be satisfactory to the Shareholders.

During the current year, we look for a larger natural demand, which demand will be stimulated by continuing to manufacture a strictly high grade article, and by selling it at the lowest possible price. This anticipated increase will enable us to operate our plants to better advantage than in the past, but we do not expect that the demand will be sufficient to enable us to put into operation either of the two plants which have been idle since the organization of this Company. However, it is confidently expected that the increased demand, and increased output, will result in further savings in the cost of manufacture and distribution, and it is the policy of your Directors to give your customers the benefit of these reductions.

The Shareholders' profits will depend on the increased volume of the Company's business, the policy of the Company being the maintenance of such a stable position as will insure regular and uniform payments of interest on its bonds and dividends on its Preferred stock, and at the same time be in a position to withstand any unforeseen emergency that may arise consequent on business depression or otherwise, which condition naturally necessitates the accumulation of, and the maintenance of, a large cash reserve.

It is also the policy of the Company to equalize the price of cement throughout Canada in so far as the physical conditions make such possible, and in furtherance of this policy, your Directors have arranged to purchase a site near Winnipeg, on which they will erect, this year, a mill to grind clinker, which clinker will be shipped from one of our Eastern mills. The buildings, machinery, etc., will be planned so that, should it at any time in the future be advisable, a Burning Department can be added, and the clinker produced on the property.

And further, an agreement has been entered into whereby this Company expects to acquire, in the near future, a property at Exshaw, which, added to our Calgary plant, and the projected plant at Winnipeg, will put us in the position of anticipating any extraordinary growth in the consumption of cement in the Great West.

With the view of educating the public, and popularizing the use of cement, in addition to the ordinary advertising, the Company has published a small book illustrating some of the many uses to which cement may be put, for which book there has been a great demand, 25,000 applications for same having been received during the past six months.

For the purpose of stimulating interest in the Company on behalf of the Employees, both in efficiency and cheapening production, as well as creating a feeling of mutual good-will, your Directors deem it expedient to introduce a system, already adopted by several large industrial corporations with beneficial results, viz., to enable employees to become the possessors of Preferred and Common Stock at prices which will be attractive to them, the employees paying a fixed amount per share per month out of their earnings, and the Company carrying the stock for them, charging a rate of 5 per cent. interest. If the plan is put into effect, all dividends will be credited to the employees applying for the stock. Said stock will be held in trust for the employee for a term of five years, excepting in exceptional cases, such as death, when his heirs will receive what benefit a deceased employee has derived from subscribing to the stock.

Your Directors feel that the policy, as herein outlined, will, as nearly as possible, make the interests of the consumers, the employes, and the shareholders identical, and will ensure to the most enduring and beneficial results for all concerned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On behalf of the Board of Directors,

WILLIAM C. EDWARDS,
President.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Interesting Address by Mrs. Denison, of Toronto.

Mrs. Flora McD. Denison, of Toronto, a prominent Canadian literary woman and one of the leaders in the Woman Suffrage Movement in this country, delivered a very interesting lecture in the Town Hall last Wednesday night under the auspices of the Orangeville Women's Institute. Mrs. Denison was accompanied by Mrs. Finzel, a dramatic entertainer, who has recently returned after a successful tour in New York. Mrs. Finzel, who is a daughter of Mr. E. E. Shepherd, a former proprietor of Saturday Night, is a gifted entertainer and her humorous monologue, "How the Battle Was Won" was well worth hearing. Mrs. Denison, who is a clever and pleasing platform speaker, addressed her audience on the history of the Woman's Suffrage Movement. She traced the growth of the movement in Great Britain and also on this side of the Atlantic. The speaker expressed her conviction that when women are given a voice in making the laws of the land, the terrible "white slave" traffic will be speedily brought to an end and the reign of purity and justice be inaugurated.

The chair was occupied by Mayor Riddell. Owing to other attractions in town, the audience, while attentive and sympathetic, was not as large as the lecture merited.

PERSONAL MENTION.

SCORE 4 TO 2.

Public School Hockey Team's Spectacular Finish in Shelburne

The return hockey match between the Orangeville and Shelburne Public School teams was played in Shelburne on Saturday afternoon. The ice was in fairly good shape and the visiting team in perfect condition. The playing throughout was fast and clean, there being only two accidents to record. In the first half Hugh Laverty was accidentally struck by one of the northern players, who in the second half was himself the victim of a trifling accident. In the first half the strength of the home team was shown by their exceptionally good playing. Hall, their goalkeeper, always alert, only permitted the puck to reach the net once. The score at half time was 1 to 0 in favor of Orangeville. At the end of the second half the game was a tie and ten minutes extra time was given to break it. It was during this extra period that McIntyre got into the limelight, scoring two goals in rapid succession, giving Orangeville the game by 4 to 2.

Elmer Gallaugher refereed the game and on the whole gave general satisfaction. The members of the home team were apparently older than the visitors. Hammond, with long trousers and sporting a delicate down on his upper lip, was certainly out of place on a junior team. The visiting team was composed of the pick of the Public School hockey club and are a bunch of clever players. The goals were scored by Horace McGuire, Hugh Laverty and John McIntyre, the latter notching two tallies in the last ten minutes. The line-up was:—

Principal Firth, who takes a hearty interest in the boys sports, accompanied the team and cheered them on by his presence. The visitors were entertained to dinner at the Temperance House, where they were given every attention.

NOT A DULL MOMENT.

The best impression we can give of what an evening with The Singers and Players Club really means, may be obtained from what one critic has said of them recently:—"They sang to us, played to us, recited and told stories. At times the audience was roaring with laughter, and during the beautiful rendition of "Nearer My God To Thee" upon muted strings accompanied by the voices, many were moved to tears. There was not a dull moment during the entire evening." Town Hall, Orangeville, Thursday evening, March 23rd.

A RENFREW WEDDING.

A pretty February wedding took place in St. Frances Xavier Church on Monday morning of this week at 7.30, when Miss Emily J. Connolly, second daughter of Mr. John Connolly, was united in marriage to Mr. George Hillock, of Caledon, Ont., son of the late Alex. Hillock. The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory embroidered net over champagne silk with large white beaver hat trimmed to match. Miss Mary E. Connolly, sister of the bride, assisted as bridesmaid, and wore a pretty dress of golden brown crossbar net with velvet trimmings and made over pale blue satin with large white beaver hat trimmed to match. Mr. Gordon Roach, of Toronto, acted as groomsman. After the ceremony the bridal party and a few intimate friends were entertained at the home of the bride's parents on Ross street, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served and the couple left on the afternoon train for their home in Caledon, going by way of Ottawa. The bride travelled in a neat tailored suit of navy blue, with paisley hat and blouse to match. The groom's present to the bride was a piano and to the bridesmaid a bracelet. Mr. Hillock is a prosperous young farmer, and the many friends of the young couple wish them all prosperity and happiness in their new life.—Renfrew Journal.

Psychine cures by increasing and strengthening the white corpuscles of the blood, or phagocytes.

These white corpuscles eat every disease germ that finds entrance to the body, when they're strong enough and in sufficient numbers.

Which science now knows will do just that.

We go to great expense to make Psychine.

Our materials come from the ends of the earth.

They are compounded in one of the finest laboratories, in apparatus that is costly in the extreme.

But costly and all as it is we know what it will do, hence the reason of our buying a 50-cent bottle from your druggist and giving it you, free.

Now if you have any of these ailments, fill out the coupon and mail it to us to-day.

PRIMROSE.

Mrs. Bowes, relict of the late Wm. Bowes, of Elba, died at the home of her nephew, Matthew Jeffels, on Sunday, Feb. 26th, at the age of 77 years. Deceased and her late husband were natives of Yorkshire, England, and came to this country about 30 years ago, with their 13 children, ten sons and three daughters. They spent one year in Toronto township before they moved to Camilla 29 years ago. They spent nine years there and then moved to lot 31, Prince of Wales Road, where the husband died 16 years ago. The deceased was well-known and highly esteemed in the community. She is survived by seven sons and two daughters, who always took a great interest in seeing that their mother was well looked after. The sons are Mark, Edwin and John, of Oakland, California; Chas. and John, of Vancouver, B.C.; and Frank and Fred, of Toronto. The daughters are Mrs. Geo. Watts, of Thorold, and Mrs. Chas. Wilson, of Toronto. Messrs. Frank and Fred Bowes and Mrs. Wilson, of Toronto, were at the funeral, which was held on Tuesday afternoon to Shelburne cemetery. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their trouble.

THE BALD HEADED MAN MAY LOOK WISE.

But If He Had Been He Would Have Hair Now.

You do not want a scientific treatise on the hair follicle—you are not particularly interested in the name of the German scientist who isolated the bug that is said to cause baldness. What you do want to know is how to save the hair you have and make it strong and lustrous.

Nyal's Hirsutone will do it better than anything else.

It is not claimed that Hirsutone is a wonderful scientific secret—but it is the concrete result of all that is proven in the scientific treatment of sick and diseased hair and scalp.

It is a happy combination and you will notice a prompt improvement in the feeling of the scalp and the look of the hair.

Hirsutone loosens and removes all scaly and matted deposit on the scalp—stimulates the hair bulbs and gives new life and vigor to the hair itself.

Nyal's Hirsutone gives back to the hair and scalp just what it has been robbed of by your neglect and abuse.

It is time to start right. Use Hirsutone.

It is one of the Nyal remedies and no higher recommendation can be given it. They are all good. Ask your Nyal Druggist. He recommends it.

MAKING BANDAGES.

In most homes it happens at some time or other that bandages, compresses, etc., are required in cases of sudden illness of accidents, and it is much better to have the articles right at hand than to be obliged to procure and get them ready when they are wanted. It is an excellent plan for the housewife to prepare at her leisure the more ordinary of sick room supplies, and keep them in a drawer ready for use if the necessity arises.

A roll of cotton, soft and old, but strong enough to be drawn tight without giving way, should be provided for bandages. Old nightdresses and the like can be used for the purpose. Wash and boil the articles, dry out of doors, and press, then tear the cotton into strips and roll up perfectly smooth, as a bolt of ribbon is rolled. Old linen cut from worn table clothes and napkins will also come in useful. Children's old white flannel skirts, or other soft worn white flannel, will furnish pieces that may be wanted in chest and throat troubles or other ailments where woollen clothes are needed instead of cotton.

Thin old handkerchiefs with the borders taken off, and pieces of worn lawn blouses and muslin aprons can be cut into squares and oblongs, and kept for making mustard plasters. Also make a few sacks of old soft cloths for holding poultices. Have them of different sizes, some square, others oblong. Keep the different kinds of articles in packages by themselves. The value of the drawer is increased by having everything in it so arranged that you could put your hand on it at once, and to this end it is well to pin a label on each package. A box of absorbent cotton, purchased at a drug store, is a good addition to the supplies. A package of lint may be scraped from worn out linen, and kept wrapped up in the drawer. A hot water bag can also be kept there, to be sure of always having one ready in perfect condition.

A former resident of Albion died at his home in Toronto a week ago Thursday, in the person of Joseph R. Horan. His death was due to cancer of the stomach, his illness extending over several months. Deceased formerly lived in the Lockton district and was about fifty years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith, of Moosejaw, who have visited friends in this vicinity for some time left on Tuesday for Harriston, from whence they will leave for their home in the West in a week or so. Mr. Smith is one of the most extensive farmers in the Moosejaw district. He has at present under cultivation a farm of 2560 acres. In the cultivation of this he uses all the most up-to-date farm machinery, including a gasoline plough. With this plough two men can turn over on an average, 25 acres per day.—Arthur Enterprise.

NEARLY DIED OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

513 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT.

"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of The Bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me." JOHN HERMAN, 48

GIN PILLS are sold at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper. Money back, if GIN PILLS do not give full satisfaction. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. A. Toronto.

MR. ARCH. WANLESS.

We regret to announce the very sudden death, on Tuesday, Feb. 21st., of the late Archibald Wanless, in his 70th year. The deceased had been about in his usual health until the day before his death, when he was taken suddenly ill with some internal complaint, which proved fatal. He was born in the town of Barrow, England, in 1841, and came to Canada six years later with his father, brothers and one sister, now Mrs. R. Akitt. They settled on lot 8, Centre Road, Caledon. In 1875 he was married to Flora McNevan, of Caledon, and settled on lot 8, 5th line, Erin, and later lot 12 on the same line where he resided until his death. Two sons and one daughter were born to them, John, on lot 8, and Robert A., and Agnes at home, who with his widow, survive him. He was a Presbyterian in religion and a Reformer in politics. He was universally respected by a large circle of friends and acquaintances, whose sympathy is extended to the bereaved family. The interment took place on Thursday last to Coningsby cemetery, the Rev. R. Fowlie conducting the service. The pallbearers were:—Messrs. H. Fisher, John and Albert Smith, Colin McMillan, M. Kennedy and A. J. Currie.

HEAVY DAMAGES AT MEAFORD

Mr. Justice Teetzel has issued judgment for the plaintiff for $5,700 and costs against both of the defendants in the suit brought by the Meaford Elevator Company against James Playfair and the Montreal Transportation Company, Limited. The case was tried at Toronto in January. In his finding of fact Mr. Justice Teetzel says that the barge, Mount Stephen, owned by the first defendant, was moored to the plaintiff's dock, unloading a cargo of wheat into the plaintiff's elevator. The second defendant's barge, the Kinmount, entered the harbor and by the action of propeller drove a large quantity of water with considerable force between the Mount Stephen and the dock, causing the latter barge to surge aft, breaking the forward cable and bowline and causing serious damage to the marine leg of the elevator, which was entered at one of the hatches of the barge. As a result the plaintiff was put to expense repairing the elevator and was so inconvenienced that it was unable to do business for the remainder of the season. His Lordship finds negligence on the part of the captains of both barges and assesses the total damages at $5,700, of which $700 was for damage to the elevator and $5,000 for the loss of business.

After a lingering illness of some six months' duration the death occurred at his little home in Parkdale a week ago Sunday morning of Donald James Rattley, more widly known to the Canadian public as Radcliffe, who for a period of almost 20 years acted as the official hangman for Canada.

Mrs. Janet McCorkindale, mother of Mrs. Robt. Niven, formerly of Mt. Forest, passed away rather suddenly at her home in Strathroy, aged over 100. She was born in the Hebrides Islands in June, 1810, and came to Canada with her husband in 1852.

During the debate on the address at the opening of the Legislature, Mr. Pratt, of Norfolk, said a farmer in the south riding of that county had received $3,810 for cauliflowers grown on 17 acres; $1,200 for apples grown on 3½ acres, and $1,264 from a four-acre orchard.

Do You Know Your Ailment

Or is it a complication which can be reached only by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

There is only one medicine that can prove thoroughly satisfactory in complicated ailments of the liver and kidneys, and that is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They begin by regulating the bowels and awakening the action of the liver, thereby effecting a thorough cleansing of the excretory system. By thus removing the poisons from the system they lighten the work of the kidneys and gradually restore them to health.

Nobody who once learns of the definite and certain action of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in regulating and invigorating the kidneys, liver and bowels, is willing to take chances by experimenting with other medicines.

Such ailments as biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion, liver complaint and kidney disease yield readily to this treatment.

It appeared to be as large as a load of hay and took a dip and circled, as if going towards Shelburne, but at once started in a northerly direction and soon disappeared from the view of those watching it.

HER SECRET.

Why She Always Looked So Young.

Everyone refers to her as one of the most attractive women in town. It wasn't her features, for while regular, they were not unusual. But the charm lay in the head of splendid, vigorous hair that made a veritable crown. It had that peculiar lustre and the sun gave it an added brilliance—you couldn't look at her without unconsciously commenting on the beauty of her hair.

When asked how she kept it so beautiful she replied that it was no secret, simply proper shampooing, regular combing and the conscientious use of Hirsutone. She admitted it had not always been in that condition, but that she found Hirsutone the best thing she ever got for the hair. It gave the scalp such a cool, refreshed feeling, and the hair was so much easier to dress after its use.

There are plenty of heads that would be just as attractive for Hirsutone soon brings the hair and scalp into good condition.

Your Nyal Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it, and every woman owes it to herself to try it. Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Orangeville.

SPRING REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM.

Raw, Damp Weather Starts the Pain, but the Trouble Lies in the Blood.

Spring weather is bad for rheumatic sufferers. The changes from mild to severe weather, cold, raw, damp winds following mildness start the aches and twinges, or in more extreme cases, the ortures of the trouble going. But it must be borne in mind that it is not the weather that causes rheumatism, the trouble is rooted in the blood—the changeable weather merely starts the pains. The only way to reach the trouble and to cure it is through the blood. The poisonous rheumatic acids must be thrown off and driven out. This is a solemn medical truth every rheumatic sufferer should realize. Liniments and outward application may ive temporary relief but they never did and never can cure rheumatism. Any doctor will tell you this is true. The sufferer is only wasting time and money with this sort of treatment, and all the time the trouble is becoming more firmly rooted—and harder to ure. There is just one sure, speedy ure for rheumatism—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the weak, impure and tainted blood. They urify and strengthen it and thus root out the cause of rheumatism. Here s a bit of proof out of thousands of similar cases that might be given. Mrs F. X. Boisseau, St. Jerome, Que., ays:—"For almost two years I was terrible sufferer from rheumatism. The trouble first located in the right leg, making work about the house impossible, and walking very difficult. I tried to cure myself by means of all sorts of liniments and lotions, but with no result—it was only money wasted. The trouble constantly grew worse and the pains more unbearable. Finally it attacked the other leg, and I was all but helpless and completely discouraged, thinking I would be a sufferer for the rest of my life. At this time I read in our home paper of the trouble being cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. After using the pills for several weeks could see that they were helping me, and I continued taking them until had used nine or ten boxes when every symptom of the trouble had disppeared and I could walk as well as ver I did. Had I known of Dr. Wiliams' Pink Pills earlier I would have saved myself much suffering and much money spent in other useless treatment as well."

Whether you are ailing or not a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will ncrease your vitality and give you inreased strength to withstand the torid summer weather coming, when ven the strongest feel easily fagged ut. You can get these pills from ny dealer in medicines or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 rom The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NOT A DULL MOMENT.

The best impression we can give of what an evening with The Singers nd Players Club really means, may e obtained from what one critic has said of them recently:—"They sang to us, played to us, recited and told stories. At times the audience was roaring with laughter, and during the beautiful rendition of "Nearer My God To Thee" upon muted strings accompanied by the voices, many were moved to tears. There was not a dull moment during the entire evening." Town Hall, Orangeville, Thursday evening, March 23rd.

THE BANNER, MARCH 16, 1911

A WRIT ISSUED.

Cataract Electric Company Sues Corporation for $3370.14.

A writ has been issued against the Town of Orangeville by Mr. J. L. Island at the instance of the Cararact Electric Company. The Company is suing on a claim for $3370.14, particulars of which are set forth in the following statement :—

The plaintiffs' claim is for $3370.14, being the balance of the plaintiff's claim against the defendants on account and for damages and for interest, firstly on account for supplying electric lighting to the defendants and costs of changing the poles and wires and extending the plaintiffs' electric system at the request of the defendants and payment of rent to one, George McIntyre, which should have been paid by the defendants; secondly for damages through the negligence of the defendants allowing foreign wires to interfere with and injure the plaintiffs' wires and system operating within the limits of the town of Orangeville, and loss of revenue through the defendants' illegally and wrongfully preventing the plaintiffs from extending their electric system to supply private and commercial lighting, also for loss of revenue by reason of the defendants illegally and wrongfully refusing to select the location for lamps to enable the plaintiffs to carry out their contract with the defendants, and also damages by reason of the defendants wrongfully neglecting or refusing to protect the plaintiffs' electric system while supplying the defendants with electricity and for interest on all sums from time to time due the plaintiffs by the defendants.

Mr. A. A. Hughson, Town Clerk, was served with the writ on Tuesday. The Town Council will meet next Monday night, when a solicitor will probably be employed to look after the Corporation's interests.

GRANGE MEETINGS.

The Dominion Grange, a farmers' organization of many years' standing, has decided to form branches in the County of Dufferin and with that end in view has arranged to hold a series of public meetings as follows :—

Melancthon St.—Wednesday, Mar 15
Honeywood—Thursday, Mar 16.
Camilla—Friday, Mar. 17.
Shelburne—Saturday, Mar. 18.

These meetings will commence at 2 o'clock sharp and will be addressed by Col. John Z. Fraser, of Burford, and John Pritchard, of Redgrave, Huron County. The speakers will, it is expected, give their views on the effect of the reciprocity agreement from the farmers' standpoint.

ROUNDING ARRESTED.

The trouble that has been brewing for some weeks between John W. Rounding, organizer and former manager of the Company, and the Ontario Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company culminated on Tuesday afternoon in the arrest of Rounding upon the charge of stealing certain policy registers and other books belonging to the Company. The warrant was executed by High Constable Hughes, who made a fruitless search of Rounding's premises and several other places in Grand Valley for the missing books. Some two or three months ago the Directors of the Company decided to dispense with Rounding's services and appointed M. G. Varcoe manager in his stead. The President and Managing Director of the Company subsequently waited upon Rounding for the purpose of obtaining the books and other property in his custody. He was unable to produce the policy registers and explained their disappearance by stating that his safe had been broken into and rifled and the books carried away. After an investigation of all the circumstances it was thought that there was sufficient evidence to connect the ex-Manager with the disappearance of the records and he was accordingly arrested and is now lying in the County gaol here pending the result of his solicitor's efforts to obtain bail.

His solicitor, Mr. M. Wilkins, of Arthur, was in town yesterday, and endeavored to secure an order for bail, but up to a late hour in the afternoon had not been successful. He expects, however, that he will be able to secure Rounding's release today. The hearing has been fixed for Wednesday next, March 22nd, at 10 a.m., in the Court House.

DIED 19 YEARS AGO.

An item appeared in last week's Banner asking for informatiom respecting the present whereabouts of Annie Bradley, who lived in Caledon over twenty years ago. Saturday afternoon Richard Welwood, of Mono Mills, called and informed The Banner that Miss Bradley had married a man named Henry Poole, while living in Caledon. The family moved from Caledon to Doon, a small village near Galt, twenty years ago. Here Mrs. Poole and two of her children died from diphtheria a year later. The husband married again and is now living in Guelph. An only daughter is married and resides in Manitoba. There are also two sons—Harry, in North Bay, and Albert, who has been working at James Duke's, near Mono Mills. The latter called at the Banner Office Tuesday morning to say that he had noticed the item in last week's issue and had written his aunt, Mrs. Grainger, giving her the information she desired.

THE QUEEN'S MARYS.

On the occasion of the Coronation of the Queen it is proposed that the Marys of Canada shall unite with their namesakes throughout the British Empire in offering a gift to Her Majesty.

The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire have been asked to collect for the gift in Ontario. Contributions will be received from five cents to five dollars, and may be given only by those who bear the name of Mary, May, Marie, Marion or Maria. A list of contributors will be forwarded but not the amount given by each.

The choice of the gift will be left entirely to the Queen. It is hoped that the Marys of Canada will appreciate the opportunity of showing their affectionate loyalty to Queen Mary.

The list must be closed by April 20th. As the time is so short it would greatly help the Committee if all who are interested will send in contributions, with names in full, as early as possible to

A PRESS OPINION.

"The Singers and Players Club have been banded together for three years, which accounts in part for the perfect unison in their work. In response to prolonged applause the company played upon the four-stringed instruments and sang, 'Nearer, My God, to Thee,' and it would be difficult to decide in which was the more perfect blend, the human voices or the four instruments which seemed almost to speak as one. There were many tear-dimmed eyes in the audience as the players drew their bows in the last strain and said 'good night.' One gentleman in speaking afterward of the entertainment, made the remark, 'When I come to cross the river of Jordan I want to hear no more Heavenly music than those four young fellows singing Nearer, My God, to Thee.'"

A QUARTERLY REVIEW.

At the monthly meeting of the Executive of St. Andrew's S. S. held Tuesday night it was resolved to conduct a quarterly review of the lessons by means of a written examination. These questions are to be answered at home and with the use of the Bible, and the answers are to be handed in to the teachers by Sunday April 2nd. The questions for the present quarter are :—

1st—Name the tribes that adhered to the Northern and Southern Kingdoms respectively?

2nd. Give a brief account of the Division of the Kingdom?

3rd. Name the kings of the Northern Kingdom and the number of years each reigned?

4th. Name the prophets mentioned in the lessons and an important incident in the life of each?

5th. Tell something about the following places:—Samaria, Mt. Carmel, Shechem, Zarepath, Shunem, Bethel.

The five scholars in each class taking the highest number of marks will have their names inserted in the Honor Roll. This roll will be published in The Banner of April 6th.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW.

Western Ontario Conference Will be Held in Guelph in May.

In view of the fact that local members of the Church of England are very much interested in the Western Ontario Conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which takes place in Guelph, Ont., on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 5th, 6th, and 7th, the history of the rise and growth of the organization is of rather more than passing interest.

The sole object of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew is the spread of Christ's Kingdom among men, especially young men. It was formed in recognition of the fact that every Christian man is pledged to devote his life to the extension of Christ's Kingdom on earth. It is composed of men of every station in life, the majority of whom are active in the affairs of the world, who are understood o have acknowledged this responsibility as resting upon themselves, and who are ready to strive like St. Andrew to lead men nearer to Christ. Personal allegiance to Him, loyalty in His Kingdom, belief that there is work to be done for the spread of the Kingdom among men, especially young men, a conviction of individual responsibility for entire consecration to that work, and the spirit of Christian fraternity—these are the fundamental principles on which the Brotherhood has been established and developed.

The Brotherhood originated in 1883. On St. Andrew's Day in that year a dozen young men of St. James' Church, Chicago, agreed to pray daily for the spread of Christ's Kingdom among young men and to make an earnest effort each week to bring at least one young man within the hearing of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The field of Brotherhood work is thus to a certain extent limited, but it is a field in which so much work needs to be done and in which men are so much required, that this very limitation has seemed to prove itself a great source of strength. Whilst the direct scope of its object is limited, the personnel of the workers is all-embracing as the Church itself. Men of every rank, profession, trade and calling of life, of every color and of every age are united, and are welcomed on the broad platform of the common Fatherhood of God, and of the common brotherhood of man, for the good of their fellowmen.

There are two rules only, viz.,—Prayer and Service, which have throughout its history characterized the Brotherhood. In fulfilment of the object for which the members are banded together they have undertaken to obey the two rules named so long as they shall retain their membership. These rules simply define the least amount of service which a loyal member of the Brotherhood, or, indeed, any Christian man should render. And the same report comes from all parts that where they are obeyed simply and honestly, many are brought in. Wherever "the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man" goeth up, it, indeed, "availeth much;" wherever the King's servants go into the byways and hedges, and compel men to come in, the supper is, indeed, furnished with guests.

BARN DESTROYED.

A bank barn, 36 by 60, on Robt. McCutcheon's farm, close to Mono Centre, was burned to the ground shortly before noon on Monday. The origin of the fire is wrapped in mystery, but it is thought to have started in some straw in the yard and thence spread to the barn. Mr. Thos. Gamble, the tenant on the place, who is moving to the West, had left for Orangeville earlier in the day with a load of furniture and other effects. Most of the contents had been removed from the building, but a couple of pigs, a dog, some harness, about 50 bushels of oats, some peas, and a lot of creamery cans belonging to the Alton Creamery were destroyed. Mr. McCutcheon carried $600 insurance in the London & Liverpool Company, but this will not nearly cover his loss.

placed in my keeping, that I would wield the gavel of authority with such force and vigor that these people who have been troubling the Council would not only hear it but feel the effects of the power placed in the hands of the reeve, as chief magistrate of the township. The conduct of some of the parties before the Council at last meeting was not creditable to themselves nor respectful to the members of the Council, and should not be tolerated.

Last Thursday, Orangeville's monthly fair day, the weather was mild and the roads good and consequently a great many of our people made occasion to visit the county town. In the evening rain began to fall, filling the cisterns and causing the house wives to smile.

The ice has disappeared from the Skating Rink and Manager Maltby is beginning to think that the time is nigh, when skating will be over and he will take up his shovel again and go ditching.

We have just been informed that Mr. S. J. Cruikshank, 2nd line, Amaranth, had a narrow escape from being burned out last Friday. It appears that a couple of his children went upstairs and commenced lighting matches on the window sill. The fire went down a crack in the paper, between the brick and wood. Mr. Cruikshank happened to be in the house at the time and, smelling the burning wood, managed to extinguish the fire in time to save the house, but not before considerable damage had been done to the structure and its contents. We understand Mr. Cruikshank is insured in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company, but if the house had been destroyed the insurance would not have covered half the loss. This ought to be a warning to parents to keep matches out of the reach of young children.

Rev. T. R. White has returned home after spending most of the week visiting and attending the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge meeting in Barrie. We understand he has returned home brimful of Orangeism, and will do us good service in this line during the next few weeks.

The three small children of Mr. and Mrs. John Groskurth, of Waldemar, who accompanied their mother when she came to this place to attend her father, Mr. Wm. Hughes, during his illness, are at present very ill with the measles.

Mr. Wm. Hughes is not getting better very rapidly, although we believe that there is a slight improvement and we are very hopeful of his recovery.

Mr. John Banks' auction sale, which was held on Monday last, was well attended and proved a grand success. The amount realized was in the neighborhood of $4500. Mr. Geo. Hepton, who has purchased the Banks farm, was present at the sale and was a lively bidder. Mr. Hepton is making preparations to move in as soon as possible.

A few more days of warm sunshine and the sleighing will be done. John will then have to bid good-bye to his skating friends for a while.

(Another Correspondent.)

A number of our loyal Orangemen attended the Grand Lodge meeting in Barrie last week.

We regret that the continued mild weather has almost spoiled the ice on the Rink. Skating has been a favorite pastime with us this season. We are looking forward to a better rink in the future.

The young people of the Methodist Church will present the temperance character sketch, entitled "The Last Loaf" in the near future. For further particulars see bills.

We regret very much to have to chronicle the intended removal of Mr. John Banks and family from our neighborhood. They held their sale of farm stock, etc., on Monday. The sale was the largest of the season.

Our young people who attended the ice race on Grand Valley rink, report an excellent time. Some losses are reported—doubtless hearts.

MONO MILLS.

The usual monthly meeting of the Mono Mills Ladies' Institute was held in the Orange Hall on Wednesday, March 8th. The meeting was opened by singing "The Maple Leaf." A discussion on Reciprocity was then introduced, the topic being dealt with from a non-political standpoint. It was shown that reciprocity would be a benefit to the farmers by opening a larger market and thereby preventing congestion from the over-supply of produce at certain seasons of the year. Its disadvantages were also set forth, particularly to the Canadian consumer by raising the prices of foodstuffs, and the possible danger that the agreement might hinder manufacturing industry. It was agreed that if the farmers were benefitted by a reciprocal agreement all other classes would be benefitted. "The Hanging of the Crane" was read by Mrs. W. Duke, "Lancelot and Elaine" by Miss J. Jackson, and "The Beautiful Spring," by Mrs. W. Kee. Before closing a number of questions were asked and answered respecting the home and household duties. After singing "God Save the King," the meeting adjourned until April 12th, when a good programme is promised by the lady directors, Mrs. S. Mason and Mrs. J. Moon. All the ladies of Mono Mills and locality are invited to attend these meetings.

(Another Correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McManus are spending this week in Toronto.

Mrs. Ira Stork, who has been visiting friends in Nassageweya, returned home on Saturday.

The 50 acre farm in Mono, belonging to the estate of the late Samuel Lewis, was sold by public auction in this village on Saturday afternoon. The bidding was spirited, Mr. Wellington Darraugh getting the property after keen competition. The price paid was $1850.

At the next meeting of the Literary Society the younger members of the Society will engage in a debate on the subject: "Winter vs. Summer." The leaders are Messrs. Geo. McCulloch, of Connor, and Harry Hickey, of Caledon, Messrs. Harold Dowling, Roy Rawn, Willie Marshall, Willie Taylor, Willie Norsworthy and Morley Black will also take part.

CHARLESTON.

Patrick, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McDevitt, of Caldwell, died at his parents' home on Tuesday morning of last week. The young man, who was 20 years of age, had suffered severely from measles. He was greatly weakened, and when pneumonia set in had not sufficient strength left to overcome the disease, and succumbed on Tuesday. Thus is a very promising young life cut off. The funeral took place to Silver Creek R. C. Cemetery on Thursday morning and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and sympathizing neighbors. High requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father Minehan assisted by Rev. Father Whalen, of Toronto. To the sorrowing friends deep sympathy is extended in their sad bereavement.

Quite a number from here took in the great March fair in Dufferin County town on Thursday. Some fine specimens of horseflesh were to be seen going through here from 6 a.m. until noon. Mr. Geo. Hilliard disposed of a fine equine for $230; Mr. W. H. Patterson realized $180 for one; Frank Johnston turned one into cash at over the $200 mark and Ben. Harrison got $200 for a two year old colt.

Mr. Brownridge, of Brampton, visited these parts the day previous to the Orangeville fair and purchased quite a goodly number of horses at fancy prices. He paid Mr. Thos. Quinn $175, Patterson Bros., $180, and W. E. Glassford, $225, all of which goes to show that Caledon farmers know how to raise the good ones.

Mr. Albert Smith delivered to Messrs. Swinton at Caledon East last week 11 hogs which tipped the scales at 3210 lbs. A great many pronounced them the best bunch they had seen for many a day.

Messrs. Norman Harrison and Norman Nelson returned home last week after a pleasant visit in Uncle Sam's domain.

WALDEMAR.

There is every indication of an early spring.

Last week's correspondent must have awakened from a long sleep or else got himself tangled up in some rang-tang twaddle, judging from the manner in which he expressed himself.

The prodigal son of the north has returned to town. Some of our citizens are wondering if the fatted calf was slain in honor of his home coming.

Mr. Jas. Tovell is very ill with an attack of la grippe. We hope to see him about again shortly.

The Ladies' Aid is holding a Social in the Presbyterian Church, on Friday evening, the 17th.

A very sociable time was spent at the King Edward by a number of merrymakers one evening last week.

Rev. S. Danard, of Norval, was a guest at Mr. E. Groskurth's.

Miss R. Jenkins, of Toronto, a former resident of this town, is renewing old acquaintanceships here.

Misses G. McConachie and Eva Baker, of Willow Brook, attended divine service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Mr. Jos. Lomas lost a valuable mare and colt a few days ago.

Ex-Mayor Osborne has once more made his appearance on the public streets. Like the robin. This must be a sign of an early spring.

W. J. Thompson, of Toronto, has returned to these parts for the summer.

We were glad to see Rev. Mr. Roadhouse in the pulpit in the Methodist Church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, who have charge of the station here, are giving the public a service equally as good as that provided by Mr. Jas. Phillips, when he had charge.

PRIMROSE.

Mr. Editor, will you permit me to say that your many readers in this part of the county look to your paper as the ablest and best informed journal in the County.

Now that the winter is past and spring is at hand and the song of the robin is heard in the land, we are looking forward with hope and expectancy to what the year 1911 has in store for us. While some are leaving to try their fortune in the great West, others are preparing to stand by the old farms, which never gave us a failure nor allowed us to see famine. The most hopeful sign for the future is the expectation of obtaining reciprocity with the United States, which will give us two markets to sell in instead of one.

Two organizers of the Dominion Grange will hold meetings in Dufferin this month as follows:—Melancthon, Wednesday, March 15th; Honeywood, Thursday, March 16th; Camilla, Friday, March 17th; Shelburne, Saturday, March 18th. The meetings will commence at 2 o'clock. The speakers will be Col. Fraser and Mr. Pritchard. These meetings will afford an opportunity to hear reciprocity discussed from the farmers' standpoint.

WHITTINGTON.

Mr. David Dudgeon had a splendid auction sale a week ago Saturday. There was a large crowd in attendance and the bidding was spirited. A spring colt sold for $165, a two year old was run up to $250, and cows sold as high as $62 each. The sale proceeds amounted to $2300 or upwards.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dudgeon left for the West on Tuesday. They expect to make their home at or near Caron.

Shiloh's Cure

ROSEMONT.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCann left this week for their home in Yellow Grass, Sask., after spending the past three months with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hanna.

Miss Luella Shaw is visiting in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McNabb are pending this week in the Queen city.

Again we have to chronicle the death of a much-esteemed lady in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Harper, relict of the late John Harper, who predeceased her twenty-two years ago. Mrs. Harper passed away at the age of 93 years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Lee, after being confined to her bed for eight years. She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter and five sons—Mrs. Lee, and William, of Rosemont; Thomas, of Barrie; Joe, Honeywood; John, of London, and Robert, of the West. The latter was unable to get home. The remains were interred in Thompson's Methodist burying ground on Monday.

Miss Kathleen Armstrong is visiting friends in Alliston.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Hunter entertained the young people on Wednesday evening.

Itching Piles For 27 Yrs.

Mr. John Johnson, Cawley, Alta., writes: "Three years ago I was cured of blind, itching piles of twenty-seven years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used to think that death would be the only relief I could ever get from the terrible misery of piles.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth sixty dollars a box instead of sixty cents. I am a different man since using it. I am farming all the time now and never miss a day. Words fail to express my gratitude for the cure this Ointment made for me. I cannot tell half as much about it as it deserves. Any one doubting this can write direct to me."

Do not accept an imitation or substitute in place of Dr. Chase's Ointment, for there has yet to be discovered a treatment which so promptly gives relief from itching and so thoroughly cures every form of piles. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for a free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

WHITTINGTON.

Just after the close of the Methodist Sabbath School a week ago Sunday a pleasant event took place, which showed the kindly regard in which Mr. Robert Sawyers and family are held by the people of this neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyers are moving from their old home, lot 21, con 1, Amaranth, to the Perry farm near Shelburne. At the close of the Sunday School, they were called forward and Mr. W. J. Hamilton, the Superintendent, read an address appreciative of their services to the School and the general regret that their departure has occasioned. Mr. J. S. Spence, teacher of the Bible Class, of which Mrs. Hamilton was the assistant teacher, presented them with a handsomely bound Bible and Hymn Book, together with a volume of "Sweet Stories of Old" for their children. The address read as follows:—

To Mr. and Mrs. R. Sawyers and family.

Dear Friends,—It is with regret that we realize your severance from our Church and Sabbath School work is at hand. In every time of need you were ever found ready and willing to promote the Master's cause in this vicinity, and your Christian influence has extended far beyond the precincts of your home where, by precept as well as example, you are a power for good. Your work in the Bible Class, Mrs. Sawyers, was particularly appreciated by the members thereof, and, although you may never know the result of your labors here in Eternity your patient, self-denial will receive the reward you so richly deserve. As a slight token of our appreciation of your services, the members of the Bible Class and friends ask you to accept this Bible, and Mr. Sawyers, this hymn book, and the children this volume—not for their intrinsic value alone, but for the good wishes of Whittington Sabbath School and your many friends, which accompany them. With them also go our prayers for your prosperity and happiness in your new home, which may you be long spared to enjoy. Although your removal means a loss to us, we must not be selfish for we are sure your influence will ever tend to the good of the community in which you dwell. Hoping, that whenever possible you will pay us a visit and that the tie of friendship which binds our hearts may never be broken, we sign on behalf of your friends at Whittington.

W. J. Hamilton, Supt.,
Jas. White, Ass't.-Supt.,
J. S. Spence, B.C. Teacher

Mr. Sawyers replied in a very suitable manner, feelingly recalling his boyhood days at Whittington, and thanking the people of the neighborhood for the great honor they had done his family and himself. He urged the officers of the school not to be weary in well-doing, for they were serving a great Master. He especially complimented the organist, Miss Maggie White, for her faithfulness and closed his address by saying that their prayers would ever be for the Heavenly Father's blessing to rest upon the friends and adherents of the Whittington Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawyers and family will be greatly missed in the church work at Whittington and by their old neighbors. They are well deserving of the honor paid them and the best wishes of the community go with them to their new home.

RELESSEY.

I jumped off the train delightedly, glad to be with my former fellow-citizens in Orangeville once more. I took a look around and espied James Henry, our former mail carrier. I asked him if he would give me a ride as far as Broadway and he agreed with his usual cheerfulness. We got into his one horse sleigh and away we went, Jim singing all the way. I started for Camilla at 11 o'clock with the mail man. We were both very quiet, as the day was stormy, and disagreeable. A short distance out we met George Duke and asked him where he was going. He said he was bound for Hillsburg on a week's visit. We next met Joe Dermott, who told us he was going to the station, to see if there was any person returning from the city. Shortly afterwards we passed a cutter and a nifty little driver, and I was pleased to notice the laughing face of Frank Island, who shouted us an invitation to go over to Bob Marshall's. When we drove into the little burg of Camilla we saw several persons whom I knew, among them being Reeve Hilliard Anderson, who told me I could travel safely after night, as all the dogs were taxed and it would make them scarce. After leaving Camilla we did not meet many people until we drove into the thriving burg of Mono Centre. I was persuaded to remain for a day or so and made my headquarters at J. A. McFadden's. Among those on whom I called was A. McQuilkin, who is still single. Archie says he is waiting for Leap Year, when he thinks he will be picked up. I noticed that Harry Baker and Herman Forsythe had both entered into Hymen's bonds since last year. Leaving Mono Centre Wednesday morning I continued my course east. Before proceeding far I met J. J. Aikens with a new cutter and his 2.30 chestnut driver. He informed me that he was buying a farm and was on his way to Orangeville to sign the writings or buy the license, I didn't just catch which. I had not gone far when I saw another cutter coming and got off the track just in time to avoid a collision with William Quigley and his high stepper. I reached the corner in time to see Heber Waller going to town with a load. He said the 3rd line was the best and that he always travelled that way. Proceeding northward up the slope past the old school house, I encountered Herb Ewing, who said he could give me a lift as far as the 6th line. When we came to the 4th line I decided to get out and Herb drove on. I went to see my old friend, Jack Galbraith, and was greatly surprised to find that the farm had changed hands and that Bobbie Holmes was in charge, Bobbie wanted me to stay for dinner, which I did and enjoyed myself immensely. He then asked me to remain over night, which I did and we spent the evening very pleasantly playing checkers, looking at photos and learning each other some fancy steps. I set forth next morning after breakfast and before going far met Jack McGuire, who said he was going to Shelburne. I plodded along until I came to Relessey, where I happened in with Cecil Holmes, who volunteered to take me to Camilla, Primrose or Rosemont. I decided on Rosemont and after dinner we set forth on our journey. We saw no-one until we reached the Post Office, where we beheld Jimmie Holmes with his arms full of papers. He said he would have accompanied us only that he had arranged to go to Glencross that evening. At John Haddock's gate Cecil said he would have to go in a moment. I decided to wait at the gate, but got so cold that I resolved to walk up to John Anderson's and get warmed. I did not remain long and upon leaving started up through the swamp, where I met Billy Elder. We had a lengthy chat before I resumed my journey. At Peter McMillan's I found Sam Haddock busy shovelling snow. In response to my query he stated that he had got struck three on Sunday night. I wandered on and shortly fell in with Bob Haddock with a gun and hound. We chatted together until we came to his gate, when I strolled across to see Herb Boyle, but found that he was away. I next struck for Geo. Fletcher's, where I was surprised to find that he was not living alone but had companion. I had supper with Sam Barber, who expressed the hope that I would be in the neighborhood again next year as he intended to make another dash for the reeveship. When I saw why he was using me so well I thought I had better go, and accordingly struck across by Billie Irwin's to see Orlie, but found he had gone to Gallaugher's at Everett. I next thought of spending the night with Fred. McNabb, but when I reached his place he was just starting for Eden Valley. He said he would take me as far as Rosemont. Fred left me at Tommy Hannah's, and to tell the truth, it was the best place I had yet struck. He gave me my supper, kept me all night and engaged me for the remainder of the year—but, never mind friends I will call to see you again.

UNCLE ALEX.

MARSVILLE.

"Plainview" the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woods, of the 9th line, near Hereward, was the scene of a pretty event, on Wednesday, Feb. 22. The occasion was the marriage of their oldest daughter, Martha J., to Trueman Hall, of the 12th con., the youngest son of the late Joseph Hall. The Rev. Mr. Cole performed the ceremony, which took place under a horse shoe arch beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations. The bride was given away by her father as Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss E. Conn. She was becomingly attired in a handsome dress of white satin. While "Meditations" was softly rendered on the piano, congratulations were extended, after which 65 guests sat down to a bountiful repast daintily served. Among the numerous and costly presents was a handsome mahogany centre table and a jardiniere stand from the members of Victoria Methodist Church, where the bride has been organist for several years. The happy couple are residing on the 12th line, lot 13. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known and their many friends extend them best wishes.

The oldest resident of this community and one of the early pioneers passed away in the person of Mrs. Wm. Marshall, on Monday of last week, at the ripe age of 93 years. Since the death of her husband several years ago, she has resided with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Cook. The funeral took place on Wednesday to Price's Corners burying ground. The service was conducted by Rev. R. S. Scott. She leaves one son, John, of West Garafraxa, and one daughter, Mrs. Silas Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Forgrave, who have been visitiog friends in this ommunity for the past three months, eft on Tuesday for their home in Harris, Sask.

Mr. Geo. Woods has rented a farm ontaining 200 acres from Mr. Townsend, on the 6th lin West Garafraxa, and is moving on it this week. He will also work for this year the farm he has been living on.

Mr. Wm. Watson's sale on Friday was largely attended. High prices were realized for all the stock, which was in the best of condition. The average price of cows was $75. The total proceeds for stock amounted to nearly $2500. Geo. McAllister wielded the hammer with his usual ability.

Mrs. Jas. McComb, of Melancthon Station, visited old friends in this vicinity last week.

Mrs. Samuel Boggs is spending a week with friends in Toronto.

LAUREL.

The young people of the Presbyterian Guild drove to Black's Corners one night recently and presented the drama, "Dot, The Miner's Daughter" for the delectation of the people of that community. The young people were greeted with a full house and the performance was received with every evidence of keen appreciation. We are delighted to see our young people engaged in any work that tends to benefit and elevate.

In the Township Hall a week ago Monday a lively time was experienced by the Municipal Council when they met to deliberate on the vexed drain question. They met with some very pronounced and outspoken opposition from ratepayers in the northwest part of the township. I am inclined to think that if I was in the Reeve's chair and permitted to wear male attire and had the insignia of office

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

CANADA'S GIFT TO THE TWELVE NATIONS.

No doubt now that Canadian Farmers are to be Exposed to the Competition of all the Great Food Exporting Countries of the World.

(From The Canadian Century.)

When it was first made known that the Reciprocity Compact not only gave American farmers free entrance to Canadian markets and extended the same privileges to the United Kingdom and the British colonies, but also opened the door wide to the Argentine Republic, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Japan, Bolivia, Columbia and Venezuela, Canadians in general thought there must be some mistake. They could not believe that without any concessions whatever from any country except the United States our Government would admit farm products from all those countries into Canada to compete freely with Canadian farm products. The wording of the Reciprocity Agreement was very plain; there seemed to be no doubt about its meaning; and yet it was such an extraordinary arrangement, so unfair to Canadian farmers, and so likely to lead to disputes with the American customs officials that many people believed that the Government would give some explanation, showing that the agreement had been wrongly interpreted. However, there is no longer any such hope. Mr. Robert L. Bordon questioned Hon. Mr. Fielding on this point, and Mr. Fielding admitted that the Reciprocity Agreement meant exactly what it appeared to mean, and that Canada would get nothing whatever in return from any of the twelve foreign nations or the British countries that share with the United States the privilege of sending their farm products freely into the Canadian market.

If the Reciprocity Compact simply provided for free trade in farm products between Canada and the United States there might reasonably be difference of opinion as to whether it would be advantageous to Canadian farmers or not. We think that even a bad bargain for Canadian farmers, such an arrangement would have been because the surplus of farm products in the United States is enormously greater than the surplus of Canadian farm products, because the farming season is earlier and longer in the United States, and because our farmers would always be at the mercy of the tariff legislation of the United States Congress, while they would have no voice in the selection of Congress, but still there would be room for argument as to whether our farmers would gain enough by admission of their products to United States markets to compensate them for losses in the home market; but from the farmers' point of view nothing can be said in favour of allowing twelve foreign nations and the food-exporting British colonies to send their farm products freely into Canada without giving our farmers anything to compensate them for this unexpected competition in the Canadian home market.

CARRIED GLADNESS TO THIS HOME.

Mrs. Annie Vanvorst's Heart Disease Cured By Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She found quick relief in the old reliable Kidney remedy, and advises all her friends to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Benedict, Sask., Mar. 13 (Special).—Gladness has replaced the anxiety that reigned in the household of Mrs. Annie Vanvorst of this place. For some time past Mrs. Vanvorst had suffered from Kidney Trouble and palpitation of the heart, and fears were entertained of those terribly sudden fatalities that so frequently accompany affections of the heart. But relief from both ailments was quickly found in the old reliable remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. In an interview Mrs. Vanvorst says:

"I had palpitation of the heart and my Kidneys were out of order. I took one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and found great relief. For a Kidney pill Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot be beat. You may publish what I say as it may be the means of benefitting others who suffer with Kidney Trouble or Heart Disease."

Pure blood is the basis of all health and you can't have pure blood unless your Kidneys are in good working order. Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to put the Kidneys in perfect working order.

NEW ROAD TO THE STATION

A deputation of Reeve McKee, and Councillors Willmott and Hilborn appeared before Grand Valley Council on Monday evening in reference to opening up a new road to the station, by extending Leeson Street. They offered $200 towards the expense, which would only pay for the right of way through the notable tri-angular field, owned by several people and managed by James Sargent. Alex. Richardson offers a free roadway through his property, if fences are erected along the road. It would be left for Grand Valley to fence, build, and maintain the road for all time. The construction of the road would cost at a fair estimate close on to $1000, for it is useless to consider anything but a properly drained roadway in that part and well coated with crushed stone or gravel, to stand the heavy teaming. For maintenance, an annual sum almost equal to that now spent on the present river road would be required for a few years, and the present road must be kept at its present state in any event.

The village fathers voiced popular opinion in their desire to induce farmers to come to Grand Valley, but halted at the proposition presented. To them it seemed more reasonable if the village council gave the township a substantial grant to purchase a roadway; or better still to share in the purchase of a strip of land on the boundary line, and construct and maintain the road in a proper manner.

The agitation for this road comes partly from the north of the township from farmers who wish to escape teaming down and up the hills in the village, and has the sympathy of the grain and hay dealers at whose warehouse doors the proposed road would open.

Reeve McIntyre showed real public spirit in offering a donation of $25 from his firm towards a new road to be jointly owned and maintained. Besides, they are heavier taxpayers in the township than in the village.

The proposed road is a distinct convenience and benefit to the farmers who team from the north, and hence the village ought not to be burdened with its maintenance. Public spirit and enterprise warrants co-operation with the township in a matter that is mutually advantageous.—Star & Vidette.

Mr. Albert Dawson, formerly of Caledon, now in charge of the Osler farm at Bronte, underwent an operation for appendicitis in Hamilton on the 2nd inst.

GRASPING AT THE SHADOW

Many a man has frequently been persuaded or tempted to withdraw from a savings bank the hard earned savings which he has, perhaps, for years been laying aside to keep him in his old age, sometimes by a friend who applies to him for a temporary loan—"just for a few weeks,"—the inducement to part with his money being the offer of a handsome bonus, but more frequently is he the victim of the silver-tongued exponent of some get-rich-quick scheme. Experience teaches us, however, that too often does the borrower fail in his probably good intentions, and the lender lose amount lent as well as the interest which his money would have earned had he left it in the savings bank, and that in ninety-nine times out of a undred does the get-rich-quick scheme ail to materialize—in grasping at the hadow we have lost the substance. The Canadian Government Annuities Act protects a man against improvident acts and injudicious investments—it safeguards him against himself. Moneys paid into the Annuities fund annot be alienated or used for any other purpose, but must remain intact for the object for which the payments have been made, otherwise the end aimed at would never, as has been illustrated above, be attained, nd old age would overtake us unprovided for its many trials and tribulations.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by applying to the Postmaster, or direct to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage.

A GOOD IDEA IN HAIR TREATMENT.

The trouble with most women's hair is that they won't take the time to give it proper treatment If you want your hair to have that ook of lustre and vitality, you must take care of it.

Might Have Been Worse.

A sad-faced editor, with fringes on the bottom of his trousers, and the wind singing mournfully through his whiskers, sat in his sanctum thinking—thinking. Presently a shadow fell across the room and a shrill voice demanded to know if he was the editor. "Yes, sir," said he, with a look of alarm. The owner of the voice mopped the floor with the editor, and went his way. "Thank heaven!" exclaimed the editor, after he had gathered together the wreck of his former self and had straightened up the furniture. "Life is still worth living. I expected he would tell me to stop his paper."—Sault Star.

KERSWELL—MALTBY.

A pretty house wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maltby, Grandview, Stanley Mills, when their daughter, Harriet was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Mr. John G. Kerswell, of Richmond Hill, by Rev. Mr. Walker, of Brampton, The bride, who was daintily attired in pale blue silk mull, entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, as Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by the bride's cousin, Miss Pearl Maltby. She was attended by her younger sister, Pearlie, who acted as ring bearer, the ring being carried in a basket of flowers, the groom's present being a locket and chain. The bride carried a boquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern, wearing the gift of the groom, a gold monogram locket set with diamonds. After the ceremony the guests, numbering about 75, sat down to the wedding breakfast in the dining room, which was prettily decorated with evergreens, bells and carnations. Toasts to the bride and groom were proposed by Mr. Walker, responded to by the groom and short speeches being given by several. Guests were present from Orangeville, Guelph, Toronto, Winnipeg, Richmond Hill, Laskay and other places. The many beautiful presents received by the bride testified to the esteem in which the happy young couple are held. After touring for two weeks with friends in Orangeville and other places Mr. and Mrs. Kerswell will leave for Sedley, Sask., where they will spend the summer with the very best of wishes from all their friends. —Peel Banner.

A PROFITABLE PARTNERSHIP.

A father with a view to encouraging his young daughter, aged 20 to purchase a Canadian Government Annuity, so that she may have an absolutely sure income of $5300 a year so long as she may live from and after the age of 55, offered to contribute $25 a year for this purpose if she would from her earnings contribute the balance of the annual premium necessary to secure the said Annuity, an offer which the daughter readily accepted on ascertaining how small an amount she would be required to pay. She found that by a saving of $2.27 a month, in addition to the $25 a year (or $2.09 a month) to be paid by her father, the Annuity of $300 would not only be secured, but that it would be paid for 10 years in any event so that should she die before the 10 years expired the Annuity would be continued for the remainder of the term to such person as she might name, thus insuring a positive return of $3,000, but, as has been said, with the provision that should she survive the 10 years years the Annuity would be continued to herself so long as she might live. Should death occur before 55, all that had been paid in with 3 per cent. compound interest would go to her heirs. It is certainly a most attractive investment, and other fathers or mothers desiring to set so excellent an example to their children of any ages may ascertain full information on the subject by applying to their Postmaster, or direct to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage.

ORCHARD PLANTING NUMBER

Those who intend planting fruit trees this spring, whether beginners or experienced fruit growers will be interested in and perhaps secure some useful information from the March number of The Canadian Horticulturist, of Peterboro, Ont., which devotes considerable attention to this subject. Selection of soil and location suitable for an orchard, preparation for planting, how to plant, the best varieties, cultivation after planting, and other subjects of like nature are dealt with by competent authorities in this number. Articles also appear dealing with the subjects of spraying, fertilizing, renewing old orchards, and other matters which will prove of interest to the practical fruit grower at this season. A report of the deputation of the fruit and vegetable growers who waited on the Government recently in regard to the proposed tariff changes is given in this number by a staff representative who accompanied this deputation. An illustration showing the members of this deputation on the steps of the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, also appears.

Amateur flower growers and gardeners can secure many useful suggestions from this number. Articles appear dealing with the care of dahlias, and climbing trees. "Intensive gardening on a small plot," gives the experience of the writer in the management of a small vegetable garden, describing the preparation of the soil, fertilization of the soil and planting. "What to grow and how to grow it" explains in detail the making and management of a hotbed.

The issue is well illustrated throughout, the illustrations adding greatly to the educational value of the articles. Persons wishing to subscribe for The Canadian Horticulturist, may do so through this office. The special clubbing rate of The Banner and The Canadian Horticulturist is $1.75. If you wish to see a sample copy of The Canadian Horticulturist you may secure one from the publishers.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

ONCE A PRINTER'S DEVIL.

Interesting Sketch of Career of Samuel Charters, M. L. A. for Peel

(Toronto Globe, Saturday, Mar 4.)

Since Faust and Guttenberg first invented printing it is doubtful if there ever has been a printer's devil who did not cherish in his heart of hearts an intense ambition to go away into the big world, amass a great deal of money, return rich and respected and buy out the printing office which was the scene of his early labors at the art preservative of all arts. His cherished object is threefold, for it will enable him to discharge in disgrace that hated tyrant the foreman, give easy jobs at good wages to his fellow-sufferers under oppression and magnanimously patronize his unappreciative employer by giving him a minor position in his old age, thus saving him from starvation. This is the dream of the printer's devil, but, once in the big world, he remembers it only to smile indulgently at his youthful fancies, and rarely is any part of this adolescent project realized. Samuel Charters, M.P.P. for Peel, is, however, one of the erstwhile inky wights who found himself able to carry out at least a part of the programme conceived in secret while he washed rollers and learned the mysteries of the case, for he is to-day the editor and proprietor of The Brampton Conservator, the paper on which he learned his trade. After serving his apprenticeship under the late A. F. Campbell, who subsequently became member of the Legislature for Algoma, Mr. Charters left The Conservator and went to Woodstock, and for three years was foreman of The Sentinel-Review, then controlled by the late Andrew Pattullo, M. P. P. for Oxford. Having a little capital and a great deal of faith in his native town and its newspaper, Mr. Charters returned to Brampton and purchased The Conservator. In a few years he found that his business affairs were in such satisfactory condition that he could afford to devote at least a portion of his time to other interests, and, mindful of the example of his two former employers, he turned naturally to politics. He entered the lists in 1902 against the late John Smith, the ardent advocate of woman's suffrage in the Legislature, and, although defeated twice, he succeeded in reducing Mr. Smith's majority of 292 in the 1898 contest to 123 in 1902 and 32 in 1905. On Mr. Smith's retirement, shortly before his death, Mr. Charters defeated J. M. Godfrey in 1908, being the only editor who came into the House as a new member at that election. His success recalls the interesting circumstance that to-day all the newspapermen in the Legislature are Conservatives, while ten years ago representatives of the pen and shears who held seats in the Chamber were all Liberals. In both cases, however, they were and are supporters of the Government of the day. Mr. Charters was the sponsor for the Ontario telephone bill, a useful measure which secures to rural and independent lines connection with the Bell system.

Dreams and the Awakening.

It was a custom among Canadian Indians, says a contributor to The Canadian Magazine, when they dreamed of receiving a favor from another to apply to him for it fulfillment, and whenever possible the conditions of the dream were complied with.

A chief one morning came to Sir William Johnson, then governor, and told him that he had dreamed that His Excellency had made him a present of the suit of regimentals which he wore.

The governor immediately agreed to make the present asked for, but as the chief was about to leave told him that he also had had a dream to the effect that the chief had given him a certain large tract of land of his.

The chief was silent a moment.

"Well, you shall have it," he then said, "but, if you please, Sir William, we will not dream any more."

A woman unwittingly aroused the ire of a resident of St. Catharines by saying about that picturesque spot, "Oh, yes, that's where our automobile broke down on the way from Buffalo to Toronto."

WHY DO CHILDREN LIKE ZAM-BUK ?

A Chat With Mothers.

"Whenever my children have any sore places, cuts, or skin troubles, they ask for Zam-Buk. They can always depend upon it doing what is needed."

So says Mrs. A. Alce, of 170 Chatham Street, Montreal.

A missionary, writing from the West Coast of Africa, says : "One boy who was treated for a bad case of ulcer, came back recently and said, 'I like best that green medicine.' The 'green medicine' was Zam-Buk."

Now why should children, all the world over, show such a marked preference for Zam-Buk ?

Children like Zam-Buk because, as soon as applied to a burn, a cut, or a sore, it stops the pain and then gradually, but surely, it heals. As soon as the pain of a wound or sore is relieved a child can go on with its play and leave Zam-Buk to finish off the healing.

Mothers might look a little more deeply into the action of Zam-Buk. First, it is highly antiseptic. As soon as applied it stops all danger of festering, blood-poisoning and inflammation. Second, it is soothing. It cools the wound or sore; always the irritation; stops the pain and smarting. Then, thirdly, it stimulates the cells, beneath the injured part, to healthy action, and causes the speedy creation of new, healthy tissue.

Just try Zam-Buk for cuts, or burns, or cold sores, or eczema, ulcers, rashes, bad leg, piles, varicose ulcers, or any inflamed or diseased condition of the skin. Its effect will highly satisfy you. All druggists and stores 50c. box, or free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations and cheap, worthless substitutes.

DEATH OF SAMUEL H. HANEY.

After an illness of about three months, Mr. Samuel H. Haney passed away at the family residence, Robinson street, on Sunday, March 5th, at the advanced age of eighty-two years and five months. Mr. Haney was born in the County of Armagh, Ireland, and came to Canada at the age of fifteen years and settled in Orangeville. On January 23rd, 1864, he was married to Elizabeth Knight, of Orangeville, who survives him. In politics, he was a staunch Conservative, and in religion a Methodist. In the year 1864 he started a grocery store in Dundalk, which he carried on successfully for nine years. Upon leaving Dundalk he went to Phelpston, where he followed the same business until 1882, then moving to Elmvale, conducting a similar business until burned out in 1896. Mr. Haney then engaged in farming on the mountain about seven miles from Collingwood, until 1906, when he retired, and moved to his late residence on Robinson street. Besides his widow he leaves three sons and five daughters—W. T. Haney, Great Falls, Montana; Herbert S. and Ernest J. and Mrs. P. Sullivan, Duluth, Minn.; Mrs. John Hawton, Batteau; Jennie, Eva, and Lillie at home. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Corcoran, pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, and took place to the Methodist cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.—Creemore Star.

DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED.

The damage suit of Mrs. Cairns against the Hunter Bridge and Boiler Co., of Kincardine, and the County of Bruce, has been amicably settled. Mrs. Cairns sued for $2000 damages for the death of her husband, who was drowned off Denny's bridge during the progress of saving it. In the assizes last spring Justice Falconbridge threw out the claim against the Hunters. An appeal to the divisional court was made and the widow was granted a new trial. In the second trial it was intended to make the County of Bruce a defendant along with the Hunter Co. At the County Council meeting a committee was appointed to take up the matter and the meeting resulted in an amicable settlement. The widow will receive $400 and costs. The case has cost the Hunter Co. about $1500 and the County of Bruce about $600. The bulk of the money went for law costs. Had Mrs. Cairns agreed to a settlement before going to court there is no doubt she would have received more than she now does. Law is expensive no matter who wins.

THE HORSES WENT TO CHURCH.

Feversham is laughing behind its hand at the escapade of a local farmer who drove into town with a hayrack and a number of eggs recently. A feeling as of something amiss smote him as he entered the village, and people wending their way churchward set his thinkery busy on the problem of whether it was Sunday or not. Entering a house to quench his smouldering suspicions, he was told that it was Sunday sure enough. His team of horses attempted to make the amende honorable by striking off at a spanking pace, without their driver, for the church. Followed by a trail of fractured hen fruit they dashed up to the church shed where they were quieted despite a manifest desire to smash several cutters which happened to be in range. Now, why on earth should those horses run to the church shed instead of the mill or one of the stores? It was surely not from force of habit.

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

A PRIMROSE WEDDING.

"Hillandale Farm," the home of Mr. Wilfrid Turner, Primrose, was the scene of a very happy gathering on Wednesday, March 8th, when friends to the number of eighty gathered to witness the marriage of his sister, Rebecca Maud, to Mr. Edward H. Halbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Halbert, Shelburne. At 5 o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Maggie White, of Whittington, the bridal party took their places under an arch of evergreens and roses. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. A. Potter, pastor of Shelburne Methodist Church. The bride looked charming, dressed in white duchess satin, veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Clara Galbraith, of Toronto, who looked very pretty in white paillette de soie and carried a sheaf of pink carnations. The groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Frank Halbert, of Mono Centre. After expressing best wishes and congratulations, the company repaired to the tastefully decorated dining room, where an elaborate repast was served. The evening was spent very pleasantly in music and games. The bride was the recipient of many useful and beautiful presents which bore testimony to the high regard in which the young couple are held. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and fob, to the bridesmaid an amethyst brooch, to the groomsman a gold tie pin, and to the organist a hand-painted blouse set. Among those from a distance were Mr. Clarence Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Turner, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. John Galbraith, Miss Galbraith and Master Elmer Galbraith, Mrs. Theodore Scott, and Miss Laura Near, Toronto; Miss Christian, Orangeville; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Turner, Fergus, and Messrs. G. and W. Thompson, Grand Valley.

MONO CENTRE.

Dear Editor, will you kindly allow me space in your columns for a few items.

58 BELOW ZERO.

Interesting Letters From a Former Mono Mills Boy.

"We are now about 18 miles west of the Pembina River, 40 north by northwest of Entwistle, and 50 miles northwest of Lac St. Anne. Roydale P. O. is about 8 miles east of here. The other teamster is going to Lac St. Anne in a few days for some geese, turkeys and other supplies. We will be moving West again on Tuesday. The weather has been very warm for over a week past and the snow is going fast. The country around here is very fine and open. I was down to Entwistle last week, for the first time since I left in September. They have built a $1900 school there since I was around and also an English Church. We expect to be up to the Athabaska River in three or four weeks or perhaps less. Of course we will run another trial line back again and then run the location line. The sleighing is fine, but the warm weather is threatening to spoil it. 25 below zero is the coldest it has been yet and it did not feel any colder than zero in Ontario. I suppose the parties will be in full swing around Caledon now. I have only been at one dance since I came here, and it was a half-breed dance. I have got a new cook lately as the other teamster gave the first cook a pair of very black eyes and he quit the job."

"I suppose you will be looking for a letter from me, but I have not heard from you for quite a while. The last mail reached camp on January 6th, so you see that our mails are few and far between. As we are 100 miles from Lac Ste. Anne it cannot be helped. We are now on the Athabaska River, ten miles from the mouth of the McLeod River. Whitecourt is situated on the flats at the mouth of the McLeod and consists of a Post Office, a Hudson Bay store, and another store. There are about 18 or 20 settlers on the flats. From Whitecourt we have travelled on the Athabaska as there is nothing but a pack trail west of the McLeod. The river is open in some places and the ice is piled rough, so we have to pick our way. Of course much of it is smooth and good going. The ice is quite thick so there is no danger. The snow is about knee-deep. We are going about 20 miles farther west, to where the line crosses the Athabaska. The line crossed the McLeod at Whitecourt. Last Saturday night the other teamster and I stopped at the Hudson Bay post and had a very pleasant night. Mr. Goodwin played the violin and Mrs. Goodwin, the piano. Another neighbor played the violin as well, so we had some good music. Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin and three children came to Whitecourt five years ago, when the nearest neighbor was 75 miles away and their nearest post office was Lac Ste. Anne 90 miles away. They came from the United States.

The weather has been very cold for some time. 58 below was the coldest I think. One of the men had his feet frozen and was off work for two weeks. Frozen noses, cheeks, fingers and toes are almost everyday occurrences. The other teamster has had his nose frozen so often that it cannot stand anything without freezing. He has also frozen his heels, toes, all his fingers, cheeks and ears. I have the good fortune to be hard to freeze. I have only had my nose touched once or twice and top of one thumb. Of course we teamsters are on the trail, warm or cold. Moccasins with three or four pairs of socks, are the only means of keeping the feet warm."

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Union Literary Society held a pleasant meeting last Saturday night. An interesting feature of the programme was a debate on the subject, "Resolved that Wood is more Useful than Iron." The affirmative was supported by Miss Melissa McEwen and Mr. Geo. Woods and the negative by Miss Annie Holmes, and Mr. Rob. Robertson. The judges decided in favor of the negative by two points. They were Miss Viola Crombie for the affirmative, Miss Margaret Welwood for the negative and the Society Judge, Mr. J. A. Vance. The balance of the programme consisted of impromptu speeches by the boys, a story by Mr. Jackson Holmes, a mouth organ selection by Mr. Cecil Welwood and the critic's report by Mr. H. J. Waines. The programme was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

A CREDITABLE ENTERTAINMENT.

A prominent press reviewer says:—"Those who heard the Singers and Players Club were of one opinion, that it was a most creditable entertainment and worthy of liberal patronage. Every number was given with true artistic ability and it is seldom that an organization of musicians can be got together where they are vocalists as well as artists on the instruments they play."

The Singers & Players Club will appear in the Town Hall, Thursday evening, March 23rd.

DIXON GETS CONTRACT.

The Grand Valley School Board has awarded the contract for the new addition to the school to Robt. Dixon at $3767.00 The other tenderers were Matthews, of Orangeville, for woodwork, $1785; Hughes Bros., of Laurel, for woodwork, $1735; Robertson, of Hillsburg, for masonry excavating and plastering, $2565; R. Dixon, for carpentering, etc., $1627, and for masonry, $2140, which was accepted. Mr. Dixon held that he already had the contract of the carpenter work from last year, but was willing to cancel it, and leave to the architect for settlement of his claim for time and services rendered. The work will not begin until June as it is impossible to get local brick before hat date.

THEY FAVOR RECIPROCITY.

Peel Liberals Make Declaration on Trade Question.

County Association Holds Annual Meeting and Elects Officers.

An enthusiastic and well attended gathering marked the annual meeting of the Peel Reform Association in the Concert Hall here, on Saturday afternoon. The speakers for the afternoon were Mr. Wm. Algie, Alton, Mr. J. M. Godfrey, Toronto, and Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta.

Mr. J. H. Watson, President of the Reform Association, took the chair. After a brief address he introduced Mr. Algie, who is by no means a stranger. Mr. Algie in a short address dealt with the reciprocity question. Twenty years ago he advocated unrestricted reciprocity, which was not very popular at the time, but he was not going to change his views regarding this great question now. Although a manufacturer himself, he thought the agreement would be beneficial to Canada's interest, a great thing for the farmers and what would be of benefit to the farmers would, in time, benefit everyone. His satirical remarks regarding the opposition's cry of annexation were the cause of much merriment.

Mr. J. M. Godfrey was next to speak and was greeted with a rousing reception. The meeting, he said, was the best attended one he had ever been present at and it appeared to him as a good omen for the future. Mr. Godfrey, who resides in the hotbed of anti-reciprocity as he puts it, had much to say regarding the astounding selfishness of the manufacturers. Why they oppose this pact he could not understand. Reciprocity will put money in the pockets of all and he thinks if the association would make this question the main issue in the next election old Peel would be found on the right side after the struggle. (Applause). Reciprocity means a much larger market for the farmers. He regards the cry of annexation by the opposition as absurd.

Moved by Mr. Nicholas Watson, seconded by Mr. David Graham, and resolved "That during the past fifteen years Canada has enjoyed prosperity unparalleled in its history. That this prosperity, inaugurated by the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, received its impetus in reduced and preferential tariffs, by which the natural resources of Canada have been developed and its trade vastly increased; that we have a country of almost illimitable undeveloped wealth, of agriculture, fisheries, and forest awaiting the millions of population yet to inhabit this dominion that the policy of the Government now before Parliament, proposed with a view of securing wider markets and lowering of tariffs between Canada and the United States, commends itself to our judgment as an act of the wisest statesmanship, which will develop our country on a vastly increased scale, and will secure for our people new markets without impairing existing ones and will result in greater prosperity to Canada than we have heretofore enjoyed. That we affirm our adherence to the policy of the Government adopted in 1897, whereby preference was given to imports from the motherland, and other parts of the Empire and that we note with satisfaction the declaration made by the Government that the British preference tariff shall be unimpaired and unaffected by the proposed tariff agreement with the United States."

Hon. Duncan Marshall, who was the next and last speaker of the afternoon, dealt largely with the reciprocity issue. He is a very strong speaker and was listened to attentively throughout. A free trader since a boy, he dealt at some length upon this important topic, and his many reasons for upholding it. It was a grand thing for the West. His denunciation of the government of 1890—1894 when Canada was at a standstill and there was a general financial depression held the crowd with him. We were cursed with the railway monopoly and protection. Sir William Van Horne might well be disgusted with himself. He directed his speech particularly against the C. P. R. and their excessive freight charges at that time. But there was a change for better when Sir Wilfrid Laurier assumed the reins of office. And also a change in the fiscal policy. At that time the British manufacturers had a very slight knowledge of Canada. But with competition times were better, factories opened up again, and the idle had no difficulty in getting work. This was all owing to the prosperity of the farmers who had a larger market for their produce. He dealt briefly with the cry of annexation with the U. S. by the opposition, which he considers foolish to pay attention to. From an economic view he thought free trade would be a grand thing for everybody, and went into further details as an explanation. His speech received a grand burst of applause.

Another resolution expressing their confidence in the Hon. A. G. MacKay, leader of the Liberal party in the Legislative Assembly for Ontario was moved and seconded, and passed.

The meeting was for the election of officers, and the following chief officers were elected: President, J. H. Watson, Snelgrove; 1st Vice-President, Ben Petch, Glenwilliams; 2nd Vice-President, J. A. McBride, Belfountain; Secretary, R. H. Pringle, Brampton; Treasurer, J. Pickering, Brampton; Auditors, A. H. Milner and Wm. Smith, Brampton. — Peel Banner.

MABEL HILEY

Mrs. Thos. Hiley, William St., has the sympathy of her friends and our townspeople generally in her bereavement through the death on Saturday of her daughter, Mabel, a girl about 5 years of age. The bereavement is doubly sad because following so closely on the tragic death of Mrs. Hiley's husband, who was killed by a freight train about the New Year. The little girl had been poorly for a year or longer and under the doctor's care nearly all that time. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. G. A. Rix conducting the service at the house and grave. The pallbearers were four little girls—Misses Susie Peavoy, Minnie Corbett, Ameda Bowes and Ruby Riley.

A SPLENDID FAIR.

March monthly fair last Thursday was one of the largest fairs ever held in Orangeville. The fine day and excellent roads brought an enormous throng of visitors to town. During the early afternoon the walks on both sides of Broadway were so densely packed with people that it was difficult to even get along the street. The crowds overflowed into the street and mingled with the scores of horse buyers and hundreds of horses and vehicles that thronged the roadway. A great many horses changed hands, the sellers in most instances, realizing excellent prices. Local merchants did a heavy day's business and night found everybody ready to agree that the Fair was one of the very best the town has ever had.

MISS LEAH PRESLEY.

Miss Leah Presley, a well-known and much respected resident of this town, passed away at her home on East Broadway on Saturday afternoon, aged 70 years and 7 months. Deceased had been in failing health since early last summer, and her demise was not unexpected. The late Miss Presley was born in Kingston, Wiltshire, Eng., whence she came to Canada 35 years ago taking up her residence with her brothers in Orangeville shortly after her arrival. She was a quiet, kindly woman, whose interest centred in her home and the comfort and happiness of the members of her domestic circle. She was a devoted member of St. Mark's Church. She is survived by five brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Alfred and John, of Toronto; George, of Orangeville, and James and Thos., of Alton. Mrs. Eccles and Mrs. Carpenter, Orangeville; Mrs. Winters, Balmy Beach, and Mrs. Parks, Toronto, are the sisters. Mrs. Baird, wife of P. C. Baird, of Toronto, is a niece and was virtually a member of the family until her marriage. There was a large turnout to the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Among the many floral tributes, mute but expressive tokens of the sorrow and esteem of her friends, was a beautiful lyre from the Orangeville Citizens' Band, with which some of her brothers have been identified for many years. Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's Church, conducted the service. The pallbearers were Messrs. Frank Marshall and Oliver Carpenter, Wm., Ernest and Wm. Presley, nephews, and Richard Parks, a brother-in-law.

MRS. R. J. McCLELLAND.

Mrs. R. J. McClelland, a former well-known resident of Orangeville, died in Santa Barbara, Cal., on Thursday, March 2nd, at the age of 76 years. Deceased lady, who was a daughter of the late George McKinney, one of Orangeville's first residents, was the widow of the late James McClelland, who will also be remembered by some of our older citizens. She leaves a family of two sons and three daughters. The former are James McClelland, of Toronto, who has the distinction of being the oldest member of the Canada Railway News Co., and George, in the real estate business in Venice, Cal., and the latter, Mrs. Fisher, of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Weedmark, of Santa Barbara, Cal. The remains were brought to her old home for interment, arriving in Toronto Saturday, and reaching here on Monday morning. Rev. Dr. McGillivray conducted a short funeral service in Bates & Dodds' Chapel in Toronto on Sunday night. The interment took place at Greenwood cemetery on Monday after the arrival of the morning train from Toronto. Rev. W. M. Morris conducted the burial service. The pallbearers were four grandsons, Messrs. Charles, George, Garnet and James McClelland, all of Toronto. Mrs. McClelland was a sister of Mr. Wm. McKinney, of Amaranth, who supervised the funeral arrangements here. Mr. John McKinney, of Toronto, another brother, was among the city relatives who witnessed the interment.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

Remains of Late Mrs. Morgan Laid at Rest Saturday Afternoon.

The remains of the late Mrs. (Rev.) Charles Morgan, whose sudden death in Winnipeg was briefly noted in last week's Banner, reached Orangeville Friday night, accompanied by her husband, a brother-in-law, Mr. E. Butler, of St. Catharines, and Mr. D. A. McBride, an intimate friend and former business partner of Mr. Morgan. The body was met at the depot by a large number of mourning relatives and friends. The casket was taken from the station to the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Savage, Second Ave., where opportunity was subsequently given the friends to view the remains.

The funeral, which was one of the largest seen in Orangeville for some time, took place to the Forest Lawn cemetery at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The solemn and impressive service at the house was conducted by Rev. Dr. Harper, Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's Church, leading in prayer. The casket was almost hidden by the beautiful floral tributes, which bore eloquent testimony to the esteem of friends and their profound sorrow at the untimely ending of a life that but a few short hours before seemed full of hope and promise. Among the floral offerings were:—a harp from the congregation of Bethel Church, Winnipeg; a spray from the Ladies' Aid, a wreath from the S. S. teachers and a spray from the deceased's S. S. Class in Bethel Church; a wreath from the students of Wesley College, Winnipeg; a wreath from the Winnipeg Methodist Ministerial Association; a wreath from the Ladies' Aid of Fort Rouge Methodist Church; a pillow, Gillespie, Rogers & Co., Orangeville; sprays from Mrs. J. H. Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Morgan, Jas. Mackay and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Craig, Mrs. Margaret Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hand, Mrs. J. Hillyard Leech, Dr. and Mrs. Wadge, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Wright, and Mrs. Homer Smith, Winnipeg; Mr. Orange Jull and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McBride, Toronto; Methodist Epworth League, Miss Margaret Flesher, Misses McGillivray and Clarke, and Mr. J. W. Ferguson, Orangeville.

The remains were borne to their last resting place by Dr. Carson, D. A. McBride, Wm. Kearns, W. E. Rogers, R. E. Gillespie and J. E. Smith.

The late Mrs. Morgan spent her girlhood in Orangeville, where she was universally beloved and respected. Her sudden and unexpected demise was a great shock to her many friends here, who are a unit in extending their profound sympathy to the young husband and the stricken mother and family in their hour of bereavement and need.

The following report of the funeral service in Winnipeg is from the columns of the Winnipeg Free Press:—

Bethel Methodist church was densely crowded last night at the funeral service for the late Mrs. Morgan, wife of the pastor, Rev. Charles Morgan. The exercises were conducted by Rev. R. L. McTavish, pastor of St. John's Methodist church. Rev. Principal Sparling offered a touching and appropriate prayer. Rev. Dr. A. Stewart read a Scripture lesson telling of the "many mansions" and the "Comforter," of the resurrection of the dead and the destruction of the last enemy. Mr. McTavish then gave a short address on the great shadow that had fallen. He took for his text the words, "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain." The speaker brought to the bereaved the message that beyond the darkness there is light. The address was followed by prayer, Rev. Dr. S. G. Bland leading.

Rev. J. C. Walker, of Maryland Street church, closed the service. From the church the casket was taken to the C. P. R. station, to be taken to Orangeville, Ont., where the mother, sisters and brother of the deceased reside. Rev. Charles Morgan, husband of the deceased, accompanies the remains to the place of interment.

The pall-bearers were two ministers (Rev. R. A. Scarlett and Rev. Dr. W. A. Cooke), two members of the congregation (Percy Andrews and J. R. Van Norman), and two friends of Mr. Morgan (J. A. Hand and J. Mackay).

Besides the ministers who took part in the service, several pastors of other Methodist churches in the city were present, among them: Rev. G. K. B. Adams, of Young church; Rev. C. W. Morrow, of McDougall Memorial church; Rev. Samuel East, of Weston; Rev. Dr. W. A. Cooke, of Zion church, and Rev. R. A. Scarlett, of Wesley church.

MR. JAMES MUMFORD.

James Mumford, a highly respected resident of Mulmur, passed away on Wednesday, March 1st, in his 73rd year. Mr. Mumford was born in Essex, England, and came to Canada with his parents in 1848, settling at Lambton Mills, near Toronto. Forty-three years ago the deceased was married to Miss Isabella Willoughby, of Tecumseth, who died about four years ago. They came to Mulmur soon after their marriage and settled on lot 27, con. 4, on which they thereafter lived. Mr. Mumford was an honored and faithful member of Mount Zion Methodist Church and held the position of class leader for over thirty years. He was a good neighbor and a sincere Christian, whose memory will long be revered. The funeral took place to the Union cemetery, Creemore, on Friday last. Those of his family who survive are:—R. W., Mulmur; Charles and Jos. W., Mortlach, Sask.; Nicholas, on the homestead; Dr. R. C., Glencoe; Mrs. R. Lennox, Mulmur; Mrs. Latimer, Oxdrift, and Mrs. W. W. Taylor, McTaggart, Sask.

This Feeding Floor Could Be Built in The Fall

and it would help greatly to preserve the condition of your live stock in the Spring.

Every farmer knows that in the Spring of the year his barnyard is almost bottomless. The live stock mire down into the mud and almost float around—greatly to the detriment of their physical condition.

By building a Concrete feeding floor in the yard, this trouble is done away with.

A Feeding Floor of comparatively small area and built this Fall, would pay for itself next year. Concrete is the only material that can be used in this way at a moderate cost.

Will you ask for your copy of the book which we have prepared for you—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"? It's free—and, take our word for it, you'll find it one of the most interesting pieces of such literature you ever read. And profitable, too—because it will save you money.

PRIMROSE.

(Intended for last week.)

Well, we had a splendid time at the Institute Concert on Tuesday evening at the Hollow. The programme was O. K. and also the refreshments, but I think the judges were a little partial to the debaters from their own burg. After returning to camp we had a splendid time for the next few days, parties being quite numerous. However having seen all the sights and learning that the job would last some months longer and also that Tommy Huxtable had recovered from a bad attack of the mumps, I started up the River Road, where I soon met the postman from Kilgorie, who had a letter for me, which proved to be an invitation to the Foresters Concert in Shelburne, for Friday night. As it promised to be good, I bent my steps in that direction. Going by Whitfield I heard someone in the distance singing, "I wonder who's buying the wine." On coming nearer it proved to be Will Clark. Just then John Ferris drove along. He said that as Sam Patterson was looking after his Bell, he would go down to see his Pearsall. Passing along I soon overtook Will Reburn, who said he was caretaker for the school on five sideroad. Turning the corner at Davie Horner's, I was quite surprised to meet Kenneth McKenzie on his way to John Clokey's. While we were chatting along drove Lyman Pearsall on his way to Ponton Mills to act as nightwatchman. The stopping place was at Jas. Dean's, where I met Harold Lindsay, who was making himself quite at home. In a few minutes in came Davie Scott, so as two is company, I took my leave. Meeting in with Jim Calvert on the Corner, he said he was on his way to the box social in the hall, and invited me to come along, which I did, but will give an account of it some other time. The debate went against the grain, as I have no use for this reciprocity treaty. UNKIL JOE.

MAPLE GROVE.

(Intended for last issue.)

Before her departure to join her husband in the West, about eighty friends and neighbors met on Friday evening last, at the home of Mrs. Jas. Fennell, and presented her with the following address:

To Mrs. Jas. Fennell.

Dear Friend,—The rapid flight of time and the perpetual current of events have brought us together on this the eve of your departure, for the purpose of bidding you farewell. For many years you have been with us, and during that time we have found you a steadfast friend, and true companion. Your faithfulness and untiring energy in the Sunday School have won for you the love and respect of the entire community. As superintendent, we have found you to be punctual and diligent, and its present standing is largely due to your efforts. In the Church you have labored earnestly, and by your removal we lose one of its most devoted members. Also in your home you have exerted a constant influence for the good of those around you. Your door was always open, and your table spread, and we have always been extended a most cordial welcome to enter and accept your hospitality. While we regret your departure we hope that it is for your future benefit and welfare. We therefore ask you Mrs. Fennell to accept this easy chair, and Howard this watch fob, not for the money value they contain, but as a token of affection from those who have learned to appreciate what you have done in our midst. We therefore hope and trust that when you are in your new home in the distant West, enjoying its comforts and ease, your thoughts will span the miles of prairie, woodland plains which separate us, and travel back to former friends at Maple Grove.

Florence Lomas,
Inez Ferguson,
Alberta Cooper,
Sadie E. Myers.

The presentation to Mrs. Fennell was made by Percy Lomas and Will Ritchie, and the watch fob to Master Howard, by Master Milton McVanel. Miss Sadie Myers read the address. Mrs. Fennell replied briefly, thanking all for the beautiful gifts and words of the address, trusting that if we should never meet again on earth, we would all meet in Heaven.

Mr. W. Lomas was called to the chair, and after a few remarks, called on several present, who made short addresses, speaking in the highest terms of Mr. and Mrs. Fennell as neighbors. After games and other amusements lunch was served, and the large gathering separated by singing, "God be with you till we meet again."

Ina came in from the country on her fifth birthday to visit her cousin, May. At night they were put to bed early. An hour passed and then sobs were heard from the children's room.

"What is the matter, children?" asked May's mother, entering the dark bedroom.

From under the bedclothes, Ina sobbed out, "May won't give me any of her peanuts."

"But May has no peanuts," replied her aunt.

"I know that," sobbed Ina. "She said if she did have any peanuts she wouldn't give me any."

THE QUEEN'S MARYS.

On the occasion of the Coronation of the Queen it is proposed that the Marys of Canada shall unite with their namesakes throughout the British Empire in offering a gift to Her Majesty.

The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire have been asked to collect for the gift in Ontario. Contributions will be received from five cents to five dollars, and may be given only by those who bear the name of Mary, May, Marie, Marion or Maria. A list of contributors will be forwarded but not the amount given by each.

The choice of the gift will be left entirely to the Queen. It is hoped that the Marys of Canada will appreciate the opportunity of showing their affectionate loyalty to Queen Mary.

The list must be closed by April 20th. As the time is so short it would greatly help the Committee if all who are interested will send in contributions, with names in full, as early as possible to

NOT A DULL MOMENT.

The best impression we can give of what an evening with The Singers and Players Club really means, may be obtained from what one critic has said of them recently:—"They sang to us, played to us, recited and told stories. At times the audience was roaring with laughter, and during the beautiful rendition of "Nearer My God To Thee" upon muted strings accompanied by the voices, many were moved to tears. There was not a dull moment during the entire evening." Town Hall, Orangeville, Thursday evening, March 23rd.

The Vandeleur Methodist church was struck by lightning during the thunder storm a week ago Saturday evening. The damage was not serious, the chimney and a few boards only being damaged.

THE BANNER, MARCH 23, 1911

MAY SEARCH FOR LIQUOR.

Chief of Police Has Authority to Enter Any Premises Where Refreshments Are Sold.

The Citizens' League has cleared up any doubts that may have existed as to the right of the Chief of Police,or other peace officer appointed by the Municipal Council, to enter hotels, places of public entertainment, or houses where refreshments are sold, and search the premises for liquor. Chief Ewing, who is a zealous officer, and evidently anxious to do his duty, has been much perturbed by the conflicting interpretations of the law he has received from different local sources. On one hand he was told that he had the authority to make searches, and on the other hand he appears to have been informed with equal positiveness that his office gave him no such power. The League determined to make an effort to clear up the matter and to that end instructed its Secretary to submit a series of questions to the Provincial Secretary, Hon. W. J. Hanna. The following reply has been received from Mr. E. Saunders, Chief Officer of the Department :—

Toronto, March 3rd, 1911.

Dear Sir,—Your letter of the 27th ult., to the Honourable, the Provincial Secretary, has been duly received asking a number of questions. In reply thereto I may say :

(1) A policeman appointed by the Town Council and who has taken the necessary oath of office has authority under section 130 of the Liquor License Act to enter an hotel or other place where refreshments are sold and WHERE HE SUSPECTS LIQUOR IS BEING UNLAWFULLY KEPT FOR SALE, and to make searches therein, but if he wishes to use force he must obtain a search warrant under section 131 of the Act. His authority to search under Local Option is precisely the same as under license.

(2) I have already answered this question in my answer No. 1.

(3) There is nothing in the Act which specially forbids the keeping of liquor in a public place of business, but it is a circumstance which the Magistrate would of course take into account in the event of there being a prosecution. If, however, a quantity of liquor exceeding two gallons is found, and on the same premises a beer pump or other appliance commonly used in a bar-room is also found, then under section 130A it is conclusive evidence that it was kept for sale.

(4) Section 133A provides that liquor may be seized IN TRANSIT, but if this is done a summons would have to be issued and the party brought before the Magistrate who would have to adjudicate upon the matter and unless you were in a position to show that the liquor was intended to be sold in contravention of the law it would have to be returned to the person from whom it was taken, and in no case should the party be arrested. A summons is the proper way to proceed.

(5) A policeman has authority to seize liquor in the custody of an Express Co., or a freight agent, but if the agent should resist him the proper course would be to summon the agent before the Magistrate under the Criminal Code for interfering with an officer in the execution of his duty.

(6) There is no definite quantity of liquor which a private person may have in his possession at one time, but under section 111 of the Act if there is more liquor on the premises than is reasonably required for the persons residing therein, it is prima facie evidence that it is there for sale, but this of course can be contradicted by the person who is charged. The only safe course in such a case is to obtain evidence of a sale.

Your obedient servant,
E. SAUNDERS,
Chief Officer.

(1) Any officer, policeman, constable, or inspector may, for the purpose of preventing or detecting the violation of any of the provisions of this Act, which it is his duty to enforce, at any time enter into any and every part of any inn, tavern, or other house or place of public entertainment, shop, warehouse, or other place wherein refreshments or liquors are sold, or reputed to be sold, whether under license or not, and may make searches in every part thereof, and of the premises connected therewith, as he may think necessary for the purpose aforesaid.

(2) Every person being therein, or having charge thereof, who refuses or fails to admit such officer, policeman, or constable, or inspector, demanding to enter in pursuance of this section in the execution of his duty, or who obstructs or attempts to obstruct the entry of such officer, policeman, constable, or inspector, or any such searches as aforesaid, shall be liable to the penalties and punishments prescribed by Section 72 of this Act, and the provisions of subsection 2, of section 112 of this Act, shall apply to offences under this section.

THE TOWN PARLIAMENT.

Solicitor Appointed to Enter Defence in Cataract Electric Co's. Suit.

Reeve Arnott was the only member of the Town Council who was absent from the meeting on Monday night. Business was largely of a routine character and about the only break in the monotony of a dull and uneventfull session occurred when Coun. Hill's by-law, authorizing the Chief or other peace officer to arrest drunken or disorderly persons, was under consideration. Mayor Riddell and Deputy-Reeve Campbell led a vigorous but futile fight against the measure, which was put through the committee stage. A motion to suspend rule 55 and give the measure its final reading was defeated on the following vote :—

Against—Campbell, Fairburn, The Mayor—3.

A two-thirds vote was needed to suspend rule 55 and give the by-law its third reading. The reading can be given at a later meeting on a mere majority vote.

Mr. A. A. Hughson was authorized to defend the suit that the Cataract Electric Co. recently instituted against the Corporation.

The following accounts were passed :—McGuire & McKitrick, $70; John Hammond, $2.75; Thos. Barber, $2.58; John Gough, $1.65; John McConnell, $1.00; Jos. Corneillus, $1.20; Geo. King, $3.05; Thos. Campbell, $6.17.

An account for $3.75 from Samuel Street was referred for report.

The Clerk was instructed to write to the Superior Cement Company, drawing their attention to the fact that the flooding of some cellars on Margaret St. was due to the obstruction of their water pipe and asking them to remedy the trouble.

The Fire & Water Committee was authorized to employ a competent engineer to report on suggested alterations and improvements in the waterworks system.

PUBLIC LIBRARY INSTITUTE

The meetings of the Orangeville District Public Library Institute held in the Orangeville Library Auditorium last Friday, were very interesting. There was a gratifying attendance, particularly at the afternoon session. At the forenoon session the visiting delegates were cordially welcomed by His Worship, Mayor Riddell, the Chairman of the Orangeville Library Board, Mr. H. F. Tuck and Principal Steele, of the High School. The President, Principal Steele, occupied the chair, and in the absence of Dr. M. W. Berwick, of Grand Valley, Mr. J. Ross McPherson was appointed Secretary. Miss Florence Collier, B. A., of Orangeville, gave a well-prepared and extremely interesting paper on the subject, "Fiction in the Public Library." Inspector H. H. Burgess, of Owen Sound, gave a thoughtful and suggestive address on "What a Public Library Might Do for Its Community."

In the afternoon Principal Fenton of Brampton High School, spoke on "The Library in Relation to our Schools." Mr. Walter R. Nursey, of Toronto, Inspector of Public Libraries, on "What the Department of Education is Doing for the Public Library," Mrs. H. F. Canada's Champion Dancer.

Cured of Piles by Zam-Buk.

Mr. Thomas J. Hoban, Champion Clog and Pedestal Dancer of Canada, who resides at 59 Chambord St., Montreal, writes: "It gives me much pleasure to let you know my opinion of your wonderful Zam-Buk. For some time past I have been troubled with piles, but this year I suffered so much that I was obliged to cancel a number of engagements. I tried all the so-called remedies that were recommended but they seemed to do me no good. Having been advised to try Zam-Buk I purchased a box, and after applying it a few times I felt marked relief. I continued with the Zam-Buk treatment and the relief was extended into a permanent cure. I gladly permit you to use my experience as an illustration of the great value of Zam-Buk for Piles."

Another illustration of how Zam-Buk cures long-standing cases of piles is provided by Mr. William Kenty, of Upper Nine Mile River, Hants Co., N. S. He says: "I suffered terribly from piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. Zam-Buk was recommended to me so I procured a supply and commenced with the treatment. After a very short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk is also a cure for ulcers, abscesses, eczema, cold sores, chapped hands, varicose ulcers, rashes, blood-poison, ringworm, cuts, burns, bruises, children's abrasions, tetter, salt rheum, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Zam-Buk Soap, which may be had from any druggist at 25 cents per tablet, should be used instead of ordinary soap in all cases of eruptions and skin diseases.

The investigation into the charge of theft of the policy registers and other books of The Ontario Farmers' Weather Insurance Mutual Company, preferred by the authorities against John W. Rounding, of Grand Valley, was held yesterday at the Court House before P. M. Pattullo. It will be remembered that Rounding, the former manager, and organizer of the Company, was dismissed from his office, and M. G. Varcoe appointed manager in his stead on the 15th of February. Two days later the late manager alleges the vault in the Company's office was entered and the books mentioned in the information were stolen. Suspicion rested on Mr. Rounding, who was arrested on Tuesday of last week by High Constable Hughes and Chief Ewing, and brought here and lodged in jail. The officers on their visit to Grand Valley were armed with a search warrant, but diligent investigation failed to locate the missing registers. An effort was made to secure bail, but the Crown would not consent, and the accused remained in custody.

There was a very large crowd in Court when the case was called, a considerable contingent coming from Grand Valley. Rounding was given a seat beside his Counsel, Mr. M. Wilkins, of Arthur, and seemed none the worse for his confinement. Through his Counsel he pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried summarily. P. M. Pattullo thought he had not territorial jurisdiction to dispose of the case finally, the offence, if any, having been committed in Grand Valley, and, as His Worship observed,he was Magistrate only for Orangeville. W. J. L. McKay, Crown Attorney, appeared for the Crown, and A. A. Hughson, Solicitor for the Company, under whose advice the proceedings were taken, was present on behalf of his clients and took an active part in the case throughout. The evidence was taken down by a stenographer, Miss McKay. Mr. J. McClelland, J. P., of Grand Valley, was invited to take a seat beside the P. M.

Robert Shields was the first witness called for the prosecution. Before opening, Mr. Wilkins objected to Mr. Hughson taking any part in the proceedings, and cited a case of Rex vs. Gilmore, where it was held "a private prosecutor is no party to a criminal prosecution, and cannot insist that he or his counsel shall take part in the conduct thereof." It was pointed out that Mr. Hughson appeared with the full consent of the Crown, and the case did not apply. Mr. Hughson proceeded with the examination of the witness, who deposed that he was employed by Rounding, went to work for him on the 20th July,1910, and so continued until 25th Feb. last. Rounding was General Manager of the Company, which had policy registers Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Witness stated that on 17th February he and Rounding left the office together about 6 p.m. The books were placed in the vault, which had no combination. Next morning when the vault was opened the books were missing. Cross-examination by Mr. Wilkins elicited the fact that particulars of the Company's business could be ascertained from the applications on file, and that no loss ensued.

William Park, President of the Company, was next witness. The books had been audited to 31st of December last, when it appeared Rounding was entitled to a credit of $1.96, besides some salary. He did not know of books being missed until February 23rd. Rounding was discharged at the annual meeting on the 15th February.

The Court adjourned at noon, and resumed at 1.30 p.m.

W. A. Wansbrough, Vice-President, was called. He had been connected with the Company since its formation some six years ago. Rounding received various sums as salary. In early part of 1910 he got $100. A month ago Company carried over six millions of insurance. Some time ago Rounding admitted a shortage of some $724. In 1910, as shown by the auditors' report, this was repaid. At the last annual meeting Rounding was dismissed on motion of the witness, and Mr. M. G. Varcoe was appointed in his place. Witness said Company had a detective employed on the case for two weeks.

W. J. Scott, a former employee of Rounding, gave unimportant evidence as to the conduct of the Company's business and the books used.

Miss Amy Rounding, a daughter of the accused, deposed she had worked in her father's office and that he was home early the night the books were stolen and did not go out again.

Miss Ada Rounding, another daughter, was also called. The young lady is attending the Orangeville Business College and knew nothing of the case.

M. G. Varcoe, the successor of the accused, had heard President Park ask Rounding for the books, when the latter refused to give them up until he was paid what he claimed was due him.

Here the Crown adopted the unusual course of calling on the Counsel for the defence, Mr. Wilkins, to take the witness stand, and asked him if he knew where the missing books were. The lawyer answered with an emphatic negative. We believe there is no precedent for calling a counsel actively engaged in the defence of a person, to take the stand to convict his own client. Mr. Hughson was also interrogated as to his knowledge of the missing books. He was equally ignorant and set up an alibi by proving that he was not in Grand Valley for sometime before or after the mysterious disappearance. This closed the case for the Crown. Mr. Wilkins asked for a dismissal which was refused.

Mr. Rounding was then called on his own behalf. He denied positively the crime charged and stated he had no knowledge of where the books were. Mrs. Rounding, wife of the accused, deposed that her husband was home early on the night in question and did not go out again. She never saw the missing books.

The magistrate said, as he intimated in the beginning, it was not his province to try the case or weigh the evidence and he must commit the accused for trial. As the Crown would not consent to bail, Rounding had to go back to jail. An application will be made forthwith to the County Judge for the release of the accused, which will doubtless be granted.

Deceased, who was the second son of the late Richard Church, of Cataract, or Church's Falls, as it was formerly called, was 68 years of age and a native of Caledon. He went West about thirty years ago and spent twenty-five years in and near Winnipeg. He had lived in Toronto for the past five years. He was unmarried, and is survived by six brothers and three sisters, namely : Geo. and Wm. Church, Essex, Ont.; John, Niverville, Man., Robert, Oliver, Man.; Albert, Cataract; Joseph, Toronto ; Mrs. Howard, Orangeville; Mrs. Jos. Silk, Lovering, Ont., and Miss A. M. Church, Cataract. His death makes the first break in a family of ten. The funeral was held from the home of his brother, Mr. Joseph Church, 137 Munroe St., to Norway cemetery on Monday afternoon. Rev. USING PURGATIVES INJURES HEALTH.

What You Need in Spring is a Blood Building Tonic.

A spring medicine is an actual necessity to most people. Nature demands it as an aid in carrying off the impurities that have accumulated in the blood during the long winter months of indoor life. Unfortunately thousands of people who recognize the necessity for a spring medicine do not know what is best to take and dose themselves with harsh, griping purgatives.

This is a serious mistake. Ask any doctor and he will tell you that the use of purgative medicines weakens the system, but does not cure disease. In the spring the system needs building up—purgatives cannot do this—they weaken you still more. The blood should be made rich, red, pure, and only a tonic medicine can do this. The best blood building, nerve restoring tonic medical science has yet discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine actually makes new, rich blood. This new blood strengthens every organ, every nerve and every part of the body. This is why Dr. Williams' aches, rheumatism and neuralgia, banish pimples and eruptions, and give a glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men, women and growing boys and girls who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills eat well, sleep well, and feel bright, active and strong. If you need a medicine this spring—and most likely you do—try this great reviving tonic and feel the new life, new health, and new strength it will put into you.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MARSVILLE.

An event of unusual interest took place last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston. The occasion was the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Aggie, to Mr. Thomas Kerr, of Keppel, Sask. Promptly at 5 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, nicely rendered by Miss Edna Keith, of Orangeville, the bridal couple took their places underneath an arch of evergreens, very artistically constructed and neatly decorated with white and pink roses, where the nuptial knot was securely tied by the Rev. R. S. Scott in the presence of about 75 guests. The bride was given away by her father and was prettily attired in white silk. She wore the customary bridal veil, which was crowned with a wreath of white carnations and she also carried a shower bouquet of carnations. After the ceremony and the usual congratulations were extended, all repaired to the dining room, where an excellent menu was served in good style. The bride, who is deservedly popular, was the recipient of many valuable presents, among which was a silver tea service from the members of Bethel choir, where she has been organist for the past two years, and a bible from the teachers of the Sunday School. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr leave on Tuesday for their new home in the West, and will take with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

The Council held a special meeting on Friday, as a Court of Revision on the Park drain. Jos. McBride and Alex. Burk were present and claimed damages for sheep worried by dogs during the past year, but as there was no money raised last year for that purpose, the Council decided to let the claim stand till the Solicitor's advice was obtained.

The remains were brought on the following Saturday for interment in the Coningsby cemetery. He leaves a widow and five children.

CALEDON.

As a result of the efforts of a number of the people of Caledon, who reside in the south-western part of the township, the Chinguacousy Telephone Company made application at last meeting of our Township Council for a franchise for this municipality. A large deputation appeared before the Council to support the application and a number of the officers of the Caledon Telephone Company were present and registered a vigorous protest against the granting of the request. After listening to both sides the Council deferred action in order to allow the two companies opportunity to come to a working arrangement. Your correspondent understands that the Companies have succeeded in reaching an amicable agreement.

A CAMILLA PRESENTATION.

Wednesday night of last week about 0 of the members and adherents of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery and presented them with the following appreciative address —

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery.

Dear Friends,—As you are severing your connection with the work of our Sabbath School, we wish to convey to you our heartfelt appreciation of your services in that work. For many years you have been deeply interested in the development and progress of our Sabbath School, and have devoted yourselves unsparingly to that end. Your departure to the West is a serious loss to our Sabbath School, and Church, and our community. Will you kindly accept this gift from us as an expression of our esteem, and may the Master's best blessing be yours in your new home and sphere of labor.

Signed on behalf of the Sabbath School.

Alfred Fowlie,
Albert Curtis,
J. A. Marshall,
James Little.

Mr. Albert Curtis, the new Superintendent of the School, read the address and Mr. James Little made the presentation—a beautiful silver berry service. The ladies also took advantage of the opportunity to present Mrs. Montgomery with a fine three storey fruit cake. Master Freddie was also remembered with a gold stick pin. Mr. Montgomery, who was deeply affected by these unmistakeble evidences of the regard and goodwill of the people of St. Andrew's, replied briefly. Rev. A. J. Fowlie, who occupied the chair, voiced the general regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, and the loss their removal meant to the church and community. Short addresses were also made by a number of those present. Refreshments were afterwards served and the remainder of the evening was then pleasantly spent in games, music and singing. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery leave for Toronto to-day whence they will set out on Saturday for their future home in the far West. Mr. Montgomery goes West to take the position of Farm Instructor in an Indian Industrial School at File Hills near Balcarres, Sask.

CAMILLA.

Considerable moving is being done around Camilla.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Banks and family have returned to Camilla, and have taken up their residence in the west half of Mr. Herb. Christian's house.

Mrs. Christian, Sr., is at present living with her daughter, Mrs. J. Turner. Mr. Geo. Harshaw, we believe, intends running a departmental store in the house recently occupied by Mrs. Christian.

Misses Margaret and Janet Moore have moved into the stone building in connection with Camilla store.

A successful wood bee was held at Robt. Thompson's on Wednesday afternoon. A number of the fair sex was added to fulfill the enjoyment of the evening and every one was most delightfully entertained by their host and hostess, Mr. Fred. and Miss Berdita Thompson.

It is with regret we report the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Little and daughter, Sadie, to our county town, Orangeville. As neighbors, words could not express their goodness, but what Camilla is losing Orangeville gains. We wish them long life and much happiness in their new home.

Mrs. (Rev.) Fowlie has almost completely recovered from her attack of tonsilitis.

Mr. John Bradley held a very successful sale on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Anderson entertained about fifty of their friends on Tuesday evening of last week.

Miss Pearl Buchanan and Miss Sherman, of Primrose, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Turner last Sunday.

Miss Annie Hume has returned to her home at Maple Grove, after spending three weeks with her sister, Mrs. Alex. Lundy.

Miss Nina Bremner attended a party given by the students of Orangeville High School last Friday night, in Orangeville.

Mr. Albert Curtis has been appointed superintendent of St. Andrew's Sunday School since the departure of Mr. James Montgomery.

The meeting of the Grange Order was very successfully organized last Friday, when about fifteen or twenty prosperous farmers were initiated.

Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery were presented with a silver tea set by St. Andrew's Church, in appreciation of their excellent works in both Sunday School and Church.

Miss Helen Bremner is visiting Toronto friends.

Miss Pearl Buchanan is spending a few days with relatives near Shelburne.

Mr. M. Wallace, of Guelph, was the guest of Mr. Robt. Marshall last Sunday.

Mr. James and Miss Sadie Little spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. William and Miss Victoria Parks. Say Ed., you need to hurry and get your dashboard nailed up.

LAUREL.

On Thursday of last week we had another visit from Jack Frost, so severe that the thermometer registered 6 degrees below zero, making many of our citizens feel that indoors would be the safest and most comfortable place for the next few days. Those of us who were obliged to venture abroad were compelled to resort to fur coats, caps and mitts, and found them a great comfort. On Saturday the weather moderated somewhat after the fall of snow on Friday night. The latter made the roads good again and consequently the young men of the neighborhood are helping the members of the fair sex to enjoy themselves by giving them an old-fashioned cutter ride.

We are inclined to think that King Alcohol will have no more to do with the people of Laurel after the young people of this township have given him a few more slaps like he has been getting of late. We were greatly pleased with the young people of Black's Corners, who came to our town recently and gave us the drama entitled "The Social Glass." It was good and a very hard slap for King Alcohol. The only regret is that more did not turn out to see and hear the Play. This is a good way for the young people to improve themselves, and we are pleased to see them taking so much interest in this class of entertainment.

On Friday night of last week a Forget-Me-Not Party was given at the home of Mrs. Geo. Nelson, on the eve of the departure of some of the Bible Class to the Northwest. The Party shows the interest which Mrs. Nelson takes in her class, and their present and future welfare. We trust that the good influence of their teacher will not soon be forgotten by the absent ones.

We have just heard that our old friend, Mr. S. J. Brown, is still improving in health, and we feel sure that when the fine spring weather arrives we will see him able to be around again.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Herb Banks is again very ill and under the Dr's. care.

Miss Florence Stevenson is suffering with a very bad attack of mumps. This is the second case of mumps in our little town. We hope it will be the last for a time at least, as they proved to be of a very severe type.

We have just learned that the young people of the Laurel League are making ready to give the drama, "The Last Loaf." The Drama, which contains two scenes, shows what one glass of wine can do and has done, bringing a family from opulence to penury. This the young people intend giving in the near future. If the young people of Grand Valley would emulate the example set by our young folk, they would not be pestered with the open bar which has been the cause of the disgrace some of them are now experiencing.

Mrs. Wm. Johnston has been threatened with a bad attack of pneumonia. Dr. Rooney is attending her and with great care she will soon be able to be about again.

We understand there are quite a number of cases of la grippe in the neighborhood. Mrs. G. Nelson, Mat Lanktree and John Johnston have been confined to their homes for the last few days, but their indisposition is not of a serious nature.

Mr. Geo. Gordon is making preparations to erect a new house and shop during the coming summer. He has nearly all the material on the ground in readiness to begin work as soon as spring opens. We understand that the residence will be the largest and most up-to-date in town.

Our town is growing steadily and we intend in the near future to commence building cement sidewalks from the Cheese Factory on Main St., to the Corner and up Broadway as far as the Methodist parsonage.

Now Cured of Rheumatism

Cost him $100.00 for medicines which failed—Cured by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Mr. James Clark, Maidstone, Sask., writes: "I suffered for four years with rheumatism in my shoulders and could not lift my arms above the head. I tried nearly all the advertised remedies but none of them gave me relief. It cost me at least $100.00 for medicines before I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

"With the use of this medicine, I soon found relief. I followed up this treatment for six months and was then quite free from rheumatism. While using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I also used Dr. Chase's Backache Plaster when so stiff that I could scarcely bend. They always found the weak spot and gave relief while the internal treatment was bringing about a thorough cure."

The success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been phenomenal. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes will be sent free on request.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Midgie Station, N. S.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure.

I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—MRS. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Midgie Station, N. S.

Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women who suffer from female ills. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for the good your advice and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—MRS. FRANK COOPER, Box 448, Indian Head, Saskatchewan.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FORTUNES ON CANVAS.

Some of the Great Sums Realized in the London Art Sales.

Over £1,300,000 has been spent on art treasures at Christie's Rooms in London, England, during the year 1910. The picture sales of the season compare favorably in interest with famous disposals in the past, such as the great Gillot sale in 1872, when a sum of £164,501 was realized; the Dudley sale of 1893, which yielded a turnover of over £99,000, and the Day, Cuthbertson, Gaskell and Quilter sales last year, which produced an aggregate of £309,520.

The principal sale of the year was that of the remaining portion of the Alexander Young collection, with its magnificent examples of the masters of the Barbizon and Modern Dutch schools. In three days £154,069 was obtained, a result which has only been exceeded on one occasion.

The wonderful records achieved by Turner in 1908 and 1909 paled before the 13,000 guineas fetched by Corots' delightful "Birds'-Nesters" in the Young sale. The remarkable prices obtained throughout this sale afford an encouraging commentary on the value of the George Salting bequest, which was bought chiefly from this collection. The rapid rise in favor of the painters of the Corot school in recent years has brought considerable profit to those whose earlier appreciation of their works led them to collect when prices were low.

In the Day sale last year the net profit amounted to about half the total sum realized, and the dispersals of 1910 have furnished numerous instances of profitable collecting. One £460 was paid thirty years ago for the Corot which changed hands this season at 13,000 guineas, while Christie's "Stokelea, Cleveland," which realized 8,800 guineas, was bought in 1860 for 100 guineas.

Jacques' pastoral scenes were obtainable not very long ago for about 50 guineas each, whereas a small painting of a shepherd and flock by him fetched 900 guineas in the Young sale. Millet, whose little picture of a shepherdess, measuring only 8 1-4 inches by 6 1-4 inches, brought in 1,050 guineas in the Young sale, was at one period of his life so poor that he could not afford to buy canvasses.

The second sale of importance during the year was that of the collection formed by the late Baron Schroeder, which yielded £136,058. In this the chief treasures were the rare specimens of French decorative art Sevres porcelain, gorgeous snuff-boxes, and tablet cases, and other ornate objects made in the luxurious days of Louis XV. and Louis XVI.

No les than 9,000 guineas was paid for a set of three little Sevres vases which had cost little more than a quarter the sum in 1886, while a Louis XV. snuffbox, acquired for £1,000, was re-sold at £4,000.

In this sale also there was again brought under the hammer the famous sixteenth century crystal biberon which realized the record sum of 15,500 guineas after a sensational contest in 1905. As was expected, its value dropped on this occasion to £10,000.

JOHN HEWITT IS DEAD.

Treasurer of Provincial Grand Orange Lodge Answers Last Summons.

A servant of the city of Toronto for thirty-seven years was removed in the death of Mr. John Hewitt, which occurred suddenly at his late residence, 234 Seaton street, last Wednesday.

The late Mr. Hewitt had not been feeling well for the past two years, but was able to attend to his duties as chief clerk in the Waterworks Department at the City Hall. He had gone out Wednesday evening, and on returning, was stricken. Dr. J. C. Carlyle, was immediately summoned, but Mr. Hewitt was then beyond aid. Death occurred a short time after.

John Hewitt was one of Canada's most enthusiastic Orangemen. As a speaker and a writer he was widely known. His name was a household word in Ontario. He was a member and Past Master of Royal Canadian L. O. L. No. 212. He was County Master of Toronto for 1898 and 1899. On the death of E. F. Clarke, M.P., R. W. Bro. Hewitt succeeded to the Grand Treasuresship of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West. He retained that office ever since. When re-elected at Barrie a week prior to his death he was voted an increased honorarium in recognition of his services.

During the meeting a tribute was paid him on the accuracy and neatness of the books, and this was very favorably commented upon by the auditors.

The late Mr. Hewitt, who was in his 67th year, was born in Ireland, but came to Toronto when a young lad, and had nearly all his life been a resident of the east end. In politics he was a Conservative, and an active politician in Ward Two. In the memorable campaign of 1896, he was a leader in the movement which made Mr. J. Ross Robertson the independent member of Parliament for East Toronto.

Mr. Hewitt took part in the Fenian raid, and continued his connection with the Veterans' Association. He was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and a member of Bond Street Congregational Church.

For thirty-seven years the late Mr. Hewitt was connected with the Waterworks Department of the city. Latterly he was the chief clerk. In the death of Mr. Hewitt the city loses one of its oldest and most respected officials.

Mr. R. T. Coady, the city treasurer, always had full confidence in his services.

A widow, three sons and one daughter survive. The sons are:—William H., of the Provincial audit office; Charles, of The Evening Telegram, and John, of the City Engineer's Department. The daughter is Miss Lillian, at home.

WILL FARMERS GAIN OR LOSE WHEN CANADA'S DOOR IS OPEN?

Is the United States Market Worth the Price That We Must Pay For It Under Reciprocity?

A QUESTION FOR FARMERS.

(From The Canadian Century.)

When we allow vast quantities of food from Australasia and the twelve favoured foreign nations to come freely into Canada how are we going to prove to American customs officials that the farm products we are trying to send across the United States boundary were really produced in Canada?

Ask your neighbours this question.

We may be sure that the farmers of the United States will insist upon customs regulations that will prevent Canada becoming the back door entrance to the United States for all the great food exporting countries of the world. The enforcement of these regulations will be very annoying. The necessity of proving that every consignment of food imported into the United States from Canada is actually Canadian will scare American buyers. They will naturally pay lower prices for Canadian farm products when they have to take the risk of disputes with customs officials as to whether they are genuine Canadian or come from countries overseas.

Prices are always fluctuating in the United States, and while a consignment of Canadian butter or eggs is being held up at the United States customs awaiting proof of genuineness the price may go down.

Australasian Food for Canada.

During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1901, there came to Canada from Australia and New Zealand 568,989 pounds of butter, 1,149,979 pounds of fresh mutton and lamb, 107,383 pounds of canned meats and small quantities of other meats. In view of the fact that such quantities are imported under the present tariff, what may be expected when the duties on butter and cheese are abolished and the duties on meats greatly reduced as a result of the Reciprocity Compact with the United States.

Farm products from Australia and New Zealand come in by way of both Pacific and the Atlantic. New Zealand frozen lambs coming in by way of Vancouver have been sold as far east as Winnipeg. A large consignment of lamb carcases from New Zealand has just reached St. John, N.B.

The New Zealand steamship "Aorangi" is now on its way to San Francisco with 5,000 carcases of New Zealand mutton and large quantities of butter. They cannot pass into the United States without payment of high customs duties. Is it not probable that such cargoes will be diverted to Canadian ports when the Reciprocity Agreement goes into effect? There is nothing in the Reciprocity Compact binding the United States to admit farm products free or at reduced rates from Australia, New Zealand and the twelve foreign countries that have favoured nation treaties with Canada.

He Loses His Bet.

A New Brunswick farmer writes to The Canadian Century as follows:—"There may be something in what you say about the danger of competition from great food exporting countries like Australia and Argentina, but I'm willing to bet that not one pound of food will come to Canada from Switzerland, which is one of the twelve countries you mention as entitled to the privileges of the Reciprocity Agreement. What do you say to that?"

You lose your bet. During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1910, 227,954 pounds of cheese were imported into Canada from Switzerland. The Canadian customs tariff on cheese was three cents per pound. Is it not reasonable to suppose that when Swiss cheese can come into Canada free the quantity imported will increase rather than diminish?

Prices in the United States.

Even if the Reciprocity Agreement did not let in Australia, New Zealand and twelve foreign nations besides the United States, even if the favoured nation treaties could be got rid of so that Canada could open its markets to the United States alone, the majority of Canadian farmers would gain nothing by Reciprocity, while they would take very great risks.

Anyone who makes a careful study of the markets in the United States will note that the prices vary in different sections of the country. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, New Orleans, and there is a still greater variation in prices in small cities, towns and villages throughout the country.

The Canadian farmer should compare the prices he obtains for his products in a small village near his farm, not with the prices in Boston, New York, Chicago, or some other large city in the United States, but with the prices obtained by farmers in small villages in the United States equally distant from the great centres of population. He must take into consideration not only the cost of transportation to the big cities of the United States, but also the middlemen's profits.

A table of comparative prices in Montreal and Boston the week the Reciprocity Compact was made, was compiled by The Montreal Herald, a Liberal newspaper, with the assistance of a number of prominent produce dealers and food experts. Cheese, eggs, live poultry, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, squash, tomatoes, beans and cranberries all commanded higher prices in Montreal than in Boston. The best creamery butter was 1½ cents per lb. higher in Boston than in Montreal, while storage creamery butter was one cent higher in Boston. Dressed poultry averaged about the same in the two cities. Hay and oats were considerably higher in Boston.

Since then butter prices have declined in most of the markets of the United States. A leading produce dealer of Montreal received the other day a telegram from Chicago offering him 300 tubs of September creamery butter, cold stored, at 18 cents, Chicago. At the time this telegram was received the same kind of butter was worth 24 cents to 25 in Montreal.

Product	Toronto price	New York price
Best creamery butter in prints, wholesale..	26c.	26½c
Prime chickens	11 20	15
Prime chickens	11—20	15
Prime turkeys	20—22	18
Ducks	18-20	15-16
Geese	15—16	14
Bacon	16—16½	16½
Hams	13½-15	14

AT LAST, A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Me" Says Mrs. Baxter.

"I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without help.

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try them. After I had taken one box, I was much better.

When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone.

After taking five boxes, I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. "Fruit-a-tives" cured me.

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, Dec. 15, '09.

In hundreds of other cases, "Fruit-a-tives" has given exactly the same satisfactory results because "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. "Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine regulates kidneys, liver, bowels and skin, and prevents the accumulation of uric acid, which is the prime cause of Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure every case of Rheumatism, when taken according to directions. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FAST IN THE ICE!

While cutting ice on Munshaw's "lake" for the town market this winter a Flesherton man had a peculiar experience. It was one of those very cold days when ice forms rapidly, and as he stood, sawing away, in his long rubber boots the water flowed over on the ice on which he stood and froze solid again. When he had finished the cut the ice man attempted to move his feet, but there was no such thing as motion so far as his pedal extremities were concerned—he was frozen fast to the ice, and had to remain in this uncomfortable position until his frantic shouts brought assistance. For the rest of the season he acted as though happy that the "footnots" had been removed from the Methodist discipline, and indulged constantly in a species or war dance which prevented a repetition of the calamity, even though it impeded the ice harvest slightly.—Flesherton Advance.

Though Disappointing, It Has a Happy Result

By ALLAN P. AMES

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

The old Kimball house stood alone on the side of the hill. Around it the acres that one generation had cleared and two others had profitably tilled during the golden age of New England agriculture were growing up to birch and white pine. But the hilltop pasture still furnished grazing for Betsy, the aged Holstein, and Jael, the pot-bellied mare, sole survivors of the stock that once crowded the whitewashed barn, while in the garden grew potatoes, corn, turnips, beets and the other hardy truck that wintered in a corner of the big cellar and enabled the Kimball "girls" to sit by their air tight stove and watch with unconcern the storms that blocked the roads and sometimes shut them off from the store at the Center for days at a time.

Breakfast over and the dishes washed, the sisters went into the garden. Every pleasant day until the sun rose high and hot they worked there. Blue cotton gowns faded by constant washing covered their thin, bowed figures as they stooped over the onion bed or with the hand cultivator scratched the earth between the hills of beans and corn. Blue gingham sunbonnets protected their delicately wrinkled faces.

Miss Binley, seeing them for the first time, paused to study and admire. Against the background of yellow green cornstalks their bent figures stood out in harmonious relief. In the foreground the whitewashed fence, the prim flower beds and the old house with its rotting shingles and weather washed green blinds contributed a setting that appealed irresistibly to her artist soul.

"Oh, Mr. Holbrook," cried the girl regretfully, "see those perfectly dear old women in that onion patch. What a genre study! I've often said it never was safe to go anywhere without a camera."

"I might run back and fetch it," suggested the carrier meekly.

"N-no," she replied reluctantly. "It's too far. Probably we can get them some other time. I'm going to speak to them."

Young Holbrook watched with adoring admiration the process by which the girl penetrated the barriers of New England reserve. Before the three women had conversed five minutes something of Miss Binley's own abundant youth and enthusiasm began to sparkle in the faded eyes of the sisters.

"Oh, Marthy, don't you wish we could have ours taken again? We haven't had our likenesses made since we were girls. Remember, Marthy, you were thutty and I was thutty-five. You were a mighty putty girl in those days, Marthy."

"Oh, g'long," commanded her younger sister.

"It used to be a turrible lot of trouble," continued Phoebe. "We had to sit puffickly still for five minutes—couldn't stir, and it seemed like five hours."

"You wouldn't have to sit still at all now," said Miss Binley eagerly. "The process is instantaneous."

Eager assent was on the lips of Miss Phoebe, but her sterner sister forestalled her.

"That's very kind of you, miss, but we couldn't think of putting you to so much trouble."

Familiar with the fundamental characteristic of the older New England generation, Miss Binley advanced cautiously. Already in her artist mind she saw the print she would make—a marvelous study of two gaunt figures wringing an unwilling toll from the harsh mountain soil. It was the subject she had been looking for all summer to enter in the fall exhibit of her camera club at home. "Oh, it won't trouble me in the least," she replied guardedly. "If you knew how I love to take pictures you would understand. Would you be here in the garden at this time tomorrow?"

"Yes," answered Martha, yielding. "But wouldn't you rather take us in the house. Do folks ever have their pictures taken outdoors?"

"The light is much better outside," explained Miss Binley. "And, besides, I wouldn't think of keeping you from your work. I'll come and take some snapshots of you just as you are—weeding the onions."

"You can come with me tomorrow," she said to Holbrook. "I had promised to drive with Johnny Larcon, but all engagements are off in the face of an epoch making chance like this."

The next morning brought weather perfect alike for pedestrianism and photography. The day was cool, and a thin haze tempered the rays of the mountain sun. Miss Binley ran down the steps to meet him, radiant with anticipation, and as he received the big camera from her hands Holbrook thrilled with the thought of another morning at her side.

"There's some one in the garden," said the young man as the last turn in the road brought them in sight of their destination. "But they don't accord with my recollection of the old ladies. Holy smoke!" gasped the youth. "It's they, all right, but no wonder we didn't recognize them."

Miss Binley gazed, speechless in horrified amazement, as her two subjects approached the gate. Gone were the picturesque gowns and the sunbonnets of faded blue. In their place the Kimballs had donned a veritable riot of modistry. Their costumes paid tribute to the varying fashions of a full half century.

But the faded countenances of the Kimballs showed naught but pride and satisfaction, slightly tinged with embarrassment. "We set up most all night sortin' things over and decidin' what to wear," announced Miss Phoebe when they came within speaking distance. "Of course we wanted to do you credit, seein' you were so kind. These silk mitts cost a sight of money when Brother Hiram brought them from Concord. They're pretty well darned now, but all the mendin's on the inside where it don't show. Don't Marthy look scrumptious? She found that silk skirt she had made up for the Frost weddin' most as good as new."

Holbrook welcomed the old lady's volubility, for it was plain that for once his companion was at a loss for words. When Miss Binley finally found her voice it was so queer and strained that he scarcely recognized it:

"I—I'm sorry you went to all the trouble. Really, it wasn't at all necessary. In fact"—

"In fact," broke in Holbrook hurriedly—"nevertheless it was awfully good of you to fix up so. That certainly is a fine piece of goods, Miss Martha. It will show up splendidly in the photograph."

He rambled on thus, hardly realizing what he said, anxious only to cover the bitter disappointment that was written on Miss Binley's face so clearly that he felt it must be evident to all.

"'Twarn't the least bit of trouble," insisted Martha. "We really enjoyed fixin' things over, didn't we, Phoebe?"

Holbrook was wondering how long his powers of invention would stand the strain when, after a brief and—to him—uncomfortable pause, Miss Martha suggested timidly, "We're all ready, miss, any time you say."

To Holbrook's intense relief this appeal brought Miss Binley to a sense of the situation. "Oh, yes," she said, rather wildly, "your clothes are beautiful. I'm going to send you each a dozen prints so that you can have plenty to give your friends."

Declining a hospitable invitation to stop for a "snack and a cup of tea," the girl and the young man somehow got through their farewells and walked away over the hill, leaving the wearied but thoroughly delighted old ladies gazing after them from their station by the front gate. In silence Holbrook lugged the camera, and without a word Miss Binley trudged beside him until the old house and its grotesquely clad occupants were hidden by the bend in the road. Then the girl said:

"Would you mind sitting here in the shade a minute? I really believe I'm a bit tired."

Immediately the youth was all anxious inquiry and suggestion:

"It must have been the sun. You have to be careful in these mountains. If you don't mind waiting here alone for a couple of minutes I'll hurry back and see if the old ladies won't lend me some kind of a rig to drive you back to the hotel, or maybe you'll let me carry you back to their house."

"Don't be ridiculous," ordered Miss Binley, with a slightly hysterical laugh. "There isn't a thing the matter with me." Then, noting his amazement, she burst out desperately: "I'm just fearfully disappointed, that's all. I don't believe I ever was so disappointed before in my life. But that's only part. I'm horribly ashamed of myself, too—even more ashamed than disappointed. Oh, I believe I'm the meanest girl in the whole state of New Hampshire."

"Why—er—er"— he started to protest.

"Don't pretend you don't comprehend," she interrupted. "You're ashamed of me too. You know you are. No; let me finish," she insisted, when he made as if to deny. "The worst of all is that even now, when I understand how mean and selfish it is to feel so, I'm just overwhelmed with disappointment still. You can't understand—nobody could but an artist. My heart was set on a picture of those dear old things in their delicious working clothes. And when I saw how they had gone and spoiled everything I felt so badly I didn't even want to conceal it."

Holbrook gazed with awe and quickening heartbeat upon a new and holier divinity—with quivering lips and dewy lashes, irresistible in her sweet repentance. In another moment he was on his knees on the grass beside her. Without hesitation, naturally as if he had done it as often as he had dreamed of doing it, his arm slipped about her. Just as naturally her head somehow found a comfortable place on his shoulder. Her hat fell off, and he kissed her shining hair.

"I do understand," he whispered, although there was none but the mountains to listen. "I understand, dear. I may be an ignoramus about photography and art, but I'm mighty well acquainted with Tommy Holbrook, and I know he knows that you're the sweetest, most unselfish, most— What I want to say is that I want to make carrying your camera my life job," he concluded desperately.

Miss Binley sat suddenly erect. An answer hovered on her lips, but faded into a smile as she picked up a black, leather covered object from the grass beside her and placed it in Holbrook's hands.

McCORMICK'S JERSEY CREAM SODAS

Will have a permanent place on your daily menu. Quality will win. Serve at breakfast with bowl of hot milk and sugar—lunch with glass of milk and cheese—dinner with soup or in place of bread.

Free to Stock and Poultry Raisers

We will send, absolutely free, for the asking, postpaid, one of our large thirty-two-page booklets on the common diseases of stock and poultry. Tells you how to feed all kinds of heavy and light horses, colts and mares, milch cows, calves and fattening steers, also how to keep and feed poultry so that they will lay just as well in winter as in summer. No farmer should be without it.

At a cost of only two-thirds of a cent a day per Animal, Royal Purple Stock Specific makes each Animal worth 25 per cent. more.

You never heard of any other Specific, or "Stock Food," doing likewise.

Royal Purple will permanently cure the Bots, Colic, Worms, Skin Diseases and Debility, and restore run-down Animals to plumpness and vigor.

It will increase the milk-yield three to five pounds per cow a day inside of from two to three weeks. It makes the milk richer than ever before.

MR. ANDREW WEGRICH, of Wainfett, Ont., says: "This is to certify that I have tried your Royal Purple Stock Specific for two weeks, on one cow. On the 16th I weighed her milk as 17 pounds. I noticed a change after 5 or 6 days, as there was an extra weight of milk. On the 29th, I carefully weighed the milk, and she gave 22 pounds. I am giving an order for 5 boxes, as I consider it the best I have ever used."

"Stock Food" will not do this. Because "Stock Food" is nothing more or less than a mixture of the very things which you, yourself, grow on your own farm.

It is not more food your Animals need. They must have something to help their bodies get all the nourishment from the food they are getting. So that they will fatten, and stay fat, all the year 'round.

They need something to prevent disease, to cure disease, and to keep them in the best of health, all the time.

Not a Stock Food

Royal Purple is not a "Stock Food," nor a "medicine." It is a Conditioner.

It does not contain Grain, nor farm products. Nor does it contain "Dope," or any other injurious ingredient. Royal Purple does not merely temporarily bloat or inspire the Animal. It fattens and strengthens it, permanently.

No other Specific known adds flesh so quickly as Royal Purple. It makes 6-weeks-old Calves as large as ordinary-fed Calves are at 10 weeks.

Royal Purple makes naturally-thin Animals fat and heavy. And it builds up the health and restores the former plumpness and vigor of run-down stock, in little or no time.

The very best time to use this Conditioner is NOW. It digests the hard food properly and prevents the animals getting indigestion or losing flesh.

50 per cent. Cheaper

One 50-cent Package of Royal Purple will last one Animal 70 days. This figures a little over two-thirds of a cent per day.

Most "Stock Foods" in 50-cent Packages last but 50 days, and are given three times a day.

But Royal Purple Specific is given only once a day, and lasts 50 per cent. longer.

(A $1.50 Pail, containing four times the amount of the 50-cent Package, lasts 280 days.)

So, you see, it is only necessary to give Royal Purple Specific once each day.

Just think of making each Animal worth 25 per cent. over its cost! What will that mean to you, Mr. Stock Owner!

It makes the Hens lay Eggs in Winter as well as in the Summer.

MRS. WM. BURNHAM, Sanford, Ont., says: "Dear Sirs,—This is to certify that I have used two boxes of your Poultry Specific for my hens. They laid so well while feeding it to them, I wondered if you would mind sending me word how or where I could get some this winter. I bought it from your agent last winter. I had 32 hens, and some days I got two dozen eggs a day in February and March, while feeding them the Specific."

Royal Purple Poultry Specific prevents Fowls losing flesh at moulting time, and permanently cures every poultry disease. It makes their plumage bright and keeps them always in prime condition.

It makes your Poultry worth more than they could ever be without it.

Yet one 50-cent Package will last 25 Hens 70 days. Or a $1.50 Pail will do 25 Hens 280 days. This is four times more material at only three times the cost.

Centralia, Ont., Feb. 7, '10.

The W. A. Jenkins Mfg. Co., London, Ont.:

Gentlemen,—We have been using Royal Purple Poultry and Stock Specific for the last three weeks, and must say that results are remarkable. Am feeding the Stock Specific to two milking cows, and they have increased 30 per cent. in their milk. The Poultry results are even more marked than this. We have about 60 hens, laying age. When we commenced feeding, we were getting five and six eggs a day, and in the last five days the same flock of hens laid 150 eggs, almost an average of 31 each day, and those five days have been the coldest this winter.

You can see results plainly in two or three days after the use of "Royal Purple," and the poultry have the same hustle and appearance now as in the summer time. With cows and poultry, am using exactly the same feed and care as before starting to feed "Royal Purple."

When farmers and stockmen get acquainted with Royal Purple, it will have a greater demand than all other tonics and stock foods on the market combined.

Yours truly, ANDREW HICKS.

W. A. Jenkins Mfg. Co., London, Ont.:

Gentlemen,—Last Fall we had in our stables a young mare belonging to Miss Clouston, of Montreal. We could not feed her any bran on account of causing violent scouring, consequently causing her to become weak and thin. We commenced using your Royal Purple Stock Specific, and the results were wonderful. After using it three weeks, we found we could feed the animal bran or any other soft feed without scouring her, and she actually took on in this time twenty-five pounds of flesh, we working her at the same time through the hunt. I can heartily recommend your Stock Specific.

Trainer for the Hon. Adam Beck.

SKELTON MAY BE CANDIDATE.

The Palmerston Spectator of Mar. 2nd, makes the following reference to J. M. Skelton, one of the most prominent and capable citizens of Palmerston, and son of Hugh Skelton, of Melancthon, and brother of Arthur Skelton, of Shelburne, who is out to capture the West Wellington nomination. Speaking of Mr. Skelton's qualifications for the position of M. P.P., the Spectator says:—For years he has been a foremost Conservative in this part of the province and possesses all the requisites of a successful man, gifted with a clear analytical mind which grapples with practical political problems. He has a commanding presence on the platform, prepares his subject matter well and has an easy delivery, making his arguments concise and clear, and is an adept in graceful as well as incisive language, with a full measure of that earnestness without which no speech can be effective. To the strength which this ability gives him, he has a natural taste for politics, fine capacity for organization and tact and shrewdness in dealing with complex situations. Mr. Skelton has taken an active interest in the public affairs of the town; he is now identified with the Public Library Board and for two years presided over the destinies of Palmerston as Mayor. He has also had several years' experience in the journalistic sphere, which is a great education and gives a man a shrewd, keen grip on public questions and affairs.

The Chisholm Block at Wingham, consisting of half a dozen stores and I.O.O.F. Hall, was destroyed by fire a week ago Monday morning, nothing but the bare walls remaining. The building was one of the best there and the property of Dr. Chisholm, M.P., who is in the West at present. The fire was caused by an exploding lamp. The loss will be about $15,000, covered by insurance.

You know the "know-it-alls." Suspicious of everybody and everything.

They promised well at one time in their career, then they seemed to come to a full stop.

Every now and then we come to a certain epoch in medicine when we think advance or improvement impossible.

Then some one comes along and the whole school of medicine is overturned, new and apparently indisputable theories, all good, all progressive.

In the progress of medicine we sometimes discover new values in old things.

And the reason they cure is that they increase and strengthen the white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes—the scavengers of the body, devouring every germ of disease that gains entrance to the body.

A third of a century ago, Psychine was compounded of certain herbs.

Since that time it has cured hundreds of thousands.

And all because it contained those herbs that science now knows builds up and strengthens the white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes.

WHAT HAS DANDRUFF GOT TO DO WITH BALDNESS?

You see the statement every day that the one cause of baldness is dandruff. But is it?

True, dandruff often precedes the departure of the hair.

It is quite true that you know men with a shock of hair you can hardly pull a comb through, who have carried around a dandruff laden collar as long as you have known them.

You have also seen men whose scalp was kept as clean as a baby's, whose hair was surely departing.

That dandruff talk sounds well and convinces a good many of us, but let us not fool ourselves.

Of course dandruff isn't a good thing to carry around, but it is only an indication.

The same trouble that causes the hair to fall out usually causes dandruff, so if you get at the cause and arrest the loss of hair, you will stop dandruff too.

Those who use Nyal's Hirsutone find it the most satisfactory hair healer and hair dressing they have ever used.

It does stop the hair from falling out.

It will also stop dandruff.

Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends it — $1.00 and 50c. in sprinkler bottles.

WILSON—BALDOCK.

On Wednesday, March 8th, a quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at Cedar Grove Farm, 3rd line east, Chinguacousy, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McCallum, when Miss Alberta Louise Baldock, sister of Miss McCallum, was given in marriage to Mr. Wm. Wilson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Wilson, of Caledon East. The silken knot was tied under an arch of evergreens and carnations, by Rev. J. G. Cheyne, of Claude. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. The bride looked charming in a gown of white mull with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of carnations and maiden hair fern. Little Miss Laura McCallum, niece of the bride, dressed in white, was flower girl, and carried the ring in a basket of daffodils. The wedding party afterwards sat down to a sumptuous repast, and then spent a happy and pleasant time during the rest of the evening. The many useful presents (including cheques) received by both bride and groom testified to the esteem in which they are held by their friends. The groom's present to the bride was a gold chain and locket.

LINDSAY—CLARKE.

At 2.30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, March 15th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wrigglesworth, Main street, east, Shelburne, Rev. W. A. Potter, B.A., B.D., performed the ceremony that united in marriage Mr. Worthington Harold Lindsay and Miss Sarah Eva Clarke. The duties of bridesmaid were performed by Miss Pearl Clarke, of Hanover, sister of the bride, and those of groomsman by Mr. Albert Aiken, of Allenford. The bride's dress was ivory satin and her going away gown brown broadcloth with hat to match. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents, among them being an oak table and vase from the choir of the Methodist Church, and a casserole from the Epworth League. The happy couple left on the evening train for Toronto and other points. On their return they will reside north of the town. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future happiness and prosperity. Among the out of town guests at the wedding were:—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bartleman, Miss Alcinda Taylor, Miss Irene Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe, Mr. and Mrs. Brocklebank, Mrs. S. B. Clarke, Miss Emma Clarke, Miss Pearl Clarke, Hanover; Miss Lydia Clarke, Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Lindsay, Miss Rebie Lindsay, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lindsay, Grand Valley; Miss Annie Clarke, Orangeville; Miss Edna Fewster, Conover; Mr. Albert H. Aiken, Allenford.—Economist.

KERR—JOHNSTON.

A very happy and interesting event took place last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston, 14th line, East Garafraxa, when their only daughter, Aggie, was united in holy wedlock with Mr. Thomas Kerr, of Harris, Sask., but formerly of East Garafraxa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. Scott, of Hillsburg, at five o'clock in the afternoon, in the parlor which had been beautifully decorated with an arch of evergreen and carnations, under which the happy couple took their places to the beautiful strains of the wedding march as rendered by Miss Edna Keith, cousin of the bride. The bride looked charming as she entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was beautifully attired in a handsome white silk gown trimmed with white silk ribbon and overlace, and long bridal veil, carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. After congratulations from all present, an adjournment was made to the spacious dining room where a most delightful wedding breakfast was daintily served. In all about eighty guests were present, being friends and neighbors of the contracting parties, and including the choir of Bethel Church, where the bride had been organist for some time. The choir's gift was a handsome silver tea service. The array of gifts was such as is seldom seen, being very handsome and costly. Conspicuous amongst them was a cheque for a hundred dollars from an uncle of the bride at Portage La Prairie. The evening was enjoyably spent in dancing to the strains of the Dyer-Overland orchestra. After a brief visit among friends here the young couple will leave for their home in Saskatchewan. We extend our most hearty congratulations.—The Beaver.

CONVICT A POET?

William Huckle Claims to Have Written Hymn In Anglican Hymnal.

William Huckle, now serving a seven-year sentence in Kingston Penitentiary for alleged blackmail while engaged in the private detective business in Hamilton, has written the Anglican Archbishop of Ottawa, claiming authorship of hymn 676, "Just for To-Day," in the book of common praise. He says:

"In July, 1878, I was addressing an open-air meeting in Hyde Park, England, my subject being 'Infidelity versus Christianity.' During my remarks I referred to the love of God as exemplified in the provision He had made for man's sustenance. An infidel in the audience interrupted me, asking why we prayed to God for 'daily bread; why not ask for a year's supply?' In reply I told a story of a little girl, who upon being asked the same question replied, 'Because we do not want stale bread, we want fresh bread each day.' Upon reaching my home and thinking about the incident, I composed a leaflet entitled 'Just for To-Day,' which I recited the following Sunday at an open-air meeting in Hyde Park. A gentleman named Counsel, an Australian, who was present, asked me after the meeting if I would have the verses printed, offering to have 20,000 printed if I would agree with him to do so. A printer named Frederick Crawley printed them, and my name was attached. Another 20,000 were printed in 1883, 10,000 were printed in Passaic in 1887, and in 1896 10,000 were printed in Toronto. Each time my name was attached.

"It has also been published in several religious papers, I understand.

"The hymn 676 in 'The Book of Common Praise' is my leaflet, 'Just for To-Day.' The last two verses have been altered. In the original they were rendered as follows:

"Cleanse and receive my parting soul,
Be Thou my stay;
Bid me, if to-day I die
Go home to-day.

"So for to-morrow and its needs
I do not pray—
But keep me, guide me; hold me, Lord
Just for to-day."

"My wife has copies of the original, also of others which I have composed—which you may obtain from her, her address being 1,200 North Goodman street, Rochester, U.S.A.

"I would esteem it a favor if you will enquire into the facts as given above, and communicate with me as to the result. My object in writing to you is that credit may be given where it is due, and I am confident you will feel that if my verses are considered worthy of a place in the 'Book of Common Praise,' the authorship should at least be acknowledged. Mr. Dawson, the inspector, has seen one of the original copies of 'Just for To-Day,' published in 1878 with my name attached."

The letter was forwarded to J. Edmund Jones, Toronto, who acted as secretary of the compilation committee of the hymnal, who will make an enquiry. Although the composition appears as anonymous in the new Anglican hymn book, it has often been attributed to the Right Rev. Samuel Wilberforce, a bishop in the Church of England, who is dead some time.

Huckle may be hoping that his claims to authorship may assist in shortening his prison term, as was the case of a young English poet in St. Paul, Minn., penitentiary recently.

A portion of the road was flooded to the depth of two feet or over and frozen over. His rig broke through the ice and the horses—a spirited team—got frightened and in their struggles one of them jumped the railing at the side of the road. Mr. Holmes got the horses apart, and jumped the one on the ditch side over the railing again. In the excitement one of the team got away and Mr. Holmes was obliged to follow for a mile or further before he succeeded in capturing the equine. When he returned he had to break the ice, wade through the water to his wagon and drag it by hand to a place where he could rehitch.

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box. 2

ALWAYS READY AND WILLING.

Alliston, Mar 14th, 1911.

I have been requested by several to state what I know of J. W. as a soldier at the time of the Northwest Rebellion. My recollection is that John William was promptly on hand ready and willing for anything required of him at that time, and at all times when he was in the corps. I always found J. W. on hand whenever wanted—ready for his duty— a joke or a scrap—and right side up every time.

Old Captain.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Undoubtedly one of the best opportunities, which has been given to the citizens of Orangeville and surrounding country for scientific eye attention, will be available on Saturday, March 25th, at A. T. Howard's Drug Store, Orangeville. Mr. S. W. Hughson, of Toronto, who visits Orangeville several times each year, is credited with being one of the leading Eyesight Specialists of Canada, so one can quickly grasp the importance of having a leader of the profession examine their eyes and prescribe the correct glasses. It is those who have repeatedly been to Opticians without receiving any benefit, who most appreciate the services of a thoroughly reliable Specialist. If you are suffering with your eyes, head or nerves, if you are tired experimenting with unskilled opticians, you are invited to consult this specialist free of charge—S. W. Hughson, Eyesight Specialist.

WOMEN SUFFER.

MORE THAN MEN.

Women have more than their share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity. They must "keep up," in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, etc. Mrs. Edward Calwood, of 123 S. Harold St., Fort William, Ont., says:—

"I suffered with dull, miserable pains, soreness across my back, and in my sides for months. They would catch me so badly at times that I could scarcely move around. I would have dizzy spells and altogether, felt generally run down. After using a number of remedies without finding relief, I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and found them an excellent remedy. They not only relieved me of the miserable pains and soreness in my back, but cured me of my kidney trouble."

Booth's Kidney Pills

Booth's Kidney Pills cure Backache, Dull Shooting Pains, Thick and Cloudy Urine, Gravel or Stone, Rheumatism and all diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

All druggists and dealers 50c. box or postpaid from The R. T. Booth Co., Fort Erie, Ont. If you derive no benefit your money will be refunded. Could we say more? Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

TWO SALMON FOR $1.

Some time ago a fisherman from the Rideau called on one of our citizens and asked him if he wished to purchase two splendid salmon, the price of which he placed at one dollar, and without any hesitation the citizen said, "Of course I do." The fisherman was paid his dollar and departed, going to his sleigh in the yard, but instead of bringing back the salmon he drove away. Later he returned, and no effort being made to hand over the salmon the purchaser was prompted to ask for them. Imagine the surprise of the purchaser when he was told by the fisherman, that the salmon were running around the big island opposite his house at the Rideau and that the citizen might go and get it at any time he felt disposed to do so. The joke was on the buyer, but he took it gracefully, and saw his dollar bill vanishing. —Perth Expositor.

JEW MERCHANT VAMOOSED

A few weeks ago a slick Jew who called himself S. M. Ross penetrated these parts and announced that he had leased a store at the Station for a term of three years. He entered upon an extensive advertising campaign in The Advance, calling himself the Toronto Shoe Company. A couple of weeks ago he departed, announcing that he was going away to purchase goods. Since that date he has not been seen here, and on Monday last Bailiff Wright served an attachment on the goods in the store, on behalf of Lemon Bros., of Owen Sound, to whom the "Toronto Shoe Company" owed a little bill of $85, which Mr. Ross had neglected to settle previous to his hurried departure.

At time of writing we have not learned the valuation of goods left in the store, but so far as we can learn it consists mostly of empty shoe and biscuit boxes and one pair of overalls.

It is the supposition that Mr. Toronto Shoe Company cleaned up quite a tidy little sum from the public and wholesalers, but not nearly so much as he might have done had he been able to hold out through the month of March without getting cold pedal extremities. Locally he did now let any person in for much—a few dollars here and there will cover the local loss. But the wholesalers will not come off so easily. Their losses will probably amount to several hundred at least. He is alleged to have got away with quite a lot of stock which it is actually known he possessed, and which has mysteriously disappeared. It is said that some of the contrivances resorted to make the public believe the stock was still there were unique and very ingenious. The whereabouts of Ross is at present unknown.—Flesherton Advance.

Elora Spring Horse Show will be held on the 13th April.

Mr. Walter C. Anthony, has purchased from Col. W. P. Moore, of West Toronto, what is known in Georgetown as the Moore block.

Concrete Fence Posts Like These are sightly, strong, permanent.

Concrete is, in many localities, cheaper than wood, for fence posts, and more durable than stone, brick or iron. Our book,

"What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete" is sent FREE.

It tells how to make, not only fence posts, but walks, curbs, horse blocks, barn foundations, feeding floors, well curbs, drinking troughs, silos, dairies, and many other farm utilities where cleanliness, strength and durability are required.

Many of these things are simple and inexpensive to make, and may easily be put together in your spare time. The book carefully and simply tells all. The regular price of the book is 50c. We are distributing free, a limited number, however, and charging up the cost to advertising. That's why you get your copy free, if you sign the coupon and send it to-day. Do it now.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McKibbon, who intend moving to Mr. Jeffers' farm immediately, gave a dance to their neighbors on Friday evening last. The excellent music provided and the genial hospitality of the host and hostess caused each and all to feel as they turned homeward in the wee sma' hours, that they had had a thoroughly enjoyable time, for which Mr. and Mrs. McKibbon were responsible.

We are very glad to have Miss Gordon, who has been unable to teach lately, in our midst once more.

Miss Grace East, of Mono Centre, spent Sunday with Miss A. Lennox, of this place.

March is usually the dullest of months to most of us. But yet Hunter White says that the month of March in 1911 is the most enjoyable one he has had for a long time, although the present state of the King's highway is a trifling inconvenient, no doubt.

Although the roads were in an almost impassable condition, yet Mr. Fowlie did not fail to appear on Sunday evening. Quite a large congregation was present to enjoy his very excellent sermon. On account of the bad roads, Mr. Fowlie has thought it more convenient to change the hour of service to 7.30 p.m. for the future.

Miss Laura Henry, of Blount, is spending a few days with Miss Annie Lennox at present.

We understand that Mr. Simpson Allen has hired with Mr. James McKibbon for a year.

Now Robert, why should you wear such a self-satisfied smile these days?

THE CHILDREN'S HAIR.

A Little Extra Care Now May Save After Years of Regret.

Children play so hard that the head perspires and the hair has a tendency to mat and get sticky on the scalp. Soap and water doesn't seem to remove it, but the hair must breathe to be healthy. Just try Nyal's Hirsutone. Rub it into the roots of the hair with the balls of the fingers. The children like it and will ask you to use it. Hirsutone loosens up the accumulated dust and perspiration and the hair and scalp can then be easily and thoroughly cleaned. After it is dried give another application of Hirsutone. After you have used it for a while you will admit it is the best you have ever used. Your Nyall Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it.

Had Eczema In Both Legs

Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended.

Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes:—"My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema."

Thomas Duffy, Jr., had a rather exciting experience while driving home from church in Grand Valley a week ago Sunday morning. When at the culvert at Knox Church, the horse choked from a too-tight collar, and suddenly stopping dropped through the railing and down into the water. Strange to say the cutter suffered scarcely a scratch, and neither the horse nor harness were injured.

ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Fred. Huish, a young man from Stayner, was arrested in Hamilton last Thursday by County Detective A. W. Beardsley on a serious charge preferred by a girl under fourteen years of age. Detective Beardsley returned from Hamilton with his prisoner on Thursday, and on Friday he was taken to Stayner and appeared before P. M. Young. County Crown Attorney Cotter appeared for the Crown, and Mr. John Hood represented the prisoner. After hearing the evidence the Magistrate sent the accused up for trial and refused bail.

The complainant, Harriet Taylor, is a Home girl, who worked for the Huish family on their farm near Stayner. She gave birth to a child on June 18th of last year. Before this time Fred. Huish had left for parts unknown, and he was only located last week by Detective Beardsley. At the time of his arrest he was working in a factory in Hamilton.

The prisoner was brought to Barrie and will remain in the County Jail for several days, when he will appear before His Honor Judge Wismer. He will have the option of a trial in the County Court or at the Spring Assizes in April.—Flesherton Advance.

THE BANNER.

THE BANNER, MARCH 30, 1911

A REMARKABLE DECISION

Last week Judge Larendeau of the Quebec Superior Court pronounced the marriage of a Roman Catholic couple invalid because the marriage ceremony was not performed in accordance with the rules prescribed by the Roman Catholic church. The couple were married by a Methodist minister, occupying a pastoral charge in Montreal, and the marriage seems to have been perfectly valid under the civil law. It would be interesting to learn something of the reasoning by which Judge Larendeau arrived at his remarkable decision. On the surface, the judgment would seem to lend color to the belief that some of the august dignitaries who occupy places on the Bench are very susceptible to the frailities, prejudices and passions that sometimes afflict common, every-day mortals. If this were all, the people of Canada could very well afford to allow this strange and unusual judicial decision to pass unnoticed. The case, unfortunately, has its serious side, for it means that a member of the Canadian judiciary has given endorsement to the objectionable doctrine that the ecclesiastical law of the Church of Rome can override the civil law of Canada. Viewed from this standpoint the situation that the judgment has created is intolerable to every citizen who believes in the supremacy and sovereignity of the State. No moderate thinking Protestant will dispute the right of the Roman Catholic Church to impose certain marriage forms and observances upon the people of that Church. Neither will moderate thinking Protestants seriouly dispute the right of the Church to punish the disobedience of her own people with ecclesiastical penalties, so long as these do not conflict with the civil laws. These are matters that concern and affect Roman Catholics only. But the Church of Rome goes beyond this and claims the right to pass on the validity of marriages that are in accordance with the civil law, but not in accordance with the Church's rules. With the Church occupying this position, it becomes the duty of the State to assert and if necessary take steps to maintain its supremacy. If a Roman Catholic couple or a Roman Catholic and non-Catholic for that matter, see fit to go before a Protestant minister and be made man and wife, it is the duty of the State to protect the sancity of the marriage. The Church of Rome should be made to understand that marriage is recognized in this country as a civil institution and that it must not presume to attack or impugn the validity of any marriage entered into in compliance with the civil law. An illustration will serve to show our readers the absurdity and unreasonableness of the position the Church of Rome occupies. The Orange Order has seen fit to impose certain restrictions upon its members with respect to marriage. What would be thought and said if the Grand Orange Lodge should one of these days decree that any marriages which members of the Society may happen to contract regardless of these restrictions were invalid and of no effect. This is exactly the position the Church of Rome has taken—and taken too with very little more reason than the Grand Orange Lodge would have for taking a similar position. The Orange Order may expel the member who disregards the restrictions its constitution imposes. The Roman Catholic Church can excommunicate the Catholic who disregards its marriage laws. Neither the one nor the other has any right to question the validity of any marriage that is in other respects lawful.

A LOCAL S. S. ASSOCIATION

Rev. E. W. Halpenny, B.A., addressed a representative gathering of the Sabbath School Teachers and Workers of the four Protestant churches of the town in the Prayer Meeting Room of St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday night. Much of the address related to the need for systematic Bible study in the church, and the wonderful growth and influence of the Adult Bible Class Movement. Mr. A. Hill, President of the local Teacher Training Class, occupied the chair. At the close of the meeting a local branch of the Ontario Sunday School Association was formed with the following officers:—President, Mr. A. Hill; Vice-President, Mr. W. M. Green; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss B. Lathwell; Executive, the Officers, Pastors of the town, the Superintendents of the Presbyterian, Baptist and Anglican Schools, and Mr. W. G. THE MARITIME GRIEVANCE.

The April issue of Maclean's Magazine has an interesting article on the subject, "The Maritime Grievance and Senate Reform." The burden of the grievance of the provinces down by the sea is the steady decrease in their parliamentary representation. When the three seaboard Provinces first entered Confederation they were represented in the House of Commons as follows:—New Brunswick, 16; Nova Scotia, 19; Prince Edward Island, 6. After the last redistribution, based on the census of 1901, the representation stood:—New Brunswick, 13; Nova Scotia, 18, and Prince Edward Island, 4. Thus there has been an actual decrease in the number of their representatives as well as a proportionate decrease, owing to the large increase in the representation from Ontario and the Western Provinces. The two influences that have brought about this decline in the representation from the seaboard provinces have been the growth of Quebec and the growth of the West. With respect to Quebec the Maritime Provinces urge that they are not being dealt with in the manner contemplated by the Quebec Conference and point to the fact that, by the change made in her boundaries during the eighties, the territory of Quebec has been made considerably larger. They claim that in calculating the population of the province for representation purposes account should be taken only of the people who live in the territory that was recognized as Quebec at the time of Confederation. The Maritime Provinces also make the claim that the population of the West should not be considered in allotting their representation, or, in other words, that in this connection "Canada" should be interpreted as meaning the five original provinces. The situation is full of difficulties. Any readjustment along the lines advocated by the protesting Provinces would necessarily increase the number of representatives in the House of Commons, and would also mean, (which is far more serious) that a voter in one of these three Provinces would count for more than one voter in Ontario, or Quebec, or any of the Western provinces. This would give rise to another grievance, just as real and as substantial as the existing grievance.

The remedy that the writer, Mr. Carman, Parliamentary correspondent to the Montreal Star, suggests, is the reconstruction of the Senate on the basis of equal representation of the provinces. He would place the appointive power to the Second Chamber in the hands of the provinces, and in this way make the Senate "representative of something except past and present administrations" and the government more truly federal in character. Mr. Carman admits that this change would necessarily bring the federal political parties actively into the arena of provincial politics and would involve the surrendering by the Dominion government of all the Senate patronage. On the other hand he thinks the creation of a Senate, constituted in the manner suggested, would effectually remove the present grievance of the Maritime Provinces—for, "if each of them had the same weight in the Senate as one of the larger Provinces, surely each would be content to take its natural position in a House of Commons which is based on representation by population." The re-arrangement, it is also contended, would give the Senate a stronger position in the government machinery of the country than it occupies to-day, and would enable the small provinces to place a strong check on any injustice on the part of the lower chamber.

Mr. Carman's article is both timely and suggestive. Apart altogether from the remedying of the grievance of the Maritime Provinces, the proposals for increasing the usefulness of the Senate are worthy of careful consideration.

"WISE AND OTHERWISE."

Interesting Lecture by Rev. C. O. Johnston on Monday Night.

The programme furnished at the meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist Church on Monday night included a lecture on the subject, "Wise and Otherwise" by Rev. C. O. Johnston, a well-known Toronto divine. The lecture was replete with wise and earnest advice, interlarded with enough of the humorous to make the address both interesting and amusing. A good-sized audience was present, the basement being comfortably filled.

The lecturer referred to man as being a "little lower than the angels," and having five senses, which some men did not use as well as an animal would. Man's inconsistency was illustrated by the statement that if a dog growled at him he would seek to pat and coax the animal into good humor, but if it was another man who growled he would be up in arms against him at once. What humanity needed was more consideration and more good nature. Mr. Johnston divided the human family into brunette and blonde types. The former, he averred, had more firmness and decision in their characters than fair-complexioned persons. The speaker made light of the idea of being able to read a person's future by the lines on the hands, but expressed great faith in the face, the nose, the mouth and the chin as indicators of character. "The man with the large nose was surely meant to be the man of large attainments," said the speaker, referring to Lincoln, Gladstone and other prominent men as examples. "If you want a man to dig a drain," he continued, "don't hire the man with the long fingers and slender hands, but take the man with the short, stout hand and you'll have the right man for the job—but don't ask that man to take a position as penman, but take the man with slender hands in preference."

The lecture was the final one of a series given under the auspices of the League, and Mr. Johnston easily sustained his reputation as one of the very best lecturers of to-day. Mr. Will Kearns, President of the League, occupied the chair. A short musical programme was provided, consisting of a piano solo by Miss Velma Youmans, a solo by Miss Jennie Irwin, and a duet by Messrs. Frost and Harding. Miss Wright acted as accompanist.

MR. JOS. MEREDITH.

Mr. Jos. Meredith, a well-known resident of this town, died at his home on First Avenue early on Sunday morning. Deceased was taken ill with pneumonia of a very severe type a week ago Saturday. The physicians recognized from the first that his case was very serious and did not hold out very encouraging hopes of his recovery. Deceased, who was 61 years of age, was born and spent his boyhood in Innisfil township. He came to Orangeville about twenty years ago and followed the occupation of live stock buyer until two or three years ago. Prior to his illness he was in the employ of Mr. J. Robinson, Master and Chaplain of Harris Lodge. The pallbearers, who were all members of the Masonic Order, were Messrs. E. D. Barber, J. A. Lovell, Fred. Hill, Wm. Dorrington, Andrew Adams and J. M. Dods.

DR. W. J. HARE.

The death of Dr. W. J. Hare, a well-known Detroit medical practitioner, occurred at his home in that city on Thursday, following a short illness due to heart trouble. Dr. Hare was born and spent his boyhood near Violet Hill. He received his High School education in Orangeville, subsequently taking a course in medicine in Ann Arbor University. He graduated from that seat of learning about 1885, and began the practice of his profession in Leonard, Mich. About seventeen years ago he sought a larger field in Detroit, where he speedily built up a large and lucrative practice. He is survived by a widow but no family. Mrs. Hare is a daughter of the late John Robb, of Orangeville, and a niece of Mr. George Robb, barrister. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, reaching here on Monday morning. The funeral was held from S. Wallace's undertaking rooms to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Harper conducting the burial service. The pallbearers were two brothers, J. D. Hare, Toronto, and Robert Hare, Chicago, Charles Robb, Albion; W. M. Green, Dr. T. H. Henry and Dr. Carson, Orangeville. The large number of exquisite floral offerings that accompanied the casket bore eloquent testimony to the love and esteem of friends in Detroit.

WILL BE DIVIDED.

Camp at Niagara To Be Conducted in Two Periods.

More Attention To Be Given to Musketry and Manoeuvres.

It is understood that following out further the suggestions made by General Sir John French in his report on the Canadian militia and approved by Major-General Mackenzie, Chief of General Staff, the training of troops at Niagara camp this year will be divided into two periods of two weeks each.

In the first period, it is said, the 4th Infantry Brigade, consisting of the 23rd, 31st, 35th and 36th Regiments, and the Provincial Cavalry Brigade consisting of the 1st Hussars, the 24th Grey's Horse, and the 25th Brant Dragoons, will occupy the grounds and train together.

In the two weeks immediately following the 3rd and 5th Infantry Brigades, consisting of the 12th, 20th and 34th Regiments, and the 37th, 39th, 44th, and 77th respectively; and the Cavalry Brigade, consisting of the Governor-General's Body Guard, the 2nd Dragoons, and the 9th Mississauga Horse, will train.

The reason for the dividing up of the camp, which will take place in June, is primarily the lack of ground available. In former years the large number of troops trained at Niagara have been very much cramped for room. It was hoped that the new grounds on the lake shore road would be available for use this year, which would have relieved the congestion, but it is understood they will not be in shape, owing to the fact that attempts to obtain water fit for drinking purposes by drilling have so far proved unsuccessful. The water found by this means is found to be somewhat salty. The project may be entertained of installing pumps and bringing the water for the camps from the lake in pipes.

Another decided advantage accruing from having a smaller number of men train at one time is the possibility in so doing of having a staff of instructors from the permanent force to direct the training. With one brigade of infantry on the grounds there will be available one permanent instructor for almost every company.

It is the purpose to have the cavalry and infantry brigades become used to working together, and more attention will be paid this year than formerly to musketry and manoeuvres. The artillery will, as formerly, train at Petawawa.

GOING TO THE CORONATION.

A contingent representative of the Canadian militia will be sent to England in June to attend the Coronation of King George. Only three men will be selected from each regiment and under the circumstances the honor of being one of the picked men is a coveted one. No. 7 Company, Shelburne, of the 36th Regiment, will have the distinction of sending one of its members, and the choice has fallen on Color-Sergeant John E. Spence, of Whittington, a son of ex-Reeve John S. Spence, of Amaranth. Color-Sergeant Spence has taken his Officer's course at Stanley Barracks, and holds a certificate as a qualified drill instructor. He is a soldierly young officer and a gentleman in the best sense of the term. The Banner congratulates him unreservedly upon his appointment and has no hesitancy in stating that he will do his company and regiment credit.

WATERY BLOOD IN THE SPRING.

How to Get New Health and New Strength at This Season.

Even the most robust find the winter months trying to their health Confinement indoors, often in overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the house, the office, the shops and the school—takes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery or clogged with impurities. Some people have headaches and a feeling of languor; others are low spirited and nervous; still others have pimples and skin eruptions; whole some get up in the morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order, and that a medicine is needed. Many people rush to purgative medicines in the spring. This is a mistake. You cannot cure these troubles with a medicine that gallops through your system and leaves you weaker still. What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine that will enrich the blood and sooth the jangled nerves, and the one always reliable tonic and blood-builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weakness and ills but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to bad blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which strengthens every nerve, every organ and every part of the body, and makes weak, ailing people bright, happy and strong. Mrs. Jas. McDonald, Harcourt, N.B., says: "In my opinion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do allthat is claimed for them. My system was run down, and I was so weak I could hardly do my work, and taking care of my baby added to my difficulties. I used a few boxes of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and they made me feel like my own self. I very cheerfully recommend the Pills to all who are weak or ailing."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AN EXCELLENT CONCERT.

Singers and Players Club Furnish a Delightful Programme.

A fair sized audience attended the concert given in the Town Hall last Thursday night under the auspices of the Charity Society. The entertainment was provided by a quartette of young men, who style themselves, "The Singers and Players Club, of Chicago," an organization of which we had not previously heard. After a few well chosen introductory remarks by Dr. G. H. Campbell, the programme opened with a vocal quartette, "Boys of the Old Brigade," which was rendered with a fine dash and verve, and was well received. Mr. H. K. Murray, who is a finished pianist, and played the accompaniments throughout with care and discrimination, has a fine tenor voice, and was heard to advantage in two solos, his second number, "The Rosary," being sung with the necessary feeling and pathos. Mr. J. M. Wood is the cellist of the Company, and he is undoubtedly an accomplished performer on this popular and difficult instrument. Whether in the concert pieces, or as a soloist, his work was characterized by a delicacy of phrasing, precision, and good tonal effects, which were at once recognized by those who appreciated the difficulties of the interpretations. In an entrancing little gavotte, by David Capper, arranged as a trio, for cello and first and second violins, Mr. Woods playing had peculiar vivacity and sprightliness. Mr. A. Kurtz sang several bass solos and his first offering, "Blow Winter Winds," received and deserved instant recognition. Tosti's ever favorite, "Good-bye," was given by this artist with fine feeling, and a humorous trifle, "Looks and Eyes," by Weatherly, was the vocalist's concluding number. Mr. R. E. McConnell gave a musical reading, "In the Days of Once Upon a Time," which was one of the finest pieces of the evening, and subsequently sang "The Big Drum Major,'j which drew vociferous applause. Mr. McConnell has a fine sense of the humor, which characterizes the Irish. A number of unaccompanied part songs were given as quartettes. Here the Company showed to real advantage, exhibiting all the vocal tricks of technique, which can be displayed in concerted pieces for four voices. The entertainment was throughout entirely satisfactory and artistic, and the modest prices charged and the worthy objects of the Society should have crowded the hall to the doors. Programmes were not provided, so mistakes in allusion to the numbers may be excused. The stage was nicely decorated, but the barn like interior of our town hall does not lend itself readily to displays of oriental magnificence. The ladies of the Society were out in force and were warmly congratulated on the pleasure they had afforded to those privileged to be present, in securing so excellent an attraction. The piano used, was a Bell Upright Grand, furnished by Mr. Geo. E. Reid, the local agent.

Face Sores and Eruptions.

Zam-Buk Will Quickly Heal.

The approach of Spring finds many people with unsightly face sores, eruptions, boils, etc. In this connection Zam-Buk is invaluable. An illustration of the way in which it cures even the most serious and chronic cases of eruptions, sores and ulcers, is provided by Mr. R. H. Barker, of Glencairn, Ont. He says:

"I never could have believed that any remedy could cure so quickly and at the same time so effectively as Zam-Buk cured me. My face began to be covered with a kind of rash, which itched and irritated. This rash, then turned to sores, which discharged freely and began to spread. I first tried one thing and then another, but nothing seemed to do me much good, and the eruption got worse and worse until my face was just covered with running sores.

"Apart from the pain (which was very bad), my face was such a terrible sight that I was not fit to go out. This was my state when someone advised me to try Zam-Buk. I got a supply, and within a week I could see that the sores were rapidly healing. A little longer, and Zam-Buk had healed them completely, and my skin was as clear as if I had never had a sore. We shall never again be without Zam-Buk in the house."

Zam-Buk is unequalled for Spring rashes, eruptions, children's sores, scalp diseases, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, eczema, tetter, piles, cuts burns, bruises, and skin injuries and diseases generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations. Zam-Buk Soap, which may be had from any druggist at 25c. a tablet, should be used instead of ordinary soap in all cases of eruptions and skin diseases.

A MULMUR BLAST.

To the Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your spicy paper in which to thank ou for giving Captain McLaren space to write a few lines in my behalf. There is no need of my going any further as the Captain is well-known and his word is honor.

My friends and neighbors advised me to take no notice of "Buster" as he was only astride of the pole horse of destruction. As to this highly cultured and aesthetic writer, who has so shamefully tried to dishonor my name, I may say that the highest ambition he is master of seems to be to try and spread scandal under an assumed name. Judging from his scribble, his education must have been sadly neglected, and his brain power seems to be of the same avoirdupois as the air he breathes. He apparently imagines that there is a dark cloud suspended over my head, but see it now with its silver lining. Who is under the dark cloud now?

My father and mother came to this locality 64 years ago and in that long period they have never done a dishonorable act in word, deed or action. Nor can any man point the finger of scorn at my brothers and sisters. "Buster" has told you what I am—that honorable name I will defend with my pen. Mr. "Buster," if I find you out, I hope you have as good a record for I will dig deep. Mr. Fred McNabb told my son George and Percy Ladd that I blamed him for doing the writing, adding that he would take his oath that he had not written the article, neither was it written in their house. So far, so good! I believe him, but it is a grand thing to live above reproach. "A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches." I presume that I may class "Buster's" poems with those of Shakespeare, Tennyson, Longfellow and Burns. At present, unfortunately perhaps, the people around here do not seem to appreciate them.

For "Buster's" informatiom I may state that one Sunday night in March 1885, I was at church in Rosemont, when the officer arrived and sent word in to us to come out. There were just two of us there and the officer instructed us to leave for Alliston by 11 o'clock Monday morning. He told me he had to go to Stanton, Mansfield, Everett and Lisle to warn the boys there. I went home and went to bed. Next morning after breakfast I gathered some underclothing together, got my horse and cutter and started on my way. I took Mr. Alex. McDowell along to bring my horse home again. When we reached Alliston one of the first sights that met my eyes was some of the boys in red coats. We put the horse away and I went into the hotel where I talked and fooled around and had a good time for awhile. With five others I then started for the armoury. The officer in charge told us there were only eight men wanted. They had already picked out their suits, he informed us, adding the remark, "They are going to the barracks in Toronto to take the places of the men who are going to the West." The officer then called eleven or twelve of us and said he wished we would not stand around as the eight poor fellows might feel badly. We accordingly shook hands and slipped away home. I hope this explanation will be quite satisfactory to the poor, anonymous scribbler, who has been endeavoring to malign me.

I take three local newspapers, and I appreciate them and the news they contain from all over the counties of Simcoe and Dufferin. There is nothing but news and good common sense that anybody would like to read except from Rosemont. When you feel like writing again "Buster," sign your name to it, and then I will hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of so much of your space, I remain,

Yours Faithfully,
J. W. ARMSTRONG.

P. S.—At the society ball at Moore's a few weeks ago, I understand that I was blamed for writing up the couple who were noticed hand in hand all night. I neither wrote, nor caused the item to be written. The first I knew about it was when I saw it in print. J. W. A.

Nerves Were Exhausted

Wants others to know of her remarkable cure by use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Mrs. Martin's condition as described in her letter below gives some idea of the extraordinary reconstructive power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Such cures as this have placed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food where it stands today as the most popular and most effective nerve restorative that money will buy.

Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes,—"Before I began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor in a faint. I could not even sweep the floor without fainting and my nervous system seemed to be entirely exhausted.

"The use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has built up my system wonderfully so that I can do my housework and washing without any trouble, and I want others to know about it." Insist on getting the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cts. a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PRIMROSE.

Well, Mr. Editor, I was intending to give you a brief account of that debate on Reciprocity in the hall here, but some of our learned heads are having such a discussion in the columns of the Free Press, that I decided to remain silent for fear of being hauled over the coals. After the boxes had been all sampled the young folk had a splendid hop. Before dispersing I had an invitation from Jim Dynes, to accompany him home. I accepted and we started immediately, going by Uncle Charlie's. Seeing a light in the parlor, we thought Joe Lindsay should have some mercy on the coal oil. Arriving at our destination we had a splendid time for the next few days. One evening Herb Fines happened along and told us he had made Alf. Galbraith go some for his box at the social. A few evenings later we started for a drive and to my surprise landed at Camilla, where Jim seemed quite at home. Just then I heard quite a noise coming from somewhere south of the burg and upon going to investigate I found it was the Shelburne hockey boys who had upset down a steep bank and were trying to gather themselves together again. As the driver had lost his cider I took the reins for awhile and we reached the northern burg without any further mishap, except that the horses shied when we met Wilfred Turner with his small girl coming home from attending a concert in town. Having received an invitation to several parties that are coming off in the near future, I decided to put up at the Temperance House, where I met my old friend, Garfield Gilbert, from Mansfield, who, I found, was making his headquarters in town for the time being.

BISHOP DUMOULIN DEAD.

Right Rev. John Philip DuMoulin, M.A., D.C.L., Bishop of Niagara, passed away about 1 a.m. yesterday morning at the See House in Hamilton. He had been in failing health recently, but only a few days ago was able to go out walking. He was 78 years of age and was a native of Dublin. He became rector of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, in 1882, and Bishop of the Diocese of Niagara in 1896.

Bishop DuMoulin had many warm friends and admirers in Orangeville, particularly in St. Mark's Church, among whose people the news of his demise created profound sorrow. A memorial service will be held in St. Mark's at 11 a.m. on Sunday.

LAUREL

We are having springlike weather at last. March gives promise of going out like a lamb. The farmers are busy getting ready to commence spring operations.

Mr. J. Banks' boys left for the West this week with two carloads of stock and implements. Mr. and Mrs. Banks will follow shortly. Harry Cooney and Wm. Goodfellow also started West this week.

Mr. H. Maltby is bringing home a fine stallion this week—the best yet, Herb says.

John Maltby, Jr., says he is going ditching with his father this year.

Mr. Geo. Young, our new carpenter, is commencing work. Anyone wanting a job done in his line should give him a call. Mr. Young has already taken a number of contracts, among them one from R. Fife for a driving shed and repairs to his barn, one from Geo. E. Gordon to help build a new implement shed, and smaller contracts from Geo. Nelson and R. Curry.

We hear that Mrs. Gray and family are going to move to London in the near future.

There will be a good opening here for a doctor now that Dr. Gray is going to leave.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Cooney are back home for a few days visiting their son, Harry, before he leaves for the West.

Mrs. George Nelson gave a very enjoyable social evening a few nights ago as a farewell to some of the members of her Sunday School class, who are leaving for the West shortly.

Mr. Will Ewing intends to move down to his new farm shortly. He will have to make haste and look up a helpmeet, now that he is getting so far from home.

Our teacher, Miss Gray, is giving a great deal of extra time to the entrance class just now. It will not be her fault if a goodly number do not pass the examination.

Rev. T. R. White is visiting with Toronto friends this week.

L. O. L. 330 held a very successful Royal Arch meeting on Friday night. Two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of this sublime and exalted degree.

CAMILLA INSTITUTE.

The regular meeting of the Camilla branch of the Dufferin Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Robt. Thompson, on Wednesday afternoon, April 5th, at 2.30 o'clock. Subjects are "Easter" and "Scripture Reading." Everybody is invited.

An explosion in the cellar of Hambly's hardware store, Barrie, was responsible for a $17,000 fire. V. Hambly, nephew of the proprietor, was very badly burned about the head by the explosion. The loss to stock is estimated at $15,800, on which there is $9,000 insurance. The damage to the building amounted to about $2,500, which is covered by insurance.

WALDEMAR.

(Too late for last week.)

Wood sawing seems to be the order and chief topic of the day.

We wonder when some of our rising generation will have more sense than to go and "hoot and holler" around people's houses at all hours of the night. Hope they will take warning and behave themselves better from this out.

Some of our citizens seem to believe in witchcraft, or else they jump at conclusions regarding the welfare of our little burg.

All our town now lacks in the way of officials for the management of its public affairs is a Justice of the Peace, a Poundkeeper and a Dog Taxer. It is about time steps were taken to secure the appointment of these officials.

Mr. C. Johnston is the guest of Mr. Jas. McFadzean, of Waldemar.

Walter Tolton, of Tolton Bros., of Maple Valley, has been spending a few days in town.

Quite a number of the farmers are taking advantage of what little snow there is at present to haul their sawlogs and do other teaming.

The social held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society was a grand success.

It would be a good idea if some of our business men and citizens would call a meeting and talk over matters regarding our station for the coming summer months. We should make sure that the C. P. R. will keep a man at the station all the year round to look after freight, passenger and other business.

Miss Ida Irwin, of Toronto, has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. Tolton.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reilly were the guests of Mr. Chas. Miller over Sunday.

Wm. Gamble left for the West on Saturday.

HAIR HEALTH.

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly indorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00 Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

MONO MILLS.

On Thursday afternoon of last week "The packing of the hamper" marked the closing of another year's work of the branch of the Women's Auxiliary, in connection with the Anglican Church here. The contents of the hamper, all made and prepared by the members, including clothing and other necessities, will be forwarded to the mission rooms in Toronto for distribution among the needy mission fields.

Mr. Wm. Jackson has purchased 50 acres of land, being the n e ½ lot 24, 5th con., Caledon, from Mr. Andrew McDonald, of Woodstock. The price paid was about $1800. Mr. Jackson has also purchased the house and lot in the village from Mr. James Arlow.

The last two meetings of the local Farmers' Institute Club have been highly successful as demonstrations in judging of cattle and horses. At the February meeting Mr. John E. Jackson took up a practical demonstration on cattle, using, to illustrate, a thoroughbred Shorthorn calf from his own stable. At the March meeting Messrs. Wm. McKinley and James Haffey took up the demonstration on horses, using to illustrate, a fine yearling colt, belonging to Mr. Joseph Haffey, in the draft class, and Mr. Ernest Goodeve's driver in the carriage class. An almost perfect specimen of roadster colt belonging to Mr. James Haffey was also demonstrated on. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, April 5th, beginning at 7.30. At this meeting Mr. Charles Crombie will give an address on the subject, "Soil Preparation," and Mr. Geo. Lee will give an address on the subject of "Seed Selection." These are both interesting and seasonable subjects at this time of the year and will certainly make an interesting discussion. The meeting will be held in the Orange Hall. All those, who are in any way interested in farming, are invited.

Mr. Robert Arlow will hold an auction sale on April 7th. See posters for particulars.

Mr. Thos. Brinsmead, of Webbwood, Ont., visited friends in the village and vicinity this week.

The regular meeting of the Literary Society was held at the usual time and place. The first part of the programme consisted of the debate on the subject, "Resolved that the Women of To-Day Work Harder Than the Women of Fifty Years Ago." On the affirmative side Miss Taylor, Miss Loudry, Miss Mason and Miss McCulloch made a strong argument along the lines of the anxiety, worry, ambition and slavery to fashion, which is the result of modern life. On the negative side Miss Rawn, Miss Dowling, Miss Hillock and Miss Donaldson paid an eloquent and worthy tribute to the hardship, the industry, devotion and simplicity of the life of the women of fifty years ago. The judges found it impossible to agree on an unanimous decision, so the Chairman declared the debate a draw. Miss Annie Holmes, of Blount, kindly consented to act as Judge for the Society, Mr. J. G. Hassard being appointed for the affirmative, and Mr. J. A. Vance for the negative. Rev. W. G. Marshall occupied the chair. At next meeting the subject will be "Resolved that Farmers are more Independent than Mechanics." Messrs. Geo. McCulloch, Fred. Guest, Fred. Elin and Harold Dowling will take up the affirmative, and Messrs. R. J. Donaldson, Austin Fagan, Mercer Mason and Hazel Fagan will take up the negative. Meeting on Tuesday evening in the Methodist Church at 7.30 o'clock.

CHARLESTON.

It is our sad duty to chronicle the sudden demise of Mrs. St. John, whose death occurred at the residence of her brother-in-law at Tilbury early on Saturday. The remains were conveyed from this station on Monday morning to Mr. Thomas Smith's from whence the funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to Alton cemetery. Revs. S. R. Robinson officiated at the house, and also at the grave.

Miss Edna Dodds, who has been somewhat indisposed of late, owing to an attack of quinsy, is now, we are glad to state, convalescent.

Deputy-Reeve Quinn attended a special meeting of the County Council recently, and called on our old friend, Governor Wilson, who has been in rather indifferent health of late, and found him cheerful and hopeful. Mr. Wilson hopes to be out before long. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Simon Kearns, Jr., is home on a short visit and also taking a rest from his labors for The Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. Homer Hillyard was a delegate from this library board to the convention recently held in Orangeville.

Miss Wells, of Grand Valley, is visiting her friend, Miss Mabel Sanderson, this week.

Spring is here, and everybody is beginning to show signs of new life.

Some of our farmers are making maple syrup these days and report a good "run" for so early in the season.

Mr. Joseph Nesbitt has returned home after spending a week with friends in the Royal City. What's the attraction, Joe?

Mr. W. J. Stubbs has added a new line of business to his trade. Boots and shoes are now quickly and neatly repaired in the rear of his general store. This will be a great convenience to this community, as we have long felt the need of a good man on the bench. We wish him success.

Reciprocity is the main topic of discussion here now. Most of our citizens have expressed themselves as opposed to the measure, and we hope that the eloquence of our village blacksmith will soon convert the few who are prone to take issue with him on this vexed question.

Miss Edith Patterson has had a rather sudden attack of la grippe, accompanied by symptoms of pneumonia. We hope for a speedy recovery.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 6 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish. W. THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. Ollie Woodall, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relieif you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

BEWARE OF SWINDLERS.

Don't Deal With Unknown Parties.

Our readers should keep their weather eye open for fakirs and swindlers as they are numerous and work every scheme to catch people. The latest swindle worked by a sharper in one of the cities recently is an apt illustratiion of the ability of these dead beat fakirs to catch not only the ignorant, but all others who are not constantly on their guard. This swindler walked into a jewellery store and selecting a $125 watch left a check for $600 drawn on an outtown bank, with instructions that the watch be regulated and that he would come after it and his change a week later. On returning he was informed that his check was no good. "Well, that's strange," he said. "It's the second time the bank has done that on me. But here's your money for your watch." He counted out $125 in currency and started for the door. "Oh, yes," he said, turning around, "you had better give me that check." It was willingly handed over to him. On the back was the jeweller's endorsement. With this the man went to the bank, got it cashed, and was never heard of afterwards.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Queen's Hotel, on Saturday, April 8.

The Methodist parsonage, Kenilworth, is now under quarantine, owing to Carmen, the little son of Rev. and Mrs. Low, having contracted scarlet fever.

HER SECRET.

Why She Always Looked So Young.

Everyone refers to her as one of the most attractive women in town. It wasn't her features, for while regular, they were not unusual. But the charm lay in the head of splendid, vigorous hair that made a veritable crown. It had that peculiar lustre and the sun gave it an added brilliance—you couldn't look at her without unconsciously commenting on the beauty of her hair.

When asked how she kept it so beautiful she replied that it was no secret, simply proper shampooing, regular combing and the conscientious use of Hirsutone. She admitted it had not always been in that condition, but that she found Hirsutone the best thing she ever got for the hair. It gave the scalp such a cool, refreshed feeling, and the hair was so much easier to dress after its use.

There are plenty of heads that would be just as attractive for Hirsutone soon brings the hair and scalp into good condition.

Your Nyal Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it, and every woman owes it to herself to try it. Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Orangeville.

BACK AT BUCKINGHAM

FAMOUS PILE IS AGAIN THE HOME OF ROYALTY.

The Residence Which Has Been a Source of Worry to So Many Monarchs Is to Be Occupied Again This Reign After a Long Spell in the Hands of the Workmen Who Have Tried Hard to Make It Comfortable.

King George and Queen Mary returned to town for the opening of Parliament, and took up their residence at Buckingham Palace, the interior of which has been in the hands of workmen for so long. To foreign countries the Crown of England is always associated with St. James' Palace, says Modern Society, which, at any rate, has many historical associations, rather than the dingy and ugly palace at the head of the Processional Road, and of which the Duke of Wellington once said that "notwithstanding all the expense that had been incurred in connection with it, there is no sovereign who is so ill-lodged as the king of this country." And the words are nearly as true to-day as they were when they were spoken eighty years ago.

Buckingham Palace is relatively modern, and stands on the site of the garden of mulberry trees planted by James I. in a vain endeavor to establish the culture of silk. Under the Restoration it was a place of popular resort where Dryden, the poet, used "to go and eat mulberry tarts." Pope, too, was a frequent visitor.

Adjoining the gardens was Goring House, owned by Lord George Goring, who was keeper of the gardens. On his death the house was purchased by Lord Arlington, who built a larger mansion, and called it Arlington House. He afterwards purchased the gardens from the crown, giving there the first "tea" party ever held in this country, tea until that time being a beverage quite unknown, and it is reported that he gave "three guineas a pound" for it.

In 1703 Arlington House was demolished, and on the site the Duke of Buckingham and his wife, a natural daughter of James II., erected a mansion, to which they gave the name of Buckingham House, and in their time it was often the scene of many encounters between this lady and her particular enemy and rival, Sarah Churchill, first Duchess of Marlborough. Eventually the house was purchased by King George III. and settled upon his consort as her special property, being then known as "the Queen's House."

The royal owners took possession in 1763, and it was there that all their children, with the exception of their eldest son, were born. The life of the royal couple was homely and domestic in the extreme at Buckingham House, and Miss Burney's Memoirs are eloquent on the subject of the spankings administered there to the royal children.

Buckingham House, however, saw very little of the royal family after the insanity of George III. and when George IV. came to the throne the palace was in a very dilapidated condition. It was the new king's intention to build a new palace, but owing to the difficulty of obtaining the money from Parliament for such a purpose King George decided to "enlarge and repair" the residence, and make it suitable for his sovereign rank. King George's "repairs," however, were of a very elaborate description, and were to have been carried out under the direction of th famous architect Nash.

But the king was so constantly changing the designs that by the time of his death, in 1830, the so-called "repairs" had swallowed up something like $5,000,000, and the palance uninhabitable, and the original red brick building was completely lost in the web of new buildings of stone, stucco, and marble.

It was in this condition that William IV. found the palace, and the place was the cause of no end of profanity on the part of that monarch, who would have nothing whatever to do with it, and it was not until Queen Victoria came to the throne that it became once more a royal residence. The young queen absolutely refused to take up her residence at the gloomy, tragedy-haunted St. James' Palace, so she decided to make George IV.'s unfinished palace her town residence, reserving St. James' Palace for all the ceremonial work of the court.

The palace was then a somewhat low building, with a front and two wings around three sides of a courtyard. But in 1848 Queen Victoria added another storey, and built the east wing, and transformed the old conservatory into a private chapel.

In 1851 further alterations were made and the marble arch at the entrance transferred to Hyde Park, where it remains, as every Londoner knows, to this day. During the Crimean War the queen added the truly magnificent state ballroom, and the Prince Consort laid out the beautiful grounds in the rear of the palace.

So long as the Prince Consort lived the royal family spent some time there each year, but when he died the place was once again left to the servants, and for forty years, with the exception of a visit now and again for a few hours, the palace remained practically closed.

When the late King Edward came to the throne much was done to improve the palace, and once again it became the town residence of the King of England, but in spite of all the ingenuity brought to bear on its improvement it still remains an uncomfortable residence. Now, once more, the workmen, under skilled advisers, have tried to make it a comfortable home for the royal family, but to all outward appearance it still remains a disgrace as the residence of the sovereign of the greatest Empire in the world.

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

CEMENT AND CEMENT-BLOCK SILOS.

We were interested to learn, a fortnight since, in the vicinity of Ayr, Ont., that quite a few silos are going up on the farms of cattle-feeders, and this is only representative of what is occurring in other progressive beef-making sections. As to kind of silo, there is some difference of opinion. For those who have not their buildings permanently arranged, the stave silo is to be recommended; some prefer it even as a permanent silo, and, when one uses good material, fitted together and well put up, it gives satisfaction. However, the majority of those who have their buildings permanently arranged prefer a cement wall; others prefer hollow cement blocks, which, though more expensive, look better, and to some extent reduce the trouble from freezing in cold weather. A few comparisons of the cost of cement-block, and solid silos in the vicinity of Ayr will be read with interest.

John W. Maus has had a cement-block silo put up, 14 feet in diameter inside, by 35 feet high, for $325. In addition, Mr. Maus hauled the gravel, dug the excavation, and supplied the water. The blocks are nine inches thick, about twenty inches long, and eight inches deep. Mr. Maus filled his silo last fall with 7¾ acres of Whitecap Yellow Dent corn, refilling once after it had settled three feet. It settled again about eight feet before feeding commenced in December.

A solid cement silo of the same height as Mr. Maus's, but only 12 feet in diameter, was built by William Manson at an expense of $135, and $35 extra for a roof. The contractor who built Mr. Manson's silo had an unfortunate experience, which it might be well for readers to note. It was undertaken, if we remember aright, late in the fall of 1909, and part of it collapsed twice in the course of construction, so that it was eventually left over until the next year. Mr. Manson thinks the mishap was probably due to the fact that the silo was built late in the fall, during cold, wet weather; and, as the contractor had only two frames, a section was left unsupported before it had properly set; the collapse occurred at the same point both times. This silo is eight inches thick from bottom to top, though a battered wall would be economical of material. The local contractor's ordinary rates for building a silo of this kind are $135, roof and all complete. A very good feature of Mr. Manson's arrangement is that the chute extends clear to the top of the silo, thus obviating the necessity of having a ladder outside by which to scale the silo when filling. The steep, conical roof on the silo is another good feature, as it is possible to pile into this a good deal of cut corn, which can be levelled down in a day or two as the fresh-cut corn settles. We should add that Mr. Manson supplied gravel and water, and boarded the men.

James Kyle is another believer in silos, having had one for a good many years. He is also a strong believer in alfalfa, which he finds the most valuable hay that can be got. He is of the opinion that, with plenty of good corn silage, alfalfa hay and roots, he can keep breeding cattle in good condition without any grain, and considers that such a ration is better for them than heavy feeding of metal. The thrifty condition of his herd lends convincing support to his opinion. Alfalfa and corn should go together. Corn silage forms the basis of an economical ration; alfalfa supplies the protein, which is somewhat deficient in the corn.—The Farmers' Advocate.

Father Morriscy s Remedies

New on Sale in Ontario

When Father Morriscy, the famous priest-physician of Bartibogue, N. B., died a year ago last spring, he left his prescriptions to the Sisters of the Hotel Dieu, at Chatham, to be used for the benefit of humanity and of the church.

Not being in position to make up and distribute the prescriptions themselves, the Sisters arranged with a number of gentlemen, who had been Father Morriscy's friends, to do it for them. These gentlemen working under the name of the "Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited," had by the first of the year placed the remedies in nearly every store in the Maritime Provinces.

So gladly were they received, and so satisfactory has been their record of cures, that the Sisters and the Company have decided to place them on sale throughout Canada.

Father Morriscy's "No. 7", for Rheumatism and the Kidneys—"No. 10", Cough Cure and Lung Tonic—"No. 11", Stomach Remedy—"No. 26", for Catarrh, and "Father Morriscy's Liniment"—can now be obtained from most dealers in this Province. If yours does not keep them write the Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited, Montreal, Que.

"SLOGGER WILLIAMS."

Tom Brown's Famous Schoolmaster is a Professor in England.

Rev. Chancellor Bulkeley Owen Jones, who, as stated in The Daily Mail is the original Slogger Williams, one of the heroes of the great fight described in "Tom Brown's Schooldays," gave his version of the famous encounter to a representative of that journal and, incidentally, had some remarks to make on the life of the public schoolboy of the 'thirties and 'forties.

The chancellor, who is now in his eighty-eighth year, is a man of fine physique, hale and hearty, with all his faculties unimpaired. After a life of useful service he has retired to pass the evening of his life in the beautiful little town of Deganwy, on the banks of Conway River, one of the beauty spots of his native country.

"Whether the public schoolboy of to-day is as hardy as of yore I cannot say." he remarked. "I am so old that my knowledge of public schools of the present day is limited, but we were certainly not pampered at Rugby. I had to travel there on the boxseat of the old stage, and I remember that on one occasion I got so cold that I nearly fell off the seat. Whenever I went home at holiday time I paid $20 journey money to Bangor by old Thomas, as related in the book. Other boys had longer distances to go—some to Scotland.

"In my time at Rugby the only places available during the daytime for washing the hands and face was the veperable and much-respected pump in the quadrangle. There was a penalty attached to non-ablution before early school, and that was that the offender should be placed under the said pump and the defect remedied by a deluge on the back of the neck. This remedy was applied in a good many instances without injurious effects, but in the case of a Welsh boy named Williams the punishment was so severe, the weather and water being so cod, that his circulation was stopped and Williams well-nigh ceased to exist.

"Our football matches in those days were much more strenuous than they are nowadays. We, of the Schoolhouse, about seventy in number, played the rest of the school, about 300. We used to 'hack' one another in a most ferocious manner, and I have marks on my shins to this day which I gained at Rugby more than seventy years ago. These games were excellent training for the pugilistic encounters which were then not uncommon."

Describing his fight with Tom Brown, the chancellor gave a version somewhat different from that of the Rev. Augustus Orlebar, his opponent, who said that neither of the parties could claim the victory.

"What happened was this," said the chancellor. "It was a rainy day, and a lot of boys were gathered in the Schoolhouse hall. Orlebar, was teasing a little fellow, and the little fellow said to me 'Spank him, Jones.' I caught him a rather sharp tap; he lost his temper and knocked me down. At once the boys in the hall shouted, 'Fight! Fight! Jones and Orlebar!' There was no help for it, and we had a rare set-to. My own opinion is that I won, because when Arnold came and caught us Orlebar had fainted.

"My face was so disfigured that the doctor did not know me. When he found out who it was he gave me a double punishment, first for talking in chapel and second for fighting. I had to write out 500 lines of Virgil. Orlebar was a mighty hitter and punished me severely, but I was in the better condition at the finish, the reason being that I had just been out twice with the Big Side hare and hounds. It was a fine sport for keeping a man in condition. Orlebar and I were the best of friends both before and after the fight."

Of Tom Hughes himself the chancellor had little to say. "He was rather a quiet lad, and not very popular," he remarked. "I think it is a mistake to assert that Dean Stanley was the prototype of little 'Arthur.' The character was made up from a number of boys."

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Our Little Boy of Fits."

A family can suffer no greater affliction than to have a child subject to fits or epilepsy. Many a father or mother would give their all to restore such a child to health.

"I am heartily glad to tell you of our little boy who was completely cured of fits. He commenced having them at 10 years of age and had them for four years. I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a comptete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit and anyone writing to me I will gladly answer if they enclose stamp for reply."

CANADIANS EAT EGGS FROM MANY COUNTRIES.

We Bought Over Nine Million Eggs From the United States Last Year and Large Quantities From China.

Canada imported 893,324 dozen eggs during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1910. From the United States alone 757,316 dozen eggs came to Canada. China sent us 87,075 dozen, and Hong Kong 41,245 dozen, while small quantities came from Great Britain, France and Japan.

Our egg exports amounted to 164,-dozen but only 39,917 dozen went from Canada to the United States, so that we bought from the Americans 717,-399 dozen more eggs than we sold to them. Canada sold 33,465 dozen eggs to Great Britain, 20,947 dozen to Newfoundland, 10,700 dozen to Bermuda, 2,196 dozen to the British West Indies, 44,100 dozen to Cuba, 12,555 to St. Pierre and a few dozen to British Guiana, Mexico and China.

Deducting our total exports of eggs from our total imports of eggs it will be found that Canadians consumed 728,489 dozen more eggs than the total production of eggs in Canada.

The duty on eggs coming into Canada is three cents per dozen. If the Reciprocity Agreement goes into effect this duty will be removed and the importations of eggs will greatly increase.

A board of tariff experts, recently appointed by the United States Government to compare Canadian and American prices, has reported on the price of eggs at Buffalo, Toronto, Burlington, Vt., Montreal, Lancaster, N.H., Sherbrooke, Que., Ogdensburg, N.Y., Prescott, Ont., Bangor, Eastport and Calais, in Maine, and St. Stephen, N.B.

The statement of prices prepared is for the month of January, 1911, and the result of the enquiry is shown in the following table :—

Place.	Wholesale Price per doz.
Buffalo, N.Y.	$ .36
Toronto, Ont.	.40
Ogdensburg, N.Y.	.30
Prescott, Ont.	.32
Lancaster, N.H.	.27
Sherbrooke, Que.	.32
Burlington, Vt.	.27
Montreal, Que.	.35
Bangor, Me.	.30
Calais, Me	.28
Eastport, Me	.26
St. Stephen, N.B.	.33

It will be noted that the prices in Canada were considerably higher than in the United States.

Reciprocity will give Canadian farmers the privilege of selling their eggs in the United States at lower prices than they can get for them in Canada, and it will give farmers of Australasia, the United States, and twelve other foreign countries the right to send eggs into Canada free of duty.

The report of the United States Government experts also deals with the prices of other farm products in the two countries. The Canadian Century will publish the figures in future issues and those who read them will be convinced that Canadian farmers have nothing to gain by Reciprocity with the United States.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

THE HAMILTON MARATHON.

Hamilton, March 28th.—Great interest is being taken in athletic circles over the grand Canadian Marathon, popularly known as the Spectator Marathon, to be held at Hamilton, on Wednesday, May 24th, 1911, under the auspices of the Hamilton Spectator. When the race was inaugurated in the spring of 1909, the athletic world was aroused by the announcement that the Spectator would send the winner of each year's marathon to England the following spring to compete in the English championship marathon, held in May each year, over the English Olympic course, under the auspices of the Polytechnic Harriers of London, for the Sporting Life Trophy, and this year the interest has been augmented by the announcement that any Spectator winner who wins in England will be sent by the Spectator to the following Olympic games, wherever they may be held. This means that if Mike Ryan, of the Irish American A. C., of New York, who won the big race a year ago, is successful in England this year he will go to Sweden next spring for the 1912 Olympic marathon while the winner of this year's Spectator race, if successful in England next spring, will also go to Sweden, with the result that the inducement to win in the old country is just as strong as it is to win in Hamilton.

The first runner to finish in the Spectator race will receive, in addition to the trip to England, a solid gold commemorative medal, while the huge Marathon Challenge trophy will become his possession for one year. The second and third men to finish will receive very elaborate silver cups, which will become their own possessions as well as silver commemorative medals. All the starters who finish within the time limit of three hours and thirty minutes will also receive commemorative medals. The prize list, including the trip to England, is valued at $1,000, the largest sum ever spent on amateur prizes for a long-distance race in Canada or the United States, making the Spectator race the long-distance classic of the American continent.

Entry blanks, rules and particulars of the race, in addition to maps of the course, which is 26 miles, 176 yards in length, and a chart of last year's race, can be secured from M. M. Robinson, Sporting Editor, The Spectator, Hamilton, Canada. Entries close on Saturday, May 13th.

Pop Go 100,000 Weasels.

"No end of trappers," said a big London fur-store manager, "are on the war-path after ermine fur for the robes of royalty and nobility. The stoat, or ermine weasel's skin, only measures a foot long by three inches wide, so about 100,000 weasels will be wanted for coronation robes.

"The more biting the cold where the animal is trapped, the whiter is the fur. And it is 'parky' in Siberia! During last coronation there was a weasel famine, and fine skins popped up to half-a-sovereign apiece.

"Ermine fur is used either plain or 'powdered' on the cape of the robe. There the rows of little black dots indicate the degree of the wearer.

"These dots, very carefully inserted at measured intervals, are made from the fur of the blue-black seal, dyed black.

"But, black or white, the seals are not having such a time of it just now as the weasels."

The Irony of Fate.

"What is your understanding of the irony of fate?" asked the bashful young man.

"Well," the beautiful girl replied, "if two fellows should fight over me and it shouldn't get into the papers I should think that was about it."

Thoughtful.

"I'm sure he'd make a good husband."

"What makes you think so?"

"He never forgets to take my gloves out of his pocket when I give them to him to carry for me."

Not Definite.

"And if you marry my daughter," said old Gotrox, "how long will it be before you call on me for aid?"

"Can't say," answered the young man. "It depends on how long it is before she wants to eat."

The Bald Headed Man May Look Wise

But If He Had Been He Would Have Hair Now.

You do not want a scientific treatise on the hair follicle—you are not particularly interested in the name of the German scientist who isolated the bug that is said to cause baldness. What you do want to know is how to save the hair you have and make it strong and lustrous.

Nyal's Hirsutone will do it better than anything else.

It is not claimed that Hirsutone is a wonderful scientific secret—but it is the concrete result of all that is proven in the scientific treatment of sick and diseased hair and scalp.

It is a happy combination and you will notice a prompt improvement in the feeling of the scalp and the look of the hair.

Hirsutone loosens and removes all scaly and matted deposit on the scalp—stimulates the hair bulbs and gives new life and vigor to the hair itself.

Nyal's Hirsutone gives back to the hair and scalp just what it has been robbed of by your neglect and abuse.

It is time to start right. Use Hirsutone.

It is one of the Nyal remedies and no higher recommendation can be given it. They are all good. Ask your Nyal Druggist. He recommends it. Sold and guaranteed by Dr. A. J. Hunter & Co., A. T. Howard, Orangeville.

AMENDMENTS TO LICENSE ACT.

Over $50 a day.—The 5 per cent. tax on bar receipts of over $50 a day, not $40 as laid down in first draft of bill. This will produce $60,-000 in Toronto and $80,000 a year in rest of Province.

License Reduction By Vote—Municipal Councils will not be allowed in future to reduce licenses. This can be done only by vote of electors, and by-law must be submitted if petition is received containing 10 per cent. of names on voters' list. After passing, no further reductions can be made for three years.

Right of Search.—The powers of officers to search for liquor that is being smuggled into "dry" districts are greatly increased, and instead of being limited to trains or express companies, they can search trunks, bags, or other receptacles, which are believed to contain liquor intended for sale, whether in control of any person or not.

Summer Licenses—No petition is required for a renewal.

Resident Voters—Only bona-fide voters is permanent residence may vote on local option By-laws.

Quashing—By-laws cannot be quashed on ground of creating a monopoly

Above are the final changes made in the License Act this year. The first clause gave considerable complaint from all sides of the house, because it was impracticable, an unwarranted interference with other people's private business, and because it was a step towards direct taxation. Many hotels use the surplus profit of the bar to keep the rest of the house running, and Capt. Machin, of Keno'a, wanted the fee collected from the new profits. But Mr. Hanna would not concede his plan.

FALLING HAIR.

Mrs. Jas. Harris, of Wapella, Sask., says :—

"I have found Parisian Sage to be the best scalp and hair tonic and dressing I have ever used. My hair had been coming out in combs full, and was very dry and brittle, and the scalp was always itching and full of dandruff. I have used two bottles of Parisian Sage and it has stopped my hair from falling, the itching and dandruff have disappeared, and my hair is fine and soft and glossy. I would not be without this fine Hair Tonic for many times the price."

For women, men, or children, Parisian Sage is without any doubt the finest preparation for the hair. Daintily perfumed, it is free from grease or stickiness and ought to be where every member of the family could use it daily. Large bottle 50 cents at all druggists or from the proprietors, The Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., postpaid. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. Sold and guaranteed by T. COULDN'T DRIVE—WALKED

A certain gentleman in town secured a livery horse on Sunday to drive over to Eugenia. He got there safely and on the return journey attempted to drive a young lady home with him. The little mare was one of the most spirited that ever ate oats in a livery stable, and she decided that she wanted to get home quickly, and the gentleman driver found it difficult to hold her up. The young lady essayed her hand at driving but could not hold the mare down.

The animal was stopped. The gentleman got out and treated her to a few candies, but bribery did no good. She would go over the ice hummocks at express speed and there was danger that the bumping would produce dislocation of the spinal vertebrae. Two and a half miles from town the brakes were applied so effectually that the "cannon-ball express" came to a full stop. The mare was then tied to a telephone pole and left there, while the two travellers walked into town and informed the liveryman as to the whereabouts of his outfit, and requested him to go and get it which he did, but not cheerfully. What do you think of it?—Flesherton Advance.

THE SPECTATOR MARATHON.

Hamilton, March 28th.—The third annual Ancaster to Hamilton race for boys, carrying with it the Canadian long-distance championship, will be held in Hamilton on May 24, under the auspices of the Hamilton Spectator, over the seven-mile course from Ancaster to Hamilton, which is the first seven miles of the Spectator Marathon course. Three handsome silver cups will be given to the first three boys to finish in this race, which was won last year by Wm. Blackwell, of Toronto, in the record time of 37 minutes and 30 seconds, and in 1909 by George Richards, of Hamilton, in 38 minutes 30 seconds. In 1909 the race attracted 55 entries and 43 starters, while last year 41 out of the list of 56 boys faced the starter. All boys 18 years of age and under are eligible to start. All particulars, entry blanks, etc., can be secured from M. M. Robinson, Sporting Editor, The Spectator, Hamilton.

After an illness of several months, Mr. Edward Stonehouse, barrister, passed away at 1897 College Road in his 79th year. He was a son of the late Capt. Richard William Stonehouse, and the late Mary Elizabeth Williams, of London, England. Mr. Stonehouse was born in London, England, coming to this country when 12 years of age. In 1867 he married Mary Elizabeth, daughter of the late Mr. Robert Ferguson, of Halton County, who, together with his son and three daughters, survive him. He was one of the oldest members of his profession, a life-long Conservative, and a friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald.

JUST ONE WOMAN IN THOUSANDS.

Who Can Say "Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Me Well."

Mrs. Louis Delorme who was always tired and nervous and suffered from Backache, tells how she found a cure.

St. Rose du Lac, Man., Mar. 27th, (Special).—The story of Mrs. Louis Delorme, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place, is identical with that of thousands of other women in Canada. It is all the more interesting on that account. She was tired, nervous and worn out. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

"I suffered for five years from Backache and too frequent urination, which destroyed my sleep," Mrs. Delorme states. "My head would ache, and I was always tired and nervous. My limbs were heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well. I used in all ten boxes, but they fixed me up."

Thousands of other Canadian women who have not used Dodd's Kidney Pills are in just the condition Mrs. Delorme was in before she used them. Thousands of others, who were in that condition and who used Dodd's Kidney Pills, are now well and strong.

We learn from the experiences of others, and those experiences teach us that the weary and worn women of Canada can find relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THE DRUGGIST'S DREAM.

Last evening I was talking
With a Druggist, aged and gray,
Who told me of a dream he had,
I think 'twas Christmas Day.

While snoozing in his office,
The vision came to view,
For he saw an angel enter
Dressed in garments white and new.

Said the Angel, "I am from Heaven;
The Lord just sent me down
To bring you up to glory,
And put on your golden crown.

"You've been a friend to every one,
And worked hard, night and day;
You have trusted many thousands,
And from FEW received your pay.

So we want you up in glory,
For you have labored hard,
And the good Lord is preparing
Your eternal, just reward."

Then the Angel and the Druggist
Started up toward glory's gate;
But when passing close to hades
The Angel murmured, "Wait!"

"I have a place to show you;
It's the hottest place in hell,
Where the ones who never paid you
In torment always dwell."

And, behold, the Druggist saw there
His old customers by the score,
And grabbing up a chair and fan
He wished for nothing more.

But was bound to sit and watch them
As they'd sizzle, singe and burn,
And his eyes would rest on debtors
Whichever way they'd turn.

Said the Angel, "Come on, Friend,
There's the pearly gates I see!"
But the Druggist only murmured,
"This is heaven enough for me."

ROUNDING'S TRIAL.

John W. Rounding, ex-Manager of the Ontario Farmers' Weather Mutual Insurance Company, who was committed for trial by P. M. Pattullo last Wednesday on a charge of theft of some policy registers belonging to the Company, has elected to be tried by His Honor, Judge McCarthy. The trial will commence in the Court House here at 10 a.m. on Friday. At the close of the preliminary hearing last Wednesday evening, Crown Attorney McKay declined to agree to allow Rounding bail. Later he reconsidered his decision and on Thursday Magistrate Pattullo intimated his willingness to grant bail. This Rounding refused to accept, stating that since matters had gone so far he would remain in jail until his trial.

SURE SIGNS.
Of Kidney Trouble.

If your back is constantly aching and if you experience dull shooting pains, your kidneys are out of order. If your urine is thick and cloudy or your passages frequent, scanty and painful, your kidneys and bladder are out of order. Neglect quickly brings on rheumatism, diabetes, lumbago, sciatica, etc.

Mrs. John Wagner, of 110 Hollis St., Halifax, N. S., says: "Dull, shooting pains would catch me across the small part of my back and extend into my shoulders and neck, often causing me to suffer with severe headaches and spells of dizziness. Spots would dazzle before my eyes and everything would turn black. I would fall to the floor and be unable to get up again without assistance. A friend told me of Booth's Kidney Pills and I began their use. The first box gave me relief, and I am now well and strong."

LONG-WINDED ORATORS.

Parliamentarians Are Easily Capable of Several Hours.

Common, ordinary, Canadians who go to sleep or at least feel very drowsy during the ordinary sermon must shudder with horror at the fate of a member of one of the legislative bodies having to listen to a gab-fest like the present reciprocity debate where a member may speak for three hours, or even five. But British tradition seems to be in favor of the long speech.

"Never in the history of Parliament," Mr. Balfour once exclaimed, with clenched hands and flashing eyes, "has such a proposal been made in so brief a speech." Such was the right honorable gentleman's surprise and indignation when Sir William Harcourt sat down after a five minutes' speech introducing the Evicted Tenants' Bill.

Indeed, any speech less than an hour in length on an occasion like this would almost have seemed an insult to the House.

In 1642, after hours of dready oratory, a member rose and exclaimed, "The House is empty, and so be our stomachs. I pray ye, therefore, adjourn the debate for one hour." But Speaker Long would not listen to the pleading. He could sit as long as legislators could talk; and sit he did, until he fell off his chair in a dead faint.

In the Stuart days, when it was no uncommon thing for a parson to turn his hour-glass three or four times before he arrived at "Lastly, my brethren," the man who could not and did not keep on his legs at Westminster for three hours at least was thought as little of as the squire who could not carry his three bottles of port. One prosy legislator, it is said, spoke for seven hours; and another for six, without leaving the perpendicular.

In later years Sheridan, speaking on the Begum case, held the floor and his audience for five solid hours at a stretch; and Sir Robert Peel apologized for the "shortness and inadequacy" of a speech on the Corn Laws which fell just short of four hours. Lord Palmerston once orated four hours and a half on Don Pacifico and five minutes later was on his feet again, as fresh as when he started. And did not Mr. Biggar, that loquacious Irishman, once "hould the flure" from half-past twelve to half-past five on the thrilling topic of the Devon Commission?

No matter how trivial the subject, an hour was a very modest limit, as was proved when one honorable gentleman spoke for eighty minutes on undersized fish, and another took up sixty minutes with a learned harangue on bog in the Hebrides. Mr. Gladstone, who, when wound up, "could go on all day without turning a hair," spoke for five hours without a pause when introducing his first budget; and such was the magic of his tongue that he kept his auditors entertained and breathless to the last word. He made dry figures as fascinating as romance.

There have been many attempts to curb this oratorical flow since, in 1849. Mr. Milner Gibson proposed a new standing order directing "that the speeches of members be limited in duration to one hour"; but the weight of opinion has been fatal to them. Mr. Gibson's motion was negatived by 96 to 62, and a much more recent motion by Major Rasch, imposing a twenty minutes' limit, by a majority of 40.

A Raw Subaltern.

Lieut.-General Sir John Chetham McLeod, one of the oldest Knights Grand Cross of the Bath, has completed his eightieth year.

Educated at St. Andrew's and Perth, he saw more than thirty years' service in the old 42nd, fighting in the Crimea, the Indian Mutiny, and the Ashanti War, and winning fresh distinctions in every campaign. He retired from the army in 1882. He has been twice married, and is the father of soldier sons, who, like himself, have done honor to the fine old fighting race from which they sprang.

Sir John has recounted a good Territorial yarn. From a small town a detachment went into camp. Amongst the number there was a very young subaltern, newly appointed, and a cheerful private, who, though not in the same rank of life, knew the officer perfectly well, and was in the habit of seeing him each day.

The first evening the subaltern returned to camp he passed close to the sentry, who took no notice of him. Calling the man, he asked "Why did you not challenge me?" His fellow townsman replied with a beaming smile, "Well, sir, it would be a pity to fall out the very first evening in camp. But I'll have a round or two with you if you like?"

Christening Ships.

The ceremony of breaking a bottle of wine over a ship's bows before launching—as with the Thunderer, the other day—has its origin in the ancient heathen belief that before starting out on any new enterprise it was necessary to offer sacrifices to propitiate the gods.

Wine has been used for christening ships of the royal navy for centuries, but occasionally there are departures from the custom. In 1905, when the Hibernia was launched at Devonport, a bottle of Irish whisky was broken over her bows as a compliment to her name.

The Way of the Wise.

Mrs. Nubride—I am heartbroken. I find that my husband doesn't resemble my ideal in the slightest.

Mrs. Wise—Then take my advice, my dear, and try to make your ideal resemble your husband.

Looking Ahead.

Mrs. Spender—If we deposit 10 cents a day at 4 per cent. interest for baby until he's of age he'll have $1,212.

Spender—What's the use? By that time he can go to work.

Hopeless Case.

"Is he a has-been?"
"Worse than that."
"A never-was?"
"Even worse."
"I know. He's a never-will-be."

HUNT CAME TO GRIEF.

And It Happened Just the Day the Prince of Wales Came.

Some years ago His late Majesty King Edward VII., then Prince of Wales, honored with his presence a meet of the Old Berkshire Hounds, which took place close to George Reeve's farm, near Reading.

It can be easily imagined that in anticipation of so great an event as a Royal Hunt breakfast at the Master's, and a meet on the lawn, the whole country side made holiday and drew an enormous crowd; and my old friend George Reeves, being at that time one of the most influential horse dealers in the county, was naturally desirous of making such an equine demonstration, as in the words of Mr. Kruger, would stagger humanity. To this end he not only requisitioned the services of every male servant in his employ, but invited indiscriminately any of the neighboring tradesmen, butchers, bakers, or candlestick-makers, who said they could ride, to accept a mount on one of his horses and join his cavalcade, which, in all, numbered at starting about sixty, and a more grotesque and extraordinary regiment of cavalry perhaps was never seen.

Before starting, an impromptu meeting was held in the riding school, when George Reeves exhorted his brigade to be sure and not over ride hounds, and to remember that such an opportunity for personal distinction in the royal presence might never occur again. In conclusion, he begged them that if by chance any very big fence should have to be negotiated, to go straight at it, shut their eyes, close their legs tight, and trust in Providence, for his horses could never fall or make mistakes.

Well, away they went. The crowd was enormous, and a fox was soon started at a rattling pace. The Earley brigade, wild with enthusiasm for individual glory, made a mad rush for the front, ignoring all sporting etiquette, and equally regardless of the valuable lives they were scattering in all directions.

It so happened that the first fence was a "rasper," and called into requisition all poor George Reeve's advice. The brigade charged almost simultaneously, with the result that in less than two minutes about forty riderless horses were careering all over the country, and the staff at the county hospital, which was fortunately close at hand, found liberal occupation for the rest of this memorable day.—English Illustrated Magazine.

Loses Color Sense.

That the human eye, though trained to distinguish colors, may by want of use forget how to make such distinction was proved by the unique experience of Dr. Hartley, a fellow of the Royal Society in England. In his case it was shown that color can be forgotten as well as learned by human sight.

The doctor in order to save the sight of one, perhaps of both eyes, when one was injured, voluntarily immured himself in a room made totally dark for nine months.

The fortitude which enabled him to adopt this course and the ingenuity by which he preserved his health and faculties in this the most mentally and physically depressing of all forms of imprisonment are sufficiently remarkable. But the doctor also kept an accurate record of his impressions when he at last looked again upon the light after the supreme moment at which he satisfied himself that he was not blind.

He found that in the nine months' darkness his eyes had lost all sense of color. The world was black, white and gray. They had also lost the sense of distance. His brain interpreted the picture wrongly. His hand did not touch the object meant to be grasped. Practice soon remedied the last induced defect of sight. Experiment with skeins of various colored wool in the presence of one who had normal color vision restored the first.

When Baronets Were Bold.

The title of baronets is exactly 300 years old.

It was in the reign of Good King James that baronets first came into existence. To-day, you could hardly tell a baronet from a banker. But in the year 1611, when James I. needed ready money, and created two hundred "little barons" to supply him with cash, they swaggered about in the baldrics and sashes, and behaved in the courtliest of fashions.

Each baronet, in order to justify his title, had to maintain a small army of thirty soldiers for three years. In this way the crafty king not only increased his revenue, but actually lightened his expenses!

It is not generally known that the title of "baronetess" has twice been bestowed on women. One of these was the mother of a Dutch general. The other was a Nottingham lady named Dame Maria Bolles, who won her way into the good graces of Charles I., and received the title from his hands.

Solid Gasoline.

A Birmingham chemist has invented a way to convert gasoline or petrol into a stiff white jelly. It is done by adding 1 3-4 per cent of steatite and alcohol. An economy of 30 per cent. is claimed for the solid form.

Pay In Britain.

In five counties of Ireland the average pay of hired men on the farms is less than $2.43 a week, in all Ireland it is $2.74, in Wales and Monmouthshire it is $4.38, in England it is $4.41, and in Scotland it is $4.76.

Origin of "Grog."

Grog, the sea term for rum-and-water, got its name from Admiral Edward Vernon, who introduced the mixture in the navy. He was nicknamed "Old Grog," because he wore grogram breeches.

Explained.

Young Lady—You say you were on a raft for six weeks and had nothing to eat but mutton. Where did you get the mutton from?

Old Salt—Well, you see, miss, the sea was very choppy."

POPULATION IS 2321.

Thirty People Less in Orangeville Than There Were a Year Ago.

Little Change in The Assessment, Which Totals $961,790.24.

Mr. H. Endacott has completed Orangeville's assessment for 1911, and returned his roll to the Town Clerk, Mr. A. A. Hughson, where it is now open for inspection. According to Mr. Endacott's figures, the population of the town is 2321, which is just 30 less than last year's figures. There has been a slight decrease in each of the four wards. This and last year's figures by wards are:—

	1911	1910
North Ward	503	513
South Ward	752	758
East Ward	589	594
West Ward	477	486
	2321	2351

The trifling decrease in the population is a matter of gratification in view of the heavy migration from this part of Ontario to Toronto and the Canadian West. Very few of the smaller Ontario towns have withstood the effects of the exodus as well as Orangeville. Midland, for instance, lost no less than 1098 people, or about one-fifth of its total population during the past year. Other decreases, all in the neighboring county of Simcoe, may be noted as follows:—Barrie, 215; Orillia, 280; Penetang, 309; Tottenham, 86; Creemore, 7; Beeton, 56, and Bradford, 71.

The total assessment is $961,790.24, which is between $5,000 and $6,000 less than last year's assessment. Last year's figure was cut considerably by the Court of Revision and later in the Judge's Court. The reductions were chiefly on hotel properties due to the introduction of local option. This year Mr. Endacott has assessed these properties at or near the figures finally reached a year ago, so that there is a strong probability that the revised assessment will be somewhat higher this year than it was in 1910. The following is a detailed statement of this year's returns:—

North Ward—Total amount of taxable real property, $239,815; roperty exempt from taxation or liable for local improvement only, $6600; business assessment, $35,160; taxable income, $1689.24; total assessment, $276,664.24.

South Ward—Total amount of taxable real property, $228,450; liable for school rates only, $6250; property exempt from taxation or liable for local improvement only, $600; business assessment, $24,670; taxable income, $4309; total assessment, $263,679.

East Ward—Total amount of taxable real property, $190,660; liable for school rates only, $12,000; property exempt from taxation or liable for local improvement only, $1400; business assessment, $26,267; taxable income, $600; total assessment, $229,527.

West Ward—Total amount of taxable real property, $182,495; property exempt from taxation or liable for local improvement only, $13,700; business assessment, $7525; taxable income, $1900; total assessment, $191,920.

Totals—Total amount of taxable real property, $841,420; liable for school rates only, $18,250; business assessment, $93,622; taxable income, $8498.24; total assessment, $961,790.24.

WHO CASHED THE CHEQUE?

The March C. P. R. pay list for Orangeville included a cheque for $25 in favor of J. Best, whose home, we understand, is somewhere in Proton township. An advice was mailed to Best in the form of a post card, addressed to him at Orangeville. A day or two afterwards a man, who represented that he was the payee, called at the pay office at the Orangeville station and upon making endorsement of the cheque was paid over the money. A week or so later the real Best wrote the railway company enquiring why he had not received his cheque. Investigation disclosed the fact that the cheque had been cashed, evidently by some person who had forged Best's name in order to get the money. C. P. R. Detective Wright was immediately detailed to look into the matter and was in town last Monday for that purpose. In the opinion of the detective circumstances point strongly in the direction of a certain party and it is probable that criminal proceedings will be taken within the next few days.

A SUCCESSFUL SALE.

Mr. J. Cannawin's semi-weekly horse sale yesterday afternoon was a marked success. All the horses offered were disposed of at good prices. Last Sunday afternoon a couple of youths, employed as farm hands by farmers in the neighborhood, decided to relieve the monotony of rural life by paying a surreptitious visit to Mr. S. H. Simpson's bush near The Maples. Mr. Simpson has been making maple syrup, and a desire to sample some of the finished product was evidently the object they had in view, for they broke into a building which the owner uses for boiling sap, built a fire, boiled down a quantity of syrup, ruining a boiling pan in the operation, and finally decamped, carrying with them a quantity of syrup in a two gallon can. Before leaving they closed and refastened the door of the building. Later in the afternoon another party of seven lads visited the place and broke into the building for a second time, but finding that someone else had been there before them went away without doing any further damage. When he discovered what had been transpiring, Mr. Simpson got busy and was successful in discovering the identity of the culprits. When interviewed they acknowledged their guilt and undertook to make full restitution for the damage they had done. In view of this Mr. Simpson has not yet taken any legal proceedings, although the youths are clearly liable on a charge of housebreaking.

NEVER BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Mothers, if you wish to guard the health of your little ones against the sudden outbreaks of those ailments peculiar to childhood, always keep a supply of Baby's Own Tablets on hand. These Tablets never fail to relieve baby of distressing stomach aches, pains caused by difficult teething and the many other little troubles that make baby's life miserable. The Tablets are sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to contain not one particle of opiate or other injurious drug and they may be given to the youngest baby with perfect safety. Concerning them Mrs. Hypolite Chiasson, Eastern Harbour, N.S., writes: —"We have used Baby's Own Tablets for our baby and they have done her much good. Please send us two more boxes as I find them the only medicine that helps our little one." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. BURCH

A pleasant gathering took place in the Prayer Meeting Room of St. Andrew's Church Tuesday night, when a large number of the ladies of the congregation and some outside friends met and presented Mrs. Burch, wife of Rev. A. L. Burch, a former pastor of the Church, with the following appreciative address:—

Mrs. A. L. Burch,
Orangeville, Ontario.

Dear Mrs. Burch,—A number of your lady friends have assembled here tonight for the purpose of uniting in an expression of the general regret caused by your approaching removal from this town. As the wife of a former pastor of St. Andrew's Church, it has fallen to your lot to occupy a responsible and important place in the home, social and church life of his community. The manner in which you have discharged your duties, sometimes under trying and even discouraging circumstances, has won the admiration and regard of all who have the privilege of enjoying your friendship. Your ready and generous sympathies, your interest in all that affected the welfare of the home, the church or the community at large, and your happy faculty of looking upon the bright and better side of life and seeing the silver lining to every cloud of trial, difficulty, or discouragement, have marked you as a worthy helpmeet to one called to the high office of Christ's ministry. Now that you are about to move to another home, your friends here wish to say that in your departure they feel they are sustaining a very real and lasting loss. They feel too that they cannot allow you to go away without presenting you with some token of their regard. May they, therefore, ask you to accept these small gifts in the hope that they will always serve to call up pleasant recollections of your sojourn in Orangeville, and the associations and friendships you have formed during your residence here. With these mementoes, they also ask you to accept their united wishes for a happy life, good neighbors and a generous measure of good fortune in the home to which you are going. That your lot may be cast in pleasant places and amid a congenial environment, will be the constant wish of your many friends in Orangeville.

Mrs. (Dr.) Campbell occupied the chair, Mrs. J. E. Smith read the address, and Mrs. J. S. Robertson and Miss McKenney made the presentations. The gifts were a furnished solid leather club bag and a thermos bottle to Mrs. Burch, a gold locket and chain to Miss Constance, and a silver napkin ring apiece to Masters Edgar and Clifford. Mrs. Burch made a feeling reply expressive of her regret at leaving Orangeville, and parting with the friends she had made during her stay here. Short addresses were afterwards made by Mesdames Steele, McIntyre, Meek, Campbell, Forsythe, Marshall, Miss Anderson and others. Miss Helen Denton contributed an appreciated solo, Miss Wallace acting as accompanist. Before dispersing all present united in singing Auld Lang Syne, followed by the familiar hymn, "God be with you till we meet again."

Mrs. Burch and children will leave in a few days for Toronto, whence they expect to start early in May for their future home in Vancouver.

LIEBANDER STILL LEADING

Votes Are Rolling Up In Free Library Contest.

Mono College School Again in Second Place.

The Liebander Bible Class is still leading in the Free Library Voting Contest, but the heavy vote polled by several of the other contestants shows that they are to be reckoned on as important factors in the race. One of the significant features revealed by this week's count is the extremely heavy vote that has been rolling in for the Mono College School, which has jumped from fourth into second place. Orangeville Public School and St. Andrew's S. S. have also demonstrated their strength and are now right up among the leaders. The Union Literary Society, a Mono organization, has got into the limelight with a total of 99,250 votes. The last count we published gave this Society just 1240 votes, so it is apparent that the Union hustlers have struck a pretty lively gait. Glencross School and S. S. No. 18, Mono, are also coming strong. Altogether the present indications point to an extremely keen race and it is impossible to say with any certainty who will be the winner when the contest comes to a close on June 30th. The standing when this week's count was made on Tuesday was:—

A magnificent golden eagle, measuring seven feet six inches between its wing tips, was recently captured alive by William Wraith, of Lakeside, near Lucknow. When flying over a field it was brought down, but not injured by a long gun shot and after a plucky scrap on the snow, during which it shredded a few square inches of clothing, it was secured and dragged home. Several offers have been made, but not accepted for the purchase of the bird. Bald eagles are not infrequent visitors to these parts, but the golden eagle is very rarely seen.—Telescope.

Concrete Sidewalks are Safe, Sightly and Everlasting

LUMBER used in damp places and on wet ground—as, for instance, in walks—has a very short life. It requires almost constant repairing and, in a few years, needs replacing.

Concrete, on the other hand, improves with age, and the very dampness which destroys lumber calls out the best qualities of the cement by making it harder and harder—until neither time nor traffic can affect it.

The best of wooden walks keep getting out of repair, and are a continual menace to life and limb. They are also a frequent source of expensive doctor bills and lost time. Then again, they are likely to eat up the original cost in repairs before they are replaced.

Concrete walks are sightly, everlasting and safe. They cost less to build and need no repairing nor painting.

Write for our free book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete."

It tells in plain, simple language, how you can save money on farm construction by using cement for Barns, Dairies, Foundations, Fence Posts, Troughs, Feeding Floors, Hitching Posts, Stalls, Silos, Stairs, and so forth. LINCOLN AND TEMPERANCE

These incidents were told me by a well-known lawyer of this city, who is the son of one of the most distinguished attorneys of Central Illinois, now deceased, a contemporary and acquaintance of Mr. Lincoln himself. This lawyer got them first hand from Judge Lawrence Weldon, who was a close friend of the great Commoner and was present when the incidents occurred, sometime during the early fifties, when Stephen A. Douglas, Judge Weldon and Mr. Lincoln were stopping at the old "Pike House" in Bloomington.

The three distinguished lawyers were in Judge Douglas' room where there was plenty of whiskey to be had. Mr. Lincoln was asked to take a drink. He declined with thanks.

"Oh," said Judge Douglas rather sarcastically. "You don't belong to the temperance cause, do you?"

"No," was Lincoln's quiet reply, "but I am temperate."

The second incident took place in Clinton, Ill., Judge Weldon and Mr. Lincoln were leaving the court house after a long, wearisome session of the court. Passing a tavern, at Judge Weldon's suggestion, they stopped and went in. The judge ordered a glass of beer.

"Lincoln, won't you have some?" he inquired.

"No," replied Lincoln, "thank you, I don't wish any; in fact, I don't know what it looks like."

"What," exclaimed Judge Weldon, "never saw any beer. Well, I want you to see it and taste it, too." So he ordered another glass.

Mr. Lincoln took it and raised it to his lips. "Weldon," he said, putting down the glass, "that absolutely the vilest stuff I ever put to my lips. I'd as soon drink slop."—Edgar De Witt Jones.

Angus Cameron, the well-known hotel-keeper, died in Everett a week ago Sunday. His remains were taken to Stayner for burial.

WHITFIELD.

Mrs. Oliver, relict of the late Jos. Oliver, died at the residence of her son, Joseph Oliver, Centre Road, Mulmur, on Monday last, at the age of 83 years. Deceased's maiden name was Ann Patterson, a native of the County Monaghan, Ireland, where she was married to her late husband in 1850. Shortly after their marriage they emigrated to the United States and lived in the state of New York for six years. In 1856 they moved to Mono township, where they lived three years prior to moving to Mulmur in 1859. They were therefore among the early pioneers of Mulmur and were always held in high esteem among their old friends and neighbors. Mr. Oliver died in 1897 at the age of 76 years. The deceased lady is survived by four sons and three daughters. The sons are:—James Oliver, Belwood; R. P. Oliver, Burwell, Nebraska; Joseph Oliver, Whitfield, with whom she lived, and Thos. Oliver, of Muskoka. The daughters are:— Mrs. John Bowers, Mono; Mrs. D. Whiteman, Wahnapitea, and Mrs. Alex. Menzel, of Muskoka. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon to the Primrose Presbyterian church cemetery, and was largely attended by old friends and neighbors.—Free Press.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Prior to their departure for the West, a goodly number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, 4th line, Amaranth, and presented them with the following address:—

To Mrs. Mary Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. David Brown.

Dear Friends,—We, your neighbors and friends, have assembled here tonight for the purpose of bidding you farewell ere you take your departure from our midst. As you have always shown yourselves good neighbors, and true and kind-hearted friends, ever ready to give a helping hand when needed, it is only natural that we should feel that, by your removal, the neighborhood will sustain a real and lasting loss. This opinion, together with the esteem in which you have been held, led to the decision not to allow you to take your departure without asking you to accept some slight token that in years to come would remind you of your sojourn in this community. We, therefore, ask you, Mrs. Brown, Sr., to accept this butter knife, and you, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Jr., to accept this chain and locket and these silver knives and forks, not for their intrinsic value, but as a remembrance of the good-will of your neighbors and many friends, and for the sake of "Auld Lang Syne." May long life, happiness and prosperity be ever yours in your new home.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends.

John Tindale,
J. Snider,
W. Ferguson.

The presentation to Mrs. Mary Brown was made by Miss Maude Ferguson, to Mrs. David Brown by Miss Annie Tindale, and to David Brown by Master Charlie Tindale. The address was read by W. Ferguson. Mr. Brown replied briefly on behalf of his wife and mother, thanking all for the beautiful gifts. James Gracey was called to the chair, and after a few remarks, called on several present, who made short addresses, speaking in highest terms of Mr. and Mrs Brown as neighbors. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and other amusements until the wee sma hours of the morning.

It is claimed that the reason Guelph Board of Trade has failed to vote against reciprocity is because certain Liberal members have, by suddenly moving adjournments, prevented the question going before the members.

Eczema's Tortures

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker St., Halifax, N. S., writes: "After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure. It is six months since I was freed of this wretched skin disease, and as there has been no return of the trouble I consider the cure a permanent one."

Such cures are not brought about by imitations and substitutes for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is therefore necessary for you to be certain that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on the box you buy. 60 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for a free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

WHEN BLOOD IS POISON.

The blood must be filtered, otherwise you are poisoned. If the kidneys fail the liver is overworked, and becomes torpid. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you get both these filtering organs working right, and also ensure healthful action of the bowels. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and kidney disease.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS CURE CONSTIPATION.

An apple with a garter snake imbedded in it was a curiosity brought in by an Apple Inspector, Mr. Warkman, recently, says The Colborne Enterprise. The apple was found in a barrel of Ben Davis, which was being repacked in Mr. B. H. Coyle's fruit house. The snake which appears to be over half an inch in diameter and about eighteen inches long, had evidently gotten into the barrel when in the orchard and had eaten a hole in the apple and curled up in it, and died from cold or some other cause. The apple was a good sized one and was perfectly sound around the outside of the opening in which the serpent was imbedded.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone In The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

JOLIETTE, P.Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder.

He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life". 446

DIVISION COURT.

Connop vs. Donaldson.—An action, brought by Mrs. Emma Connop, of East Garafraxa, to recover $60 from Robt. Donaldson, of Orangeville, for the alleged illegal sale of certain goods seized under a landlord's warrant issued against the plaintiff's husband, Chas. Connop. Plaintiff claimed that she was the owner of the goods, and also maintained that they were exempt from seizure under the statute. As there were some knotty questions of law involved, judgment was reserved, the judge however expressing a very strong opinion on the merits of the case. C. R. McKeown for plff.; A. A. Hughson for deft.

Osler & Wade vs. David Hunter. Plaintiffs brought suit to recover $70.75 on a threshing outfit sold by The Clinton Mfg. Co. to the defendant. Hunter swore that he had paid the money and also claimed that the machinery had been repossessed. The plaintiffs found themselves unable to proceed from lack of some documentary evidence. C. R. McKeown for plff.; A. A. Hughson for deft.

Booth vs. Riddell.—This is an old case, resulting from a claim for board. Judgment was entered against the defendant, Jos. Riddell, now residing in West Toronto, in January, 1900. No action was taken on the judgment until recently, when the proceedings were transcripted to the Court at West Toronto. The defendant thereupon claimed that he had never been served with a summons and did not owe the debt. On affidavits being filed to that effect, the judgment was re-opened. The case was retried on Tuesday. The defendant swore that before moving from here to London in 1895 he had paid the debt in full. His evidence was corroborrated by O. L. Armstrong, who testified that he was present when the payment was made. The plaintiff, having lost his books in the Gordon House fire, was without any evidence except his own. Judgment was entered for the defendant without costs. A. A. Hughson for plff.; D. O. Cameron, Toronto, for deft.

COUNTY JUDGE'S CRIMINAL COURT.

J. W. Rounding Discharged.

Accused May Institute Proceedings For Malicious Prosecution.

At a special sitting of the County Judge's Criminal Court held last Friday, the case against John W. Rounding, Division Court bailiff at Grand Valley and former manager of the Ontario Farmers' Mutual Weather Insurance Company, was taken up. It will be remembered that the accused was arrested some two weeks ago, charged with the theft of certain books from the Company, which he organized and managed for some years. Mr. Rounding has been in jail since his arrest, although the Crown was willing to accept bail in a reasonable amount.

The case was called at 10 o'clock. Mr. A. A. Hughson, who is solicitor for the Company, assisted the Crown in the conduct of the prosecution and Mr. M. Wilkins of Arthur, appeared as Counsel for the defence. The evidence was largely a repetition of that heard before the magistrate, although the Crown did not call Mr. Rounding's former clerk, Mr. Shields, who was, however, called for the defence. Messrs Park, Wansboro, Varcoe and others repeated the evidence already given by them, and the accused, his wife and daughter took the stand for the defence.

The evidence of the officers of the Insurance Company showed that Rounding had been dismissed from the Company's service on February 15th. President Park swore that he asked for the books three times on the 16th. The theft is said to have taken place on the 17th. Mr. Park told the Court that he telephoned for the books on the 21st. Rounding did not say anything to him about the theft, but promised to hand over the registers on the 23rd. Mr. Park went to Rounding's office for them on the 23rd and was then told for the first time that they had been stolen. The Judge's comments on this feature of the case were rather unfavorable to Rounding, although his final conclusion was that the evidence did not sustain the charge. The accused was therefore discharged.

Rounding was warmly congratulated at the termination of the trial by several of his friends who were in Court. The accused maintains his entire innocence of the serious charge which the prosecution sought to fasten upon him. It is reported that Mr. Rounding is considering the question of issuing a writ against those responsible for his arrest, claiming damages for malicious prosecution. The case has been the all-absorbing topic in Grand Valley and there is a marked divergence of opinion as to its merits. Mr. Rounding has an estimable wife and family, who have the sympathy of everybody in the trying circumstances in which they found themselves so suddenly placed.

ISLAND—IRWIN.

A very pretty, but quiet event took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Wm. Irwin, 2nd Line, west, Mono, on Thursday, March 24th, when her second daughter, Esther May, was united in marriage to Mr. John Island, a former Orangeville boy. The bride wore a dark blue panama skirt with a cream net waist and carried a bouquet of carnations. Her going-away costume was a shepherd's plaid suit with large tuscan hat. The ceremony took place at half past two o'clock. The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her brother to the strains of the wedding march which was played by Miss Lucy Cruikshank. After the ceremony was over the company spent a few happy hours in conversation, after which they repaired to the dining room, where they partook of a dainty repast. The tables were adorned with carnations. At the close of the dinner several toasts were drunk to the health of the bride and groom, and Rev. G. A. Rix, Mr. W. CORNEILIUS—HENRY.

Last Wednesday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Donaldson, Reading, was the scene of a very happy event when their adopted daughter, Ellenor F. Henry, was united in marriage with Joseph R. Corneilius, of East Garafraxa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. Scott, of Hillsburg, assisted by Rev. R. W. McCallum, of Waldemar, at 3 o'clock, in the presence of the immediate friends and close neighbors of the young people. The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of cream lustre, trimmed with lace and pearl trimmings and wore the customary bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Miss Maggie Simpson played the wedding march. The bride's going away costume was of taupe grey cloth, old rose hat trimmed with foliage. ST. ANDREW'S SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A short time ago the Executive of St. Andrew's S.S. submitted the following questions to the classes of the Junior and Intermediate Departments as a review of the lessons gone over during the first three months of the year. The lessons for the Quarter dealt with The Divided Kingdom and the reign of Jehoram, and the portion of the Bible studied was from I Kings, Chapter 12, to II Kings, Chapter 4. The answers to these questions are not intended to be used as a test for promotion. The purpose is to form an honor roll for those who are most diligent in Bible study. The names are inserted in their order of merit and a place on the honor roll has been given to the best five only. There are a few classes where there were not five entitled to have their names on the list. Next time it is hoped to have the name of every scholar. The questions submitted were :—

ROSEMONT.

Since last I visited Rosemont, I hear that our friends there have been having a warm time over some writing in The Banner. I intend taking another trip among some of my old friends and would be pleased to see "Buster" continue his travels and his narrative accompanying mine. I hope he has not been scared by W. J. Armstrong. Before dropping this unpleasant subject I want to say that if it was not for a few persons like "Buster" people at a distance would think that Rosemont had dropped entirely out of existence. If W. J. had dropped this matter as he has already confessed he was advised to and laughed the affair off as a sensible Irishman should, there would have been less trouble and controversy in the neighborhood. When he starts hewing down the tree he will have to cross the line before his chips will fall on Buster's head.

I came up from Alliston with Fred. McNabb, who was telling me all about the trouble and seemed to feel somewhat down-hearted on account of being wrongly accused of doing some writing. Fred let me off at Rosemont after making me promise to visit him later. After spending a few days around Rosemont I set out for Violet Hill. I was overtaken shortly by Enos Brett who gave me a lift as far as his gate. While wending my way around the deviation, I was almost run over by Edgar Moore, Russell McDowell and Fred McNabb, each driving his swiftest stepper. They called to me that they were going to Shelburne and invited me to go along. I declined the invitation and upon reaching the 4th line decided to stroll up and see how the Cotton Bros. were standing the winter. I found them hale and hearty and they insisted on my remaining over night, Tommy promising to take me to St. Luke's Church Sunday morning. I accepted and on arriving at the church was pleased to see a number of my old friends, one of whom—a very near and dear friend—invited me home for dinner and to spend a few days. Monday morning Edgar drove along before breakfast was over, quite dry in spite of the rain—so much so that we suspected he had either put up for the night or else been under the shelter of a large hat. I asked him to give me some of the news of the neighborhood. The substance of the information he imparted was that Fred had told him that Alex. McDowell's dog had died from the effects of a severe barking attack and that Cyril Blight paid frequent visits to John Law's.

LAUREL.

On Tuesday of last week, despite the handicap of unfavorable roads, Mr. John Banks completed the task of loading two carloads of farm implements and household effects for the West. Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Banks' two sons, Stanley and Harvey, left with two cars, the contents including no less than sixteen horses. We are sorry to lose the boys, who are both well-behaved and highly respected young men, and wish them every success on their journey. Mr. and Mrs. Banks and their daughter, Miss Florence, intend setting out for their Western home in the course of a couple of weeks. They will join the boys at their farm near Davidson, Sask. The people of Laurel regret to lose Mr. Banks and family from the community. They were useful members of the Methodist Church and Sunday School, where they will be specially missed. We pray that God's blessing may accompany them and remain with them in their new home.

At the close of the Methodist Sabbath School a week ago Sunday, the members of the Church choir presented Miss Florence Banks, who has been one of its members for the past few years, with an address and a beautiful gold brooch as a token of their esteem.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Wm. Johnston is out of danger, although still obliged to keep to her room.

Mr. S. J. Brown is still steadily improving and has so far recovered that he was able to drive to Laurel a week ago Thursday and pay a visit to his old friend, Mr. Wm. Hughes, who is also ill.

Mr. Henry Hughes, of Toronto, left for home last Thursday after spending a few days visiting his brother, Mr. Wm. Hughes. The latter, who has been dangerously ill for the past five weeks, is still very weak but seems to be holding his own. His recovery, however, will take considerable time.

Rev. T. R. White returned home on Saturday after a week's visit in Toronto. He was accompanied by Mrs. White, who has been away for the last month.

Messrs. Wm. Goodfellow and Harry Cooney left for the West a week ago Tuesday. Mr. Cooney is going out to join his brother, Joseph, and Mr. Goodfellow will take a position with Mr. Maharg, near Moose Jaw.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Cooney returned to Brampton last week, after a short visit with their son, Harry, prior to his departure for the West. They are staying with Mr. Cooney's brother, Mr. John Cooney, who has been seriously ill for some time. Mr. and Mrs. John Banks have taken possession of Mr. Cooney's dwelling house and will reside there until they leave for the West.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Adams and family, of Cobalt, arrived in town on Wednesday of last week for the purpose of attending the diamond wedding of Mrs. Adams' parents, Mr. and Mrs A. Groskurth. The happy event was celebrated on Saturday, April 1st, and was made the occasion of an extremely pleasant gathering. No less than fifty-three descendants of the venerable couple were present, representing three generations. Your correspondent joins with the people of Laurel in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Groskurth many happy returns.

Rev. E. J. Adams, of Cobalt, assisted in the services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon, and occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church at night, preaching an impressive discourse from the text, "Be not Again Entangled with the Yoke of Bondage."

Members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church are making preparations to present the temperance drama "The Last Loaf," before a Laurel audience on Thursday evening, April 13th. This is said to be an excellent play and should attract a large audience.

MARSVILLE.

This township, especially the western part, is now mourning the loss of one of its most respected citizens in the person of George Woods, who died early Thursday morning after a brief illness. On Wednesday of the previous week he was attending to his usual work when he was seized with an internal pain, and on Saturday Dr. Groves and Dr. Marcy commenced to operate for appendicitis, but did not complete the operation as they deemed the case hopeless and thought the end would be a matter of a few hours. But owing to his wonderful vitality he lingered till Thursday morning at 2 o'clock. His suffering was extreme, but with true Christian fortitude he bore the trial. His wise counsel and his exemplary faith will prove a blessing to those who called at his bedside. He was the fourth son of the late William Woods, a pioneer of the township, and was born 57 years ago on lot 9, con. 10. After his marriage he settled on lot 12, of the 10th line, where he resided till a few years ago, when he moved to the Baker farm on the 9th line, near Hereward. His genial disposition, his integrity and his noble purposes won the respect of the community. He was Assessor of the township for a few years and has been D. R. O. for the Hereward polling sub-division for several years. He was a consistent member of the Victoria Methodist Church, a member of the Official Board and Recording Steward of the Orton circuit. The funeral took place on Saturday to McKee's cemetery and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Cole, his pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Mason, of Belwood. Besides a sorrowing widow he leaves to mourn his loss two sons, William and Thomas, and three daughters, Mrs. Trueman Hall, Maria and Gertie at home, a sister, Mrs. Jas. Gear, of the 11th line, four brothers, James, of Alma; Thomas, of Grand Valley; John, of Fergus, and William on the homestead, lot 9, con. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Edwards, of Hanover, visited last week with Mr. Jas. Edwards, of this village.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Robson, lot 14, concession 11, East Garafraxa, was the scene of a happy event on Tuesday, the 4th, when their daughter, Ellen May, was married to William P. McEnery, a prosperous young farmer, of Ballinafad. The parlor was nicely decorated for the occasion and the knot was securely tied by Rev. Mr. Cole, pastor of the Orton Methodist church, in the presence of a large number of guests from Georgetown, Guelph and other places. The bride, who was handsomely attired in a cream satin-striped gown of delaine, was given away by her father and carried a large bouquet of cream roses. The flower girl was her little sister, Elsie, and was dressed in pink mulle. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold locket and chain. After the ceremony seventy guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner, to which ample justice was done. The happy couple left for their home on the evening train, accompanied by the good wishes of their legion of friends.

CHARLESTON.

Mr. Norman Ferguson is moving to Erin, where we understand he has purchased a desirable property. We are sorry to lose "Normy" as he was a genial and obliging neighbor, but we wish him success in the township of his adoption.

Mr. Jas. McKerracher, of Northwood, is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. McCartney, 2nd line.

Miss Edith Patterson, who has been rather seriously ill of late, is on the road to recovery.

The Directors of the Consolidated Telephone Co. held a meeting here on Saturday. We understand they contemplate making large extensions to their lines this coming season.

Mr. R. J. Potter was taken rather seriously ill very suddenly on Tuesday night at the Arlington Hotel. Dr. McFayden was announced and succeeded in relieving his patient, so that he was able to return to his home on Saturday evening.

Mr. Thos. Bell shipped two car loads of stock from here on Wednesday and many a farmer went away with a well-filled purse as a result of his purchases.

How To Save Money

A Pointer to Housekeepers.

Look at the financial side of Zam-Buk's use. A cut sustained in the home, the store, or the workshop, a sore which is unattended, results, say, in festering or blood-poisoning. You have to lay off for a day or two. What does that mean when pay day comes round? Zam-Buk insures you against that loss. A little Zam-Buk applied to such an injury prevents all danger of blood-poisoning, takes out the smarting and heals.

Heads of families know how costly doctoring is. Be wise and act on the preventive line. A box of Zam-Buk in the home is so all-round useful. The baby's rashes, the older children's cuts and bruises, the inevitable burn, cut, or scald—for all these, as well as for more serious ailments, such as piles, ulcers, eczema, ringworm, etc., Zam-Buk is without a rival.

Dangers of Shaving.—You get a cut at the barber's shop. A little Zam-Buk smeared on the wound prevents all danger. If any ailment has been contracted, Zam-Buk cures. Mr. George Hobden, 108 Manitoba St., St. Thomas, Ontario, says: "I contracted barber's rash, and the whole of my left cheek broke out in one mass of red, watery pimples and sores. These spread to the other parts of my face, until face and neck were covered with running sores. How far the disease would have spread had it not been for Zam-Buk, I don't know. I applied this balm, and in a short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk Soap is as good as the balm, but in a different way. Washed in Zam-Buk Soap the skin is disinfected and disease germs lying upon it are killed. Mothers will find it unequalled for baby's bath.

Zam-Buk Balm and Zam-Buk Soap are sold by all druggists and stores at 50c. for the balm and 25c. tablet for the soap.

WALDEMAR.

The flood on the Grand River passed off without doing any harm to the Waldemar dam, but it left the Townline bridge south of this place in a wrecked condition, by tearing out the east end abutment and leaving it impassable.

Oliver Lomas received quite a shaking up the other day. While the ice was going over the dam he made an attempt to fish some wood out of the water back of the dam with a pike pole. He overbalanced in some manner and received a bad cut close to the eye and several other bruises.

Reciprocity is quite a topic around our little burg, but our citizens are beginning to think the tack has fallen out of it.

Our town is not lacking for a Levite, or a priest, nor yet green-eyed monsters.

Mrs. John McFadzean, of Rebecca St., is spending a week with Mrs. John Brown, of East Luther.

J. Mc. is in a somewhat lonely mood. He evidently thinks baching is not what it is cracked up to be.

T. H. McDowell spent Sunday out of town.

Mr. Wm. Dyers is ill with a slight attack of pleurisy. Hope to see him out again soon.

Mrs. H. D. Irwin is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Tolton, of Waldemar.

Our carriage builder is busy painting buggies and seems to have no time to think of the welfare of the community.

HOCKLEY.

The continued cold weather of the past week has been sufficient to sour the springing exuberance of the most optimistic.

It is reported that Robert Mills is about to dispose of his farm to Robert Laverty, and that he then intends moving to the vicinity of Alliston.

The fifth line has completed arrangements for installing the Mono Mills Telephone System this coming summer. The benefits of the telephone are very apparent. Through this medium, W. J. Bowers was enabled to ascertain the day of the month on the morning of the first of April at 1 o'clock a.m.

Robert Summerville is commencing preparations toward erecting both a house and barn this coming summer.

The spring birds should by this time have the baseball fever pretty well aroused.

ALTON.

The concert held here last Monday night under the auspices of the Alton Epworth League was a decided success, there being a crowded house. The programme, which was unique and original in character, took the form of a Vocal Newspaper. The numbers were as follows:—

Chorus—The League.

Editorial Page—Papers by Rev. C. Langford and Mr. C. Baughman. Mr. James Barber was also listed for an address in this Department, but was unavoidably absent.

Quartette—Misses Patterson and Scott and Messrs. Nelson and Davis.

Advertisement Page — Song, Miss Maggie McIntyre.

Letters were then read by Miss Alma Martin from the Eaton and Simpson Co's., of Toronto, in which each firm had enclosed a cheque for $5.00 to assist the League in its efforts to decorate the Church.

Book Review—A Paper written by Miss Alma Patterson and read by Miss Alice Jenkins.

Next came a Paper by Miss Maggie Dean from The Information Department, giving a statement of the work of the local and District Leagues for the past year.

The Boy Scouts of the village then rendered some fine songs and recitations, ending up with a dumb-bell exercise.

Woman's Page.—This was taken by Miss Evelyn Thomas, and the Millinery Department by Mr. W. Dean.

While the young ladies of the League were preparing lunch, the Art Supplement was introduced. This consisted of some very fine pictures, burnt work and drawings, which were tacked on the walls for inspection. Altogether the entertainment was a pronounced success and reflected a great deal of credit upon the Leaguers. The proceeds amounted to $49, notwithstanding the fact that the admission fee was placed at the small sum of 15 cents.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING.

Nature Needs Aid In Making New Health Giving Blood.

In the spring the system needs toning up. To be healthy and strong you must have new blood, just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid—you may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disfiguring pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What is needed to put you right is a tonic, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills actually make new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in the spring. This new blood drives out disease, clears the skin and makes weak, easily tired men, women and children, bright, active and strong. You can prove this by your neighbors for there is not a nook or corner in this great land where some weak, languid man or woman has not been made well and strong by this great medicine. Mr. H. Wilson, Stonewall, Man., says: "Some years ago I was run down, languid and depressed, and felt as though I was only fitted for life's scrap heap. A friend who had great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills gave me a box. Before they were all used I felt some better, and thus encouraged got a further supply, and it was not many weeks until I was again enjoying my former good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a boon to every weak person."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Nerves Are Exhausted

And nervous prostration or paralysis is creeping steadily upon you.

You hear of people suddenly falling victims of nervous prostration or some form of paralysis. But when you get all the facts of the case you find that they have had months or years of warning.

They haven't slept well. There has been frequent attacks of nervous headache. Digestion has failed. They have been irritable, easily worried and excited and have found memory and concentration failing.

Had they but known that these symptoms tell of exhausted nerves or had they realized their danger they would have restored the feeble, wasted nerves by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great restorative treatment cures by forming new, rich blood and by rebuilding the wasted nerve cells. No medicine is more certain to prove of lasting benefit to the system. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

REFUSED TO CONVICT.

Montreal Jury Acquitted A. J. Lemieux of Highway Robbery, Although Evidence Clearly Showed His Guilt.

Accused Was Doing Cause of Religion a Service Chief Argument of Defence Counsel.

Montreal, March 29.—The acquittal of A. J. Lemieux by a jury in the Court of the King's Bench yesterday, following as it did the remarkable charge of Justice Lavergne, which practically directed a verdict of guilty, the whole affair constituting an evident disregard of the law by the jury because of the involved interests of the Church, has created a profound sensation in many quarters. The question is regarded as a very serious one, and is certain to lead to considerable discussion, official and otherwise, regarding the power of the Roman Catholic Church in this province.

The trial really grew out of charges made by certain Roman Catholic clergy against Emancipation Lodge, a French-Canadian Freemason organization, which has aroused a lot of excitement in this city. Lemieux and others were accused of holding up Ludger Larose on the street and robbing him of money and documents relating to the lodge, the money afterwards being returned. Accused admitted what had occurred, but pleaded justification in behalf of the Church.

In his address to the jury, Mr. Germain, counsel for the defence, tried to discredit Larose, who is a member of the lodge, referring to him as a modern Blue Beard, who instead of killing wives, killed consciences; he had also stated that Lemieux, in holding up his victim, had acted in the best of faith and with the intentions to do a noble deed for the cause of religion; he said his conscience had made him act as he had, in the best interest of society.

"In the present instance," argued Mr. Germain, "the accused, in the alleged hold-up, might have been actuated by overwrought idealism or the advancement of a principle—to wit, the protection of his faith. The object which might have made Lemieux act as he is alleged to have done, might have been to force the Triangle (as symbolizing French Masonry) to come out and fight in the open against the Cross, which was exposed to the full sunlight of God's heaven. Heretofore, as far as Montreal was concerned, the Triangle had been content to work in the dark."

"Is our religion or in fact any religion to be preached at the point of a pistol?" asked Justice Lavergne, in his charge. "To acquit this man would be to hold us up for the ridicule of the world and make us the laughing-stock of the community."

Referring to the attempts to discredit Larose, his Honor continued:

"I have not permitted and will not permit, a man's character to be besmirched by circumstances and by references to proceedings which took place fifteen years ago; I mean the charge of the defence that Larose signed his name to a document with a hyphenated name which was not his own, and for which he was brought before the court and condemned to six hours in prison, which to the best of our knowledge he was never compelled to serve even, and I refer also to the charge that he made false accusations against the University of Ottawa by writing certain anonymous letters in regard to a fire which took place there some time in 1903. Neither will I permit that the Emancipation Lodge be dragged into this case, or that its character be destroyed for the interests of the defence."

"Are we going to permit that we be held up to humanity in general at sanctioning such conduct as that of Lemieux in the present instance? Can we as Canadian citizens permit that men be grabbed by the throat and held up at street corners in any cause whatsoever, however praiseworthy may be the motives which prompted such actions? The defence has tried to make the present charge seem insignificant by saying that all that was taken were some papers. What if they did return the money to Larose after holding him up? Does that in any measure make their crime less serious?

Such conduct is reprehensible in the highest degree, if the person so attacked on the street should happen to have some heart disease or be of a sensitive nervous disposition the shock which might result would be quite sufficient to cause death. By allowing this man to go free and unpunished we would be giving the entire community the right to hold up your friends, our relatives, ourselves, indeed, at street corners at the point of revolvers, and there give them the right to search through our pockets for whatever their fancy might desire.

"Even if they were fighting for an ideal, we have not the right to approve their conduct. Canada is a cosmopolitan country; here we have all creeds and all beliefs; we cannot pass as honest men and exert our authority against those who do not believe as we do, and so carry on a religious persecution of the worst sort against all who happen to have convictions and ideals of their own.

"The accused has admitted the robbery, his three companions have corroborated his evidence in the matter, and the cold facts have been clearly proven, that Ludger Larose was on the night of April 8th, 1910, held up and certain papers taken from him by the accused is shown as positively as any legal fact may well be. As to the matter of the $82 which it is claimed were returned, we may grant it for the sake of expedience, and still we have a complete chain of evidence, several things were stolen. It is sufficient to show that one, only one, was taken.

"As to the question of the credibility of the witness Larose, I am inclined to believe him even before the accused, as I think he has acted in good faith. If he did not have all the guilty parties arrested and brought to justice it was because he thought he could afford to let the smaller sinners go so he might get the ring leader. The others have shown us that they were nothing more than the tools of Lemieux and that they acted under his instructions.

"The defence claim that the charge was made only against Lemieux after a month or so had elapsed to counteract the scandalous revelations of a trap to ensnare the priests during the Eucharistic Congress. I think Mr. Larose's explanation that the case was not made sooner because there was not sufficient evidence in hand a good and sensible one, no valid objection can be made to it."

He then added: "If you are honest men you cannot but find the prisoner guilty." In spite of this, he was acquitted.

The jury was made up of: Théophile Gervais, carriage maker; Adolphe Pilon, carter; Amable Desautels, manufacturer; Alfred Jobin, blacksmith; Auguste Lachapelle, shoemaker; Joseph Galarneau, farmer; Alderic Besner, farmer; Alfred Lapierre, farmer; Laurent Gratton, blacksmith; Donat Brabant, carpenter; Albert Dubois, plumber, and Julien Labelle, farmer.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA.

"My nerves were very bad, and I could not sleep at night, nor could I control my arms or legs," writes Mrs. Robt. Bustard, Maxwell, N.B., "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured me of what I believe was the early stage of locomotor ataxia or paralysis. I cannot describe what I suffered, but now I am completely cured."

Will Reciprocity Increase Farm Values?

(From The Canadian Century.)

Advocates of reciprocity are making statements to the effect that the adoption of reciprocity will immediately increase the value of Canadian farm land 25 per cent. or more. Instead of making wild guesses let us get at the facts. Since the United States Government has had a report prepared by experts showing the comparative value per acre of improved farm lands in 1900 and 1910 in various border states and in the Canadian provinces adjoining them. This report states that between 1900 and 1910 the value of improved farm lands increased 67 per cent. in Maine, 37 per cent. in New Hampshire, 33 per cent. in Vermont, 181 per cent. in Nova Scotia, 120 per cent. in New Brunswick, 70 per cent. in Prince Edward Island, 80 per cent. in Quebec, 43 per cent. in Manitoba, 201 per cent. in Saskatchewan, and 185 per cent. in Alberta.

The great influx of settlers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta accounts for the rapid increase in farm values in those provinces; but what is the explanation of the extraordinary increase in farm values in the three Maritime Provinces of Canada? Why did Nova Scotia farm values increase 181 per cent. while farm values in the neighboring state of Maine only increased 67 per cent?

Undoubtedly the great increase of values in the Maritime Provinces is due to the establishment of manufacturing industries in recent years. The establishment of great iron and steel industries in Nova Scotia has revolutionized conditions throughout the three provinces. A profitable home market has been created for everything the farmers produce. These industries have been equally beneficial to the fishermen. As the steel industries are located in Nova Scotia the influence on the price of farm lands has been most marked in that province, but Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick have been greatly benefited. The development of St. John as a winter port has also helped to increase farm values in New Brunswick.

It will be noted that the increase of farm values is considerably greater in Quebec than in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, and the improvement has been greater in Ontario than in the adjoining state of Michigan.

In the face of such facts how foolish it is to indulge in wild dreams of a sudden increase in Canadian farm values as a result of reciprocity.

The Price of Barley.

From October 1, 1890, to August 1, 1894, the United States customs duty on barley was 30 cents per bushel. From August 27, 1894, to July 24, 1897, the duty was thirty per cent. ad valorem, equivalent to a little over ten cents per bushel. On July 24, 1897, the specific duty of thirty cents per bushel was restored and it has been continued ever since. Of course during a period of 21 years there would naturally be considerable variations in prices, but for purposes of comparison it will be fair to take the three years previous to the reduction of the duty, the three years during which the low duty prevailed and the first three after the duty of thirty cents per bushel was restored. According to reports of the United States Department of Agriculture the farm prices of barley averaged 44.26 cents per bushel during 1892, 1893 and 1894 under a specific duty of thirty cents per bushel. In 1895, 1896 and 1897, under a duty of about ten cents per bushel the farm prices averaged 34.53, while for 1898, 1899 and 1900, under a specific duty of thirty cents per bushel, the prices averaged 40.8 cents per bushel. Thus, instead of the Canadian farmer getting an increased price for the barley he sent to the United States, as a result of the reduced duty the price came down in the United States.

It is reasonable to draw the conclusion that if as a result of reciprocity large quantities of Canadian barley, wheat and oats go into the United States, it is more probable that the American prices will come down than the Canadian prices will go up.

The Children's Hair

A Little Extra Care Now May Save After Years of Regret

Children play so hard that the head perspires and the hair has a tendency to mat and get sticky on the scalp. Soap and water doesn't seem to remove it, but the hair must breathe to be healthy. Just try Nyal's Hirsutone. Rub it into the roots of the hair with the balls of the fingers. The children like it and will ask you to use it. Hirsutone loosens up the accumulated dust and perspiration and the hair and scalp can then be easily and thoroughly cleaned. After it is dried give another application of Hirsutone. After you have used it for a while you will admit it is the best you have ever used. Your Nyal Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it.

It cost $100 an acre but is advantageously situated for factories, as it is close to the business centre and has good shipping facilities. Factory sites will be sold cheap.

CURED THE WIFE AND HUSBAND TOO.

Great Work Done By Dodd's Kidney Pills In One Quebec Family.

Thomas Lauriault had Kidney Disease and his wife Bright's Disease, and Dodd's Kidney Pills made Them Both Well.

Lac Cayamont, Que., April 3.—(Special.)—There is a world interest in the simple story of Madame Thomas Lauriault of this place. In her own words, it is as follows:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured my husband of Kidney Disease and myself of Bright's Disease. We recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from Kidney or Bright's Disease."

This is a splendid example of the grand work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing among the plain people of Canada. Kidney Disease is the commonest of all ailments among those who have to work hard, because the kidneys are the first part of the body to feel the wear and tear of heavy work.

When the kidneys go wrong the blood goes wrong, and the whole body goes wrong. Rheumatism, Dropsy, Diabetes and Bright's Disease are the usual results. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure these by simply curing the kidneys.

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910.

"You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

"One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications.

"I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying "Fruit-a-tives".

"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. "Dr. Miles' Nervine Raised Me From the Grave"—Mrs. Taylor

This is a strong statement to make, but it is exactly what Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of Blum, Texas, said in expressing her opinion of this remedy.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine raised me from the grave and I have much confidence in it. I can never say enough for your grand medicines. If anyone had offered me $100.00 for the second bottle of Nervine that I used I would have said 'no indeed.'" MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR, Blum, Tex.

The Crimson Domino

What Happened at a Masquerade in High Life

By MARY L. HARKNESS

Pennington is one of those places where wealthy people from the city live all the year round, though some have residences in town in which they spend a few months in midwinter. But as for social pleasures, Pennington residents have most of the enjoyments of city life with those of the country added. Their summer outdoor sports are prolonged till late in the autumn, and they play golf any time when the ground is free from snow.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Archie Worth came to live at Pennington at the instigation of Charlie Erwin, Archie's intimate friend. Had Erwin foreseen what this change of residence would bring about he would certainly not have proposed it. There resulted one of the most unpleasant situations that can happen to a man. Worth had no sooner settled at Pennington than he was obliged to go abroad on business. Before his departure he said to his friend:

"Charlie, I'm going to leave Winifred in your charge. Being a newcomer here, it is liable to be pretty dull for her at first, and I shall expect you to see that she gets invitations to what's going on both out of doors and inside, and when she needs an escort take her about yourself. You're one of the few men I know with whom I would trust my wife without the slightest compunction. I hope to get back here in time for the holidays, but I may be detained longer."

Erwin accepted the charge. Indeed, since the Worths had come to Pennington at his instance he could not do less, and, having accepted it, he devoted himself during that autumn to giving Winifred Worth a pleasant season. He drove her out, made up automobile parties for her, escorted her to field sport matches and rode with her across country.

Now, in the communities of smart sets the love affairs that go on among the unmarried and the married as well are not as with people less pretentious. Either the courtships of the boys and girls attract little attention or they precede marriages of convenience. Now and again some married woman will make an incursion upon the domain of the girls and carry off an eligible young man, gaining nothing for herself and robbing the girls.

There was a married woman of middle age living at Pennington, a Mrs. Edwards, nearly forty and much given to the society of men younger than herself. She was not popular with the women, but so long as she could monopolize their husbands, brothers and lovers she was indifferent to their opinion of her. This woman had resolved to make Charlie Erwin her cavalier when Archie Worth went abroad and left his wife in Charlie's care.

One night or, rather, morning, Charlie Erwin went to bed conscious of being the central figure of a peculiar situation. During the evening Mrs. Edwards had shown plainly that she proposed to monopolize him, and Mrs. Worth, the wife of his friend, who had left her in his charge, had indicated that she had been overwhelmed by one of those mad passions for him which will lead a woman to wreck herself for the man she loves.

Had Erwin been a lightweight man either intellectually or morally perhaps he might have been flattered that two women should have singled him out for the bestowal of their favors. But he was a man of character and with a high sense of honor. He knew women well and felt assured that, while Mrs. Edwards' interest in him was the satisfaction of appropriating him to herself, Winifred Worth had really become infatuated with him. The situation was most dangerous for him and Winifred, for not only had Winifred's infatuation made her reckless, but Mrs. Edwards would doubtless be on the watch for some slip which she might turn to account against her rival.

After thinking the matter over Erwin decided that there was no safety for him except in flight. True, the leaving behind of two women who were at swords' points about him—he not being on hand to repress either—was fraught with danger, but less dangerous than to remain. Besides, flight would put him personally in a better position in case the affair came out.

But in order to leave matters in as good shape as possible he went to the vicious one of the two and, assuring her of his devotion to her, told her that it was necessary for him to go away for a time on business.

I have said that Charlie Erwin knew women. He certainly didn't know Mrs. Edwards or he would not have counted upon her, even in this slight respect. She conveyed the news of Erwin's proposed flight to her rival and, knowing that Winifred would see Erwin and endeavor to keep him, lay in wait for the couple with a view to surprising them and thus getting Winifred in her power.

Having a maid who was quite bright in observing people's motions, Mrs. Edwards instructed her to shadow Erwin and report if he visited her rival. At 5 o'clock on the afternoon Erwin was to depart the maid telephoned her mistress that he had gone to Mrs. Worth's home. Mrs. Edwards went there immediately, entered without ringing and found Charlie and Winifred in the library, Winifred in tears.

Mrs. Edwards, having made the two aware of her presence, said that she had called and, not getting a reply to her ring, had ventured in. Then she withdrew.

Erwin saw at once that he had made a mistake in informing Mrs. Edwards of his proposed departure. He felt that he and Winifred Worth were as much in her power as if she had had a dozen witnesses to the scene she had come upon, for a married woman must be above suspicion. He abandoned his plan of going away, feeling it necessary for him to remain and, if possible, scotch the viper who he was convinced had determined to put her poisonous fangs into her rival.

That year the smart set of Pennington concluded to give a masquerade ball at the close of the season and before the opening of Lent. The costumes worn on the occasion during the first part of the evening were to be covered with dominos until the unmasking, when the dominos, with the masks, were to be thrown off.

Charlie Erwin resolved to take advantage of this ball to spring a trap on Mrs. Edwards that he hoped would put her out of business as to doing Winifred Worth or himself any harm. Worth returned a few days before Ash Wednesday. He thanked Charlie for his attentions to his wife, but Charlie could see that he had heard more of those attentions than he cared to hear. Nevertheless he was cordial and invited Charlie to dinner on the evening of the ball. After dinner he went out, leaving his friend alone with his wife, thus indicating his confidence. This gave Charlie an opportunity to give Winifred so much of his plan as was essential. He told her to tell her husband that she would wear a crimson domino, but to use one of another color. This she promised to do.

There was no hall in Pennington suitable for a ball, so one of the largest dwelling houses was offered by its owner for the purpose.

A crimson domino was seen moving about, always attended by a purple one, the two dancing together nearly every set. Presently some one standing behind Worth said, "Look out for the crimson!" Worth saw the crimson and the purple dominos going out of a door together.

Worth was an honorable man and above spying, especially on his own wife. But Mrs. Edwards had contrived to let out enough of his friend's attention to his wife during his absence, colored to suit her purpose, to make him anxious. He turned to look behind him and saw a pale blue domino just passing away. The figure turned and pointed to the crimson. There was something about this person which the domino did not conceal that was familiar to him. Whether it was the walk or the gesture, or what it was, he could not tell.

But this did not concern him as much as the crimson. He remembered that his wife had told him she would wear a crimson domino, and he had seen the domino constantly attended by the purple one. Indeed, the green monster had begun to take root in his breast before the warning came. Following the two retreating figures, he was led through several rooms on the ground floor. The figure in purple, evidently a man, occasionally turned his head and looked back.

Worth believed the man fancied himself followed and was making an effort to shake his shadower. This only added to the former's determination to remain on the scent. Nevertheless he lost sight several times of the pair, who mounted from one story to another till they entered an apartment built on the roof and used for plants.

Before going in the purple domino turned evidently to see if others were about, but by this time Worth had learned that if he were to discover what he dreaded he had better keep out of sight. He waited impatiently for awhile, then stole to where the two had entered. The crimson domino was encircled in the purple domino's arms. Rushing forward, there was a muffled shriek. He tore off the mask of the woman he thought to be his wife.

He exposed the face of Mrs. Edwards. The man uncovered, and Worth saw his friend Charlie Erwin.

With an humble apology, Worth retreated, and Erwin felt sure that any expectation of trouble with his friend had been eliminated.

The next morning both Erwin and Mrs. Edwards left Pennington, but not together. Mrs. Edwards did not return, and Erwin remained away until the next spring, when the Worths returned to the city. Then he returned.

Thus by judicious management a woman who yielded to a passing fancy was saved from the world's cold criticism.

What Has Dandruff Got To Do With Baldness?

You see the statement every day that the one cause of baldness is dandruff. But is it?

True, dandruff often precedes the departure of the hair.

It is equally true that you know men with a shock of hair you can hardly pull a comb through, who have carried around a dandruff laden collar as long as you have known them.

You have also seen men whose scalp was kept as clean as a baby's whose hair was surely departing.

That dandruff talk sounds well and convinces a good many of us, but let us not fool ourselves.

Of course dandruff isn't a good thing to carry around, but it is only an indication.

The same trouble that causes the hair to fall out usually causes dandruff, so if you get at the cause and arrest the loss of hair, you will stop dandruff too.

Those who use Nyal's Hirsutone find it the most satisfactory hair healer and hair dressing they have ever used.

It does stop the hair from falling out.

It will also stop dandruff.

Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends it—$1.00 and 50c in sprinkler bottles.

FICTION IN THE LIBRARY

Serves to Educate and Developes Fondness for Reading.

No other Class of Literature Touches so Many Phases of Human Existence.

At the meeting of the Orangeville District Library Institute about three weeks ago, Miss Florence Collier, M. A., daughter of Mr. Alfred Collier, deputy registrar, read an interesting and suggestive paper on the subject: "Fiction in the Library." So favorably was the Paper received that the Association decided by a unanimous vote to have it published in one of the local newspapers. The Paper, which we have prefaced with a brief explanatory note by Miss Collier, is as follows:—

The writer of this paper would like to state that it was never intended for anything save one oral reading, and would consequently crave pardon for many material and rhetorical defects. For the sake of brevity and to catch the attention many ideas are too abruptly expressed, too sharply outlined, and much is left to the inflection of the voice. And to remedy this would mean substantial alteration.—F. C.

Fiction in the Public Library is scarce mentioned, e'er we hear on all sides the prompt annotation—"Ah yes!—light literature!" And if we have the temerity to remark on the overwhelming demand for it as reading matter, we elicit such comments, as suggest that Fiction bears the same relation to the intellectual appetite as ice-cream does to the physical;—being a sort of palate—serving luxury, which some indulge to unseemliness, some approve more moderately, and others denounce as evil and extravagant, but which all alike (whether partaking or abstaining) tacitly concede to be a questionable nutriment.

And it is true, that in casual parlance we do find Fiction relegated to the undignified status of a mere fancy-tickling dainty, and a suspicious one at that. Of course, when we plead that Fiction includes more than the frivolous modern novel, and enumerate, fairy tales, historical romances, social problem stories, instancing such fine productions as the Water-Babies, Ivanhoe, Romola and John Halifax, Gentleman, people will pause and admit that, after all, Fiction in the Library is a legitimate department, for the purpose of intellectual relaxation and entertainment. And even then, were we to state that out of 10203 books issued from our Orangeville Library in 1910, 8962 were books of Fiction,—the Board and people of Orangeville would immediately regret the high percentage, and mayhap discuss some remedy for the undue proportion. And I think in many cases there would be some rather highly-seasoned disapprobation.

In setting seriously to work to prepare material for a paper on the subject, we are soon impelled to realize that instead of having approached a mere human diversion, we have confronted an art as ancient and fascinating in its evolution as that of painting, sculpture, music or architecture.

Now, books of philosophy, logic, science, religion and history are more generally expositions of such knowledge and truth as has been attained by individuals or society, and are more inherently written from a desire to instruct. They are preferably the voice of the teacher or preacher lifted, frequently, after long years of University training, grinding study, painful research and deep-delving in the erudition of the ages. But fine Fiction comes not essentially from the finished scholar, nor from the desire to impart thoughts, but springs more spontaneously from an inborn talent to create; a talent which instinctively drives the possessor to give life to his mental creations.

Through uneventful days and years the sculptor toils patiently at clay or marble because the passion to create is his. The masters compose their melodies because their souls are filled with music, and to deny themselves expression would be more bitter than death. The painter clings to his canvas through discouragement and poverty and want, not because he craves the ultimate wealth and adulation, nor indeed because he longs to reveal the beauty of form and color to the ages, but primarily because his brain seethes with exquisite images, and his body starves gladly that he may taste satisfaction in giving life to the children of his fancy. All these pursue their life-work with such exclusive devotion, and such heroic self-sacrifice as is only surpassed, perhaps, by the passion of mother love. And it springs from a like source,—the joy of the parent in the very existence of its offspring.

Now when you begin to study the growth of Fiction, you will find that it has a history as ancient and masters as devoted as any of the fine arts. And when you recall such masterpieces as Hugo's Les Miserables, George Elliott's Adam Bede; David Copperfield, Vanity Fair and countless other choice works, will you dare deny Fiction the rank of an art? You will concede that Paradise Lost, Dante's Divine Comedy, and Shakespeare's plays are of a nobility and inspiration equal to Michel Angelo's frescoes, Beethoven's Symphonies or the Marbles of Greece. I do not claim the poet as Fictionist. He may be that, but he is always much more, and ranks in line with the exponents of the fine arts. But I do claim that Fiction is an art and a very noble art indeed. Yet, in kind, prose Fiction and poetry stand closer together than we sometimes imagine. And such masters of rhythm and idealism and soft phrasing are some Fiction writers, that they actually invade the very realm of poetry.

Away back in the third century, B. C., we find the Hellenistic civilization expressing its fancies in novels. In the first century after Christ the Greek writers began dropping their poetry for novels. Roman literature was perhaps least prolific of romance, as we find only two ancient authors to whom Fiction is attributed. And from that until the tenth Century Fiction grew in abundance and favor; presenting itself under the various guises of fables, anecdotes, imaginary voyages, romances, fictitious biographies and pastorals. Some of the works of the early centuries have furnished foundation material for such later authors as Swift, Munchausen, St. Pierre and Tasso. During the Byzantine period, Aethiopica, a romance by Helidorus, enjoyed a long period of fame; and even in later days has been translated and commended by eminent French writers and for Raphael himself has provided subjects for many painted pictures.

Coming on down through an ever-spreading popularity to the thirteenth century we find a Sicilian writing the wondrous history of the Trojans. The same epoch is marked by the great prose exploitation of the famous tales of King Arthur and the Round Table, tales that, though their origin be lost in obscurity, have nevertheless exercised a profound influence on all succeeding literature and stand to-day magnificently immortalized in Tennyson's Idylls of the King. Along with them, though enlarged later, the story of the Grail grew into prominence. In French and Italian literature a similar series of chivalric romances surrounded the personality of Charlemagne. Whilst in Spain the adoration of knightly deeds evinced itself in prose presentments of the Cid stories.

After the thirteenth and fifteenth centuries we are all perhaps better acquainted with the development of his art; until at the present time we are confronted with a bewildering array of diverse volumes, all legitimately consigned to the category of Fiction.

We can readily perceive that Fiction has a history as ancient as that of literature itself. And we must admit that it is more easily available in the original perfection of the artist's handiwork than is a great painting, fine music, or good statuary. We know too that it overwhelms all other kinds of literature in general popularity; for the vast majority of those who use public libraries use them well-nigh exclusively for works of Fiction. Comparatively few read history, theology, science or philosophy unless their profession trends that way, and to the professional the necessity of the time limit makes the public library unsatisfactory.

I have suggested that Fiction is an intellectual nourishment, and I advocate that, as a truer definition than that of being a mere gratification to the mental senses. But why Fiction is food for the mind, and why it is so exceeding popular a one with the peoples of the earth would furnish abundant material for a separate paper.

The normal man or woman, tired with the sordid grind of physical labor or dulled with the monotony of ceaseless routine, will find genuine refreshment in the perusal of even a light romance. We are compelled to seek forgetfulness of personal activity in sleep, otherwise we should become human wrecks, and the mental abandonment so readily induced by reading an absorbing tale of Fiction brings a similar rejuvenation.

Reading itself is one of the most prolific sources of attaining knowledge and culture. Knowledge and culture in their normal state bring wisdom and nobility, and wisdom and nobility are the most powerful levers in compassing individual and communal happiness. And Fiction is the most adequate kind of book for conveying elementary wisdom and culture to the masses. It imparts knowledge and disseminates the doctrine of polish in the quickest, cheapest, most agreeable, and seductive manner and in the most assimilative form. And, at the same time, it satisfies so many human cravings.

For it provides us with companionship, with great armies of men and women who move us to laughter, and sympathy and tears. And from these we imbibe wholesome philosophy and genuine piety; instead of from mere cold phrases and dogma, or accurate data and lifeless facts. We consort with living, breathing souls, struggling, and thinking, and travelling, and speculating, and dreaming as we aspire to do. And in their society we taste many a longed for joy or triumph, many an impossible voyage or exploit. And we learn by the concrete much more effectively than by the abstract. Besides that, Fiction appeals to an innumerable list of human interests and activities. Our insatiable imaginations, one of our most divine attributes, and one which is most potent in preserving sanity and mental balance, is invariably called into play. Our ideals, without which man is but a base and animal creature, are always spurred or fostered. In the delightful unfolding of the Author's fancies we may gain the comradeship of men and animals, peep into other countries, other climes, other ages; we taste the hardihood of other strugglers; we confront the wrongs of the state, the heroism of the child or the dumb brute, the pain and joy of all social classes, the political crimes and wisdom of the nations, the moral decay or vitality emanating from certain conditions and environments. Will any other class of prose literature touch so many phases of human existence in one volume, as the book of Fiction does?

And in tasting all these pleasurable and educative delights, we are making friends with real personalities, the authors. Personalities with keener brains, finer imaginations, nicer speech and more accurate phrasing than ourselves. We extend our knowledge of other lands, other customs. We stimulate our interest in graver contemplations—history, philosophy and the sciences. We are compelled to consider social problems and political governments. Our sense of responsibility toward the lower creation is stirred and stung. After a little thought, we can admit, that in perusing a normally healthy book of Fiction, we strengthen our worship of courage, our faith in universal justice, our pursuit of ideals, our belief in the pre-eminence of love. And all these latter characteristics impregnate life with an inestimable fund of power and sweetness.

If Fiction then is a legitimate and potent art in human progress, the chief concern of libraries is what kind shall they provide.

There are two classes of Fiction which I think we may fairly claim should be more or less absolutely excluded from the library. One is the book of "ill-repute," the other the "objectionable" book. The former should be debarred for the same reason that we isolate a case of smallpox or leprosy. Now and again you will find stray volumes morally unclean amongst the giant authors, as well as amongst the pigmy writers. Do not mistake me, I am not referring to such books as Barry Lyndon or Robert Elsemere, (some people might think them 'objectionable'), but I refer to the types that are even more pernicious for adults, than we consider Nick Carter and Jesse James books for boys. It is needless to specify further. But just here I would like to urge that a too vigilant care cannot be exercised in watching out for these vicious specimens. Even on our own library shelves one finds now and again a story conventionally correct, but so subtly redolent of moral leprosy that it is infinitely more deadly than the notorious and marked volume.

Now "objectionable" books I should classify differently. And these I would exclude for the same reason as we ordinarily refuse to take medicinal drugs unless by a physician's prescription. Some drugs, you know, are poisonous, harmful or beneficial, according to the size of the dose or the constitution of the patient. Now that is what I mean by "objectionable" Fiction. Not such stories as are morally tainted or offensive to the proprieties, but such stories as are liable to warp certain temperaments, or develope an abnormal and unhealthy bias in the character. Among these you might place the Pansy books, Bertha M. Clay's novels, many realistic works, cheap detective stories, and clever expositions of gambling, cheating, brutality and similar vulgarities. Now I do not rate all these in the same class. The first two are deprecated, because religious prudishness and poor melodrama so very, very frequently, by heir rigidity and tawdry sentiment, sow the seeds of revolt against religion and the qualities of the heart. And I consider even the mildest cynicism towards faith and human love a disaster. The realistic book in its extreme style, that is realism mostly for the sake of realism, I should exclude. Even when dressed in its least crude and least unconventional garb, it is scarcely profitable. Jack London's Sea-Wolf, (unless you possess an extraordinary fund of animal nature) is more or less revolting, despite its lurid cleverness. Even Uncle Tom's Cabin, which some of us still read, and which attained such fame in the field of realism, is always productive of pain and tears. It was necessary. It aided a godly reform. But by the very poignancy of its realism, it compassed its own death in the literary world. We cherish it now, only for it's past noble deed; it holds no promise for the present or the future. Do not be mislead by the sophistry that realism is the exponent of real life, of truth. To persistently paint and repaint crime and suffering until one makes it predominate is to falsify life. To strip life of conventionality and present it bald and crude is not to war against falsehood and assist truth. Nothing is wider the mark. For sin and pain are relative things. We all have brains and souls and are not mere animals. To indicate:—We look in our mirrors in odd moments of idleness or exhaustion, and perceive cheek, eyes, lips and brow, a mere shape of flesh and blood, devoid of color, expression or spiritual animation. And we wonder and marvel that our acquaintances tolerate such an unlovely appearance. Now and again in rare flashes we see our friends so. But it is the infrequent and passing vision. Custom, habit, familiarity, love and the thousand spiritual qualities of our nature weave a sort of beauty about even the most sordid incidents of life. All phases of life and of human intercourse, however sinful, however mean, are almost invariably toned and softened by some intangible spiritual element or environment. No human soul is wholly vile, few human incidents wholly brutish. The idealist is, after all, more truthful than the realist. For beauty and goodness are infinitely more prevailing than ugliness and sin. Joy is stronger than pain. Besides we do not seek out the slum for habitation, nor the criminal for companionship. We rather avoid them, unless we owe them a duty. Were we to cultivate the realists' attitude to humanity, we should go mad.

Outside the morally pernicious and the story of questionable healthiness, we have left a wide scope for choice. There are nutritious romances, historical tales, social problem stories, books of adventure and travel, animal stories, tales of chivalry, fairy-tales, allegories and so on and in this varied collection there is high promise of remunerative feast and entertainment for the intellect of any community. But when the library has excluded what may blight or embitter individual happiness, it does not feel its duty all accomplished. It is a public institution, therefore the public are responsible for the literature it circulates. That is why it excludes poison and disease, not because it forbids the perusal of books so infected, but because it will not be responsible for them.

But even amongst that which we must admit and bear the responsibility of, there is a vast difference in its desirability as Fiction. The most scholarly and learned read novels, even very airy novels. I have in mind a quite eminent and middle-aged Professor, famous for his erudition in oriental antiquity, and his dry-as-dust profundity talking nonsense and quoting Dickens' Mrs. Gamp with the jovial relish of a school boy; also the wife of another learned Doctor (herself a member of an old-world family far-famed for its lofty heroism and scholarly culture) enquiring eagerly about a copy of "Sowing Seeds in Danny," for her husband, as he "did so like to devour those new books." Yet he is essentially a specialist in voluminous histories, and a devotee of classical stateliness and ponderous tomes.

There are many shades of difference in permissible Fiction, from the classics of Hugo, Lytton and Scott, to the lightness of The Duchess and Rosa N. Carey, which latter can barcely be accounted literature at all.

It is quite certain that good literture in Fiction is better than bad literature. But it is equally true that we read a larger percentage of Fiction that is poor literature or not literature at all, than we do of good literature. And that is really what we mean when we deplore the enormous issue of Fiction from the library.

Many would debar all Fiction that could be rated as bad literature. But should scarcely be so stringent for this reason:—Extensive reading is a comparatively modern attainment. The mass of library patrons do not inherit minds attuned to literary excellence. But Fiction satisfies a latent instinct, and they are eager to read. Their taste at first may be inclined to the weaker and less artistic just as a child's early efforts in matters of personal dress are apt to be foolish and tawdry. But you must not forbid the intellectual appetite what it can digest provided it be wholesome, any more than you would deny a child music lessons because at first primal instinct inclined him to tin horns and noisy drums. You must give the newly stirred faculties time to develope and you must let them have the weaker nutriment until they are equal to the stronger.

Many people however might do better than they do in patronizing the best books. We can only see to it that, if the light stories and giddy romances are tastefully bound and alluringly illustrated, the good writers are likewise nicely and readably presented. Who does not turn away even from the celebrated classic if the volume be heavy, or musty with age, or uninviting with its fine print, or tiresome with its rigid binding, its faded color and unadorned pages. It is not true that anything fine or excellent can afford to affect a slovenly or purely useful attire. A nice appearance is the indispensable adjunct of a good book. And it is not because the reading matter is for all time that the binding need be. The book of the hour is not enduringly bound because we require it only for season. But when the stoutest bound book is read for a few years, becomes unclean, and should be promptly replaced. I believe if these things were more carefully and systematically adjusted more good books would be read.

And summing it all up the problem of winnowing the wheat from the chaff, or rather of garnering the wheat and burning the tares, is one of the most troublesome to the Library. It is impossible for any Board to read all the Fiction selected. And if it were few people are competent to judge concerning the relative good or evil derived from certain books by certain natures. Nevertheless the matter is vitally serious. Also, outside the realm of Fiction authorities on the many different pursuits and interests in the community are not always adequately supplied. A few in contact with the Board desire theology, science or gardening treatises, and there is consequently an undue proportion purchased along these special lines. And many, many modest people who have a little hobby of their own and would be content with one or two volumes go unsatisfied.

The government issues a list of desirable Fiction regularly. It will also give advice on titles and authors in all the other departments. Local Boards would do well to enquire into the extent and adequacy of this commendable effort to make our libraries clean and broad, and educative. We are gravely responsible for the library work. We cannot be to careful or too scrupulous in censoring our catalogues.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL

Cured of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Alex. Moore, of James St., Oxford, N.S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured out little daughter, Christian, age six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches, and the least exertion would tire her. We have tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills."

H. S. LITERARY SOCIETY

Last Week's Meeting Marked by Well-Deserved Presentation to Trustee Robert Mann.

The High School Literary Society held a very enjoyable meeting in the Assembly Hall last Thursday night. The programme consisted of a short address by the President, a piano duet by Misses Isabel Lawson and Enid Frank, an address by Mr. Jack Aiken on "Uses and Abuses of Sport," a piano duet by the Misses Shaw, and a solo by Mr. S. R. Frost. A delightful feature of the meeting was the presentation by the students of an address and a gold-headed cane to Mr. Robert Mann, one of the members of the Trustee Board. The presentation was a fitting and well-deserved recognition of the deep interest Mr. Mann has taken in the welfare of the school, and his services to the institution in connection with the construction of the new addition last year. The presentation was made by Miss Isabel Lawson and the address, which was worded as follows, was read by Mr. J. R. McPherson:—

Robert Mann, Esq., Convener Property Committee, Orangeville High School, Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Sir,—We, the pupils of the Orangeville High School, have for some time recognized the very valuable service you have continued to render as a member of the property committee of the High School Board. By innumerable acts of kindness you have shown how deeply you are interested in everything that affects the well-being of us all.

During the summer and autumn of last year and the early months of the present year it may truly be said that you have devoted all your time and talent to making the school building adequate to our needs, physical and intellectual.

Although advanced in years, you have preserved the feelings and interests of your younger days, and your practical sympathy has done much to add to the enjoyment of our school life. In a few months many of us will leave these walls, and before many years all of us will have entered on our life's work; and a new generation of boys and girls will enjoy the advantages that are now provided here; but before leaving we wish to show in some tangible way how highly we regard the kindly interest you have taken in us.

We therefore have much pleasure in presenting to you this gold-headed cane with the hope that you may enjoy its aid in many a pleasant walk, and that you may have the added joy of remembering that we, in our need, looked to you for aid and never looked in vain.

That the Giver of all blessings may continue your health and strength and the youthful heart for many years is the prayer of your youthful debtors.

Signed on behalf of the pupils.

Mr. Mann made a very feeling reply, in which he disclaimed any right to special credit for what he had done, stating that it was only his duty to work for the best interests of the School. Principal Steele and Miss Strang, of the High School staff, spoke briefly expressing appreciation of Mr. Mann's services. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Big Selection of new Spring Dress Goods at Ritchie's.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

On Saturday, April 1, the mortgage of $700 was all paid off, and now the church is free of debt.

Last Sunday evening, on account of the temporary indisposition of the pastor, the service was conducted by Mr. Alfred Wise, in a helpful and acceptable manner.

Next Lord's Day, Rev. Mr. Davies will speak in the morning on "Who is my Neighbor," and in the evening on "The First and Second Step." Special singing and a cordial welcome.

ROBERT RIDDELL DEAD.

Mr. Robert Riddell, father of Dr. W. H. Riddell, Mayor of Orangeville, passed away at his home on Mill St. on Wednesday morning after a comparatively short illness. His death was caused by gangrene, which started in one of his feet a couple of weeks ago and gradually spread to other parts of the body. The late Mr. Riddell was a native of Monaghan County, Ireland, where he was born 84 years ago. He came to Canada when a mere lad, the family taking up their residence in Toronto. He moved to Orangeville about fifty years ago and followed the occupation of contractor here for many years. A strong, rugged man, he scarcely knew what it was to experience illness until about a year ago, when he began to fail rapidly. He was an honest and law-abiding citizen and a man who enjoyed the respect of everybody with whom he was brought into contact. During his long life-time he made many friends and few enemies. Mr. Riddell resided near the west end of Zina St. until the death of his wife about seven years ago. He broke up his home shortly after her decease, taking up his residence with his son, Dr. Riddell. The surviving sons and daughters are:—Mayor Riddell and Walter Riddell, Orangeville; Joseph and Robert Riddell, Toronto; Thos. Riddell, Sudbury; Mrs. George E. Newbury, Chicago; Mrs. F. A. Miller and Mrs. Dean, Toronto. The funeral will take place to the Forest Lawn cemetery at 2.30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

ENDURING VALUE

Observe how highly every MASON & RISCH is prized by its owner—how years of constant use only heighten their appreciation of it. MASON & RISCH PIANOS in use for twenty-five years are still in such good condition as to give no reason for wanting a new instrument. Think how seldom you find a

MASON & RISCH

exchanged for a new Piano of another make. When one is offered it is considered much above the average value, a very special bargain even at a higher than average price.

This permanent satisfaction and enduring value is due to innate soundness of construction and its varying excellence of material, fortified with the exclusive Aliquot System, by which beauty of tone is built into the Mason & Risch as to be as permanent a part of the instrument as the case itself.

This Concrete Root Cellar Costs Less Than Wood and is Much More Durable

Cement is particularly adapted to the construction of Root Cellar floors and walls.

Experience proves that for the farmer, Concrete is superior to wood in every point of comparison.

Concrete permits of a desirable degree of coolness without freezing. There is no question as to its durability. Concrete lasts, not for years, but for ages; and needs no repair.

Anyone who has scooped vegetables from the old plank floor will appreciate the fact that Concrete offers a smooth, continuous surface with no projecting plank ends or nails to dull the scoop or ruffle the temper of the scooper.

The various uses to which Concrete may be profitably put, on the farm, are plainly and simply in our 160-page book, which shows how the following farm buildings and utilities can be constructed of concrete:—

"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"

Barns, Cisterns, Dairies, Dipping Tanks, Foundations, Fence Posts, Feeding Floors, Gutters, Hens' Nests, Hitching Posts, Horse Blocks, Houses, Poultry Shelter Walls, Stables, Stairs, Stalls, Steps, Tanks, Troughs, Walks, and so forth.

Send for it—it's free—though it regularly sells for 50c. Write to-day.

MRS. ROBT. PURDY.

Mrs. Purdy, relict of the late Robert Purdy, Ruskview, died at the residence of her son-in-law, James McMann, on Thursday morning last, in the 80th year of her age. Deceased had had heart trouble for some years and passed away at the last quite suddenly. Mrs. Purdy and her husband were married in Ireland, and came to Canada about forty years ago. They lived in Toronto a couple of years after first coming out and then moved to Mono, from whence they moved to Perm, and came to the vicinity of Ruskview some thirty years ago. Mr. Purdy died nine years ago, since which time deceased has made her home with her daughters, all of whom live in that neighborhood. They are Mrs. Jas. McMann, Mrs. Jos. Beatty and Mrs. N. Duffin. Mrs. Purdy was a lady who always bore the highest respect of her friends and neighbors, and was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church at Black Bank. The funeral took place to the union cemetery here on Saturday, her pastor, Rev. A. Wilson, officiating. — Creemore Star.

UNIVERSALLY RESPECTED.

Of the late John Willis, of Alton, whose death was recorded in last week's issue of The Banner, the Erin Advocate says:—"Mr. Willis was born at Churchville in 1839, and later the family moved to Erin when he was a small boy. On maturing into manhood he became proprietor of the Erin and Georgetown Stage, which he ran for some years, selling out finally to his brother William. He then bought out a baking business in Erin which he successfully managed. Later he sold out and removed to Marsville, where after a few years, he bought the hotel at Alton, where he resided until death. In 1861 he married Miss Margaret Crozier, who was a good wife, and who survives a husband who was one of the best hearted men that ever lived. The surviving children are Mrs. W. Houston, Town Line; and Mrs. Arthur McClellan, near Oakville. Mr. W. Willis, of Ospringe, who is a brother, is the only surviving member of this family. The deceased was for forty years a member of the Masonic Order, and was also a member of the Foresters. The funeral took place on Sunday last to the Alton cemetery, the Rev. G. A. Rix, of Orangeville, officiating at the service at the house, after which the brethren of the Masonic Order took charge and conducted the services at the grave. Mr. Willis was universally respected by all acquaintances, and will be much missed in the community."

JURY WERE QUITE UNANIMOUS

Held Plaintiff and Defendant Each Solely to Blame—Awarded Damages.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, March 30.—A French-Canadian jury, hearing a damage suit of Adrian Trottie against Robert Deschenes for the loss of his right arm and eye by a dynamite explosion during blasting operations, yesterday reported themselves:—

(1) Quite unanimous in finding the plaintiff entirely responsible for the accident.

(2) Quite unanimous in finding the defendant entirely responsible.

(3) Quite unanimous that both plaintiff and defendant were jointly responsible.

(4) Quite unanimous that the damages suffered by the plaintiff were worth $2,000, and that for these the defendant was responsible.

His Lordship refused to enter judgment in accordance with the verdict, and referred the whole matter to the court of review.

Eczema on Face and Hands

Gave up work—Could not shave—Relief and cure obtained from DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

"I had eczema nearly all over the body," writes Mr. John Gordon Campbell, foreman Holland Grove Lumber Co., Sudbury, Ont., "head, neck and wrists were blistered and itching with it. I could find absolutely no cure until I obtained Dr. Chase's Ointment. After using this ointment I was almost instantly relieved and soon completely cured."

"So bad was the eczema that I had to give up work. Could not shave. I was so bad that they had to take me out of camp in a wagon, and send for a new foreman. I cannot recommend this ointment too highly."

As a means of soothing raw, flaming, irritated skin no treatment can be compared to Dr. Chase's Ointment. It often heals in a single night. You can see for yourself each day the good it is doing. Sample box free. 60 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Constipation is the root of many forms of sickness and of an endless amount of human misery.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, thoroughly tested by over fifty years of use, have been proved a safe and certain cure for constipation and all kindred troubles. Try them. 25c. a box.

Mulligan, the contractor, put up church building. Dunn was building inspector then, and when he saw the church he said, "Pat, it isn't plumb." That made Mr. Mulligan pretty mad. He climbed right up and began taking measurements. Having squinted down the plumb line in a dozen different places he was ready to report. There was a ring of triumph in his voice. "Mr. Dunn," he said, "come on and look at it yersiff. Plumb, eh? By th' iper that played before Moses, it's more than plumb!"

George Grossmith had had remarkable success with his readings in America, and on his return to England somewhat boastfully compared the art of entertaining with that of acting. "You fellows," he said to Charles Brookfield, "have to take our scenery, properties, plays, and a large company when you want to orform; while I—look at me. I just landed in New York with my piano and a dress suit, and I made £30,000." "I dare say," snapped Brookfield. "But we don't all look so damn funny in our dress suits."

WHEN BLOOD IS POISON.

The blood must be filtered, otherwise you are poisoned. If the kidneys fail the liver is overworked, and becomes torpid. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you get both these filtering organs working right, and also ensure healthful action of the bowels. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and kidney disease.

Mr. Arthur Cutten, son of W. H. Cutten, barrister, Guelph, left that city for Chicago to seek his fortune five years ago. He went into the wheat exchange there and is now rated a millionaire. He is said to have cleared $750,000 by his deals in May wheat.

At Windsor, two Russian Jews from Detroit, were fined $50 and costs for assisting two other Russian Jews to evade the immigration officials. These latter were each fined $25, and will be deported. The rush to the Onondaga oil fields continues, and not only has Brantford capital been invested, but Toronto and Petrolia investors have become heavily interested. On one farm the flow has equalled 40 barrels a day at a net rate of $1.50 a barrel. The owner has been offered $100,000 for his property and has refused. Drilling operations are now in progress on the outskirts of Brantford.

THE BEST MEDICINE SO MOTHERS SAY.

Mothers say Baby's Own Tablets are the very best medicine they can give their little ones. It is the happy experience of one mother that helps others to keep their little ones well. Thousands of mothers have found the Tablets a never-failing cure for the ailments that afflict their little ones. Mrs. E. Sandwell, Coldwater, Ont. says:—"I find Baby's Own Tablets the best medicine any mother can give her little ones. I tried "soothing" mixtures but they did not help my baby, but as soon as I began giving him the Tablets they made his teething easy and I would hardly know he was cutting a tooth. I would not be without the Tablets, and always recommend them to my friends." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

George B. Allan, a former resident of West Garafraxa, died very suddenly recently at his home at Beeton, where he has lived for the last 13 years. He was about 70 years of age. His wife predeceased him in 1910, and was a sister of Wm. Bremner, of Grand Valley.

George O'Neil, of Cobourg, has been sentenced to one year in the Central Prison on a charge of stealing a sum of money from Fred. Ough, Hope township. James Innis and George Boucher, charged with receiving a part of the money, knowing it was stolen, asked for trial by a jury and were committed for trial.

At a meeting of a joint committee from the City of Guelph and Wellington County Councils last week, it was decided to build a new county jail and jailer's residence, as Dr. Bruce Smith has condemned the present buildings. The buildings will cost $25,000, and will be apportioned 45 per cent. to the city, and 55 per cent. to the county. The proposition was subsequently accepted at a special meeting of the City Council.

THE ONLY WAY.

The number of deaths resulting from tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever and many other diseases are carefully recorded and tabulated by the authorities. But of the number of deaths directly traceable to worry no such account is kept, yet all physicians know that these are by no means small. One constant source of worry and anxiety for the wage-earner or man of small means is, how he may make provision for old age when his earnings are but little more than sufficient to provide the daily needs. To such a one the Canadian Government Annuities scheme is indeed a blessing. In no other way can he get such wonderfully good returns for that "little more" he may have to invest, for it will when his Annuity begins enable him to spend the principal as well as the interest thereon without his income becoming smaller no matter how long he may live.

Further particulars on the subject may be obtained on application to your Postmaster, or to the Superintendent of Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage.

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, APRIL 13, 1911.

THE CHINA FAMINE RELIEF FUND.

The Banner is in receipt of a communication from the China Famine Relief Committee, directing attention to the terrible plight of the people in the famine stricken districts of China and making an urgent appeal for contributions to the Relief Fund. In the two provinces of Anhui and Kiangsu there are nearly three million people who are destitute and perishing. The conditions there are described as appalling. The harvest was all destroyed by the terrible flood, and no food can be had from the soil until June or later. Many villages were entirely swept away and the people left homeless, and in dire distress. Multitudes gather together in great camps; those who are strong enough wander over the hills, pulling up roots of weeds for fuel in cooking the pittance of rice they may receive from the relief agencies. The suffering is terrible. Thousands of tottering babies, boys and girls clad in rags—if clad at all—are about everywhere; old men and women hobble about leaning on sticks for support, or lie by the wayside, their eyes staring up in mute appeal. Many thousands have perished and it is estimated that over a million will die unless help is immediately sent. The Chinese Consul-General at Ottawa writes that the distress is indescribable. The Honorary Secretary of the Distributing Committee in Shanghai cables that the famine area is larger than at first believed. Bishop White, of Honan, cables an urgent appeal for help. One Hundred Thousand Dollars is asked from Canada to help meet this awful situation. His Excellency, the Governor-General, has shown his interest by consenting to act as Honorary Chairman of the Central Committee. His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Sir James Whitney, Premier of this Province, are Honorary Vice-Chairmen. Readers of The Banner who wish to make some response to this cry of suffering humanity may send their contributions direct to the Treasurer of the Central Committee, Mr. S. J. Moore, 445 King St., Toronto, or if they prefer they may remit to the Publishers of The Banner, who will gladly forward all sums so received. In the latter case contributions will be acknowledged weekly through the columns of this journal.

WHAT MODERN WAR WOULD DO FOR CANADA.

At present, says C. F. Hamilton, writing of the Seriousness of Modern War, in MacLean's for April, a general smash in Canada would mean that a great many people in England would lose heavily, because we could not pay the interest on the hundreds of millions which Englishmen have lent us. If India were to lapse into barbarism Englishmen's pockets would suffer greatly, partly because the $2,500,000,000 they have invested there would be lost, partly because a valuable market would disappear. In short, individuals, communities and nations now live a very complex life. That means that it has become very easy to hurt communities and nations. For instance—in 1907, the harvest of Western Canada was rather poor, and Eastern Canada, a thousand miles away, suffered keenly. You do not need now to get a man to hurt him; if you interfere with a business on the other side of the globe you inflict privation and hardship upon him. A nation now is like a highly organized creature, which may die of a gangrene in some limb remote from the seat of life.

In a word, the march of progress has made it easier to hurt a nation. But there is another circumstance to consider. It also is possible for a nation to put forth greater efforts than were formerly possible; and great efforts, of course, are exhausting.

FOURTEEN APPLICATIONS.

The Brampton Conservator states that fourteen applications have been made for liquor licenses in the County of Peel. Applications have been made for all the places licensed last year. They are as follows:—

One at Claireville, two at Streetsville, one each at Malton, Meadowvale, Erindale, Port Credit and Cooksville.

Applications have also been made by six different persons for licenses in Brampton. Of these there are three for the Queen's Hotel. Mr. Mosack, the present proprietor, accompanies his application by a petition signed by nearly one hundred and fifty ratepayers. The other applicants for a license for the Queen's are Messrs. Walsh and Callaghan, both hotelmen of Guelph. Mr. Choate makes application for the Graham House, Mrs. Burrell for the Revere and Mr. Robson for the Royal. All of them have largely signed petitions.

The meeting of the Commissioners is called for April 19th for the granting of licenses.

Our cotem adds that a good deal of speculation is being indulged in regarding the Brampton applications. The government will instruct the License Commissioners before the meeting and the government policy will be carried out.

ROUNDING ISSUES WRITS.

The Banner understands that John W. Rounding, of Grand Valley, whose arrest, trial, and acquittal are still fresh in the minds of our readers, has issued writs against The Ontario Weather Mutual Farmers' Insurance Company, and Mr. Wm. Park, President of the Company, for damages for alleged malicious arrest and prosecution. Rounding, we understand, wants $10,000 damages from the Company and an additional $5,000 from President Park.

ALL SIGNS POINT TO GENERAL ELECTION SOON.

Will be no Change in Opposition Leadership Say Local Conservatives—New Timber for Cabinet—Borden's Western Tour—Navigation Combinations.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, April 10.—To those who are tired of reciprocity and anti-reciprocity talk—and no doubt there are many—the veering of political discussion to the possibility of a general election in the near future and the discussion of a change in the leadership of the Conservative party come like a refreshing breeze. The chance of an appeal to the country stirs up people as possibly no other political event will and a change of leadership in one or the other of the two great parties has as much interest for one party as the other although the incident is only the immediate concern of one.

In the meantime the feverishness of the Reciprocity situation has got back to something approaching normal, although the machinery of the league which is fighting the pact is still working away with a view to educating public opinion in opposition to the agreement. However, the talk of a general election is the direct outcome of the situation due to the Reciprocity proposals.

The weight of circumstances seems to be against an election much ahead of the regular time. In the ordinary course of events it is probable an election will take place next year, likely in the Autumn. The duration of the present Parliament would give it existence until 1913, but the average period has been four years, which would bring an election in 1912.

However, Mr. Fielding, in the course of his recent address in Montreal, hinted that the electorate might have an opportunity of expressing its view sooner than expected, and the hints of a minister are entitled to some attention. The Liberals take the view that the reciprocity agreement will go through all right and hope to give it a trial before a vote is taken.

The Conservative Leader.

Just how much the big question has been concerned in the renewal of talk of a change in the Conservative leadership is a matter of conjecture, but that there is some connection very few have any doubt. Mr. Borden has announced that he will stay at the head of his party despite the rumors afloat and there is little question that the majority of his parliamentary supporters desire that he should do so. There seems to be no one else in sight who would command the undivided support of the party but it is recognized that the fighting organization needs strengthening before a contest is entered upon. The coming of Hon. Mr. Rogers, of Manitoba to help in that connection is accepted as an important move, but the hope that Premier McBride, of British Columbia, would enter the federal arena seems not to be realized. Mr. Sifton's position with respect to the Conservative organization is so far an unknown quantity and he himself characterizes the talk of his taking the leadership as silly.

In the meantime changes are impending in the personnel of the Laurier cabinet. It is well known that Sir Allan Aylesworth will retire from the Ministry of Justice before long and in the changes which will ensue, Mr. Hugh Guthrie, M. P., is mentioned for a portfolio. The vacancy of the Supreme Court caused by the death of Mr. Justice Girouard has renewed talk of Mr. Brodeur taking a judgeship, thus creating a second vacancy. For his portfolio—Maritime and Fisheries—Mr. Lemieux is mentioned, but that gentleman intimates that he has no intention of giving up the Post Office department.

Financial Wizard in the Toils.

The financial doings of Charles D. Sheldon in Montreal, which ended some months ago with the exposure and sudden disappearance of the so-called wizard of finance have been brought back to public notice by the capture of that individual in Pittsburg and the likelihood of his return at an early date to face the music in the courts here. Notwithstanding the conviction that he robbed Peter to pay Paul in the conduct of his blind pool operations, the prisoner has adopted an air of injured innocence and not only declares that had he been left alone by the newspapers he would have managed along all right, but intimates that he will make disclosures when he comes back which will show that he was blackmailed by officials and newspaper writers. Although it was firmly believed that he got away with anything from $250,000 to $1,000,000, Sheldon now claims that he is not even able to pay back to a Pittsburg woman the $1,000 which he induced her to place in his hands, with the old-time promise that he could make much more money with it than she could in the ordinary way of investment. What became of it all is the question now agitating the public mind. The whole story of his swindling operations extending over many years, has all come out since his arrest, and proves that he is no ordinary scoundrel. He was evidently ready to swindle the widow and orphan the same as any other individual, with money, and one of his strong cards was to pose as a religious person, even going to the extent of preaching and teaching Bible classes, and Suoday Schools. There is also a strong probability that he added bigamy to his other crimes.

A Navigation Combination.

Of commercial mergers during the past couple of years there have been many but they are largely confined to industrial corporations and the transportation interests were left untouched. Now, however, the principal steamboat companies doing business on the River St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes have been brought into a deal which at the present time shows every prospect of being carried into effect. This relates to the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co., the Northern Navigation Co., and the Inland Navigation Co. The former is the largest with its business very largely confined to the St. Lawrence route while the other two are interested particularly in lake transportation. It is also interesting to note that British capitalists are interested in this, as they have been in many other financial and commercial developments in Canada. Lord Furness, the noted old country steamship man, will be the chairman of the proposed new organization, and his wide experience as a steamship man and financier ought to count for a good deal in this connection. While a merger is not proposed there will be a combination of interests. One central authority will control and direct the whole and $10,000,000 is mentioned as the capitalization.

THE SPRING ASSIZES.

King vs. Stoddart the Only Criminal Case Down For Trial.

The Spring Assizes for the County of Dufferin will open in the Court House in Orangeville at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Justice McMahon, whose death occurred some weeks ago, was to have been the presiding judge. It was not known who would sit in his tead until yesterday, when Sheriff Bowles received a letter stating that Chancellor Sir John Boyd would take charge of the Court. Mr. J. J. Drew, K.C., of Guelph, is the Crown Prosecutor.

The only criminal case is that of the Crown vs. Stoddart. The accused, W. G. Stoddart, formerly an undertaker and furniture dealer in Grand Valley, was indicted before a Grand Jury at the Fall Assizes last November on a charge of entering the premises of Robert Boyle on or about October 1st, 1909, and stealing a fur-lined coat, two imitation fur-lined coats and other goods to the value of about $200. The jury brought in a true bill and as a consequence Stoddart will be brought to trial for shopbreaking and theft. Stoddart will be defended by A. A. Hughson, Orangeville, and R. A. Pringle, K. C., Cornwall.

The services of a Grand Jury will not be required, and the members of that body have, therefore, been notified that they need not attend the Assizes.

Yesterday was the last day for entering civil suits. Up to a late hour in the afternoon the only action entered was that of McClellan vs. McClellan. The plaintiffs, Homer B. McClellan, of Fullarton, Ont., and Richard Thomas, of Alton, the executors of the will of the late John W. McClellan, of Alton, are bringing the action to have it declared that certain cheques, amounting to about $3,000, alleged to have been made by the late Mr. McClellan, shortly prior to his death, in favor of his brother, Joseph Albert McClellan, should now form part of the estate of the deceased. The cheques, it is alleged, were cashed by the defendant, Joseph Albert McClellan, subsequent to the death of his brother. An action was commenced by the defendant sometime ago against the Sterling Bank to recover $2750, which the Bank had transferred from the account of the defendant to that of the estate of the late John W. McClellan. This sum, it seems, represented the proceeds of cheques which the defendant had received from his brother and deposited in the Bank to his own credit. The Bank made a successful application in Toronto for leave to pay the $2750 in dispute into Court until the Courts determined which of the parties to the present suit was entitled to receive the money. The suit appears to be the outcome of a family difficulty. Geo. Robb is solicitor for the executors, and C. R. McKeown, K.C., is acting for the defendant.

KING GEORGE CORONATION

A Committee has been formed in England to receive subscriptions from all the "Georges" of the Empire for the purpose of giving a Coronation gift to His Majesty, King George. It has been suggested by His Excellency, the Governor General, who has been in communication with the Committee in England, that steps be taken in the Province of Ontario to receive subscriptions to this fund, ranging from five cents to five dollars. The names of the subscribers will be published and a list sent to the King, but the amounts of the donations will not be shown on the list.

The City Treasurer of Toronto has been appointed Treasurer for Ontario of the Fund, and all subscriptions will, ultimately, be forwarded by him to the Bank of Montreal, at Ottawa, to be in turn transmitted to the proper authorities in England. It has also been arranged that all branches of the Chartered Banks will receive subscriptions and forward same to City Treasurer not later than April 30th, 1911, after which no subscriptions will be received.

The Committee trust that the matter may be taken up enthusiastically.

It is quite important that in making this circular public, special care should be drawn to the fact that subscriptions should only be payable to the Banks or different Local Treasurers wherever duly appointed, or to the City Treasurer of Toronto, the object being to warn intending subscribers against persons who may assume to have authority to collect with a view to diverting collections to their own use.

ROSEMONT.

After remaining with W. J. a few weeks, I decided to proceed on my journey. Going down the 7th line, I was overtaken by Fred. He invited me to spend the day with him, as he was busy fixing the house and wanted to get it finished before seeding. As he thought I was a good hand at the job he directed me to Bill as he was in a hurry also. As we were busy working we heard a buggy going down the road and upon enquiring who the driver was I was told it was Edgar Moore. We went home about six o'clock. I expected to have a chat with Norman, but found that I was late as he had just gone south. After tea I went up to the office for my mail and Joe asked me to remain over and hold limbs for him the next day. I gladly accepted the invitation and found he was a jolly fellow to work with. He invited me to go down to the meeting of L. O. L. No 86, and as I had been a good Orangeman for many years I accepted and went along. As we were going down street we chanced to look in McCracken's, and were rather surprised to see Art. Shaw. Just then Bob. Moffitt came up street. I enquired if Bill Thompson was at home. He replied in the negative and added that he had just come from there. We thought we would start as we wanted to call and see Edgar Shaw before he would go West. He was just ready to go to the meeting and we all went together. On our arrival at the hall I was surprised to find so many young men belonging to the Order. The meeting was a very successful one. After it was over, Walter Cumberland invited me to go home with him. Just then we heard someone calling "Look out, Bob, don't run over me," and turning we discovered Oswald with his horse upset in the ditch and Cyril holding it down. As the buggy and harness were both badly broken we started him off on horseback at breakneck speed. Walton and I arrived home safely and had a good night's rest. As he was preparing to go to the West he had a load of posts loaded ready to take to Alliston. I decided to accompany him. On our way home J. W. overtook us and asked me to ride with him. I accepted the offer and while riding with him, ventured to ask him what certain straps that had attracted my attention were intended for. He told me that they were to keep the horse from kicking as it had kicked with the lad last night. I intended to stop at Rosemont for a few dayst, but my companion pressed me very hard to go home with him. I declined, however, as I was not feeling any too well, and concluded I had better remain with the doctor for a few days.

BUSTER.

ROSEMONT.

Hello people, here is your Uncle Happy again, as hale, hearty, and full of mischief as he was fifty years ago. Going down to our little town last Monday morning I met Cyril Blight coming from John Law's He said he was going back on Tuesday evening, and added that he would remove Bill Heatherington next Sunday night. I next overtook Alf. Perriman, who had remained over night at Sandy Aberdeen's at Violet Hill. He said that the roads were fairly good out there and also told me that he had met Hill and Sam Little the preceding day driving east with Hill's brown team. He said that they were on their way to Alliston, but didn't know whether they had returned yet or not. I drove on out east and overtook Jim Rose coming from Joe Murphy's, singing "When the Roses Bloom in Springtime." Judging by his appearance he also had been in out of the rain. Jim and I drove up to Wm. Stephens' for dinner, and after a hearty meal and an oldtime chat I drove back to the second line, and as I had business south I went down to Joe. Gallaugher's. When I got out to open the gate I found a note book bearing Jack Fletcher's name, which I left at Gallaugher's for him. Sam Gallaugher said Orrie Irwin had told him on Sunday that Jack Agnew was whistling all the time. I stayed with Sam a few days and one afternoon we came up to Rosemont where Fred. Hanna told us that Norman Little had been seen driving west on Sunday at a two-forty gait and so far as he knew his destination was unknown. I came on to Mulmur Corners, where I met Edgar Moore. He said he had had a double pleasure trip on the preceding Saturday because he had struck a bargain in getting a team for his storm horse from a man north of Shelburne, and was on his way to Shelburne to get his team. He said he was going to take his friend, Bill Mitchell, along to help him. I went with him as far as Alex. McDowell's, where I remained for the day.

HAPPY HOOLIGAN.

WALDEMAR.

Winter is gone, spring is here, and the song of the robin is heard once more.

We understand that a black bird is intending to build a nest in an apple tree in Fred. Corneilius' orchard.

Mr. Harry Carter is very ill at present with congestion of the lungs and bronchitis. Dr. Groves, of the Royal Alexandra Hospital, of Fergus is attending him.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, who have been occupying the station, have resigned.

We understand that one of our well-to-do widow ladies on Station St., will soon be led to the altar.

W. P. Tolton & Son are preparing to have their saws running soon.

John Courtney has gone to Wingham to learn telegraphy. We wish him success.

Our miller seems to be quite busy these days keeping his chopper humming and making whole wheat flour rather than bothering with outside affairs.

MONO CENTRE.

The birds have begun to sing around the Rocks again and the people of our burg are anxiously awaiting the coming of spring.

A number of people around town have tapped their maples, but the run of sap is light this season, owing to the cold weather.

Mr. Harry Baker, who has a large yard of logs ready for sawing in Shaw's bush, is this week preparing his machinery to saw the yard at home before moving up. Harry is a hustler and is going to give a number of men employment at the lumber business this summer.

Mono Centre baseball players evidently believe in taking time by the forelock, as they have already spent three evenings at practice. Any teams wishing to arrange a friendly game with our boys would do well to drop the Captain, Wilmer Lundy, a line early and make their aerangements, as we expect the team will be pretty busy once the season opens.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. William Martin was able to return home from the hospital this week, after undergoing an operation. We hope she will continue to improve.

Garfield Lawson has engaged with J. A. Avison, of Relessey, for the summer months.

Mr. Walter Bridgeman, who has taken the contract of cutting one hundred cords of wood for Mr. John Barclay, will soon have the job completed.

J. A. McFadden, our general merchant, is busy these days getting his spring stock of goods on the shelves, and is preparing again to make his weekly trip East. Mr. McFadden has again engaged Mr. Frank Halbert for another year.

Quite a number of our young people attended the presentation at Mr. G. F. Stewart's on Tuesday evening, April 4th, and all report an excellent time. Mr. Herman Forsythe read the address, which referred in appreciative terms to Mr. Stewart's uprightness, usefulness and irreproachable life during his long residence in the community. Mr. Stewart was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain, Miss Mileta with a gold bracelet, and Milton with a neat watch fob. Mr. Stewart made an appropriate and feeling reply on behalf of himself and family. This was followed by a greatly enjoyed programme of addresses by Messrs. John Waller, Wm. McKelvey, Richard Holmes, Wm. Quigley, Jno. Aiken, Wm. Wilson, J. A. McFadden, Wm. Kidnie, F. Halbert, Herb. Ewing, Tom Halbert, Jas Ewing and others. Music was furnished by the Relessey String Band. The remainder of the evening was then pleasantly spent in games and other amusements. Mr. Stewart will be greatly missed as a neighbor, as he was very obliging and was always ready to help along with every good cause. We understand that he intends taking a trip to the West this summer. Wherever he may go Mr. Stewart will carry with him the esteem and good-will of this community.

G. Aiken says the roads were not so bad the night of the presentation, if it hadn't been so dark.

Jimmy H. thinks that the road down the 2nd is fairly good, but declares it is much better on the side-road along by Arnest Avison's gate.

Mr. Austin Arthur has gone to Minden, where he has taken a position.

Mr. Robt. McCutcheon has rented his farm to Mr. Tom Cotton, who took possession a few days ago. The boys around the town will need to be careful this summer, as it is reported that Tom is quite a knocker.

MONO CENTRE.

The weather is milder, so people are beginning to think of spring work.

Mr. John Moore has removed to Gooseville.

The senior baseball team have begun practising for the season.

Mr. Frank Halbert says he is patiently waiting for Easter holidays.

Quite a number attended the presentation at Mr. G. F. Stewart's and report a good time.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Ernest Avison's little son, Gordon, has fully recovered.

Mr. Herman Forsythe is busy making maple syrup these days.

Messrs. Geo. and Percy Ladd have taken up their residence in Frog Town.

Mr. Jimmy Holmes thinks it is handy to go across the fields Sunday evening, as the fourth line hill is not good in spring.

Our popular teacher, Miss G. M. East, is leaving our midst for Easter vacation.

Mr. Herb. Ewing says that the roads are muddy now over to the sixth, but he likes slow driving anyway.

Wonder how Mr. Will Kidney enjoyed the presentation.

Mr. Robt. Lewis is erecting a new residence this summer. Mr. G. Ladd has the contract.

The people of St. Mathews' are pleased that Rev. W. McLean is again able to resume his duties as his health is much improved.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Dufferin Agricultural Society on Saturday it was decided to enter the Standing Field Crop Competition for 1911. The Competition is conducted annually under the auspices of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

LAUREL.

There are many changes taking place in our vicinity, which remind us that spring has arrived and that the ploughboy's whistle and the milkmaid's song will soon be heard, to cheer us after a long and dreary winter. We are especially glad to welcome back again that bright and joyous harbinger of the vernal season—little Robin Redbreast. We ask him to remain, assuring him that we are a local option people and that neither Blind Pig nor yet the Open Bar, over which spirituous liquors are dealt will be allowed to spoil the harmony of his song or to mar his happiness. In proof of this we wish to say that the young people of this vicinity are out and out for prohibition. The young folk of the Presbyterian Church favored us with two excellent dramas showing the effects of intemperance. They were both well worth seeing and listening to, and now just as the spring has arrived, the young people of Laurel Methodist Church are following in the good work that tends to strengthen the grand cause of temperance. They are presenting the temperance drama, entitled, "The Last Loaf." This is a very instructive performance given in two scenes, showing what one glass of wine has done and is still doing, reducing a family from opulence to penury. The drama will prove well worth hearing and young and old are asked to remember the date of the last rehearsal on Thursday evening, April 13th. We not only want prohibition in Laurel, Orangeville and Shelburne, but we want our influence to be far-reaching—so far that Grand Valley will imitate our example. I am sure every reader of these lines will admit that intemperance is a evil, but if any doubt should remain in your mind, come to Laurel and hear this drama. I am satisfied you will go home afterwards fully convinced that you have a part to play in the great work of Temperance reform.

The people of this part are busily engaged preparing for seeding. Sawing bees are very common just now. People are getting their wood cut, so that the good housewife will not have to use the axe during the warm weather in the summer, splitting and breaking up wood as is too often seen in some parts, but happily not around Laurel.

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Adams left Laurel on Thursday last for their home in Cobalt.

Mr. and Mrs. John Banks, their daughter, Florence, and son, John, left Laurel on Tuesday morning to join their family at Davidson, Sask. We wish them every success.

Our cheesemaker, Mr. S. T. Ranton, has gone on a two weeks' visit to friends in Arthur. Mr. Ranton has been cheesemaker here for the last five years. He understands his business thoroughly and besides is a genial fellow and first-class citizen.

The Laurel Cheese Factory, we might state, will open this season with bright prospects for a large make. The Factory has run successfully for 30 years and we trust that the 31st year on which we are now entering will prove to be the best in the history of the Factory. Every department of the business is done in a straightforward way. Mr. Ranton is a first-class man and with the assistance of a capable and energetic set of officers there is every reason to anticipate a successful season.

Walter Gray, who has been visiting friends at Unionville for the last two weeks, has just returned home.

Mr. George Young, our popular contractor, is now busily engaged pulling down the old house, which stood on the lot that he purchased from Mr. Geo. Gordon and intends building a new residence for himself.

Mr. John Atkinson, of Edgeley, father of Mr. A. E. Atkinson, a former teacher in Laurel, is visiting friends in the village and vicinity.

SPRING IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD.

Make The Use of a Tonic Medicine A Necessity.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all year round tonic blood-builder, and nerve-restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the long winter months. There is no other season when the blood is really so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these Pills helps to make new, rich, red blood. In the spring one feels tired and weak—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develope the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor weak blood, and it is at this time, when all nature regains life, that the blood most seriously needs attention. To improve and fortify the blood is the special mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and that is why they are the best spring medicine in existence. If you feel the need of a medicine this spring give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and you will rejoice in new health, new strength and new energy, and will be especially fitted to stand the torrid heat which comes a little later.

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Big stock of Trimmed Millinery on hand to choose from at right prices at Ritchie's.

RELESSEY.

On Tuesday evening, April 4th, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather and bad roads, a large number of the friends of Mr. G. F. Stewart assembled at his home to bid himself and family good-bye before his departure to the West, where he hopes to have his health renewed. It was moved and seconded that Mr. Wm. McKelvey be chairman for the evening. Mr. Herman Forsythe was then called upon to read the address, which was worded as follows:—

To Mr. Stewart, Melita and Milton.

It is with feelings of sorrow that we, a few of your friends, have met tonight to say good-bye to you who have been indeed our true friends. During the many years of our association we have found you amiable, kind and generous, always ready to extend a hand to the needy and to assist in every way to make life's rough journey more pleasant. Your home has ever been a cheerful one to visit, your hospitality kind and sincere, and your conversation always free from ill-will or malice. Not only as a true citizen here will you be missed, but particularly a vacancy not easily filled will be found in Relessey Sunday School, where you have been engaged in a work as Superintendent, the reward of which will only be fully known hereafter. It is to show you that we fully realize your unselfishness and earnestness amongst us that we ask you, Mr. Stewart, to accept this watch and chain, Melita, this bracelet, and Milton, this watch fob, and at the same time we ask you to reserve a place in your hearts for the people of Relessey, and while you are shortly to leave us, which we sorely regret, we feel assured that it is to go to a sphere of even more usefulness in the Master's vineyard.

Signed:

Robt. Holmes,
James Ewing.

The gifts were presented by Messrs. Jas. Ewing, Cecil Holmes and Miss Gladys Ewing. Mr. Stewart made a feeling reply, thanking his neighbors for their kindness, mentioning the friendly relation that had always existed between them and his sorrow at leaving their midst. He wished all to enjoy a last social evening there. Speeches followed by Messrs. John Waller, J. A. MacFadden, F. Halbert, T. Halbert, John Aikin, S. Anderson, W. J. McCague and others, and a duet by Mr. George and Miss Ethel Aikin. Excellent music was provided and the remainder of the evening pleasantly spent in different games.

Mr. Stewart, we may state in closing, has disposed of his farm to Mr. John Aikin of this neighborhood.

MONO MILLS.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Black is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. Robert Orr visited friends in Goderich last week.

Mr. John E. Jackson has sold his fine Clydesdale stallion, "Perfection" to the Live Stock Department of the Dominion Government, to be shipped to the West.

Mr. James Arlow has purchased 70 acres of land in Albion just south of the village from his brother, Robert. We understand the price paid was about $3000.

The regular meeting of the Literary Society was held at the usual time and place. The debate on the subject, "Resolved that the Farmer is More Independent than the Mechanic" created considerable interest and the eight young men who took part, spoke in a manner that reflected much credit upon themselves. The decision was left an open question. The proceedings were pleasingly varied by a selection entitled, "The Dear Old Farm" by the Mono Mills Glee Club. The closing meeting will be held next Tuesday evening. The programme which is to consist of essays, music, etc., will commence at 8 o'clock.

MUCH SHOCKED.

Rosemont, April 3rd, 1911.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was very much shocked to notice one of our most esteemed citizens slandered through your columns by a person who styles himself "Buster." I would like to know how long this sort of thing is going to last or is it a disease of the brain that the writer cannot resist and that renders him to a certain extent irresponsible. On Saturday night several boys gathered in the village and some of their number said they would like to get treating "Buster" to a coat of tar and feathers, while others volunteered to apply a match. Readers of The Banner will notice how easily "Buster" fell at the first volley fired in return. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of your space, I remain.

A Comrade of 1885.

"RATS! MR. SPEAKER."

M.P.'s Who Have Defied the First Commoner of England.

"I have only been really afraid of two men in my life," a well-known British M.P. recently declared, "and they were Dr. Temple, my headmaster at Rugby, and Mr. Speaker Peel. Of the two, the Speaker was much the more formidable."

Such is the reverence that hedges the Chair to-day. How different it was in some past centuries the following extracts from the "Journals of the House" tell us. Thus: "The House was informed by Mr. Speaker that Sir E. Herbert put not off his hat to him, but put out his tongue and popped his mouth with his finger in scorn."

And again: "The House was informed by Mr. Speaker that Mr. T———, in a loud and violent manner, standing near the Speaker's chair, cried 'Baw!' in the Speaker's ear, to the great terror and concernment of the Speaker and the members of the House."

A third irreverent member, who had drunk not wisely but too well, once actually called on "Mr. Speaker for a song!"

It is small wonder that in those days the Speaker was thus openly flouted and laughted at, for he was mostly a weak-kneed creature of the court or of a faction—a gilded lackey who cringed and bowed the knee.

Rich grovelled before Henry VIII., and compared him for justice to Solomon, for strength to Samson, and for beauty and comeliness to Absalom. Even More fell on his knees to Wolsey with abject humility. Yelverton apologized humbly for his small stature and soft and bashful nature; and Tiptoft besought tolerance for his "lack of sense."

Of a very different metal, however, was Sir Edward Seymour, the haughty and autocratic, who, when Charles II. summoned him to attend in the Upper House, sent back answer that he would be "torn by wild horses sooner than quit the Chair."

When Sergeant Pemberton once passed him with a familiar nod, Seymour promptly gave him into arrest; and on another occasion, when his own carriage broke down on the way to the House, he stopped the next vehicle that came along, turned its occupant out, and took his place, saying: "Sir, it is more proper for you to walk in the streets than the Speaker of the House of Commons."

Sir John Tiptoft, another autocrat of the weak-kneed days, once gave his sovereign a severe lecture, and told him that he and his house were "no better than they ought to be"; and Sir Fletcher Norton read George III. a homily on his extravagance, which cost him his Chair.

Among many remarkable Speakers of past centuries were Sir John Popham and Sir John Trevor.

Popham was kidnapped as a child, brought up among gipsies, played the role of highwayman—more for fun, be it said, than for profit—and ended his days as Lord Chief Justice.

It was Popham, by the way, who, when Queen Bess asked him "what hath passed in the Lower House," gravely answered, with a twinkle in his eye: "Seven weeks, your Majesty."

Trevor's career was equally adventurous. From office-boy to a lawyer, he rose to be Speaker of the Commons, filled his pockets with bribes, and finally had to proclaim his own dishonor by declaring from the Chair the decision of the House that "Sir John Trevor is guilty of the high crime of misdemeanor."

Among Trevors many physical peculiarities was an abominable squint, which made the process of "catching his eye" so full of confusion that it was necessary to call the member by name—a practice which has since prevailed.

Speaker William Tresham was killed by highwaymen, Thomas Thorpe died on the scaffold, and Sir John Wenlock was cloven through the skull on Tewkesbury Field.

First Night Cough Appears.

An inserted slip on every program at the Kingsway Theatre, London, on the first night that Laurence Irving and his company presented "The Lily" said, "The management begs to state that any one troubled with a first night cough will be supplied with jujubes on application."

The management now explains that there are a number of people who make a practice of coughing at first nights with the object of wrecking the play. They say it is an organized conspiracy by out of work actors, actresses, minor dramatists and other disappointed or disagreeable persons.

Mr. Irving says there was an organized storm of coughing on the first night of his production of "The Unwritten Law." The same thing happened when Sir Beerbohm Tree gave "Much Ado About Nothing." Mr. Irving says he does not object to boos and hisses, but nothing upsets actors more than constant coughing. It is a most subtle weapon, as it is so infectious.

Eddystone Island Is Smallest.

The island on which the Eddystone light house is situated is the smallest inhabited island in the world, it is said, although there may be some disputants to this claim in the Thousand Islands. It is only thirty feet in diameter at low water.

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

CANADA'S PURCHASING POWER.

Every year sees a greatly increased purchasing power in Canada. In the past ten years, the Dominion has absorbed a million and a half citizens of other countries. At the same time there is a gratifying increase in the Canadian birth rate.

Every newcomer from other lands is a purchaser, and in addition brings considerable capital to the country. The half million British, the half million American and the half million continental folks who have come here for a livelihood during the past decade have brought with them not less than $500,000,000 in cash and settlers' effects.

In 1801 the United States claimed a population of about four millions, while now it is credited with nearly one hundred millions. At that time Canada was practically uninhabited; now it has a population of probably eight millions. Canada is not only absorbing the surplus population of over-crowded countries, but it is rapidly assuming importance as a country of food supply. A writer in the London Economist quotes some remarkable population figures. In 1801 the population of all Europe was 175,000,000. It is now over 450,000,000. In 1801 France was the leading nation of Europe, and with one exception had the largest population, 32,000,000. The only other country which exceeded this was Russia with 36,000,000. At the same time the British Isles contained only 16,000,000 of people, while the German Empire, with its 300 States, often at war with one another, had altogether only 25,000,000. In 1801 France had a population equal to one-fifth that of all Europe, while to-day its population is less than one-eleventh. While the population of Europe has increased by about 150 per cent., that of France has only increased 18 per cent., and now stands at 39,000,000, instead of the 33,000,000 of 110 years ago.

The population of Great Britain now exceeds 45,000,000, showing an increase of over 180 per cent. At the same time the German Empire has grown from 25,000,000 to a compact country having 65,000,000 of people. This is an increase of 152 per cent. Since 1801 Austro-Hungary has doubled its population and now has 50,000,000, while Italy with 34,000,000, has nearly doubled it. Russia shows an increase of nearly 200 per cent., and now has 138,000,000 of people.

In 1801 less than 200,000,000 men counted in the play of historic and political events, while to-day nearly 800,000,000 competent men are daily taking part in the struggle for existence.

These figures have a vital bearing upon matters such as consumption, food supplies, trade transportation and banking. The present drift of population is undoubtedly of vast benefit to the Dominion.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA.

"My nerves were very bad, and I could not sleep at night, nor could I control my arms or legs," writes Mrs. Robt. Bustard, Maxwell, N.B., "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured me of what I believe was the early stage of locomotor ataxia or paralysis. I cannot describe what I suffered, but now I am completely cured."

Charles Hare, employed with Mr. Ford, Markdale, running a chopper, met with sudden death a week ago Thursday. He was engaged on a ladder doing some repairs to the house, when the ladder, which was standing almost perpendicular, toppled over. In falling Mr. Hare struck his head on a log. He was picked up unconscious and died two hours afterward without regaining consciousness. The deceased was a son-in-law of Mr. Arthur Johnston, of the Meaford Road, and leaves a widow and two small children.

"Where there is one prospect that will prove a mine there are more than ten wildcats or over-capitalization watered sufficiently to float promoters and more than sufficient to sink the poor deluded man or woman who supplies the sinews—the hard-earned dollars. It would be better if these people would get off the face of the earth and do away with the bucket shops and their allies— the promoters."

This was the first well-directed shot that hit the metaphorical bull's-eye amid applause at the Board of Trade luncheon to-day at McConkey's Cafe, when Mr. J. L. Englehart, chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, gave an address on Northern Ontario, its tremendous possibilities, its untold wealth, and the great benefits that would accrue to Toronto as a natural heritage following the development of Northern Ontario.

Mr. Englehart was received with applause, and prefaced his address with expressions of his inability to do justice to such a wide subject in so short a time. Yet, he said, he hoped to be able to say sufficient to impress upon the members of the Toronto Board of Trade the necessity for the heartiest support in connection with the Ontario Railway Commission's policy to develop the resources and extend the railways in the new north land.

Toronto, he assured his large audience, was the natural centre to which much of the business from the north should gravitate. Toronto, with its front door on the fresh water lakes, was the natural outlet for the mineral and the agricultural wealth with which the north country abounds.

Temagami, with its lakes and rivers, with its vast quantities of fish and game, the immensity of forest wealth, the Cobalt silver camp, the gold possibilities of Porcupine, and the excellence of climatic conditions throughout the north country were all dealt with to some extent.

Mr. Englehart instanced the fine range of temperature by a picture of conditions at 40 below zero, and taking a walk with the mercury at 92 in the shade.

The policy of the Government in the north was such that its growth and rapid development were bound to follow. There was a transcontinental railway to Quebec, 545 miles east, from Cochrane the Grand Trunk Pacific to the west for 424 miles, then another line of 325 miles from Port Arthur to Winnipeg, with waterways and natural harbors that created a condition favorable for trade that was not excelled by any other country in the world.

After dealing briefly with the mining aspect, Mr. Englehart directed his attention to the agricultural features of the north. The Northern Ontario clay belt was a plateau 800 to 1,000 feet above the sea level, well-drained by picturesque streams and tributaries which discharge into James Bay. Exploratory parties now in the field, he said, had estimated that 16,000,000 acres of good clay land were confined within this belt. He said the area of the coastal plain, south of the Albany River and James Bay extended westward 200 miles and north about 250 miles. In this there are rich deposits of clay with sand. Geological surveys, he stated, seem to indicate that the mouth of the Moose River will be the best harbor, as from this extends a shore line of 800 miles on each side about Hudson Bay, and it was hard to realize the possible wealth, mineral and agricultural, that rested hidden within this stretch of 1,600 miles.

"The proposed construction of the Hudson Bay Railway from LaPas to York Factory appears reasonable," said Mr. Englehart. "This railway will develop a harbor at York Factory and I am prepared to go as far as to say that it will serve the European wheat trade. The period of navigation may be ever so short, being limited by ice at Hudson Strait, but there is every indication and every report emphasizes that it will be open at least three months of the year, and many reports say four and five months. But with knowledge we possess to-day, coupled with experience, it does appeal to me that even larger and better results will follow. It is more than probable that navigation on Hudson Bay itself is practicable for a much longer period than through Hudson Strait, and while there may not be trans-Atlantic traffic in sight for a harbor at Moose Factory at the immediate present, the development of manufacturing and commercial industries for Ontario could be served along the coast of James and Hudson Bays as it develops by way of Moose Factory, as well as for Manitoba by way of York Factory.

"We propose to send out a small survey party during the season, leaving about the 1st of June, for the purpose of exploring the district, particularly around the mouth of the Moose River and James Bay, with a view to extending the railway if warranted."

The area of agricultural land between Liskeard, at mileage 113, and Cochrane, mileage 252, Mr. Englehart said, was one specially favored by Providence as a home for agriculture. The splendid remunerative features that existed in Northern Ontario were not to be found in the West, "that has been boomed by every brass band in the land, and by every newspaper in the world, and by every railway that traverses the district and its connection." Under these circumstances, what else was there to expect than that the trek would be westward. Our own people of this greatest province of Ontario have taken up distant pastures, and have overlooked better pastures right at their own door. Every effort has been made, single-handed, to a large extent, by the greatest of all departments in Ontario, the Department of Agriculture, and the Department of Lands, Forests, and Mines, by the journals of the day within recent periods, and by the opening up of the mineral zones of the north to direct attention to the agricultural possibilities.

"Mineral sections are with us to-day," he said, "but they are away to-morrow. The agricultural sections are with us to-day and for all time. They reproduce themselves yearly. They are the life as they are the health and the sinew of its people. Mineral sections afford for the time excitement and lure, but it has been demonstrated time and time again that it is a question only of time when the minerals pass away."

Fourteen graduates to various parts of the province have been sent out from the Agricultural College at Guelph, having re-discovered the agricultural possibilities of Ontario, just as the Toronto Board of Trade have re-discovered themselves as well as the new land of Temiskaming.

Mr. Englehart gave some striking illustrations of how some parts of Ontario have been depopulated owing to the trek to the west. A small orchard, 37 acres, near Sarnia, which was practically unsaleable four or five years ago, was now worth more than $7500, that figure having been refused for it. Canning factories had been established at Petrolea at the cost of $100,000. This was being done to help the older parts, but he assured the members of the Board of Trade that in a country where timothy grew to a height of 60 inches, and clover 17 inches in length, where potatoes and vegetables grew to an enormous size, as in the northern part of Ontario, much more could be accomplished if the opportunities were accepted that lay at our door.—The Evening Telegram.

Robbie Smith, the eight-year old son of James Smith, Lanark township, got up in his sleep about 2.30 the other morning, placed a chair to the kitchen window and effected his exit from the house by breaking the window pane. He walked about two miles in his bare feet with only a nightshirt on, and in this condition reached the home of Jno. McKittrick, where he knocked at the door and was admitted. It was a case of combined comnambulism and nightmare. He had been ill with la grippe, and at the time he got up he fancied robbers were about the house, that he was alone, and it was up to him to get out of the way as quickly as possible. The crashing of glass awakened his father.

Her Secret.

Why She Always Looked So Young

Everyone refers to her as one of the most attractive women in town. It wasn't her features, for while regular, they were not unusual. Nor the charm lay in the head of splendid, vigorous hair that made a veritable crown. It had that peculiar lustre and the sun gave it an added brilliance—you couldn't look at her without unconsciously commenting on the beauty of her hair.

When asked how she kept it so beautiful she replied that it was no secret, simply proper shampooing, regular combing and the conscientious use of Hirsutone. She admitted it had not always been in that condition, but that she found Hirsutone the best thing she ever got for the hair. It gave the scalp such a cool, refreshed feeling, and the hair was so much easier to dress after its use.

There are plenty of heads that would be just as attractive for Hirsutone soon brings the hair and scalp into good condition.

Your Nyal Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirsutone to do all that is claimed for it, and every woman owes it to herself to try it.

MRS. WM. JELLY.

(Shelburne Free Press).

Mrs. Elizabeth Jelly was born in the township of Elizabethtown, near Brockville, on July 16th, 1835, was married to the late William Jelly on Sept. 17th, 1857, and died in Shelburne on April 5th, 1911, in her 76th year.

"Not dead, but sleeping,
Night came releasing them from labor
When a hand from out the darkness
Touched them, and they slept."

By the death of Mrs. Wm. Jelly, Shelburne loses its last remaining pioneer settler. The late Wm. Jelly was undoubtedly entitled to be called "The Father of Shelburne" and Mrs. Jelly, now deceased, was with him in all the trials and difficulties that beset their early days. After their marriage in 1857 they moved to what is now Bowling Green, in Amaranth, township. Seven years later, or in 1864, they moved to the lot where the village of Shelburne now stands, then a dense wilderness, with no roads in any direction. With the advent of the Toronto, Grey & Bruce Railway in 1873 (now the Owen Sound branch of the C.P.R.) came prosperity and a thriving village sprang up in a few short years. The deceased lady was an interesting figure in the history of this thriving village. She had seen it grow from its primitive surroundings to be one of the most progressive towns between the lakes. Despite her rheumatic troubles, which bothered her during the past few years, she was always cheerful and highly interesting in recounting the history of the early days of Shelburne and its inhabitants. Mrs. Jelly spent a long and useful life — and died as she had lived—honored, trusted and loved by all. It was here the best days of her life were spent, and when her last hour came she passed away peacefully to her everlasting rest. There is a warm corner in the heart of every citizen of Shelburne for the deceased lady. She is survived by her only daughter, Mrs. C. A. Gamon, and one brother, Wm. Tackaberry, of London, who is at present in Shelburne, and is accompanied by his wife. The Rev. R. J. S. Adamson, rector of St. Paul's church, will hold a private service at the residence at 2.30 p.m. on Friday. The funeral will take place from St. Paul's church at 3.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon to Shelburne cemetery.

Mr. J. H. Grisdale has been appointed Superintendent of Experimental Farms to succeed Dr. William Saunders.

A Brockville despatch says:—Edward Kilborn, a farmer, living near Brockville, is minus the greater portion of one ear. He entered the stable to hitch a horse, when the animal suddenly displayed a vicious temper and made a lunge at his head. The ear was snapped off so quickly that Kilborn had not time to protect himself.

SUFFERED SINCE HER CHILDHOOD.

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Mrs. Laprairie a New Woman.

Nipissing Lady gives an experience that should prove of immense value to the suffering women of Canada.

Laprairieville, Nipissing District, Ont., April 10. (Special).—After suffering from various forms of kidney ills since she was a child, Mrs. O. Laprairie is a well woman and once more it has been proved that no Kidney Trouble is too severe or of too long standing for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

Interviewed regarding her cure, Mrs. Laprairie said:

"Since I was twelve years of age I have suffered from Kidney Disease. I was always tired. My back would ache and I always had a sharp pain in the top part of my head. My heart also troubled me.

"Hearing of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial, and now I feel like a new woman."

Thousands of Canadian men and women are feeling just as Mrs. Laprairie does—as if life had started all over for them—just because they have cured their kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. For the kidneys are the mainspring of life. If they are clogged or out of order the whole body is wrong. Dodd's Kidney Pills always put the kidneys in good working order.

DOCTORS FAILED. RESTORED BY PERUNA.

Catarrh of the Lungs Threatened Her Life.

Miss Ninette Porter, Braintree, Vermont, writes: "I have been cured by Peruna.

"I had several hemorrhages of the lungs. The doctors did not help me much and would never have cured me.

"I saw a testimonial in a Peruna almanac of a case similar to mine, and I commenced using it.

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me.

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment.

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

HELPING THE CLOVER SEEDING.

During every season since 1905, the Bacteriological Laboratory of the Ontario Agricultural College has sent out to farmers and others, cultures of bacteria for innoculating seed of alfalfa and other clovers in order to aid in insuring a better catch of the seeding. The bacteria sent are of the kind which live in the small nodules or "knots" which are naturally formed on the roots of clovers, and which may usually be readily seen when a clover or alfalfa plant is dug up and the earth carefully broken away from the roots so as not to break off the nodules. It is the business of these bacteria to draw upon the great supply of nitrogen in the air (about four fifths of the air is nitrogen gas), and transfer it to the growing plant. Thus, by the aid of these nitrogen-gathering bacteria the clover plant is able to get its supply of this most valuable fertilizing element, nitrogen, from the air, instead of having to depend upon what is in the soil. This explains the fact which every farmer knows, that clovers and other closely related crops are such good soil enrichers. When these crops are plowed under, the extra amount of nitrogen which has been stored up in them becomes available for succeeding crops.

It is absolutely essential that the nitrogen accumulating bacteria be present in order that the storing of nitrogen in the clover plant be accomplished. If a clover or alfalfa crop has been successfully grown as shown by thrifty, vigorous growth and the presence of plenty of nodules on roots, it indicates that the necessary bacteria are already present in the soil, and ready to penetrate the roots as soon as germination of the seed occurs. In the case of a new or unsuccessful seeding, however, it is probable that the bacteria are not present, and they should be supplied by some method of inoculation. Experience has shown that the most satisfactory method of inoculation is to apply the bacteria directly to the seed before sowing. This is the method to be followed with the cultures sent out by the College at Guelph.

Last year there were 3,375 of these bacteria cultures sent to 1,881 farmers, and of 771 who returned reports, two-thirds stated that the inoculation of the seed had aided in securing a better crop.

During the present season, the College will send cultures for the inoculation of the following kinds of seeds: Alfalfa, red or mammoth clover, alsike clover, white clover, crimson clover, vetches, peas, beans, sweet peas. Each kind of seed requires a different culture. The cultures are sent by mail with full instructions for their use. There is only one size packages prepared, that being sufficient to treat sixty pounds of seed. There is a nominal charge of 25c. for each package of culture to cover cost of material and postage. Applications should state the kind and amount of seed to be treated, and should be addressed with enclosed postal note, stamps or money order, to S. F. Edwards, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Canada.

IT GROWS HAIR.

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove At Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 1st, 1910.

"I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from Rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly walk up stairs.

Last June, he received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". He used them and dates his recovery from that time. To-day, there is no man in Vancouver enjoying better health.

He was building a house this fall and shingled a good part of the roof in a driving rain, without suffering any bad effects". JOHN B. LACY.

Mr. E. E. Mills, (assistant postmaster at Knowlton, Que.,) also writes:

"I honestly believe that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world". Try it yourself.

ONTARIO'S CLAY BELT.

Five hundred miles long, fifty to one hundred miles wide. That is the clay belt of Ontario, situated in the North beyond the height of land, and within twenty hours of the markets of old Ontario. Sixteen million acres of deep, rich wooded lands, amply supplied with rivers, lakes and the best of clear healthy spring water. The Toronto Telegram is sounding a call for the settlement of this great belt, and certainly it is time that every means were taken to attract settlement to that region of latent wealth, and happiness. There is no necessity for disparaging the Western prairies. They have their advantages, and their disadvantages, and will in time be the home of a teeming population. It does, however, seem unreasonable that the sons of Ontario, the bone and the sinue raised in this province should go off to distant fields when equally as good land, in the midst of conditions to which they are thoroughly accustomed is within the boundary of their own province, and within a twelve hour rail run. Surely it is time for this province to drop the cry of to the West and take up the much more important one of to the North. Hitherto this province has been looking to the South and peaking of Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence as the front. We had a strip of fine lands along that front, with a rising height of lands to the rear that formed a huge backbone of granite. Until the last few years, the other side of that backbone was an unknown quantity, but now it is known that the other side is infinitely better and of greater extent than the side we have been living on. That as a matter of fact we have been laboring under a great mistake, that we have really been working in the back end of out lot, and that the true front faces the North. Ontario is only now beginning to open its front, and throw on the chestiness that is properly its belonging. Sixteen million acres of rich, level, arable lands are there, enough to make at least thirty counties as large as any between Grey and Hastings. A land that has twenty-five grand rivers, of hundreds of miles in length, and water powers that are estimated as capable of producing two million horse power of everlasting energy. It means a land fitted to give homes for a million and a half of people. It is for the people of this grand province to awake to its future, to realize that a strip along the south of its rock bound mineralized backbone is the back end of the lot, and that the St. Lawrence is the back lane. Old Ontarians have to right about face, climb to the top of the central ridge of granite and look to the sea board with the shortest route to the British market, look over a grandly sweeping expanse of superb farm lands in comparison to which Old Ontario appears only as the truck garden attachment to the rear of the main farm. The movement of Ontario should be northward and every effort should be exerted to bring into living activity the dorment opportunities for providing comfort and happiness for a people to be numbered by millions.

Neuralgia and Sciatica

Caused great suffering for 25 years. Nothing effective until Dr. Chase's Medicines were Used.

"It affords me pleasure to speak favorably of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills," writes Mr. W. T. Collins, Morpeth, Ont. "I had been a sufferer for 25 years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia and tried nearly all the remedies advertised without one particle of benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Before I had finished two boxes of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I noticed considerable benefit in my condition. I have so much confidence in these medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends."

In severe cases of this nature the combined use of these medicines brings results which are both surprising and satisfactory. The Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels, while the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the nervous system. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

ADVOCATE OF UNITY.

Archbishop Gauthier Has a Fine Record of Service.

No Canadian cleric has been more in the public eye during the past six months than his Grace Archbishop Charles Hugh Gauthier of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Kingston, who is successor to the late Archbishop Duhamel of Ottawa. Mgr. Gauthier was chosen for the archbishopric at the capital because he is the best fitted for the position, owing to the mixed Roman Catholic population which dwells in the district round about the Canadian seat of Parliament. Mgr. Sbarretti, the former Papal Delegate to Canada, knew this, and it was on his recommendation that Archbishop Gauthier received the call from Rome to go to Ottawa.

His grace, though French on the paternal side, is more English than French, for it was at old Regiopolis College, Kingston, that he was educated, and afterwards taught rhetoric. He was born on November 13, 1846, in the historic county of Glengarry. For the past forty-four years he has been a faithful priest of his Church, and has served entirely in eastern parishes. He was made Vicar-General of the diocese of Kingston in 1891, when at Brockville. On August 27, 1898, the Papal bull appointing him archbishop reached him. His consecration took place in St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston, on October 18, 1898, and the ceremony was performed by the late Archbishop Duhamel, whose place he now goes to fill.

Archbishop Gauthier has ruled the archdiocese of Kingston wisely and well, and he departs for the capital not only with the regret of his own people, but with that of the Protestant community, for during his twelve years' residence as spiritual head of the Roman Catholic Church at Kingston it was ever his aim to promote the spirit of unity among the creeds.

The Car That Got Lost.

The regular street car service in Guelph, Ont., consists of four cars which after covering their different routes meet on two curves in a wide open space at the heart of the city. When all have arrived two start off up the main street and two down it, and soon each car is away on its own particular line along which it will return for the next gathering in the business centre.

To a Toronto visitor that frequent regular meeting of the cars was an interesting event, and he framed up this little talk about it for some citizens of Guelph:

"It's a great car system you have here. They tell me that an officer of the company goes out to the square every twenty minutes, counts the cars as they arrive, and, as soon as all four are on hand, says, 'All right, now. Go again, but be sure to be back in twenty minutes.' And they tell me that one day one car failed to show up and that the official was worried half to death. He refused to be comforted or to be assured that the missing car would return. 'It's gone,' he wailed. 'It's got lost or somebody has stolen it. It's wandered away and can't get back.' But when he was at his worst the missing car came nosing around a curve up the main street. 'Why, there it is,' he yelled and he ran to meet it. He got over his fright in a little while, but it was very reluctantly that he again said, 'All right, now. Go again.'"—Canadian Courier.

Henry III. Introduced Grain.

The grain, as a unit of measurement, was introduced by Henry III., who ordered a grain of wheat gathered from the middle of the ear to be the standard of weight.

He's Surely One.

"Pop!"
"Yes, my boy."
"What is an ultimate consumer?"
"Why, you are, my son. You're always the last one to leave the table."

An Unfailing Sign.

"I'm afraid Maud's second marriage is a failure."
"Did she say so?"
"No, but she's beginning to speak well of her first husband."

HE SENT HIS "BEST" REMEDY.

The young daughter of Mrs. T. S. Dougall, 523 Flora Avenue, Winnipeg, was arranging some of her doll's washing on a clothes rack beside the stove, when she fell, and her hand came in contact with the hot stove. She sustained a serious burn and her screams brought her mother quickly to the spot.

"I sent to the druggist for the best remedy he had for burns," she says, "and he sent back a box of Zam-Buk. He said that there was nothing to equal it. I applied this, and it soothed the pain so quickly that the child laughed through her tears. I bound up the hand in Zam-Buk, and each day applied Zam-Buk frequently and liberally, until the burn was quite cured.

"The little one was soon able to go on with her play, and we had no trouble with her during the time the burn was being healed."

Zam-Buk Soap should also be used by all mothers for baby's bath and for skin troubles, rashes, pimples, etc.

ONTARIO'S SCHOOLS.

From the Minister of Education's report for 1910 we learn that school teachers throughout the province are getting higher salaries than they did the previous year. In urban schools the average salary for male teachers is $1,000, an increase of $14 over 1909, and for female teachers, $532, an increase of $16. In rural schools the average salary has increased $22; being $484. Female teachers in these schools are receiving $17 more, the average being $399. Total amount expended in public schools during 1910 was $17,321,239 on 5,913 schools, with a total school population of 401,268. Expenditure on separate schools was $820,184.80, number of schools being 467, school population 55,834. There are 145 collegiate and high schools in the province, with 820 teachers and 33,101 pupils. Total expenditure $1,621,635. Forty years ago urban schools supplied only about 18 per cent. of primary school pupils in the province. Cost per pupil in the public schools increased this year 17.52 to 17.84. As compared with this 32 per cent. increase in public schools there was an increase in cost per pupil in high schools of $5.57, the cost now being $48.

FLY WHEELS BURST.

What might have proved a fatal affair happened at McCallum's Planing Mill in Palmerston on Tuesday morning of last week, says the Spectator. It appears that the 18 horse power gasoline engine, which was highly speeded, needed attention, and Mr. Ben McCallum undertook to give it the necessary attention, and while in the act of adjusting the machine the two fly wheels, each weighing 800 lbs., broke in a dozen fragments, scattering the various pieces in a promiscuous manner throughout the entire building. One piece of the wheel shot right clean through the door out into the street, while another fragment rent asunder an opening in the second floor. The drive wheel also was badly shattered. Both Mr. McCallum and his son, Ben, were in the engine room and were fortunate to escape with their lives. The young man sustained a fracture of the hand, while his father escaped without a scratch. They have the sympathy of the town, for the loss sustained will aggregate nearly $800.

EARLY DAYS IN MELANCTHON.

(Toronto Weekly Sun, April 5th, '11)

"There is good land 60 miles north, and you will not have to pay anything for it."

"That was the statement made to my father in response to an enquiry, when he arrived in Hamilton in '52."

This formed the opening of an interesting story told me at Melancthon Station last week. The story was told by James Brown, clerk of the township of Melancthon and officer in charge of the post office of the same name. With the exception of M. Teefy, of Richmond Hill, Mr. Brown has probably served as postmaster for a longer period than any other man in Canada. It is doubtful if even Mr. Teefy surpasses him in length of service with the post office department because Mr. Brown, before he became postmaster, was one of the first mail carriers in what was known in the 'fifties as North-Western Upper Canada, but is now part of the counties of Simcoe, Grey and Dufferin.

But we had better get back again to the beginning of the story.

"At that time," said Mr. Brown, "I was only about thirteen but I knew as much as my father did of the whereabouts of this free land. On further enquiry we found it was located in Melancthon and that we would have to go by way of Orangeville in order to reach it. Father engaged a man and team to take our effects sixty miles north, believing that would carry us to our destination. The driver was good-natured enough until we reached Caledon Mountain, but the sight of that awful climb broke his temper. He wanted to turn back then and there, but was finally persuaded to go on as far as Orangeville. Beyond that point persuasion failed and he flatly refused to go further.

'Father then began to make enquiries as to where Melancthon really was anyway. The reply was not encouraging. He was told it was 'where the people lived on frogs.' However, after waiting for a week he persuaded the father of Blaney McGuire, of Orangeville, then a young lad, to transport his belongings the rest of the way.

"Disappointment awaited our arrival. We found all the high and dry lots had been taken up and that only the refusals were left for us. But we made our selections from what remained, taking two 50-acre lots—288 and 290—and those lots, taken from the Crown, have remained in the same names ever since with never a mortgage against them."

Are there any other two lots in Ontario of which the same can be said? What has been said of the two lots in question is all the more remarkable in view of that which follows:

"A double misfortune befel us in '55," continued Mr. Brown. "In that year father died and all our crops were frozen stiff. Still we managed to get along, but it was cruel hard. I have carried 50 pounds of flour on my back from Mono Mills, 26 miles away. About the time we had grain to grind there was a gristing mill at Horning's Mills. The road—there were several roads, in reality each settler having one for himself — led through the bush. The mill was a very small affair and more than once I had to wait all night in the mill while waiting for my grist; and a grist mill in those days was a mighty cold place to spend a night in.

"We were helped out at the start by a contract for carrying the mail. I am still a mail carrier, by the way, but my present route is a very short one; from my home, where the post office is, to the station a couple of hundred yards or so. It was different in '54, when I undertook the contract of carrying the mail from Melancthon to what was then Nottawasaga, but is now Duntroon. Later I took the contract for carrying it from Mono Mills to Chatsworth. At the beginning of this latter route the mail made a good load for a horse, but towards the end of the journey the burden became considerably lighter. I was paid $440 for carrying the mail once a week over this distance, and it was worth it. In places the logs in some of the crossways went afloat every spring and fall and once, when passing over one of the worst of these crossways, my horse broke his leg and I had to kill him. The rest of that journey was made with the pack on my back.

"A dreary enough journey it was at the best of times. I was frequently on the road until the middle of the night and the woods were full of bears and wolves. One moonlight night in November I saw a wolf in the middle of the road about a mile from here. I went ahead, however, and the wolf trotted off into the bush before I came up with him. I have cut oats in the field while cubs sat in near-by trees waiting for us to leave so that they might get at the oats. Once I spent a whole night on the road. I was taking a load of hay to Shelburne and got stuck when a mile and a half this side of that place and had to remain there until morning.

"Cattle had as hard a time of it as the people in those days. There was nothing but straw for them to eat and the straw stack formed their only shelter. I wonder how the cattle of to-day would stand up under that sort of treatment.

"Hospitality, and it was abundant, was dispensed under difficulties. There was not then the full equipment in pantry and kitchen there is now. On one occasion a housewife found herself suddenly called upon to provide for some strangers. Her kitchen equipment consisted of one bake-pan. In that she had to wash and cook the potatoes, fry the meat and make the cakes. But she was equal to the occasion. The unexpected guests did not go away hungry."

Another who can tell of the early days of Melancthon, either from his own memory or through stories obtained from his parents, is J. F. Breen.

"Those of the present generation," said Mr. Breen, "cannot possibly realize how great were the difficulties and hardships under which those who laid the foundations of Dufferin labored. My father, Patrick R. Breen, settled in Melancthon in '55. For five years in succession, after taking up his land, summer frosts wholly or partially destroyed the crops he attempted to grow. It was not, indeed, until he moved to another place that he secured relief from this constant loss. My mother, when a young girl, has gone all the way from here to Adjala, a distance of thirty miles, for groceries, a considerable part of the way being simply a chopped out road through the bush. People had to go to Adjala at that time even for their boots and shoes."

The day of difficulty and hardship has passed; the day of prosperity has dawned. Mr. Breen himself settled on his present location in 1888, with a capital of about $2000. To-day he owns 350 acres all told, in addition to a comfortable cash balance, together with something like 25 head of pure bred cattle, besides horses, sheep and hogs. It is doubtful if there is a farm in Ontario better equipped with buildings than that on which Mr. Breen lives. The house is 30x30, of cement blocks, with hot and cold water and all modern sanitary conveniences. The barn is in keeping with the residence, with stable accommodation underneath for something like 70 head of stock.

WITH THE HORSES AT ORANGEVILLE.

Mayor Riddell, of Orangeville, is well known to all lovers of the harness horse. Whether he is driving a trotter or presiding at a Council meeting Mr. Riddell is always a gentleman and commands that dignity and respect which is always a true guide to the well bred gentleman.

Mr. Riddell owns the stallion, Bison 2.21¼, sired by Heir-at-Law, the sire of Minor Heir 1:59¾. The Bison's dam was Kate Patchen who was the dam of Globe 2:14¼, the Bison 2:21¼ and Hartford 2.30. So it will be seen that the Bison 2:21¼ is from producing lines on sire and dam's side. The Bison sired the fast pacer Dick Bison 2:22¼ than was sold to Mr. Moore, of Ottawa.

Mayor Riddell also owns a well-bred daughter of Grattan Boy 29060, called Lew L. Grattan, whose dam was Mary Peele by Bow Bells 13073, second dam Rosey Morning by Alcantara by George Wilkes. She was bred by W. T. Redmond, of Madison, N. J.

Rosey Morn was the dam of Boreal (3) 2:15¾, Martin Bells 2:06¼ and Beausent 2:06¼.

L. K. Johnston, the Shoe man, drives a black two-year-old, a trotter, sired by the Bison 2:21¼. This colt hitched up to a cart stepped up the street at a .50 clip and is as handy as an old campaigner. Mr. Johnston also has a yearling by the Bison 2.21¼, dam Mona Carnegie, by Robt. McGregor. The owner says this colt can step a three minute clip. A weanling bred on the same lines is also a trotter.

D. A. Hogg drives one of the handsomest mares in this section of the country. She is called Lady Bison by The Bison 2:21¼, dam by Gen. Howard by Almont Wilkes 2:19¼. Second dam Gypsy Girl 2:17¼ This mare is the winner of twenty-nine first prizes and was never broken in the show ring. She can step a 2.30 clip and has a nice way of doing it. Mr. Hogg also has a four-year-old by the Bison, dam Gypsy Queen by Gen. Howard by Almont Wilkes and a two-year-old filly some breed and as I saw this filly step to a cart I predict her to be a little more than the average two-year-old trotter.

R. J. Wilson, the Tonsorial Artist, is a new beginner and quite a lover of the harness horse and will have something that can step.

Geo. Reid, who lives four miles out in the country, has 12 or 13 well-bred colts and horses. He owns the stallion, Monte 2:27¼, by Faker out of the thoroughbred mare, Leeland Queen. A mare by The Bison 2:21¼. Has three colts a 1, 2 and 3 year old by Monte. A brood mare, Maud Patchen, by Joe Patchen, has three colts by Monte, all pacers.

Mr. Reid has been breaking and driving those colts, and they are all good mannered.—Canadian Sportsman.

BEARING DOWN PAINS.

What woman at sometime or other does not experience those dreadful bearing down pains. Mrs. E. Griffith, of Main street, Hepworth, Ont., says: "A heavy bearing-down pain had settled across my back and sides. I was often unable to stoop or straighten myself up. Many times each night I would have to leave my bed with the irregular and frequent secretions of the kidneys and just felt as done out in the morning as on retiring. I was languid and would have to let my housework stand. Nothing I had tried would benefit me. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and concluded I would try them, which I did, and soon found the long sought relief. My back strengthened and I began to feel better and stronger. I now enjoy my sleep without being disturbed and feel grateful to Booth's Kidney Pills for what they did for me."

Booth's Kidney Pills

Booth's Kidney Pills are a boon to women. She would know less of backaches if she took more of these wonderful pills. They are nature's greatest specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. NEW ZEALAND'S IDEAL.

State Aims to Give the Citizens Freest Possible Access to Opportunities of Life.

Government Seeks to Lead in Legislation.

"All our effort in New Zealand, both in legislation and in administration, is directed, consciously directed, along definite lines to a clearly recognized ideal. The ideal we keep in view is a democratic State in which the average citizen is offered the freeest possible access to all the opportunities of life, and is encouraged to take advantage of those opportunities in the interest of the State. If you disregard that organizing idea you will miss the real significance of what is happening in New Zealand."

In these words, spoken in the course of an interview with the Toronto Globe, Hon. Dr. Finley, Minister of Justice in the present Administration, succintly outlined the aim of the Government of New Zealand. The words, "Access to opportunity," the interviewer continues, as used by Hon Dr. Finley, meant far more than a text-book phrase. It means access to the land as the source of wealth; access to education, both free and efficient, as essential to the right use of opportunity; access to wholesome conditions of labor and just rewards; access to justice, such as gives the poorest seamstress as fair a chance before the court as the wealthiest corporation, access to capital at moderate rates of interest and easy terms of payment; access to all the conveniences provided by railways, telegraphs, telephones and other public services, at the minimum of cost to the State, and access to insurance against accidents and invalidism and a pension for old age. To secure access to all such opportunities, not for the privileged few, but for all the people of New Zealand, is what Dr. Finlay regards as the chief duty of the Government of his country.

"The policy of our Government," continued the distinguished statesman, "is not to delay legislation until unrest here or clamor there or the pressure of half-instructed public opinion yonder crowds us into action. Our plan is to lead. There came a time when it was plain that New Zealand was face to face with a crisis. Things could not go on as they had been going without revolt and reaction. The ideal was conceived of what kind of State New Zealand ought to be, and it has been the aim of our politics to work steadily and determinedly towards that ideal.

"No, it is not numbers or material wealth. In geographical area our country, you would think, might be lost in your Lake Superior. In population the United States would laugh at us, as China might laugh at the rest of the world. But in the real things of life and in the highest achievements of government New Zealand to-day is not afraid of comparison with any other country. We have 66,000,000 acres and one million people, and our purpose is to make each of those acres yield the utmost of good for the people, and to secure to each of those people the freeest possible access to all the opportunities which life in New Zealand affords."

Dr. Finlay then told of the solving of the vexed land question in New Zealand. With only a limited area, and with private estates of 200,000 acres devoted to sheep-raising, and supporting only a few shepherds, a situation grew up akin to that in Britain. The Government "reclaimed" much of that land, leased it to small farmers, loaned capital on it, provided needed facilities and conveniences, and in the end disproved every argument of the obstructionists by showing widespread prosperity and trebled land values. One-sixth of all New Zealand is now held by the Crown, and will not be sold, but only leased in small holdings at reasonable rentals, and revalued every sixty-six years.

"Absolutely and in every particular our land policy has been justified," said Dr. Finlay, and he did not refuse the refrain of the campaign song of British Radicals, "God made the land for the people."

So, too, with their railway problem. All the transportation services are owned and operated by the State. "In every respect it has proved a success," he said. "The roads are not run to make money. In any section where profits begin to pile up the rates are reduced. We would rather make a loss than a profit, for the service is the people's. There are many things the State can do for the people by owning and operating the railways. Our system is managed by a Commissioner, who is not interfered with by politicians or in the special interest of any class. Return to the old plan is never suggested.

"So, too, with education. With universal suffrage, women as wellas men voting in all elections, we require trained intelligence in our citizenship. Therefore all our schools, from the primary grade to the university, are practically free. A college education is the privilege of the common man. Many of our policemen hold college diplomas, and not a few of them solicitors' certificates. At first the effect was to incline young men away from the land, but that day is past. Make college education general and you create no special class.

"Yes, our teachers are fairly well paid, better on the average than teachers in Canada, but our great advantage is in a very generous pension—two-thirds of the regular salary—granted on retiring either from disability or old age. Education costs New Zealand a very large sum, but without it democracy is doomed.

"Our working classes are better dealt with, alike in wages, in hours, and in conditions of service, than elsewhere known to me. A weekly half-holiday in every shop and factory and store was resisted at first, but it has proved itself a boon to both employers and employees. It is universal, and so firmly fixed is it in our business ideas that even were the law repealed the practice would continue."

After much more illustration and illumination of the New Zealand idea of "access to opportunity" for the average citizen, our talk turned to the problem of crime and unfitness.

"Vengeance is wholly eliminated from our administration of the law," said the Minister of Justice. "Men are punished, but the constant objective is their reclamation and restoration to social usefulness." Hence discretionary powers are granted to the courts, and the shops and farms and schools attached to prisons and reformatories. Dr. Finlay's instances o the benefits of reform methods from personal knowledge, both as a practising lawyer and as Minister of Justice, were rarely instructive and encouraging. So, too, was his exposition of New Zealand's experience in making it a criminal offence for mental defectives or persons tainted with hereditary disease to marry. No feeble-minded woman is allowed to be exposed to the risk of reproducing her kind. The Eugenic Society of Southern New Zealand is an organization which is preparing the way for effective legislation that will make it a crime for syphilitic or similarly diseased persons knowingly to communicate or transmit their taint.

"There is nothing else for it," said Dr. Finlay. "The people must be protected against disease and social poison or they will decay. The citizenship of a democracy must be intelligent, self-controlled and unpolluted or self-government will degenerate into depotism or anarchy.

"The same holds true as regards immigration," he went on. "Our original population was good, the best Britain had to give. It is still more than ninety-eight per cent. of Anglo-Saxon or Celtic stock. If our institutions of government and life are to be maintained, all diseased and ignorant and incompatible elements must be forbidden entrance. They are all rigidly excluded. So are aliens of all sorts who cannot pass the tests of inspection not only as to physical and mental fitness and financial competence, but also as to education. By those tests all Orientals, Hindus as well as Chinese and Japanese, who cannot pass the educational test are excluded. If they come to us they have the right under our suffrage to share in the responsibilities of government. If educated intelligence and all the other requirements are necessary in our own people it cannot be urged that in aliens and foreigners they are of less importance. We are not unjust to fellow-subjects from India if we require from them what we require from our own children.

"Of course this policy makes our immigration returns look small. What New Zealand needs is not the largest number of people, but the best brand."

ART OF THE PIONEERS

CANADA'S EARLY ARTISTS DID NO MEAN WORK.

Recent Exhibition of the Canvases of Paul Kane, Paul Peel, Cornelius Kreighoff, Otto Jacobi and Others, Proves a Revelation to Modern Painters—Love of Art Has Shown Remarkable Growth.

Canadian art has succeeded in presenting itself mainly as a rather dry subject for discussion. There are a good many people who argue that Canada has never done enough in the way of picture-making to be worth while talking about. This may be due to the fact that for a good many years, and until the beginning of this century at least, most exhibitions in Canada were particularly dull affairs. There has been a very marked improvement during the past few years. As was said by Sir Edmund Walker, a few months ago, there are more Canadian painters to-day under thirty-five years of age, doing work fit to be exhibited at the Royal Academy, than all the painters that lived in Canada forty or fifty years ago.

Nevertheless, from fifty years ago up till the end of the nineteenth century, there were in Canada at least eight or ten painters, whose work is somewhat startling when gathered into one collection, as has been done recently at the Art Museum in Toronto. In that collection of hundreds of pictures there was not one by any painter now living. The works were collected from scores of private owners in Canada; from men who years ago began to take an interest in purely Canadian pictures—some of them during the lifetime of the painter, which is rather unusual. In all probability no exhibition of such an incongruous lot of paintings could have been made when the painters of them were living. That they are all dead excuses many of them from the criticism they would surely have got while alive.

But the fact that the exhibition was one of dead painters' works by no means explains the extraordinary interest taken in many of the canvases at the Art Museum. The collection contains some pictures that ought not only to interest the general public, but to stimulate the flagging energies of some of our modern painters. Paul Kane, Paul Peel, Otto R. Jacobi, Cornelius Kreighoff, Henry Sandham, Blair Bruce, and half dozen others, have canvases in that collection, enough to demonstrate that the desire and the ability to paint existed in a very high degree in Canada as far back as fifty years ago. At least forty of the canvases shown prove that at a time when Canadians were taking a very languid interest in matters of trade and manufacture, and even in agriculture, the painter men were fired with enthusiasm deep enough to do daring things.

A large number of the painters studied abroad, and some of their works show that they imported into Canadian subjects a European atmosphere. Paul Kane's buffalo hunt picture has as many merits in color and dramatic interest as anything shown at the exhibition. But, though Kane spent a good many years trailing after the plains' Indians, he failed to become Indian enough himself to draw an Indian pony. Some of his horses look like war chargers idealized. The buffalos might be the better of a little more internal economy. But the picture is full of go and splendid color, and it can't possibly fail to be interesting—somewhat perhaps because the buffalo, as a subject of art, is now relegated to the parks, and the Indian has become almost effete on the prairie.

There is one picture of Kreighoff's in the collection that contains more motion to the square inch than any other picture painted in Canada for many a day. That is "After the Ball," which was done years before Charles K. Harriss wrote his maudlin ditty bearing that name. Of course, it's a French-Canadian ball and, therefore, as lively as a half-breed wedding up in Athabasca. But there are more than fifty figures in that picture, and every mortal one of them doing something. All the picture lacks is the house on fire and three or four up on the roof to make it a perfect furore of movement.

Blair Bruce's painting of the Mediterranean is quite as lively, from a nautical standpoint; but not over done. When the same man did the pallid "Phantom Hunter" and the eccentric shadowgraph picture called "The Monologuist" it seems that one painter didn't need to stick to any one style in those bold open days of yore.

Whatever technical and temperamental faults those pioneer painters had, they surely had the gift of abandon, of pure absorption in the things they were doing, without absolute conformity to either the details of the subject or the canons of art. If a group of painters nowadays should start to paint in some of the styles shown by these deceased painters they would be dubbed a new school. In those days they were largely individual painters. Each man did the thing he saw in his own way, not caring a continental for critics, of whom there were few, and not much for posterity, which could be trusted to take care of itself. It's not necessary for modern painters to copy these pioneers. If they did, they might go very far astray. It may be often desirable, however, for some men nowadays, who have far better technical equipment, to get as much of the real out-of-doors and pagan absorption into their work, as may be seen in a few canvases at the Art Museum. In which case most of our living painters may not need to die in order to get the public to appreciate their work.—Augustus Bridle.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines in memory of William Delbert Hoare, who departed this life on February 3rd, 1911.

Jesus has been amongst us
He has called our dear one home,
Yet how much we feel the parting,
We, who still are left to roam.

How we miss our dear Delbert,
Oh! we cannot help but sigh;
Yet we have that precious promise,
We shall meet him in the sky.

When we think of that re-union,
Over on the heavenly shore,
When the trials and the parting,
Of this cruel life are o'er.

Then cheer up, thou lonely one,
Tell your griefs to Jesus now,
He will take away your sorrow,
He will smooth your troubled brow.

He will heal your bleeding hearts,
If you cast on Him your care,
He will take away the sorrow
That just now is resting there.

He will make you fit to meet your dear
Who has lately passed away; (one
He will say, "Come thou faithful,"
On that bright, eternal day.

THE DUFFERINS REORGANIZE

The annual meeting of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club was held in the Public Library Auditorium last Thursday evening. There was a large and enthusiastic turnout of present and past players and the indications all point to a successful lacrosse season in Orangeville this year. Mr. A. L. C. Kirkwood, last year's President, occupied the chair. Officers were elected as follows:—

Hon. President, C. R. McKeown, M.L.A.; President, A. L. C. Kirkwood; Vice-President, Dr. G. H. Campbell; Treasurer, H. McGuire; Secretary, Carson V. Jeffers; Executive Committee, H. Kilpatrick, A. A. Smith, W. Holmes.

Delegates to the Toronto convention—B. McGuire, Dr. Campbell, C. V. Jeffers and A. A. Smith.

There is plenty of capable material in sight and with attention to the development of the younger players the officers expect to have no difficulty in placing two speedy twelves in the field. The club finances are in good shape. It was decided by the meeting to enter juvenile and intermediate teams in one or other of the two lacrosse associations.

DAWSON CASE SETTLED.

Readers of The Banner will remember the case of Dawson vs. Dawson, which created considerable interest at the time of the trial at the Orangeville Assizes about four years ago. The litigants were Thos. Dawson and Mary Dawson, son and daughter of the late Thos. Dawson, of Orangeville. Miss Dawson sued her brother to recover the arrears on an annuity, to which she claimed she was entitled under her father's will. Mr. Justice Magee, the trial judge, reserved judgment for nearly three years, and then dismissed the suit without costs. The plaintiff appealed to the Divisional Court, which reversed the trial judgment, finding for the plaintiff with costs. Through his solicitor, Mr. C. R. McKeown, the defendant gave notice of an appeal to the Court of Appeal. Last week, however, the parties succeeded in effecting a settlement, whereby the plaintiff is to receive $600 in cash, and an annuity of $87.50 a year during her lifetime, the defendant to pay the costs. W. D. Henry acted as solicitor for the plaintiff during the earlier stages of the suit, and W. J. L. McKay had charge of the appeal proceedings.

ROLLEY—FARNELL.

On Wednesday, April 5th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Farnell, The Maples, Jennie, one of the daughters of the home, was united in marriage by Rev. T. R. White, pastor of the Methodist Church, Laurel, to Frank Rolley, of Tottenham, a prosperous and popular young farmer of that section, and son of Mr. Francis Rolley, of Castlederg. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Her wedding dress was of grey silk with touches of pink, and she carried a handsome bouquet of pink and white carnations. Her only attendant was a sister, Miss Jessie Farnell, who acted as flower girl and ring bearer, carrying the marriage symbol in a lily. The bride was beautifully attired in a dress of white muslin. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was partaken of by the guests, who numbered about thirty of the immediate friends, in the dining-room, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain. The flower girl received a gold signet ring and locket and chain. The young couple drove to their future home, near Tottenham, the bride being attired in a travelling suit of blue cloth with large hat to match. Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Rolley by their many friends in Orangeville and Tottenham, where both young people are known and highly respected.

Mrs. McKenney was taken ill on Sunday, but made light of her indisposition apparently thinking that she was only suffering from a bad cold. Later when her daughter insisted upon calling the family physician, Dr. Hunter, it was found that she had contracted pneumonia of an alarmingly severe type. The late Mrs. McKenney, who was in her 74th year, was born near Brampton on Dec. 17th, 1838, being a daughter of the late John Buchanan, of Chinguacousy. She had resided in Orangeville nearly 50 years and was well-known by all the older residents of the town. A family of three sons and three daughters survive, namely, A. G. McKenney and Mrs. A. E. Bull, of Vancouver; John and W. A. McKenney, Toronto; Mrs. Griffiths, Victoria, B.C.; and Miss Ella, who lived with her mother. A little granddaughter, Madeline, had also made her home here since the death of her mother. John Buchanan, East Garafraxa; A. T. and Wm. Buchanan, Kansas City, and Mrs. May, Bay City, Mich., are the surviving brothers and sister. The funeral was delayed until Tuesday in order to allow one of the sons, Mr. A. G. McKenney, to reach here in time for the burial. Mr. McKenney left Vancouver immediately upon receipt of a message informing him of his mother's serious illness, but had barely reached the eastern boundary of British Columbia, when he learned of her death. He reached Orangeville on Monday. Mrs. McKenney was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the service at the house Monday night was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. M. Morris. The members of the Church Choir, with which Miss McKenney is identified, attended the service in a body, and led in the singing. Among the numerous floral tributes were sheafs of flowers from the Vancouver Rubber Co., of Vancouver, and the Gutta Percha Rubber Co., of Toronto, and sprays from the ladies and choir of St. Andrew's Church. The funeral was held to the C. P. R. station Tuesday morning, the remains being conveyed to Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto, for burial. General sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

DWELLING DESTROYED.

Mr. Edward Richardson's brick dwelling house, a short disance north of the village of Laurel, was destroyed by fire about 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire started from a defective chimney, and as Mrs. Richardson was out doing the milking, made considerable headway before it was noticed. With the assistance of the men of the village, Mr. Richardson succeeded in removing the most of the furniture and other contents. The loss is estimated at $1500. We understand this will be partly covered by insurance.

History of Toronto.

Again it has been demonstrated that Toronto lacks the proper historical sense. In Toronto, at the Normal School, there is a museum full of tomahawks, skulls of red men, and other curios, sometimes gazed at by country folks at exhibition time. Among other relics of the past, for many years there has been a block of stone. This stone is distinguished from other good Ontario rock by a hole cut right through it. The old "plighting stone" of Lairg, Scotland—that is how this stone has been described to sightseers. They have been informed that it is probably of Druidical origin. Undoubtedly, the hole proves that—the ancient custom of the Druids being to plight troth by clasping hands through this hole. Mr. Hugh Nichol, of Stratford, it was who prezented this interesting stone to the museum. He bought it from a Scotchman. It has been disclosed that the stone is not of "Druidish origin." It is an ordinary meal-grinding stone. And they say a Scotchman has no sense of humor—surely not when his porridge is in sight.

Concrete Stairs Need No Repairs

Easy to Build and Last Forever

NO matter how you view it wooden stairways can never be considered economical.

Wood deteriorates rapidly under ordinary usage, and requires frequent, and often extensive, repairs to keep it in good condition.

Concrete stairs will be as good fifty years later as the day they are first put up. Age, which proves so destructive to wood, serves only to intensify the strength and hardness of concrete. Needing no repairs or painting, concrete first cost is last cost.

Let us send you our new illustrated book free—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." Photographs and diagrams show many examples of concrete work as applied to the construction of farm utilities. Much of this work you'll find you can do in your spare time. Write for the book to-day. It may save you dollars, though it only costs a cent.

AT WORK IN 3 WEEKS

$4 Worth of Father Morrisey's "No. 7" Cured Her of Inflammatory Rheumatism.

Mrs. Agnes Edgar, of Grand Falls, N.B., had a terrible time with Inflammatory Rheumatism. Anyone who has had this most painful disease will understand her suffering—and her joy when she found Father Morrisey's "No. 7" had cured her. She says:

"I took Father Morrisey's Prescription for Inflammatory Rheumatism. I had suffered everything with it, but in three weeks after starting Father Morrisey's Prescription I was able to do my work, and after taking four dollars worth of medicine I was well. I highly recommend it any sufferer with Rheumatism."

'Rheumatism comes from bad kidneys. The poisonous Uric Acid which they should remove stays in the blood, accumulates in joints and muscles, and causes agony. Father Morrisey's "No. 7" puts the kidneys right, removes the Uric Acid from the blood and the whole system, and cures the Rheumatism. 50c. a box at your dealer's, or from Father Morrisey Medicine Co. Ltd., Montreal, Que. 63

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

A pathetic case has lately come to light. An elderly woman, for years one of the society ladies in a fair Canadian city and thought to be wealthy, has through unfortunate investments fallen upon hard lines, and the sadness of her case is increased by the terrible fact than she has been stricken down by an incurable disease. During her prosperous years she thought but little of the future, and a large portion of her income was spent in "keeping up appearances." Now, penniless and homeless, she must seek admission to some place of refuge; her friends of yesterday know her no more. Such cases as these should cause young wage-earners to appreciate the fact that they may escape such a fate if they are but willing to take advantage of the Canadian Government Annuities scheme, for by investing with the Government but a small portion of their weekly wages they can provide an income to begin at 55 or later that will insure them independence and happiness no matter how long they live. Give the matter your most serious consideration, and if you desire further particulars on the subject these may be obtained on application to your Postmaster, or to the Superintendent of Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage.

Try This Specialist.

As a specialist is to an ordinary doctor so Merrill's System Tonic is to other medicines. It does only two things, but in restoring the blood to its natural power and assisting nature to throw off accumulated poisons it reaches and cures nearly 95 per cent. of the disease that are troublesome. Merrill's System Tonic has cured thousands of cases of dyspepsia, constipation, skin diseases, rheumatism, neuralgia, liver complaints, weak kidneys, and has never failed to cure habitual constipation when used according to directions. You are not doing yourself justice until you try it. Price 50c per box of 50 tablets. 6 boxes $2.50. All druggists, or postpaid from The Merrill Medical Co., Merrill Building, Toronto.

Full Text of the New Law.

(1) If a petition in writing, signed by at least ten per cent. of the total number of persons appearing by the last revised voters' list of a city to be qualified to vote at municipal elections, is filed with the clerk of the city on or before the 1st day of November in any year, praying for the submission of a by-law to the electors limiting the number of tavern or shop licenses or both tavern and shop licenses to be issued in the city for the next ensuing license year, beginning on the 1st day of May and for subsequent years, until such by-law is repealed, and if the number of such licenses stated in the petition is within the limit fixed by this Act, it shall be the duty of the council to submit such by-law to the vote of the electors of the municipality qualified to vote at municipal elections in the city in the manner provided by The Consolidated Municipal Act, 59033, and the amendments thereto.

(2) The day fixed by the by-law for taking the vote of the electors thereon shall be the day upon which under The Consolidated Municipal Act, 1903, or any by-law passed under the said Act, a poll would be held for the annual election of members of the municipal council.

(3) If a majority of the electors voting upon the by-law assent to the same, the council shall within six weeks thereafter finally pass the by-law, and this section shall be construed as compulsory, and the duty so imposed upon the council may be enforced at the instance of any municipal elector by mandamus or otherwise.

(4)) After the submission of the by-law, no by-law repealing or amending the same shall be submitted to the electors before the day of polling for the third annual election to be held after that at which the voting on the first mentioned by-law took place, but this shall not affect the submission at any municipal election of a by-law under section 141 of this Act.

(5) The clerk of the municipality shall deliver a certified copy of every by-law passed under this section to the Board immediately after the passing thereof.

OPPOSED TO LIBRARY.

Grand Valley Has Kickers the Same As Other Places.

Architect Gray, of Harriston, has completed revised plans according to the suggestions of Mr. Carnegie's Secretary, and they have been forwarded to him for acceptance. The changes provide for a single side entrance door, the front entrance to land on main floor, all with steps outside, and the ladies' reading room enlarged somewhat, by doing away with the lavatory upstairs.

The opposition to the library have at last shown their hand and in a none too creditable manner to some one. Some person circulated a petition, asking Mr. Carnegie to make no grant because the town was going back, population decreasing, and vacant houses altogether too numerous. The petitioners professed to represent the business men of the place, and had 15 names attached to the petition. But a little enquiry brought the startling information to light that at least four of the names were not signed by the people named, nor with their consent or knowledge. The contents of this petition were carefully guarded, and another petition circulated, in favor of the Carnegie library project, it secured 133 signatures of resident ratepayers. It seems rather unfortunate that such disagreeable features have cropped up, and made an annoyance to Mr. Carnegie, when the people here could have settled it at the public meeting to be held when the plans are accepted.—Star & Vidette.

THIN HAIR.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

When the hair thins out on the top of the head and the bald spot is getting ready to appear in public, don't get discouraged or irritable. Just go to your Druggist and ask for Parisian Sage Hair Tonic. He will charge you 50c. for a large bottle but if it does not cause hair to grow where the hair is thinning out nothing on this earth will.

And we want to say to everybody, man, woman and child, that you can have your money back if Parisian Sage isn't the best hair grower, hair saver, hair beautifier, and dandruff cure on the market to-day.

It stops itching scalp and falling hair and makes hair grow thick and abundantly. All druggists everywhere sell Parisian Sage or postpaid from The Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont. See that the girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle. Sold and guaranteed by T. Stevenson.

LOTS OF BUSINESS CHANGES.

The past few months have certainly been prolific in business changes in Shelburne. Fead & Co's. old established grocery has passed into the hands of T. J. Harrison. W. T. Stewart has vacated "the corner store" and those premises have been merged into those of Chalmers & Puckering. H. Hughston's harness shop has been taken over by A. Skelton. William Fleming's confectionery business has been purchased by Robt. Jackson. The T. O. Kerr grocery and confectionery business was purchased by Miss Agnes Jamieson. The Catalani fruit store has been closed. The Archibald implement business has passed to Wm. Kohler and from him to George Matthews. Hugh Falconer, tailoring and gents' furnishings, has taken Jas. A. Kannawin as a partner, and the firm of Falconer & Kannawin this week took over the business of W. A. Carnahan, merchant tailor. N. E. McCutcheon has sold his flour and feed business to Thos. H. Reburn. Richard H. Backus has vacated the Mansion Hotel. Harkey Henderson has vacated the Temperance Hotel, which will be turned into a dwelling, and has taken charge of the Mansion Hotel. The Watt Milling & Feed Co. have sold their mill to Geo. A. Mustard, Jr., of Creemore. It is certainly a pretty formidable list of changes—and still there are rumors of others.—Economist.

A branch of the Dominion Grange has been formed at Melancthon Station, with the following officers:—T. A. McComb, Master; James Sawden, Secretary-Treasurer. A charter will be applied for in the near future.

Stephen Burns, a prosperous farmer, of Peel township, near Arthur, was killed instantly while working in his bush a week ago Friday. He was cutting down a maple a short distance from the base of which a stump was projecting from the ground. On falling, the tree fell over the stump, hurling a large block, and striking Mr. Burns in the forehead, crushing his skull.

Sluggish Liver Action

Causes indigestion, constipation and bilious headache—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the cure.

"Sluggish liver has been my trouble," writes Mrs. I. P. Smith, Paris, Ont., "and I have been greatly benefitted by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have taken medicine from several good doctors, but never did me the same amount of good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I could not keep up and do my work if I did not use these pills when the bilious spells come on, and I have recommended them to many."

"Dr. Chase's medicines were about the only kind that came into my father's house 40 or 50 years ago, and they were always satisfactory."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, definite and direct in their action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, and are therefore the most effective treatment obtainable for biliousness, indigestion and constipation. 25 cents a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A week ago Thursday night, burglars entered the store of Ritchie & Ramesbottom in Erin, and made quite a haul. Entrance was effected from the rear of the building. Once inside, the intruders helped themselves to ready made clothing and also to canned goods. One of the leading farmers of Nichol went to Toronto last week to get a farm hand from a list of immigrants just arrived there. He felt himself fortunate in securing one and returned pleased with his trip and the results. Upon arriving home he asked his Scotchman if he could milk, and receiving an answer in the affirmative both proceeded to the barn. The proprietor saw his man place the pail under the cow and then proceeded with his. After finishing he went to see how his new man was doing and found him with the empty pail still under the cow, and staring in blank amazement that there was nothing doing. We have not heard if the proprietor has since taught him the trick or not.—Fergus News-Record.

Imperfect Kidney Action Causes Rheumatism

Rheumatism with its kindred ailments —Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc., usually results from lodgments of uric acid in the joints and muscles.

Now the chief function of the kidneys is to properly filter this poison from the blood.

Only when they fail to do this is Rheumatism probable.

Kidney weakness starts in various ways. A sudden chill, after perspiring freely, sometimes settles in the kidneys —or an unusual strain may cause it.

Poisons which should be filtered out of the system are pumped back into the blood, causing Uric Acid, the real cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Wry Neck, Neuralgia, etc.

In the early stages Nyal's Stone Root Compound will stop it.

Will start your kidneys working properly so that the Uric Acid is reabsorbed and eliminated.

Away goes your Rheumatism with it.

Perhaps these early warning twinges have passed unheeded, and your Rheumatism has become deep seated.

Muscles all snarled up in knots as it were.

Then you'll need Nyal's Rheumatic Cure.

Ask your own druggist about these remedies.

A TEACHER'S RECORD.

Principal of the Orangeville High School For 32 Years.

Brief Sketch of Life and Work of Mr. Alexander Steele.

There are very few teachers in the Province of Ontario—even in the Public Schools—who can look back to a record of over thirty years in one school. In this respect Mr. Alexander Steele, the esteemed Principal of the Orangeville High School, whose services and successful work were so fittingly recognized last Thursday night, occupies a unique position. With the close of the present school term Mr. Steele will have completed his thirty-second year as Principal of the High School here.

PRINCIPAL STEELE

It is a record that the Principal may justly regard with no ordinary degree of satisfaction and one to which his friends and the hundreds of pupils, past and present, who have learned to look upon him as a trusted friend and adviser as well as a great teacher, will always point with pride and unfeigned pleasure.

Principal Steele was born on a farm in Southwold township, in the County of Elgin. His father, Rev. Alexander Steele, was a graduate of St. Andrew's University, Edinburgh. After coming to Canada, Rev. Mr. Steele spent several years in the work of the ministry, having pastoral charge of the Presbyterian Church at Bowmanville. Family interests obliged him to take charge of a brother's farm in Southwold and finding the avocation to his liking he decided to give up the work of the ministry. Mr. Steele received his early education in St. Thomas and Weston Grammar Schools, under the tuition of Rev. Dr. Somerville, now General Treasurer of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. After a distinguished course, he graduated from Toronto University in 1876 with first-class honors in philosophy, and being first silver medalist. Mr. Steele gained his first experience in the teaching profession in Mitchell, where he spent a year on the High School teaching staff. He then accepted the position of Headmaster of the Aylmer High School. In the autumn of 1879, he became Principal of the Orangeville High School largely through the instrumentality of the late Dr. J. A. McLellan, then High School Inspector, who strongly recommended the local School Board to make an effort to secure Mr. Steele for the Principalship. The members of the Board, who engaged the new Principal, were Messrs. J. Lindsay (Chairman), Robt McKeown and J. W. Shaw, Rev. A. Henderson, Rev. W. E. McKay and Dr. Carbert. At that time the High School classes occupied a room in the north end of the Public School building. Mr. Steele commenced here with one assistant and accommodation for about forty pupils. By the end of the first year the attendance had doubled and the Board found itself confronted with the problem of providing more accommodation. The advisability of building a separate School began to be seriously discussed, but the construction of the present High School building was not undertaken until 1884. The new school, a four room structure, with folding door partitions, so that two of the rooms could be thrown together if necessary, was occupied in 1885. The attendance increased rapidly, many of the students coming from the adjoining counties of Grey, Simcoe, Peel and Wellington, and ere long the School had an enrolment of over 150 pupils and a staff of four and later on five teachers. The School was enlarged and modernized during the 90's. Last year the Board expended $7,500 in building another large addition. The addition includes a fine, roomy gymnasium and class rooms for the Department of Agriculture in process of organization at the present time.

High Schools have been started in Arthur and Georgetown since the Orangeville High School was built. Continuation Classes have also been formed in Alliston, Shelburne and Grand Valley, where much of the work of the regular High School course may be obtained. In view of this one would naturally look for a decrease in the attendance in the High School here. This, however, has not proved the case. This year's enrolment has been one of the largest in the history of the School. In this is to be found a convincing proof of Mr. Steele's popularity as an instructor and the assured standing of the Orangeville High School among the higher educational institutions of this Province.

The School has fitted hundreds of bright young men and women for the teaching profession. It is noteworthy that about thirty—nearly four per cent.—of the teachers in the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes of Ontario are ex-teachers or ex-pupils of the Orangeville School. No less than six of them are Principals of High Schools in the province. Scores are teaching in the Public Schools and many have won honored places in the ministry, law, journalism, medicine and in business avocations. The character and the life of each of these have been moulded to an important extent by the influences that surrounded them during their student days. This must be borne in mind before any adequate idea can be formed of the far-reaching influence that Mr. Steele's strong manly character and lofty ideals have exerted during the 32 years that he has guided the destinies of Orangeville High School.

The writer should, perhaps, also state that Mr. Steele's activities and influence have not been confined within the sphere of his school duties. He has taken an active interest in the wider educational movements of the Province during the past thirty years. Early in his career he became known as one of the active members of the Ontario Educational Association. He was elected President of the Association in 1893 and was therefore one of the guests of honor at the jubilee banquet in Toronto last week. He has also been Chairman of the College and High Schools Section, and also of the High School Principals' Section, and was for some years a member of the Senate of Toronto University and of the Advisory Board of the Ontario Education Department. Mr. Steele has been a member of the Orangeville Library Board for many years and was Chairman of the Building Committee when the Carnegie Library was erected here a few years ago. He is one of members of the Executive of the Provincial Library Association. A member of the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Steele was ordained into the eldership of that body 34 years ago. He has been one of the elders of St. Andrew's Church here since he first came to Orangeville. He was also Treasurer of the church for several years, and upon the organization of the Orangeville Presbytery 25 years ago, was made the first Presbytery Treasurer. This office he still holds.

MRS. JOHN REID.

Mrs. John Reid, an old resident of this neighborhood, passed away at her home, lot 1, con. 19, East Garafraxa, on Sunday after a comparatively short illness. Deceased lady, who was 78 years of age, was a native of Argyleshire, Scotland but came to Canada early in life and, with her husband, was among the early settlers of East Garafraxa. She was of a quiet disposition, extremely kind hearted and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends and neighbors. Her husband died about June 1st, 1909. She is survived by a family of three sons and two daughters—John, of Lemoine, Cal.; Arch., 9th line, Erin; Mrs. Duncan Conley, Caledon, and Dugald and Flora A. at home. The funeral was held to Greenwood cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Morris conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. McFarlane, of Dutton, Arch. Conley, Wm. Bradford, M. Rennicks, Wm. Henderson, and J. Buchanan.

MRS. ROBT. ALLEN.

Mrs. Robert Allen, wife of a well-known townsman, died at her home on Church St., on Thursday last after a trying illness of nearly three months' duration. Deceased lady was 51 years of age and is survived by her husband and a family of one son and three daughters. The oldest daughter, Mrs. Norman Coulter, lives at Port Burwell, and the other children, Bertha, May and Robbie, are all at home. W. J. and R. H. Robinson, Orangeville; T. A. Robinson, Mrs. R. M. Sutherland and Mrs. Harry Walsh, of Weyburn, Sask., are the surviving brothers and sisters. There was a large attendance at the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Monday afternoon. The floral tributes were also numerous. The burial service of the Anglican Church, was read by Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's Church. The pallbearers were the three brothers and Messrs. James Allen, Toronto, and Thos. and Geo. Allen, Orangeville, brothers-in-law. The sympathy of our citizens goes out to Mr. Allen and family in their bereavement.

THE SPRING ASSIZES.

Judgment Reserved in the McClellan Case.

The Spring Assizes for the County of Dufferin opened in the Court House here at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning before Chancellor Sir John Boyd. The only criminal case down for trial was the Crown vs. Stoddart, which is reported elsewhere. There was only one civil case, McClellan vs. McClellan, which was taken up Tuesday morning and resumed again on Wednesday afternoon. The case is due to a dispute over the division of the estate of John W. McClellan, a west Caledon farmer who died on November 21st last, leaving property to the value of $10,000 or upwards. McClellan was unmarried and by the terms of his will left $500 to his youngest brother, Joseph Albert McClellan, of Winnipeg, $1,000 to a sister, Mrs. Geo. Duckwith, of Caledon, and $500 each to three nephews, one of them a son of Joseph Albert McClellan, the defendant in the present suit. The remainder of the estate he bequeathed to his brother, Homer B. McClellan, of Fallarton, Ont., charging him with the support of their mother, now 89 years of age, and an unmarried sister, 65 years old. Joseph Albert McClellan came east about a month before his brother's death and visited him almost daily thereafter. After the death it transpired that he held a cheque from the deceased for $2750 made in his favor and a letter to Richard Thomas, one of the executors, in which the brother stated that he thought he had not done fairly by Albert and had decided to give him the cheque in addition to his share under the will. Albert cashed the cheque at the Sterling Bank and re-deposited the money in his own name. On the representation of the executors, Homer B. McClellan and Richard Thomas, The Bank subsequently transferred the money to the account of the estate. The defendant in the present suit thereupon entered suit against the Bank, which obtained leave to pay the money in dispute into Court. The present action was then brought by the executors for the purpose of determining who was entitled to the money. I. B. Lucas, K. C., M.P.P. and Geo. Robb conducted the case for the plaintiffs, and C. R. McKeown, M.P.P. acted for the defendant. The witnesses called for the plaintiffs were the two executors, Joseph Lemon, Mrs. Joseph Lemon, who nursed the testator during his last illness, R. W. Henry, Manager of the Sterling Bank at Alton, and John M. Dods. The chief defence witnesses were the defendant himself, and Peter Lemon. The authenticity of the signatures of John W. McClellan to the letter from him to Richard Thomas, the cheque for $2750 and two cheques for $118.83 and $215 on the Bank of Hamilton and Bank of Commerce respectively, was brought into question. The smaller cheques were cashed by the defendant at the Orangeville branches on the day of his brother's death, several hours after the demis occurred. From the evidence of Managers Hyland and Lugsdin, he appears to have represented that his brother wanted to close out the accounts here and deposit the balances in the Sterling Bank in Alton. Two handwriting experts were called to give evidence as to the signatures. Mr. C. A. Fleming, of the Northern Business College, Owen Sound, who testified for the plaintiffs, was strongly of the opinion that the signatures were not in the deceased's handwriting. On the other side Mr. W. H. MacDuff, of the Orangeville Business College, who was called by the defendant, was equally positive that they were genuine.

The case was concluded late yesterday afternoon, His Lordship reserving judgment.

A SUCCESSFUL RECITAL.

Pupils of Miss Maude Elliott Provide Delightful Programme.

Orangeville should be proud of the possession of so much undoubted musical talent as was in evidence at the piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Maude Elliott in the Public Library Auditorium on Tuesday evening. Our townspeople are also favored in having in their midst a teacher of Miss Elliott's ability to develope the talent that was shown to such a marked degree by her pupils. Correct and brilliant technique was noticeable in the playing of even the youngest performer. Among the most pleasing numbers was the quartette, Spanish Dance No. 1 (Moszkowski) by Misses Vera and Gladys Hogg, Mary McIntyre and Frarey Dodds, which was very creditably played considering the youthfulness of the four musicians. The duo "Valse Carnavalesque" Opus 73 (Chaminade), by Misses Scott and Ritchie was a really brilliant performance, as were the solos, Valse, Opus 64, No. 2 (Chopin) by Miss Carrie Stubbs, and "Valse Brilliante" (Moszkowski) by Miss Olive McCartney. The three numbers were all played with great expression, the artists showing real musical ability. The other piano numbers were quartettes, "Galop de Concert" (Sydney Smith) Misses Olive McCartney, Edna Dodds, Carrie Stubbs and Louise Laughlin, "March Des Troubadours," (Roubier) Misses Vera Hogg, Gladys Hogg, Alberta Kearns, Frarey Dodds, and "Pearl of the Sea" (Merz) Misses Lena Ritchie, Katie Woodland, Olga Island and Gladys Hogg; a duet, "Nita" (Ducelle) Misses Clista Island and Ruby Reid, and solos, "Hunting Song" (Mendelssohn) Miss Olga Island; "Bluette Valse" (Duvernoy) Miss Clista Island; "Second Valse" Opus 56 (Godard) Miss Louise Laughlin; Sonata, Opus 2, No. 1 (Beethoven), and "Fruhlingsrauchen" (Sinding) Miss Emma King; "Spring Song" (Mendelssohn) and Polonaise, Opus 26, No. 1 (Chopin) Miss Margaret Scott. Miss Mary McIntyre gave a pleasing song "Some Time" by Senour.

The assisting artist was Mr. Percy Harding, who excelled in the rendition of his songs. His first was "Leave Me Not" by Tito Matteis, and as a second number he gave "La Donna E. Mobile" taken from Verdi's "Rigoletto." Mr. Harding's voice shows marked development in resonance and range since studying with Mr. F. H. Burt, Mus. Bac., one of Toronto's best vocal teachers.

The audience, which was thoroughly appreciative, filled the Library Auditorium to the doors.

LAUREL.

On the morning of Wednesday, April 12th, Mr. Edward Richardson's fine brick dwelling house and its contents were completely destroyed by fire. The fire broke out about 7.30 o'clock, while the members of the family were attending to their stable duties. When first seen the flames were breaking through the kitchen roof. A crowd soon arrived from the village, but in spite of their strenuous efforts to check the conflagration the entire house was speedily wrapped in flames. The structure was burned to the ground in an incredibly short space of time. We understand that building and contents were insured in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual to the amount of $1500. This however, will not be sufficient to cover the loss. Mr. Richardson and family, who have the sympathy of the community in their trying loss, are living with Mrs. Richardson, Sr., until they can rebuild.

Although the weather was very unfavorable, a goodly number assembled in the Methodist Church on Thursday evening to witness the presentation of the temperance drama, "The Last Leaf." At first it was thought advisable to postpone the performance, but those, who had braved the night, insisted that the drama should be given. The play was admirably presented and proved very instructive. As it was the receipts amounted to $21.75. Had the weather been favorable there would undoubtedly have been a full house.

There was another lively scene at the meeting of the Township Council on Saturday. The north Amaranth drain question was again the subject of contention. A large number of interested ratepayers were present on each side. Each party wanted its own way and neither seemed willing to accept any compromise, although members of the Council made some very fair proposals. The leaders were steadfast, unmovable and strikingly persistent. Some of them seemed in a belligerent mood at times, but to the credit of Reeve Bryan and his colleagues be it said that they maintained their equanimity admirably under the trying circumstances, and, when two of the leaders became boisterous, ordered them from the platform and speedily brought the discussion to a close by throwing the whole matter overboard. The old Council would have acted wisely had it taken this course long ago. It would have saved a great deal of expense and a whole lot of talk and hard feeling.

Mrs. Louis Johnston is very ill with the measles at present. She is under the care of Drs. Kyles and Rooney. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. John Hamilton, of Toronto, has been visiting friends in our town and vicinity. We were delighted to have Mr. Hamilton with us again. He returned home on Tuesday morning, accompanied by his brother, Robert, who intends visiting friends in Toronto and Port Credit for a few days. We hope he will have a pleasant time.

Mr. Wm. Hughes is still very ill, but hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Mr. S. J. Brown is gaining in strength, although not very rapidly. However, we think he is out of danger.

CHARLESTON.

The Directors of the Consolidated Telephone Co. have come to an agreement with representatives of the Bell Co., whereby those subscribers who live on or above lot 14, in Caledon, are to have free exchange with the Bell System in Orangeville and vice-versa. This is certainly a fine arrangement for those in a position to reap the benefit but those who have been excluded are inclined to condemn the action of the Board in the matter, claiming that they pay the same subscription as those in the favored territory. We hope that the agreement may yet be modified to suit all parties concerned.

Mr. David McFarlane, of Hamilton, is visiting Caledon friends.

Mr. George Laughlin has disposed of five thorough bred cattle to ex-Reeve Riddell, of Albion. George certainly raises fine stock, which tempt the best breeders in the country to buy from him.

Miss Mamie Nesbitt is spending Easter holidays with Toronto friends

Miss Lila McCartney, who has been attending Hamilton Normal School, is home for the Easter vacation.

Miss Norma White, of Toronto, visited her aunt, Miss Phoebe Judge, one day last week.

Miss Pearl McLachlan, who has been one of our telephone operators for over two years, has resigned her position. Miss McLachlan was a very competent and courteous operator, and telephone users will be sorry to lose her.

Quite a number from here attended the great Peel Horse Show in Brampton on Saturday and report it better than ever.

BUSTER'S ANSWER.

Mr. Editor,—A few weeks ago an anonymous letter, signed "Buster" appeared in the columns of your paper, to which a reply entitled "A Mulmur Blast" appeared in a recent paper.

Upon reviewing the narrative I perceived that it had only been a bubble bursted. The malicious thoughts with which he characterized my letter are far from my intentions, as I did not wish to cast contempt upon any one. Evidently my education has been neglected, but my honorable friend's has suffered a similar fate, judging from his recent article. Regarding his explanation of his absence from the roll call in 1885, it seems a very mysterious problem that he had not his old friend Capt. Mc. explain the circumstances ere these twenty-six years had elapsed, as it seems to have been a long-standing joke. As to his chips which have been flying, I have not experienced any of their effects, and I also wish to assure him that it is not a dozy block he is chipping off. As to the silver lining, it is as yet unseen, and the atmosphere seems to hang as nasty as ever.

BUSTER.

The Bell Telephone Co. are constructing a branch down the Back Line, reaching from George Hogg's residence (known as the John Stewart farm), down to Thos. J. Watson's, which will be a great convenience to the farmers of the Back Line.

Mrs. S. Warwick (nee Miss Alice Collingbourne) died in Stratford last week at the age of 36 years. Deceased was a daughter of Mrs. Rich. Smith,, formerly of the Back Line, but now of Toronto. Deceased's father, the late James Collingbourne, conducted a shoemaking business here many years ago. Mrs. John Manning, of Melancthon, a sister of the deceased, attended the funeral at Stratford.

Albert Chipchase, James Sawden, and some others, are engaged in the maple molasses industry, and report an excellent flow of sap.

A ROSEMONT EPISTLE.

Rosemont, April 17th, 1911.

Mr. Editor,—Was very much surprised on reading a comrade's epistle in last week's issue to see the statement that some of the boys would like to tar and feather "Buster," and take much pleasure in differing with him as we know the boys. The boys know Buster to be an all round good Irishman, who wouldn't show the white feather to any of '85 if they fired the same number of volleys. So were the tar and feathers to be applied we have a very good idea where they would stick. Have "Comrade" and "Citizen" organized a mutual congratulation society with that popular song, "I'm the one best friend I've got," as a drawing card. In conclusion would say one thing is sure, the only sort of joking that hurts is the sort that has a spice of truth in it. Thanking you for your valuable space, I am,

JOE.

Be Warned by Headache

It tells of Serious Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys—Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

You can stop a headache with powerful drugs. But it is not generally wise to do so.

A headache almost always warns you of derangements of the digestive system, the liver, kidneys or bowels.

Awaken the liver to healthful action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you not only free yourself of headache, but remove the cause which will soon lead to more dangerous results than headache.

Pains are the result of poison in the system and whether you have headache, backache or aching limbs, you can be almost sure of relief and cure by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They are wonderfully prompt, as well as definite and thorough in action. You can depend upon them, no matter how long-standing or complicated your case. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box; all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WHITTINGTON.

The Whittington Branch of the Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. T. Johnston, on Wednesday, April 26th, at 2 o'clock p.m.

CATARACT.

It is with sympathy we chronicle the death of Mr. Charles Overland, which occurred in Hamilton, on Sunday morning, April 9th, after a long and trying illness. The late Mr. Overland, who was sixty-three year of age, was born near Brampton, being a son of one of the first settlers. About thirty-three years ago, he married Miss Ellen Gibson, eldest daughter of the late John H. Gibson, who survives her husband, along with a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Sanderson, Milverton, Ont., and a son Mr. W. J. Overland, on the homestead, Cataract. He is also survived by two brothers and four sisters. The funeral, which was held at the home, Cataract, was largely attended considering the inclemency of the weather. Rev. S. R. Robinson, of Knox Church, Caledon, conducted the services at the house and the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Richard Overland, Samuel Gibson, William Gibson, R. C. Gibson, J. B. Gibson and John Cruikshank.

WALDEMAR.

Jos. Lomas cut his foot badly while "score hacking" a stick of barn timber a week ago Monday. The axe glanced and struck his foot with such force that the sharp blade sliced off a piece of the bone. Dr. Campbell, of Grand Valley, dressed the wound and the injured man is doing nicely.

Jas. Porterfield, of Fraxa Junction, and Mrs. Wm. Carter, of this burg, created a lively sensation last week by betaking themselves to Grand Valley and prevailing upon one of the clergymen — Rev. Mr. Roadhouse—to pronounce the words that made them man and wife. The bride is said to be 74 years of age and the groom is credited with having passed the threescore mark. This is Mrs. Porterfield's third matrimonial venture, and it is also said to be the third time that her spouse has experienced the delights of newly found connubial bliss. The happy couple, who looked smart and trim as a well-groomed span of four-year-olds, drove to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Peter Worden, after the ceremony, where there was an informal reception in their honor. Your correspondent understands that the village band lined up and played a couple of appropriate airs in honor of the festive and happy occasion.

John Groskurth, our bustling general merchant, and his capable assistant, were in Toronto last and this week, buying wares for the spring and summer trade.

Jack McFadzean is erecting an artistic looking wire fence along the front of his residence.

George Lewis, of Foxhill, has leased his farm to Wm. Clayton, of East Garafraxa, and has taken up his residence in Grand Valley.

Mr. Will Byers is able to be about again and seems pretty well over the effects of his recent illness.

Mr. Will Gamble has returned from the West, where he was visiting his brother, Wesley, who has been ill with anaemia.

A PARENT'S TRIBUTE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I had the pleasure of being present at the High School on Thursday evening during the Presentation of the well-merited Testimonial to the Principal, Mr. Steele, by the pupils, ex-pupils, teachers and ex-teachers of that institution. I was rather surprised and disappointed that the Committee had not arranged for an expression of opinion, or commendation, by the parents of former and present pupils of the School. I am sure they are equally under a deep obligation to the Principal for the able manner in which the Orangeville High School has been conducted since its commencement. They furnished the raw material and sometimes it was very raw indeed. Out of this Mr. Steele has moulded the finished product. We were told on Thursday night of Judges, Members of Parliament, Lawyers, Statesmen, Poets and others occupying distinguished positions in the higher walks of life, who are doing honor to the instruction and guidance they received while under Mr. Steele's care and are helping to build up our great Dominion. These would in all probability not have attained to such eminence if they had not enjoyed the benefit of Mr. Steele's influence and tuition. Mr. Steele's influence and kindly help did not cease with the exit of his pupils from the High School. Very many of them and their parents as well received valuable advice regarding their higher education. Mr. Steele has always shown himself very willing and indeed anxious to help whenever opportunity offered and I think well merits the gratitude of the parents of Dufferin, and especially those of Orangeville.

Yours Respectfully,

ONE OF THE PARENTS.

Orangeville, April 15th, 1911.

ILL ONLY THREE DAYS.

Profound sympathy is extended to Dr. and Mrs. G. I. Campbell, of Grand Valley, in the irreparable loss they have suffered through the death of their little son, Lloyd, a bright, attractive and affectionate child of about six years. The little lad contracted scarlet fever of a malignant type and succumbed on Friday after only three days' illness. How he came to contract the malady is a mystery, as there has not been another case in the village or neighborhood for some time. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon.

A Story of How a Small Boy Tries to Imitate Lincoln

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Little Azariah Ichabod Peters sat on the topmost rail of the fence and looked thoughtfully down at the shiny new rubber boots that incased his fat legs. A warm overcoat was buttoned tightly about his form, and on his black, woolly head was drawn a bright red toboggan cap that matched his red mittens.

"I reckon I's mighty lucky," he mused. "Jes' t'ink, dat ole Sandy Claws a-bringin' me all dese yere spandy new cloes w'en my ole ones wasn't all wore out yit! Now, dat no 'count Caesar Woodson he say it's jes' because my pappy has a butler job at de hall an' gits a sight ob munny fer standin' behin' Marse Clement's cha'r dat I kin hev all dese t'ings, but I likes to t'ink dat yere ole Sandy Claws brung some ob 'em. O Lawdy me! I done fergot Marse Abe Linkum an' how granny ses if he hadn't set grandpap free my pappy couldn't hev a butter job an' git a sight of munny. I dunno!"

WILL JONES

"Whah yo' ben, lil' Azariah?" said his old granny. "I guess yo' toeses is jes' froze off; come close to de fiah an' warm up."

Azariah Ichabod sat down on a stool near the stove and slowly removed his outer garments. "Granny," he hesitated, "did ole Marse Sandy Claws bring dese cloes to me or did Marse Abe Linkum?"

"Marse Linkum?" Granny stared over her spectacles. "Dat good man been dead an' berried dis fifty year. How come it yo' got dem mixed up, 'less now, lil' Azariah, I guess yore recollectin' whut granny said to yo' 'bout how if Marse Linkum hadn't set de slaves free mebbe yore pappy wouldn't be wurkin' up to de hall an' earnin' sights ob munny fer us."

"I wish yo'd tell me all 'bout dat yere Marse Abe Linkum ag'in', granny," said Azariah.

Both Granny Peters and Azariah Ichabod were in tears at the conclusion of her recital, and when granny had brought forth the brown covered "Life of Abraham Lincoln" the old woman and the little boy pored over its crude woodcuts and large type with complete forgetfulness of the burning potatoes in the oven.

"Yore pappy larned his letters in dat yere book," said granny proudly, "and yo' recomember dat he larned yo' yores too. Now, doan' you never forgit, lil' Azariah, dat yo' larned yo' fust readin' in Marse Abe Linkum's book."

"S'posin' yo' read a lil' about him now," coaxed granny, thrusting the book into his hands. She lighted a kerosene lamp and fished the charred potatoes out of the oven with philosophic cheerfulness and thrust in another batch. "Begin now, honey."

Azariah Ichabod opened the book at the first chapter and ran a small black finger along the lines, reciting glibly what he had already learned by heart under the tuition of his father.

"Marse Abe Linkum wuz bo'n on Febry twelve in de yeah—what's de matter, granny?" Azariah paused as Mrs. Peters grasped the book from his hand.

"Li'l' Azariah," cried his grandmother excitedly, "I done forgot whut yore pappy said dis mornin'. He come down from de no'th whut he'd found, an' ses he, 'Termorrer will be Marse Abe Linkum's birthday, an' dey's gwine ter celybrate it up no'th. It's all in dis yere paper. Now, do yo' tell Azariah ter git some er dat creepin' stuff from de woods an' hang ober Marse Linkum's pictur'.' I declar' I done fergot all about it, an' yore pappy'll be mighty struck if yo' doan' do it."

"I'll git it in de mornin'. Dat Marse Linkum mus' have been dreffle good ter make folks 'member his birthday. I wish I was like dat man, granny. I reckon I'd do jes' as he did," asserted Azariah warmly as he drew up to the table prepared by his grandmother.

"Lil' boys kin do jes' as much good in dere way," said granny wisely.

"I couldn't set nobuddy free."

"Yaas, yo' could set somebody free," said granny suddenly. "Whah's dat lil' rabbit yo' found in yo' trap yistiddy?"

Azariah rolled a startled eye at his grandmother. "It's locked up in de woodshed. I reckoo dat yore lil' rabbit likes me mo'n he does to run arouns' de col' woodses, granny. I want ter keep him, I do!"

"Go 'long, Azariah Peters. I's 'ashamed ob yo', I declare I am, wid dat example ob Marse Abe Linkum right befo' yo' all de time. Doan' yo' talk to me!"

"Tomorrer I'll let him go free. Den I'll be some like Marse Linkum. I reckon I'll give him some cabbidge now," and Azariah left the table and went to his little captive, while granny hobbled around the room singing in a high, cracked voice.

The next day Azariah's first duty was to go to the adjacent woods and search under the covering of dead leaves for trailing vines of sassafras and "old man's hand," with which to adorn the large picture of Abraham Lincoln which hung on the kitchen wall.

After that he took the little gray rabbit from the woodshed and stumped doggedly across the winding path to the upland pasture. He could feel the beating of the little frightened heart against his hand, and he snuggled the little furry body closer into his neck.

"Doan' yo' be 'fraid, lil' rabbit. I's gwine ter take yo' straight ter yore mammy," he comforted it. Then at the pasture fence he kissed the trembling animal and set it on the ground. For an instant it crouched, frightened and tense, and then with a bound it left him and disappeared in the hedge.

"Lawdy sakes!" ejaculated the round eyed Azariah. "I didn't reckon it made folkses so glad to git away. I wished I could be moah like Marse Linkum an' set moah folkses free." He walked meditatively back to the cabin and peered through the paling into the chicken yard. "I reckon yo' chickens would be mighty glad to git away. But I doan' know whut granny'd t'ink erbout dat."

All the afternoon little Azariah pondered over the story of Abraham Lincoln and the lesson taught by his noble life. Toward night he went the lonely two miles into Collinsville to replenish the molasses jug. As he was leaving the town on his way home he came across that scapegrace Caesar Woodson, and, wonder of wonders, that marvel of hardness and abandoned wickedness was bawling lustily in the back yard of his father's isolated cabin.

"Mah pappy he's gone ter jail!" he wept noisily in response to Azariah's solicitous inquiry. "Kunnel Fenn he tole de constable dat dere wus only five chickens lef' in his roos', an' he said pappy hed sold 'em ober ter de town folkses. An' all becus de kunnel could only find five chickens in his roos' dey locked my pappy up!"

Henry Woodson's reputation as a connoisseur of fine poultry was too well known in the county for Azariah Ichabod Peters to express much surprise or indignation over that colored gentleman's incarceration in the lockup. Nevertheless as he left his playmate and went his homeward way his little heart was filled with pity for the genial Mr. Woodson, who was confined within four walls away from the sunshine and the crisp February air and corn pone and sweet potatoes. Azariah wondered what Mr. Abraham Lincoln would have done in like circumstances, and he finally concluded that Mr. Lincoln would have made every effort to obtain the freedom of Henry Woodson and restore him to the bosom of his family.

Azariah hid his molasses jug in the hedge, and, turning his shiny rubber boots toward the town he had just left, he trotted swiftly back, turning and twisting until he reached the small, isolated brick building that served as a temporary place of confinement for the evildoers of the vicinity. The little boy crept up under the small barred window, and in the falling darkness his form became part of the shadows.

"Hit, Mr. Woodson!" he hissed anxiously.

There was a shuffling step across the floor, and Henry's rich voice came in a hushing whisper: "Who's dere? Is dat yo', Caesar, yo' lim' ob Satan?"

"It ain't Caesar. It are somebuddy like Marse Abe Linkum come to set yo' free," whispered Azariah. "Jes' yo' tell me how an' I kin do it."

"Lawsy me!" ejaculated Mr. Woodson. "Lemme see. I reckon I oughter know dis yere ole lockup like a—like a coop. He, he! Whoever yo' be, do yo' know whah my house is?"

"Yaas."

"Well, yo' run erlong an' bring me er crowbar outer my shed. Put yo' han' inside de do' an' it's in de corner. Fetch it heah."

Azariah went and without adventure he returned with the desired implement, and at Henry's direction he handed it through the barred window. That gentleman grabbed it hastily.

"I'm mighty obleeged to you', an' I better not guess who yo' are, but yore shore a mighty little feller. Now, yo' better run erlong befo' de guard comes back from he's supper. Nobuddy 'll know 'twas yo' dat helped me out erway, an' I shall git to Richmond as fas' as I kin till de smell ob chicken hes gone from de kufnel's nostrils—he, he!" he chuckled gleefully.

"Goodby," whispered Azariah Ichabod Peters. "I spect yore mighty happy to be free."

"Glory, chile, dat I am," said the grateful Mr. Woodson. "Now, yo' run erlong home, lil' Azariah Ichabod Peters Abraham Lincoln! I'm gwine ter be free!"

Azariah scampered away and reclaimed his molasses jug, and as he trudged the weary lonely two miles homeward every step of his soft rubber boots seemed to emphasize Henry's words in his happy heart:

"Lil' Azariah Ichabod Peters Abraham Lincoln."

While visiting the south recently, a traveller chanced upon a resident of a sleepy hamlet in Alabama.

"Are you a native of this town?" asked the traveller.

"Am I what," languidly asked the one addressed.

"Are you a native of this town?"

"What's that?"

At this juncture there appeared at the open door of the cabin the man's wife, tall, sallow and gaunt. After a careful survey of the questioner, she said, "Ain't you got no sense Bill? He means was you livin 'heah when yo' was born, or was yo' born before yo' begun living heah. Now answer him.

Are Your Kidneys Working Properly?

It Will Pay You Well to Make Sure

There's been a lot of "guessing" about rheumatism and rheumatic pains generally, but you can be dead sure that little pain across your back came from decreased kidney action.

The kidney's duty is to filter the blood—take out the impurities collected by the returning blood stream—do it just like absorbent cotton in a funnel filters the impurities from polluted water.

When the kidneys are not working you are bound for one of two courses—Diabetes and Bright's Disease or Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica. The former course is usually fatal, and the latter always painful, but you need not have either, as they both can be easily prevented.

The very best prescription for all kidney troubles is Nyal's Stone Root Compound. It is no "patent" medicine, but a scientific prescription composed of Stoneroot, Buchu, Juniper and other remedies of proved value. More than that, it has been proved by thousands who have had glad relief from its use.

There's nothing quite so miserable as the dragging results of sick kidneys. You are trifling with your own future when you neglect so simple a precaution, as a pleasant home treatment with Nyal's Stone Root Compound when results are so certain.

It soothes bladder irritation, gives you rest and comfort at night, and makes life once more enjoyable.

The kidneys, liver and bladder are all dependent upon one another, and Nyal's Stone Root Compound is particularly designed to help them all.

ON THE SIDE.

A well-known lawyer is telling a good story about himself and his efforts to correct the manners of his office boy. One morning not long ago the young autocrat blew into his office and tossing his cap at a hook, exclaimed:—"Say Mr. Blank, there's a ball game at the park to-day and I'm going."

Now the attorney is not a hard-hearted man, and was willing the boy should go, but thought he would teach him a little lesson in good manners.

"Jimmie," he said, "that isn't the way to ask a favor. Now you come over here and sit down and I'll show you how to do it."

The boy took the office chair and his employer picked up his cap and stepped outside. He then opened the door softly and holding the cap in his hand said quietly to the small boy in the big chair:—

"Please, sir, there is a ball game at the park to-day; if you can spare me I would like to get away for the afternoon."

In a flash the boy responded: "Why certainly Jimmie, and here is fifty cents to pay your way in."

CHARGES DISMISSED.

Erin Hotelkeepers Charged in Court With Selling Liquor to Minors

Friday afternoon the magistrates' court in the town hall attracted a large crowd to hear the trial of the charge of selling liquor to minors, laid against J. P. Bush and Sam. Ridder, the two Erin hotelmen.

It was charged that intoxicants had been sold to Wm. Oblander, Clayton Tarzwell, Wm. Tarzwell and Joe. Rodgers, youths of this village, all being under the age of twenty-one years.

Magistrates McMurchy and Carmichael were on the bench and License Inspector Groves, of Fergus, prosecuted, while A. C. McKinnon, of Acton, appeared for the defendants.

William Oblander was the first witness. On being sworn said he was 17 years of age, had been in Erin on March 25th, and had been in both hotels. He had asked for ale shanty as a drink, but would not swear that he had got liquor. He had asked for liquor and barman had made no objections to giving it to him. There was no effects from what he had drank in the hotels and was perfectly sober when he arrived at the station. He became drunk at the station by drinking from a bottle passed around by an unknown man.

Being cross-examined Oblander said he could not deny it if it were said that he had been served with lagerine at Bush's hotel.

Clayton Tarzwell was the next witness. He said that he had gone to Erin on date in question for a watch, had been in the hotels and had called for ale. He was satisfied with what he got. He commonly asked for ale or ale shanty, but could not tell the difference. Said he did not drink much but had drank lagerine and what he had on March 25th, was similar to lagerine but could not say whether it was lagerine or ale. Witness would not swear that he had got ale at Riddler's or Bush's. Had asked for ale and believed he got it. He got liquor at the station which made him intoxicated. Drank from a bottle supplied by a party whom he did not know. He did not pay for liquor at the station.

Wm. Tarzwell, brother of the preceding witness, was next sworn, and said he was in Erin on March 25th, and had been in the hotels although he had had no particular business in them. Did not ask for liquor in hotels and did not have any. Had liquor at the station but did not know who supplied it, but thought the party a good looking fellow. The witness had been in the bus at the station.

Joe. Rodgers was next called, but was not present, not having been located to be served with the papers.

Mr. Chisholm, of Erin, was next called. He said he was at Erin station on night of March 25th, was not in the bus himself, but had seen a bottle passed around and had been told that the name of the man who supplied the bottle was Boyle, as near as he could remember. He said it was not the usual thing for strangers to appear at Erin station and pass a bottle around.

The counsel for the defence here moved to have the case dismissed on the evidence, but Magistrate McMurchy thought rather that a conviction should be registered, whereupon J. P. Bush was called and said he had seen the boys on the day mentioned, but they had had nothing intoxicating to drink in his place, and that his barmen had instructions to serve nothing but lagerine to apparent minors when intoxicants were asked for.

Sam. Riddler, sworn, said he only knew one of the boys, Billy Tarzwell, and that they had not been served with intoxicants at his place.

The case was then dismissed as Magistrate Carmichael said dependence could only be placed on Clayton Tarzwell's evidence, thus leaving the two defendants' evidence to refute that, which placed the balance of evidence against a conviction.—The Beaver.

BABIES SORES

Every mother should realize that the skin of her baby is so tender that the secretions of the body often lead to rashes, eruptions, etc., all of which may be removed by Zam-Buk and the use of Zam-Buk Soap. Scores of restless, crying babies, upon examination, are found to be suffering from some form of skin irritation or "heat." Use Zam-Buk Soap for the bath and apply Zam-Buk Balm to the sores, and the trouble will soon vanish.

Mrs. L. Hood, of 475 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, says: "Some nasty sores broke out around my baby's mouth, and despite all the preparations used, they refused to heal. I took him to St. Boniface Hospital and he remained there for two weeks. At the end of that time he was no better, and we again took him home. I was then advised to try Zam-Buk and obtained a supply. The effect of the first few applications was very gratifying and I continued with the use of the balm. A little perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Zam-Buk Soap is sold by all Druggists at 25c per tablet and Zam-Buk Balm at 50c box. The Zam-Buk treatment quickly cures eczema, ulcers, sores, ringworm, eruptions, pimples, heat rashes, piles, cuts, burns and all skin injuries and diseases.

Big Man and the Boys.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, who has been so much in the papers in connection with the Farmers' Bank trouble, had the faculty of making himself extremely popular with the energetic workers who play such a big part in the winning of elections.

A scene that illustrates this to perfection was witnessed some years ago in the doctor's committee rooms on Yonge street, Toronto, on an election night which found him the choice of the electors. The large main room was filled with men — chiefly young fellows—who had willingly slaved to obtain their chief's election. As each man bringing glad tidings from various subdivisions arrived he was greeted personally and warmly by the doctor.

Best of all illustrating the big man's hold on "the boys," was a short, young man who walked proudly up to his chief and received a great handshake and "Good boy!" when he had said with a glow of pleasure and a proud ring in his voice, "We made a turn-over of a dozen votes for you in our division to-day, doctor." The incident reminded one of the poet's description of the meeting of Napoleon and the drummer boy at Ratisbon.

When Creelman Came Back.

At a dinner of the Canadian Club at Guelph not long ago the speaker for the occasion was Sir George C. Gibbons, K.C., of London, the new Canadian knight of the International Waterways Commission. The genial George C. Creelman, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, presided over the function. As president and guest ate and chatted together Sir George C. Gibbons noted that each of them signed his name "George C."

"I'll bet you two dollars," said the London K.C., "that you can't guess what the initial C. stands for in my name."

The other George C. took the bet and began to guess all the C's he could think of from Charles to Charlemagne. Finally he gave it up.

"Christie," quoth the Waterways knight, as he pocketed the two dollars. "C-h-r-i-s-t-i-e," he spelled.

"I'll bet you two dollars that you don't guess what C. stands for in my name," said President Creelman.

Sir George tried, but had to give it up.

DISTRESSING HEADACHES

Headaches are largely the result of disordered kidneys.

Mrs. Hall, 84 Flora Street, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "I suffered for years with headaches of a most distressing nature. They would come on me suddenly, and would last for days at a time. These were usually accompanied by spells of dizziness that would leave me unable to attend to any house duties. My back was weak and caused me much suffering through the night. I had doctored for years, but all to no avail. Nothing benefited me and my condition was gradually becoming worse. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills. One box gave me a complete and lasting cure. I have not had a headache or dizzy spell since, and I feel like a new person."

HOW "TUBTOWN" WAS NAMED.

After Strange House That Peter McNaughton Built in Belfountain.

Looking over some old notes lately I came across a very real "tale of a tub," as told to me by the honest blacksmith of Belfountain, in the township of Caledon, Ontario. This is the rocky township in which I discovered the log house that sheltered the precious Bible Burns gave to Highland Mary.

Now, although Belfountain is a very pretty name, in which apparently both the English and French languages have been utilized, it was not the first name given to the place. Wm. MacDonald, the honest blacksmith aforesaid, gave me this history. I quote from my M. S. notes of 30 years ago almost verbatim. It was called "Tubtown" at first. Of course I could not go there to catch trout—which I have done more than once—without finding out why it was called "Tubtown." And my enquiries elicited the following (Canadian) "Tale of the Tub." Peter McNaughton was a cooper, and in the first days of the township—it would be in the "forties" of last century—bought a quarter-of-an-acre of ground in this new town plot; and as for a house he would be his own builder. So he put up a tub, the staves of which were twelve-feet flooring boards. And it was bound round with elm poles for "hoops," ingeniously fastened together where they met with iron clamps of his own devising. Mr. MacDonald was quite taken with these cunning clamps. The "tub" was twelve feet in diameter, as well as twelve feet high. It was therefore high enough to be a "two-story" building. He made barrels and tubs below, and slept above; having put a little pyramidical roof on top. And the embryo village thus got the name of "Tubtown." This never was the official or "Post Office" name of the village, however. The P. O. authorities at Ottawa are rather particular about names. Some years ago I sent them 250 well-sounding "names"—caring nothing for any possible meaning as long as they sounded well. I was politely thanked; and last year I sent them another batch of well-sounding names, to the number of 540.

Peter McNaughton — like a good many other Scotsmen—was an original mechanical genius. One day he came along where a number of the neighbors were working on the road, doing their "Statute labor." They were trying in vain to "pry out" a great boulder which was just in the wagon track. If they could only "roll it once over" it would be out of the wagon track, but they were too short-handed to do it! "Hold on, boys! said Peter, "I'll roll it out!" So they left the great green elm lever, eighteen or twenty feet long, in position, and waited to see his performance. He took up an axe, and went to work on an elm tree, that stood a few feet away, and felled the tree so exactly that it struck the big "pry" and tilted the stone over — just as they wanted! Mr. MacDonald said, "you passed the stone as you came in this morning. It lies there to this day; we call it "Peter McNaughton's stone."—Wm. Wye Smith, in the Scottish American.

WHERE IS DUTHIE?

Mysterious Disappearance of Hillsburg Bank Manager.

This has been the one question on everyone's lips in Hillsburg since last Friday.

Mr. Duthie has been the respected and honoured manager of the Union Bank of Canada here for the past six years and in that time has gained the esteem of all sections of the community and has built up such a business for his bank as is seldom done in such a small town as Hillsburg.

The question is not asked with even a shade of suspicion attached to it but with genuine sorrow that anything personally has happened to the popular bank manager.

He is an accomplished vocalist, and last Tuesday morning left here with the intention of hearing the famous Sheffield Choir of old country musicians give their concert in Massey Hall and expected to return to Hillsburg on Wednesday evening. Mr. Duthie was himself an Englishman.

Before leaving here he made known to those interested what he intended doing in Toronto when not at Massey Hall. On enquiry it has been ascertained that he did not call on the parties indicated. No trace of him has been obtained since leaving the train at Cataract Junction, since which time he has as completely disappeared from the ken of Hillsburg folks as if the earth had swallowed him.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Duthie arrived at the station about fifteen minutes before train time and after purchasing a return ticket spent a time in chatting to Messrs Allan and Ernie Royce, in their office in the elevator. They say he seemed in buoyant spirits and keenly anticipated the pleasure in hearing the Sheffield Choir. On leaving he intimated he would return the following evening.

When he did not arrive home on Wednesday evening no particular anxiety was felt as it was supposed that he had found the Sheffield Choir such a treat to hear that he had stayed for the purpose of hearing them a second time.

When Mr. Duthie did not come home on Thursday his wife became genuinely anxious and communicated with his brother, who is Inspector for the Bank of Ottawa and lives in Ottawa. He immediately placed the matter in the hands of the Pinkerton Detective Agency and advised the head office of the Union Bank. Since that time nothing has been left undone that would likely lead to locating him but without avail.

The head office official of the bank who took charge of the local branch yesterday began a search of the books to find a cause for Mr. Duthie's disappearance. It was given out from that source this morning that nothing so far had been found wrong that would account for his disappearance.

Mr. Duthie's home life has been particularly happy and everyone is at a loss to account for his strange absence.

Saturday morning John Carmichael proceeded to Toronto to interview any people who might have seen him and where he intended to do business, but inquiry in every instance failed to gain any information. The trainmen of the train on which he is supposed to have travelled from Cataract Jct. to Toronto, could not remember having seen him from description given.

A conclusion come to on Sunday was that perhaps he had fallen, unnoticed, from the train while viewing the scenery from the platform between Cataract and Credit Forks. A search party was made up here and proceeded to Cataract and searched the sides of the railroad from there to almost Inglewood without results.

The feeling still prevails that if any harm came to Mr. Duthie that it was in the vicinity of the Cataract and another large search party left for there this morning to go more thoroughly over the ground. — Hillsburg Beaver.

A STARTLING DEATH.

Husband Found Wife's Lifeless Body Lying Across Bed.

Going home for lunch on Wednesday, April 5th, Allan Watt, Secretary of the Watt Milling & Feed Company, Ltd., West Toronto, formerly of Shelburne, found his wife dead in bed. The woman was lying on the bed and from all appearances had just retired for a short rest, awaiting the arrival of her husband. Not finding her downstairs he went to her bedroom and there discovered her lifeless body on the bed. His attempts at rousing her failing, he called for a doctor, but the latter was unable to do anything. The body was taken charge of by Coroner Dr. Gilmore and he opened an inquest at Speer's undertaking parlors, adjourning it until next Monday, April 10th. Mrs. Watt left three small children. The woman was apparently in good health, the last time her husband saw her alive, and death is thought to be due to syncope of the heart.

"Death from natural causes" was the verdict returned by Coroner Gilmour's jury at the inquiry into the death of Mrs. Sarah Watt at the Morgue on Monday night. Dr. MacNamara, who held the post-mortem on the body, testified that there were no marks of violence, and he had found nothing abnormal in the condition of the organs. Upon removing the skull, he said he discovered a vein had been ruptured in the covering of the brain. Death, he declared, was due to cerebral hemorrhage, commonly known as apoplexy.

A TESTIMONIAL.

Students and Ex-Students of Orangeville High School Do Honor to Principal Steele.

Well-Merited Recognition of 32 Years of Faithful Service.

An exceedingly happy event took place in the new gymnasium of the Orangeville High School on Thursday night, when about two hundred of the students and ex-students of the institution assembled for the purpose of presenting the Principal, Mr. Alexander Steele, with a Testimonial, as an expression of their esteem and affection. The Testimonial took the form of an appreciatively worded taddress, and thirty-two $20 gold coins—one to mark each year of Mr. Steele's long and successful Principalship. Mr. A. D. McKitrick, Chairman of the Testimonial Committee, occupied the chair. Dr. T. A. Carson, who has acted as Treasurer, made the formal presentation and Mr. J. Ross McPherson, the Secretary, read the address, which was worded as follows :—

Orangeville, April 13th, 1911.

Mr. Alexander Steele, B.A.,
Principal Orangeville High School,
Orangeville, Ontario.

Dear Sir.,—For some time now the pupils and ex-pupils of Orangeville High School have had under consideration some expression of appreciation of the work which you, as headmaster in this school, have been so ably and so quietly carrying on.

That those who have received instruction at your hands have appreciated the benefits of that instruction, you cannot have doubted. There is perhaps no period in life in which the young mind is so influenced b training and associations as that which we have had the good fortune to pass under your supervision. Those of us whose paths have led from the doors of this school out into the fields of worldly endeavor feel that we have carried away more than the knowledge of our various studies. There has gone with us to aid in the further shaping of our lives the memory of your kindly interest in our work; the recollection of extra labors undertaken on our behalf; of advice, of counsel freely given; of all that makes for true character building unstintingly lavished upon us. Much of what is best in us we are glad to trace back, and to attribute to your directing influence when we were men and women in the making; and in so doing we are not unmindful of the fact that your continued residence in Orangeville has meant the sacrifice of greater opportunities in larger fields.

To those of us whom life's battles have not yet tried, it is given to read of the successes of those who have gone before us. We know that the armour welded for them is now being welded for us. We look forward to the day when it will be our privilege to prove its worth, to the honor of its maker.

That your circle of influence and of endeavor has not been restricted to the four walls of this school, we are glad to testify. In church and in library work, and in the greater educational movements of this province, you have played no small part. In the cause of progress and of right your words have ever been listened to and welcomed. In ways innumerable Orangeville is your debtor.

But it is as pupils of yours that we are gathered here to-night. For thirty-two years the best of your time and strength has been devoted to the dissemination of knowledge within this building. During that time many hundreds of boys and girls have received at your hands invaluable equipment for their life work.

In appreciation of benefits received we desire to present to you on behalf of pupils, past and present, old and young, yet all young under you, these gold coins, one to mark each year of your long service as principal of the Orangeville High School We venture to hope that in each you will read pleasant memories of hours spent among your pupils. And we would hope further that you may be spared to lead many more through the mazes of learning, and to speed them on their life's career.

We are mindful too of the help that Mrs. Steele has been permitted to lend you in your work. That you may both long continue to enjoy health and happiness under the protecting hand of a kind Providence is the earnest wish of your many pupils.

Signed on behalf of the pupils:

The High School students showed their active and sympathetic interest by decorating the gymnasium and providing the additional seating required for the occasion. When Mr. McPherson was called forward to read the address, the severing of a cord allowed a large flag, which was suspended on the wall at the front of the room, to drop from its place and disclose to the audience the inscription "1879—1911." The sight of the figures, indicative of Mr. Steele's long connection with the School, was the signal for prolonged applause, which was renewed with even greater enthusiasm at the conclusion of the reading of the address.

Mr. Steele, who was visibly affected by these evidences of the goodwill and regard of his pupils and teaching associates, made a feeling reply, in which he expressed himself as very grateful to the students and ex-students of the school for their handsome and altogether unexpected recognition of his work. He paid a generous tribute to the assistant teachers, stating that he had always had the good fortune to have a staff that worked harmoniously and in the best interests of the School. Very impressive was the Principal's tribute to Mrs. Steele, to whose intelligent and sympathetic co-operation he attributed not only much of his success as a teacher, but the measure of good health that had enabled him to meet the worries and nervous strain incident to his profession for so many years. Teaching, Mr. Steele, described as a peculiarly wearing occupation. The teacher not only gave of his time and knowledge, but to be successful must also give himself. The great aim of a teacher should be to develop character, rather than to merely impart knowledge. If the teacher was to do good work he must enlist the good-will and win the confidence of his students. He should also feel that where reproof was necessary it should be administered in a kindly spirit and in such a manner that it would make for the good of the pupils. The Principal spoke in appreciative terms of the sympathy and hearty co-operation he had always received from the Trustee Board, saying that in this respect he considered he had been extremely fortunate.

Much of Mr. Steele's address was in a reminiscent vein and as such was especially interesting. Speaking of the many clever students, who had been under his tuition, he instanced a number who now occupy distinguished places in their respective walks of life. Some of those mentioned were :—Prof. T. L. Walker, Professor of Mineralogy in Toronto University; Prof. Herbert Coleman, of the Faculty of Education, Toronto; Prof. Oscar Skelton, of Queen's University; Prof. Jos. A. Leighton, of Geneva College, N.Y.; Prof. T. H. Cotton, Wycliffe College, Toronto; Prof. C. J. Lynde, Macdonald Institute, Montreal; Prof. Chas. Lee, Dept. of Botany, Manitoba Agricultural College; Dr. John Henderson, Lecturer in Anatomy in McGill University; Judge Denton, Toronto; Judge Lamont, of the Supreme Court of Saskatchewan; Judge Harvey, of the Supreme Court of Alberta; Rev. J. H. Turnbull, of Ottawa; Mr. J. A. Aiken, Editor of the Saskatoon Phoenix; Mr. R. G. Bremner, Editor of the Passaic, N. J., Daily Herald; Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.P.P. for Dufferin, and Mr. W. A. Sutherland, of the Saskatchewan Legislature.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, M. P. P. for Dufferin, in the course of a bright and witty address, made an effective comparison between the High School of 32 years ago and the High School Orangeville has to-day. The School's growth and high standing among the educational institutions of the province, Mr. McKeown attributed very largely to Mr. Steele's ability and conscientious work. The Principal, he described, as a man who had always enjoyed the respect, confidence, love and esteem of his students.

Short addresses were delivered by Messrs. J. W. Russell, M.A., of Woodstock Collegiate Institute, and J. F. Calvert, M.A., of London Collegiate Institute, former Science Masters in the Orangeville High School, Col. Preston, who spoke as a member of the High School Board; Rev. G. A. Rix, rector of St. Mark's Church, and Dr. Campbell, all of whom paid tribute to Mr. Steele's worth and high standing as a teacher, a citizen and a man.

The programme was pleasantly varied by a solo by Mr. E. A. Warren, and a violin solo by Miss Clara Hulse, an ex-pupil and a member of the present teaching staff. Both artists were heartily encored. Piano duets by Misses Ritchie and Wallace and the Misses Shaw also added to the charm of the programme.
